THE ANDOVER NEWS.

H. C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., JAN. 8, 1890.

The decrease of the public debt for the past six months aggregates $23-[illegible]710, or over $131,000 per day.

It isn't stated just where the moral excuse is, but an Alabama man died of cigarette smoking the other day, [illegible] $10,000 to the Y. M. C. A.

Hon. J. S. Fassett, State Senator from this district, has been elected President pro. tem of the senate, and Geo. Husted will be Speaker of the assembly.

There is a movement on foot to divide Erie county by setting apart the city of Buffalo to be known as the city and county of Buffalo. If our Hornellsville neighbors still want to be the county seat of a new county, here's a pointer for them. Or will they still insist on stealing us? How is it, Highland Joe?

There is more illness with a green Christmas, it is true, but the difficulty is not in the weather, says the New York Journal of Commerce, but in the folly of those who insist upon treating it as a usurper. In very cold weather the winter attire with which most persons are provided does not induce perspiration, and hence few who are thus clad suffer from the check which comes to such a state from exposure. No chilling wind or frosty air will give a "cold," as the affection is commonly called, if the skin is dry, no matter how thin the covering. And no one whose body is moist with sweat can safely sit in a draught, no matter how thick the attire.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says that interviews with many leading business men as to the prospects for 1890 reveal almost unanimous belief that the coming year will be one of unusual prosperity. Among others whose views have been reported is Erastus Wiman, who is perhaps about as well posted on business conditions as any man in the country. He has made a careful study of the situation and says: "If next year is not the most prosperous year in our history, great calamities, which man cannot forsee, must occur." In all my business experience I have not seen a more favorable outlook. From all parts of the country good news is coming in. Nearly every great industry is reported to be prospering, and business men of large and small trade appear to be in unusually prosperous circumstances. Our crops this year have been most plentiful. The development of the general wealth of the Nation has been unparalleled. The wealth of the nation has been increased by the development of large iron and copper mines in the Northwest. The Southerners are obtaining as good prices for their iron, etc., as is obtained by Northern manufacturers. The iron men of the South are sure to make big profits next year. And I have received news which shows better than anything else could how plentiful the Western crops have been. I hear that farmers in some sections are using corn for fuel. They find it cheaper than coal, so it is said, and have had such large crops that they have been able to sell the usual yearly quantity, keep enough to supply themselves, and by aside some for fuel. I venture to predict that there will be very few failures next year."

The Last Thursday in November.

In 1887 Governor Hill appointed Thursday, Dec. 1, for Thanksgiving in New Hampshire, but the next year he appointed it for Thursday, Nov. 29, and issued his proclamation on the last Thursday in November. This year the last Thursday in November came to be so generally selected for Thanksgiving in this state, for the last half century, at least, can probably be traced to a letter written by President Lord, of Dartmouth college, to Governor Hill in the early autumn of 1838, which letter is in the possession of William P. Hill, of this city. In this letter President Lord shows that the selection of a day about the 25th of November, or the last Thursday in the month, would be very convenient for the students of Dartmouth, more than 200 of whom taught school in winter, their schools usually beginning the first Monday after Thanksgiving day.

The terms of the college year were so arranged that the fall term ended after the 20th of November, and the students who engaged in teaching were allowed to be absent fourteen weeks in the winter. President Lord further urged that by fixing Thanksgiving the latter part of November, and having it on the same day in the several states, especially New Hampshire and Massachusetts, the students would have the opportunity of spending the day at their homes, or among friends, and of reaching their schools in season. He also thought it would conduce to an improvement of the morals of what he termed the "borderers," who, by reason of having different days in different states, were tempted to idleness.—Concord (N. H.) Monitor.

The Nightmare in a Hotel.

"Among the many queer experiences gained in a hotel," said the clerk of an uptown hostelry to a reporter, "are those connected with guests who are subject to nightmare, which is more common than many people suppose. It is not uncommon for a night in a large hotel to develop several cases of this kind. In the stillness of the early morning hours heavy groans or a shriek may be heard sounding along the corridor. The hall boy wakes up, rubs his eyes and awaits to see what is coming, and if he is a new one at the business, half expects that a murder is being committed.

"We had a case not long ago of a gentleman here who, during the middle of the night, began pounding on his door, yelling at the same time, 'Let me out, let me out! Help! help!' The hall boy rushed down to the desk, and with the night clerk and the porter hurried back to the room whence came the sounds of distress. All was quiet. They waited awhile, then knocked. The subject of the nightmare came to the door feeling very much crestfallen. He explained that he had eaten a too liberal supply of lobster at supper the previous evening, and that he had dreamed that he was locked in one of the immense money vaults of the treasury, which he had seen during his visit to the city. His own cries for help had caused him to awake. Such cases, more or less exciting, are of almost nightly occurrence in a large hotel, and usually prevail when the social season is at its height. The guests who get intoxicated are not included in this class of noise makers. They form a separate study alone."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

wastes or gives away during the year more or less kitchen grease, each pound of which can in a few minutes be converted into two pounds of the PUREST SOAP, far better than can be found on sale. The only expense for making ten pounds of this soap, with five and one-half pounds of grease or oil, is the trifling cost of one can of to be found at nearly every grocery store.

Dissolve the contents of one can of Banner Lye in three and one-half pints of cold water, and pour slowly into five and one-half pounds of lukewarm grease, stirring from the start, until it thickens into a mushy condition; then pour into any kind of mould to harden—a child can make it, and full directions are to be found inside of each label.

A can of Banner Lye will do the work of twenty-one pounds of washing soda, and besides its value for scrubbing purposes, the cleansing and disinfecting of Sinks, Closets and Waste Pipes, destroying the Filth and Disease arising therefrom, makes its systematic use one of the greatest boons the household keeper has fallen heir to.

Sneeze, sneeze, sneeze,
Ye nose that is weary and red;
But all too utterly utter
Is the pain that I feel in my head.

Oh, well for the happy man
Who laughs at our awful woes;
Next week we may all be laughing at him
As he waits on his weary nose.

And our joints are full of aches,
Of racking fever and chill;
And oh, for a lot of something hot
And a ten-grain quinine pill!

Sneeze, sneeze, sneeze,
Oh, when will it ever skip!

The Hawthorne circle will meet with Mrs. Bradley next Monday evening at seven o'clock. The following program will be presented: Music; roll call; quotations from or about Caesar; reading of minutes; lesson, twelve questions on each subject, 5 questions in the map quiz, questions and answers on the Romans as colonizers, pronunciation test; answers to question box; recess; reading "Anthony to Cleopatra," by Mrs. Miller; a paper on Caesar, Lizzie Mead; reading, Pyramus and Thisbe, Fannie Spaulding; opening question box.

John G. Stevens, the celebrated elocutionist, impersonator and humorist, will give an entertainment at Harman's hall in this village, on Friday evening of this week, for the benefit of the library fund of Andover Union School. Mr. Stevens is widely known as an elocutionist of great merit, and has appeared in many of the large cities and at Chautauqua, and has received many highly complimentary notices from the press. He gives readings from Shakespear, Carleton, Dickens, and other writers, and also gives pleasing character sketches. The entertainment will also consist of music by home talent, a male quartette, bass solo, duet by ladies and other vocal and instrumental music having been arranged. Altogether the entertainment will be a most enjoyable one, and no one should fail to attend.

ATTEMPTED ABDUCTION.

Horace Karr Arrested on a Serious Charge.

Considerable excitement was created this morning by the announcement that Horace Karr had been arrested during last night. Investigation proved that the report was true. The facts in the case, as learned from a reliable sourse, are as follows: At about one o'clock last night Mrs. J. B. Mead, of this place, was awakened by the calling of her daughter Lizzie, a girl 11 years old, who asked if she might dress and come down stairs. Mrs. Mead saw that something unusual had occurred, and told her daughter to come down. At about the same time she glanced out of a window and saw a ladder against the side of the house, near which were two men. She awakened her husband, who also saw the two men and ordered them away at the point of a revolver. Mr. Mead followed them a short distance, recognized one of them as Horace Karr, and immediately sent for Justice Baker to make out papers for his arrest, which was done and the man was arrested and given into Constable Smith's care. His examination will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. The charge against him is burglary in the 2nd degree, although from circumstances connected with the case it is thought he was not after goods and chattels, but that the object of his visit was none other than to secure the 14 year old daughter of Mr. Mead above mentioned. Karr is about 20 years old and among his peculiarities is one which has been called "love sickness," or a fondness for young girls. Early last evening he asked Justice Baker if he would perform the marriage ceremony for him, receiving the reply that the Justice must be satisfied of the legitimacy of the affair before he would have anything to do with it. Later in the night (after his unsuccessful venture) he went to Esquire Baker's house and told him he had changed his mind and that he would not require his services. It was only a short time after this that the justice was aroused to make out the papers for Karr's arrest. It is fortunate for all concerned that the affair progressed no further than it did.

Goodwin—Haynes.

Relatives and friends to the number of about twenty assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Goodwin last evening to witness the marriage of their son, Mr. J. D. Goodwin, of Panama, N. Y., and Miss Mattie M. Haynes, of Corry, Pa. Soon after 8 o'clock the ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Gibson, pastor of the M. E. church of this village. Congratulations followed which were so hearty and abundant that there was no doubt of their sincerity, after which the assembled guests enjoyed themselves in pleasant conversation and jovialty until refreshments were announced, to the excellence of which it were impossible to do justice here, although those present showed that they were fully equal to the occasion. The balance of the evening was spent in a delightful manner, and at a late hour the guests departed, each wishing the happy bride and groom their full measure of joy and prosperity. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, tokens of esteem and well-wishes. Mr. Goodwin holds the position of station agent on the W. N. Y. & P R. R. at Panama station, Chautauqua county, to which place he and his bride will return in about two weeks.

The New Year's Reception.

The New Year's reception given by the Andover Social Club was a perfect success in every sense of the word. Eighty-six couples joined in the merry making, and the universal verdict was that nothing was lacking that could add enjoyment to the occasion. Besides the above number of dancers there were numerous spectators who went to hear the music and see the young folks enjoy themselves. Prof. Davis, of Hornellsville, furnished his usual good quality of music. The supper was served by Mrs. Martindale, and was all that hungry dancers could wish for. Wellsville, Hornellsville, Cuba, Friendship, Allentown, Canisteo, Greenwood, and Alfred Centre were well represented, and the fact that people come long distances to attend receptions at Andover shows that they are worth going to. The social club may hold many enjoyable dances in the future, but we doubt if their success of January 1st will ever be surpassed.

It may save you from consumption.

To Our Subscribers.

The special announcement which appeared in our columns some time since, announcing a special arrangement with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., of Enosburg Falls, Vt., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," whereby our subscribers were enabled to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address to B. J. Kendall Co. (and enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) is renewed for a limited period. We trust all will avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining this valuable work. To every lover of the horse it is indispensable, as it treats in a simple manner all the diseases which afflict this noble animal. Its phenomenal sale throughout the United States and Canada, make it a standard authority. Mention this paper when sending for "Treatise."

Ex-Prisoners of War, Attention!

The following bill was introduced by Joshua W. Corbin, on June 20th, 1889, at the Ex-Prisoners' Association, held at Friendship:

Be it enacted by the Congress of the United States:

That every officer, soldier, sailor or marine, who was confined in Confederate prisons during the war of the rebellion, for ninety days or more after the expiration of the term for which they enlisted, shall receive three dollars per day for every such day's service until the day of his discharge from the service of the United States.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, that the heirs of all the officers, soldiers, sailors or marines who died in such prisons after being held as prisoners of war for thirty days or more after the expiration of the time for which they enlisted, shall receive three dollars per day for every such day's service until the day of his death.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, that the above compensation shall be in addition to whatever may have been already received.

The above bill is now before Congress, having been introduced by Senator Hiscock on the 1st inst., and I wish to ask, in behalf of those who spent weary months in those prisons after their terms of enlistment had expired, that every paper published in Cattaraugus, Chautauqua and Allegany counties insert in their columns, for two weeks, a copy of the above bill, and also the following request, viz.: That every comrade who will be benefited by the above bill will, as soon as possible, write me, stating name, company and regiment, when and where captured, when exchanged or paroled, when enrolled and discharged.

Comrades, send in your names at once as by so doing you will serve your own interests.—Address

News About Town.

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is making some remarkable cures among people who are troubled with coughs, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis and consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure. The large bottles are 50c and $1.

ELECTRIC BITTERS.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist, and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood, and will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of headache, constipation and indigestion try Electric Bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.—Price 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Brainard's drugstore.

IS CONSUMPTION INCURABLE?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with abscess of lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung troubles. I was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at Brainard's drugstore.

THE SUN

FOR 1890.

Some people agree with The Sun's opinions about men and things, and some people don't; but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind.

Democrats know that for twenty years The Sun has fought in the front line for Democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the great interests of the party it serves with fearless intelligence and disinterested vigor. At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose; it is not The Sun's fault if it has seen further into the millstone.

Eighteen hundred and ninety is the year that will probably determine the result of the Presidential election of 1892, and perhaps the fortunes of the Democracy for the rest of the century. Victory in 1892 is a duty, and the beginning of 1890 is the best time to start out in company with The Sun.

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION

Painless Childbirth, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in childbirth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness, swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out; it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. Send two cent stamp for descriptive circulars, testimonials, and confidential letter sent in sealed envelope. Address Frank Thomas & Co., Publishers, Baltimore, Maryland.
