ANDOVER, N. Y., FEB. 12, 1890.

[illegible] Church intends to found a national university in Washington.

There are no newspapers and no [illegible] in the Holy Land, says Dr. [illegible]. But this is not why it is called the Holy Land.

It is all nonsense to say that the backbone of winter is broken. It may lend any backbone. It has been [illegible] a wet rag from the beginning. It entered with drip, then it was grip, and next it will be slip.

New York state is first in war and first in military enterprise in time of peace. This state furnished 448,850 men to the Union army, and 18,197 paid commutation, making a total of 467,047, more than any other state, and more by one hundred thousand than the next State, Pennsylvania. This state also supports the largest and most efficient militia force, having 743 commissioned officers, 13,488 men, and 650,000 available. Adjutant-General Skelton reports the militia force of the United States consists of 3,052 officers, 104,292 men, and 7,355,171 men not organized but available for military duty.

What Gladstone is to England or Bismark to Germany, Mr. Blaine is to America. He is the only living man of all who have taken part in the sometimes strong and always important events of the half-century of American politics whose name is not only world-known but world-admired. Others have been daring, he has been daring and original; others have been logical, he has been logical and eloquent; others have been logical and eloquent, he has been logical, eloquent and practical. Others have molded thought into action, he has created the thought that precedes action, and he has directed the action to accomplishment of a desired purpose.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Men's Women.

To begin with, she is old enough to know her world thoroughly; yet, though she need never have been beautiful, she must have kept her youth. She is in no sense a light woman, neither is she over intellectual; she would not speak Greek, even if she could. She is a creature of infinite tact, whom every being with the outward semblance of a man interests profoundly. With him she is always at her best, and she contrives to get out of him the best there is. She listens well, and grows sympathetic as she listens. Has he a special weakness? she half tempts him to believe it is a virtue. An adept in the subtlest form of flattery, she would force the meanest of us to shine even when he is ill at ease. And yet, above all, she remains sincere. Her interest in him is real, and survives the fleeting moment. He is a man; that is to say, for her, the brightest page in nature's book. She respects convention, knowing well when she may venture to be unconventional; yet she is unapproachable and irreproachable. In return, he adores her.—"The Point of View," in Scribner's.

Broken Too Disconcerted.

A ludicrous incident occurred at Killarney cathedral in the presence of Lord Kenmare and all the local magnates. Burke was preaching for the Presentation Brothers' school, and his sermon reached an unusual length. The brothers, anxious only for a good collection, began rattling the tin plates as a hint to the preacher to stop. The bishop, Dr. Moriarty, frowned from his throne and the noise ceased. The portly prior advanced from his [illegible] and took up his position in front of the pulpit, full in the view of the congregation except Burke. The preacher was [illegible] then expatiating on the zeal of the brothers. He pictured forth the [illegible] ascetic monk, thus educated [illegible] having evidence of his fastings [illegible] He was surprised to find [illegible] was smiling. He tried [illegible] impressive, and again relapsed [illegible] mortified and overwork[illegible] The audience could hardly [illegible] their merriment. There is [illegible] of them miss the rotund figure, [illegible] jolly face, the prior, beaming [illegible] to all but the preacher. He [illegible] fully enjoying the [illegible] the ascetic [illegible] Greg[illegible] Gregory [illegible] specially as he [illegible] to mention [illegible] did not disappoint the [illegible] Times.

Flaxen Vs. Hair in Mortar.

Various tests have been made with a view to ascertaining the advantage to be derived from the use of manilla fibers as compared with other substances in plastering work. One of the most conclusive of these tests was made with four plates of equal size, one containing manilla hemp, the second sisal hemp, a third jute and a fourth goat's hair of the finest quality, and the operation consisted in suspending weights from the middle of each plate, the ends of which were properly supported. The results showed that the plaster mixed with goat's hair broke at 144½ pounds weight, the jute at 145 pounds, the sisal at 150, and the manilla at 195—in the latter case the hemp not breaking, but cracking, and though cracked in the center, the lower half of this plate, when it was suspended, held on to the upper half, the manilla securing it fast. The three other plates were broken, that is to say, entirely severed. Another test was made of mortar mixed with manilla hemp and the best goat's respectively. The mixtures were stored in barrels in a dry cellar for nine months, and when examined the hair mortar crumbled and broke apart, very little of the hair being visible, showing that it had been consumed by the lime; but the other, containing the hemp, showed great cohesion, it being quite an effort to pull it apart, the hemp fibers permeating the mass and being but little affected by the lime.—Detroit News.

Will We Lose Our Teeth?

It will be a great snap to be a dentist about the year 3,000 A. D. The scientists tell us that as man becomes more human he will lose his beastly adornments. First, the hair, next the eyesight and sense of smell, and, according to Professor Cope, at last become entirely toothless. Cooked food is said to be the cause of the jaw becoming weaker and smaller each generation. There is now no room left for the wisdom teeth, or the upper incisors; the wisdom teeth are retarded, often cause great pain and decay early. The second incisors put out at the sides of the gums, causing "tusks;" especially is this true as regards Americans, they being liable to imperfect development to a degree wholly unknown among savages.

The same suppression has been observed in the outer pair of superior incisors. This is owing not only to a reduction in the size of the jaw, but to prolonged delay in the appearance of the teeth. In the same way men and the man like apes have fewer teeth than the lower monkey. When this difference in dentition has been established, man may claim to be a new species, apart from low savages as well as from high apes.—St. Louis Republic.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill, makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle, and to her delight found herself benefitted by the first dose. She continued to use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this great discovery at Brainard's drug store, large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned under the firm name of Burrows & Miller, dealers in general merchandise, is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All parties having accounts with said firm are requested to settle the same at D. S. Bradley & Co's. Bank in the village of Andover, N. Y.

To Our Subscribers.

The special announcement which appeared in our columns some time since, announcing a special arrangement with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., of Enosburg Falls, Vt., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," whereby our subscribers were enabled to obtain a copy of that valuable work, free by sending their address to B. J. Kendall Co. (and enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) is renewed for a limited period. —We trust all will avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining this valuable work. To any owner of the horse it is indispensable, as it treats in a simple manner all the diseases which afflict this noble animal. Its phenomenal sale throughout the United States and Canada, make it standard authority. Mention this paper when sending for "Treatise."

Notice to Creditors.

In Pursuance of an order of the Hon. Clarence N. Farrow, Surrogate of the county of Allegany, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of Sophronia Pettibone, deceased, late of the town of Andover, County of Allegany, N. Y., deceased, that they are required to exhibit the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, executor of the will of said deceased, at his office in the village of Andover, N. EVERY FAMILY wastes or gives away during the year more or less kitchen grease, each pound of which can in a few minutes be converted into two pounds of the PUREST SOAP, far better than can be found on sale. The only expense for making ten pounds of this soap, with fifty and one-half pounds of grease or oil, is the trifling cost of one can of BANNER LYE, to be found at nearly every grocery store.

Dissolve the contents of one can of Banner Lye in three and one-half pints of cold water and pour slowly into five and one-half pounds of lukewarm grease, stirring from the start until it thickens into a mushy condition; then pour into any kind of mould to harden—a child can make it, and full directions are to be found back of each label.

A can of Banner Lye will do the work of twenty-one pounds of washing soda, and besides its value for scrubbing purposes, the cleansing and disinfecting of Sinks, Closets and Waste Pipes, destroying the Filth and Disease arising therefrom, makes its system also one of the greatest boons the housekeeper has fallen heir to.

We are in receipt of a season ticket to the Florida Sub-Tropical Exposition, which opened at Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 9, and will continue fourteen weeks. The Exposition this year promises to excel that of any previous season in its entirety. Owing to the very generous premiums offered by the Management, the exhibits are of a very comprehensive nature, every section of the State being represented; and the products and resources of Florida will be presented in a most attractive manner. The Exposition season will close in April with a Grand Inter-State Drill, at which prizes from $5,000 to $10,000 will be offered. From present indications, the attendance promises to be unsurpassed in point of numbers.

Judge Norton's Court.

Judge S. M. Norton opened his first term of Court at Belmont Monday. He started in just as though he had always been in the judge business, and will make a model judge. None of the civil cases were ready for trial, and the District Attorney brought up several criminal cases. The first was that of Oliver Gates of Bolivar, who plead guilty of a violation of the excise law. Attorney O. A. Fuller made a statement which was concurred in by the District Attorney, to the effect that Gates had abandoned the liquor business, and had also met with several misfortunes, and asked that the fine might be as light as was consistant with justice. The judge made due allowance for these facts and fined the defendant $50.

Three or four other parties were arraigned for the same offense and each plead not guilty. Some of these cases will be tried this week.

Eugene Farnum of Wellsville, was arraigned on a charge of assault in the first degree. He plead guilty to assault in second degree and was fined $300.

The Erie's Pleasure Excursion to Washington.

In order to afford the citizens of western New York an opportunity to visit the Capital of our nation, at the most interesting season. While Congress is in full blast, the Erie Railway Co. will run a personally conducted excursion on Thursday, Feb. 20. The route will be via the Erie, Lehigh Valley, P. & R. and B. & O. R. R's., passing through Philadelphia and Baltimore. The fare has been reduced to the extremely low rate of one fare for the round trip, going and returning same route. To return from Washington, via New York City, three dollars additional. Tickets good ten (10) days. Elegant Pullman sleeping cars will run through. On Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, an excursion will be arranged from Washington to Mt. Vernon, the home of the "Father of his Country." For further information call on Erie ticket agents, or address J. O. Prescott, Excursion Manager, Buffalo, N. Y.

Farmer's Special Meeting.

The Hornellsville Farmer's Club has invited a number of other clubs, among them the Allegany County Farmer's Club, to be present at a special meeting to be held at Metropolitan Hall, Hornellsville, on Wednesday, Feb. 19. Indications point to a large attendance and a profitable meeting. The following will be the program:

Opening at 10:30 a. m. with the Question box.

11 a. m.—Address by Dr. Collier, Director of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, on "The Work of the Station."

1:30 p. m.—Question Box.

Address—"Enthusiasm in Farming." —Rev. J. Hendrick, of Angelica, N. Y.

"The Better Care of Stock will Improve the Farm."—Mr. A. R. Eastman, Waterville, N. Y.

Good music will be furnished.

Questions and discussions will be in order after each address.

Everybody come, and be sure and come early. Don't miss the first session. Ladies are especially invited. If you cannot possibly attend send along your question for the Question Box.

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION

Our new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in childbirth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that, any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness, and many other evils attending pregnancy. It is highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out; it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. Send two cent stamp for descriptive circulars, testimonials, and confidential letter sent in sealed envelope. Address Frank Thomas & Co., Publishers, Baltimore, Maryland.

Mrs. Harrison's Daily Life.

The brother of President Harrison's secretary, Mr. A. T. Halford, has written for the March number of the Philadelphia Ladies' Home Journal, an article on "Mrs. Harrison's Daily Life in the White House," prepared by the consent and assistance of Mrs. Harrison. A new portrait of the lady of the White House, especially taken for this article, and a view of the up-stairs family rooms of the Executive Mansion, are among the illustrations which will accompany Mr. Halford's first magazine effort.

SIGN OF THE RED FLAG.

INDEPENDENCE NEWS.

Though thin, we have sleighing at last.

The grip seems to be losing its grip hereabouts.

Fred Donaldson of Greenwood, was in town last week soliciting orders for "The Dark Continent," a story of Stanley's explorations.

Mrs. E. D. Potter, who has been staying several weeks with her sick father, Mr. Harry Enos of Nile, returned home last week.

The aged mother of Mr. George McKee of Whitesville, died of pneumonia last week, and the funeral was held at the Baptist church Sunday, Rev. N. North of the M. E. church, officiating.

It is reported that Ted DeWilton of Whitesville, has secured a lucrative position with a surveying party at Coudersport, Pa., who are engaged in looking up a route for a new railroad.

The appraisers met to appraise the personal property of the late Mr. Geo. Forsyth, last week Wednesday. I understand that he had his life insured in the E. O. M. A. of Whitesville.

Mr. Nathan Cowan, a member of Sawyer Post, G. A. R., of Whitesville, is reported very low of heart trouble, but it is thought that he may recover.

A meeting of the C. E. S. was held at the residence of Mr. S. G. Crandall, Sunday evening.

Mr. Dorris Burr, an old resident of Whitesville, is reported to be in very poor health, caused by old age and infirmities.

Last week it was "shoo fly," as they were so plentiful that screens were necessary to keep the buzzing pests off from pies, cakes, etc., while eating, but presto, change! They disappeared with the inauguration of cold weather.

The people in and around Whitesville are so confident that a railroad will soon pass through that village, that it is reported one man recently sold a span of horses with this proviso: The purchaser is not required to pay for the horses until the cars are running through said village. Clear the track—when the bell rings.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilmot were called upon to mourn the death of a little seven year-old son, a very bright and promising boy, who died of inflammation of the bowels, after a long, lingering illness. His pleading cry of "Please God, come and take me!" while enduring agonizing suffering, was heart rending to those who heard him. His funeral was held at the Universalist church, Whitesville, last week Wednesday, Miss Emma Bailey, former pastor, officiating. "For of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

A Great Surprise.

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on the merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50c and $1.

HAPPY HOOSIERS.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Ind. writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine, makes me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardiner, a hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies. He found new strength, good appetite, and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c a bottle at Brainard's drug store.
