THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, - - EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., Aug. 27, 1890.

The attention of our readers, especially the farmers, is called to the report of the Farmers' League meeting printed on the first page to-day. The Address to the Farmers printed therein is one of the most able and concise documents ever addressed to any class of people. It is to be widely circulated throughout the county, and if the farmers follow its reccommends nothing but good results can follow. We commend the address to all for whom it is intended, confident that the course outlined therein is the right one for them to follow.

Russia wants peace and has just bought half a million French rifles to that end.

The United States now stands second in population among the civilized countries, that is to say if Russia is counted among the civilized.

Brigham Young's youngest daughter is to enter upon a lecturing tour in the support of mormonism. As she has never been married, not even once, the poor maiden should not be criticised harshly.

The executive committee of the Grant Monument Association of New York has adopted resolutions solemnly protesting against the removal of the remains of Gen. Grant and declaring that such removal would be a desecration to his grave.

The Gautemalan government has kindly announced that all citizens who will go to the front and be shot by the San Salvadorians will not be similarly executed at home. Gautemala is quite a success as a health resort.

'Bob' Ingersoll is reported to have said that all the joy of his life is at the fireside. If Bob really believes this he is in for a thundering good time somewhere in the dim subsequently, wickedly remarks the Utica Observer.

Henry M. Stanley advises France, England, and Germany to unite in the civilization of Africa. It is a good scheme. France, with her wine; England, with her ale; Germany, with her beer, form a trio which could civilize the dark continent in the regulation, modern manner on very short notice.

Some years ago the west was supposed to have a monopoly of cyclones, but it is being rapidly demonstrated that the east is by no means exempt from their visitations. The storm at Wilkesbarre, Pa., last week appears to have been just as sweeping and destructive as any that has ever played havoc in Minnesota or Dakota. Possibly it is only by chance that an unusual number of gales of late have occurred in the east, but there may also be some scientific explanation of the apparent fact that the cyclone territory is widening. It would be interesting to know what the learned gentlemen of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, now in session in Indianapolis, think about it.

Mr. C. W. McCune, secretary of the Farmer's Alliance, is reported to have made the statement that his organization is not in politics. The New York Sun makes this pertinent comment thereon: "The Farmer's Alliance is a society organized for the purpose of collecting and preserving old oaken buckets, cultivating wild oats, speeding the plow, beating swords into pruning hooks, promoting more cordial relations between dogs and sheep, soothing and vaccinifying ferocious bulls, studying the works of Jeremiah Rusk, threshing old straw, making hay while the sun shines, not letting the grass grow under its feet, taking the kick out of hay steers, finding the birds in last year's nest, buttering parsnips, building barns for swallows, making ducks and drakes of things, counting chickens before they are hatched, gathering figs of thistles, proceeding from the egg to the apple, returning to its muttons, chasing gossamers, letting the goose hang high, killing the hen that lays the golden egg, eating its head off, belling the cat, and other objects too numerous to mention. What should politics do in such an innocent and benevolent association? Politics in the Farmer's Alliance would be as much out of place as ducks in a pond."

Mrs. Grant is Willing.

Congressman Quinn of New York, has received a reply from Mrs. Grant stating that, in the matter of the proposed removal of the remains of Gen. Grant from Riverside Park to Washington, she and her children will be governed by the wishes of the people as expressed through Congress.

Representstive O'Neil of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Library Committee, has informed the New York delegation that the committee will call up the Plumb resolution, looking to the removal of Gen. Grant's remains to Washington in a few days. Mr. O'Neil says he is confident of the passage of the resolution, and that it can in no wise interfere with New York in the erection of a monument to Gen. Grant.

The Crop Reports.

As it is so well known that the apple crop is almost a complete failure in western New York this fall, it may be interesting to our readers to read a few reports from other apple producing states, showing also the prospects of other fruits and potatoes. The following is a summary of reports received from 125 correspondents of a Baltimore commission firm, and includes Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Valley of Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, and Canada.

NEW YORK. This represents reports from 73 correspondents, representing 62 points in the centre and western portion of the state. The reports condensed are as follows:

Apples—57 report an entire failure. 15 almost an entire failure. One reports half a crop in his section.

Pears.—30 report an entire failure. 17 almost entire failure. 3 one-fourth of a crop. 4 a fair crop, and seven a fair crop of Bartletts with failure of Duchess and other kinds.

Grapes.—10 report fair crop, 13 good crop. 12 heavy crop. 4 good crop of late varieties.

Quinces.—Nearly all report few quinces ranging from 10 to 50 per cent. of a crop. We think about an average of one-fourth of a crop.

Potatoes.—Our best informed correspondent stated that at that time it was too early to put any estimate on the late crop; the average is a little less than last year and with rains the crop was promising well.

Onions.—It was also considered a little too early to make safe estimates on this crop. Out of 19 who reported on this crop, 12 report good, 3 short, and 3 average crop.

OHIO. Reports an entire failure in the apple and pear crop. Grapes—good; Potatoes—mostly estimated about one-half crop of late potatoes. Onions—We had only six reports on them, 3 report crop large, 2 half crop and one one-fourth crop.

MICHIGAN. All report with one exception state failure or nearly so of apples. The exceptional report says half crop in his vicinity. Pears—few. Grapes—good. Potatoes—prospect good. Onions—prospect good.

INDIANA. Apples—entire failure. Pears—failure. Grapes—full crop. Potatoes—some sections report good show, some poor. We judge prospect for about half crop.

ILLINOIS. There are some apples reported in this state, but all reports say very few, various estimates are put on it by our correspondents from one-fifth to one-half. Pears—few. Grapes—fair crop. Potatoes—too early to estimate but prospects for short crop. Onions—about half crop is the general estimate.

MISSOURI. This is the only state that reports a good crop of apples. Potato crop short, and onions estimated at half crop.

NEBRASKA. Reports fair crop of apples and grapes. Potatoes and onions half crop.

WEST VIRGINIA and Valley of Virginia report almost an entire failure of apples. Pears—some. Grapes—fair crop. Potatoes—prospects for good crop. Onions—good crop.

PENNSYLVANIA. Reports entire failure of apple and pear crop. Grapes—full crop with some rot showing. Potatoes—estimated about two-thirds of a crop. Onions—large crop.

MASSACHUSETTS. All reports agree that the apple crop is very light. Pears also light. Grapes an average crop. Potatoes and onions too early to form an estimate.

NEW HAMPSHIRE. Reports same as Massachusetts on all crops.

MAINE. Reports from this state are conflicting, some say fair ceop, others very short of apples. We have no reports from this state on potatoes and onions.

COUNTY AND VICINITY.

Work upon the new M. E. church at Fillmore has begun in earnest.

Three-pound bass are caught quite often along the Genesee. In fact, the fishing is very good.

A singular accident occurred at Ceres last week. While Lewis Stewart was plowing his farm he ran into a swarm of bees. He was badly stung, and the horses were so badly stung that they died shortly afterward.

The prospect of a promising grape harvest on Lake Keuka, says the Hammondsport Herald, is generally quite flattering. While the vines are not overloaded the average is fair. Considerable mildew is reported on Concords and Catawbas, but not more than has been the case in previous years, and not more than was anticipated. Black rot has not so far developed to an alarming extent, although more of it can be seen than the growers care to have.

A movement is on foot to organize a society to be called the Allegany County Soldiers' Association to be incorporated and made permanent in its character. An annual encampment will be held on Cuba camp grounds immediately following the temperance camp, retaining the same tents and equipments thereby effecting a great saving of expense and trouble. It is proposed to have a literary program and other entertainments to induce the people to patronize the enterprise and unite all the soldier elements in the county.

Wellsville Fair next week.

The NEWS begins its fourth year today.

Buy your coffee of Beebe, Williams & Co.

You can eat oysters next week—if you can get them.

The Postal Telegraph wire was strung through Andover yesterday.

L. A. Burrows, druggist and dealer in books, stationery, wall paper, &c. That sounds well.

Cushing's Perfection Dyes are for sale by Dr. E. M. Stillman. They are the fastest and most durable dyes in the market.

The Post says there is a girl in Belmont who can milk sixteen cows at once. What a type-setter that girl would make!

Uriah Davis is exhibiting one of his Williams threshing machines at the Hornellsville Fair. He will also visit other fairs in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gilmore are the parents of a 9-pound girl baby, who made her appearance Sunday. Congratulations are numerous.

The Erie is running two excursion trains daily to the Hornellsville Exposition. One train leaves about 8:30 a. m. and the other an hour later.

Dr. Comstock on Monday successfully removed a cataract from the eye of John L. Russell of Scio, who had become afflicted to such an extent as to be nearly blind.

The Social Club's Harvest Dance last Thursday evening was attended by upwards of sixty couples, and the occasion proved a highly enjoyable one. Many were present from out of town.

A special attraction on two days of the Wellsville Fair will be a balloon ascension. When high in the air, the aeronaut will jump from the air ship, descending to the ground by means of a parachute. This is an exhibition of the most thrilling nature, and will attract an immense crowd.

Dr. Stillman went fishing last Friday. He was absent from home just two hours and caught 23 trout. This is a big fish story but the doctor, being duly sworn deposes and says that the same is true of his own knowledge. L. D. Bently caught sixteen trout in about the same time.

It takes a little opposition to bring large corporations to time. Following the announcement that the Postal Telegraph company is to open an office in Andover comes the intelligence that the Western Union Company will give us better service by cutting in another wire, which will give a through line to many points.

As will be seen by an "announcement" in another column, L. A. Burrows has purchased the drug store of Dr. N. P. Brainard in this village. Mr. Burrows is so well and favorably known in this vicinity that the NEWS couldn't give the people any "pointers" on him if it wanted to. We believe the purchase of this drug store by him will give universal satisfaction. And if energy and ability count for anything Mr. Burrows is sure to do a successful business.

Jeremiah Clarke and W. G. Tucker left for the Hornellsville Exposition Monday with their herds of cattle. Mr. Clarke took 12 head of Holsteins, and Mr. Tucker took 12 head of Ayshires, 6 head of Shropshiredown sheep and 3 Chester White hogs. They will also take the same stock to the Inter-State Fair at Elmira, and Mr. Tucker will take some of his other stock to the Wellsville Fair. Each of these gentlemen will bring back enough in premiums to pay several times over for the time and expense in exhibiting their stock.

You can get a Main Line cigar at Beebe, Williams & Co.

Old newspapers, for use on pantry shelves, 25c. for sale at this office.

A buggy-box road cart for sale. Inquire of E. DONNELLY.

Rev. G. W. Gibson has returned from Chautauqua, and regular services will be resumed at the M. E. church next Sunday.

There are about thirty barrels of oil in the Indian Creek well. J. W. Richardson and C. Lester measured it last evening, and their word is good.

Miss Ella DeVoe, Elocutionist and Dramatic Reader, will give an entertainment at Harman's hall in this village on Saturday evening of this week for the benefit of the Ladies Relief Corps of the G. A. R. Miss DeVoe is one of the best elocutionists in the United States. She has been visiting friends in Andover for a few weeks past and the ladies have taken advantage of the opportunity to secure her for one evening's entertainment. The hall snould be filled as it probably will be, and our people will not regret the time and money spent in attending.

The annual Harvest Home of the Presbyterian church was a success despite unfavorable weather. On account of the rain Harman's hall was used, and although the crowd was much smaller than it would have been had the day been more favorable, the receipts footed up to over $70. Addresses were made by L. C. Van Fleet of this place, and Rev. James A. Miller of Angelica. Miss Ella DeVoe, the elocutionist, also gave a few selections which were highly pleasing to the audience. The Whitesville Band was present and discoursed fine music Altogether the festival was highly enjoyed by all present.

The Wellsville Fair.

The third annual Exposition of the Wellsville Fair Association wil be held Sept. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The program this year is unusually elaborate and interesting. Many special features have been introduced and it now looks as if nothing can prevent a complete success and a very large attendance.

Announcement.

L. A. Burrows has purchased the stock of drugs of N. P. Brainard and will take possession as soon as he can be released from his present employment. He is to put in a NEW LINE of WALL PAPER, CURTAINS, CURTAIN FIXTURES, &c. Those who intend to paper this fall will do well to wait and see his line. All new styles and prices way down.

Improvements at the Depot.

The interior of the Erie depot at this place is undergoing extensive repairs and those familiar with the building will hardly recognize it when the carpenters have finished the work. Separate offices for Agent Richardson and the telegraph operators will be built, the waiting rooms will be consolidated into one large room, and other needed improvements will be made. To all of which the officials at the depot and the public will say Amen.

Will Not Strike.

The supreme council of the united order of railway employes, which has been in session at Terre Haute, Indiana, since Saturday, has announced that it will not order a strike by the members of that organization.

Owing to the fact that the order of the knights of labor is not a member of the federated order of railway employes, the laws of the supreme council do not permit more than it has done to aid the knights of labor and its inability to participate otherwise in the strike is now known and appreciated by Mr. Powderly.

The council, however, passed resolutions approving the course of the Knights of Labor in the recent strike on the Central and severely denounced the action taken by the officials of the railway company.

Rabbits and Cats.

An Andover citizen bought a new gun and went hunting one day last week. He traveled some time without bagging any game and was about to return home when he spied a rabbit. This rabbit was a peculiarly constructed animal—for a rabbit—but the hunter didn't notice anything peculiar about it until it climbed a tree. He thought that wasn't very rabbit-like, but then perhaps some rabbits climbed trees, and he blazed away. The rabbit fell and the hunter took one look at it and went home. It wasn't long before he received a note from a lady informing him that he had shot something that money could not replace—her pet cat. This made the gentleman feel badly, for he knew what it was to lose a pet cat, and he wrote a polite note in reply telling the lady how sorry he was, and offering to do almost anything to fix matters up. In the meantime the "boys" had got on to the racket, and for eighteen hours the man didn't hear anything but cat! Matters went so far that he momentarily expected an invitation from Justice Kinney to call at his office on a criminal charge. Finally somebody let the cat out of the bag and the man found out that it was all a joke about its being anyone's pet cat, but that he had shot a stray animal whom nobody seemed to own. But the next time that man goes hunting he'll be sure he has "treed" a rabbit before he shoots.

Mr. Ephraim Stillman was removed to the home of his son Alpheus, about 2½ miles, last Friday, and it is thought the journey did him good.

It is reported that Elder Jared Kenyon received notice last Friday that he had been granted a pension of $12 per month and about $200 arrears. He lost his only son in the late war, and the pension will be a great help to him in his old age.

It is said that Mrs. Ephraim Stillman and her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Austin, who had the care of the husband and father during his protracted siege of typhoid fever, have contracted the disease. Mrs. Stillman was recently removed to the home of her son, and Mrs. Austin returned to her home in Spring Mills. They are said to be very sick. It looks as though the disease would become epidemic in spite of the medical fraternity and all the precautions to guard against it.
