He at once took a sheep rack from his wagon, got the team out, went for his horse ½ mile, got a load of wood, got a man to draw it 1½ miles east to said farm and Miller went for hands and at 4:30 p. m. in just 1½ hours they pulled the belt ready to thresh and at 6 p. m. finished the job, having threshed 166 bushels of oats in 1½ hours and was packing the machine ready to move. The machine had to move 1 mile and get water. While Miller was getting ready it was necessary for him to clean the barn floor and granery. S. W. Dennis was the thresher.

Short Talks On Advertising
By Charles Austin Bates.

No. 12.

A great many merchants cut down their advertising in the Summer. Some even stop it altogether.

In everyday life, when a thing is hard to do, it only calls forth greater effort. If the laborer can't move the stone, he gets a crowbar and a block of wood. He makes a lever—and the stone moves. If the crowbar isn't long enough he gets something longer. He doesn't give up—because the stone has got to be moved.

Same way in business. Trade is a stone. The funny thing is that the lighter it gets the harder it is to move. It can be moved, though. You may have to have the lever lengthened. Certainly you ought not to shorten it. The best business lever is advertising—newspaper advertising is the longest lever and the quickest to move trade.

"The best business lever is advertising."

Dull times are the times to put forth the greatest effort and the most money. People don't usually ask for what they have already. Advertising is merely asking for trade. When the store is full every day, cut down your space. When trade is slack increase your space. Don't expect that you will get a big trade in dull times but keep count and you will find that the advertising is profitable. Profitable right at the time and enormously profitable after awhile. The very fact that only a few merchants are wise enough to advertise in dull seasons makes it all the more profitable for those who do. You are there when others are not. It gives you greater prominence. It will make your advertising in busy times much more effective.

Common sense has a great deal to do with advertising. Think about it from a common-sense standpoint. It may take some "nerve" to pay out money for newspaper space when the business isn't paying expenses, but it will pay.

"You are there when others are not."

More than half the business houses in the country would be ahead if they could shut up for three months in the Summer. But they don't do it.

Why?

Simply because they can't afford to. People would forget them.

Same way in advertising.

Think about it.

REFUSED TO SEE HER

Mrs. Van Wormer's Visit to Dannemora Futile.

BOYS AFRAID OF WEAKENING.

Stepmother Informed by Warden Deyo of the Request of her Stepsons that She Should Not See Them—Preparations for the Execution—Disposition of the Bodies.

Plattsburg, Sept. 30.—Mrs. Estelle Van Wormer, stepmother of the three brothers who will be electrocuted Thursday at Dannemora, was told up on her arrival at Dannemora that her stepsons had requested that she should not be allowed to visit them or even so much as see them in their cells in the death house.

It was not because they did not wish to see the woman who has stood by them through thick and thin, but solely because they were afraid that the ordeal of the farewell would unnerve them.

The thought uppermost in the minds of the three brothers is that they must not weaken or even appear to weaken. They appear to regard any evidence of fear as even more disgraceful than death in the electric chair.

Mrs. Van Wormer was on the verge of nervous prostration when she reached Plattsburg after her attempt to plead with Governor Odell Monday at Albany. She was accompanied by three relatives and after lunch the party went to Dannemora.

Mrs. Van Wormer said: "I think Governor Odell's action in refusing to see me yesterday was heartless. I am poor and unable to pay the cost of removing the bodies of my sons from Dannemora to Kinderhook, but if I could only get their bodies back to Kinderhook, I know I could arrange for their interment there. I hope and pray that some way may be found to bury my boys somewhere near my home in Columbia county so that I can visit their graves."

Mrs. Van Wormer was so overcome with emotion that she broke down and cried like a child. At Dannemora station she was met by Father Belanger, who conducted her to the parish house where she was met by Warden Deyo.

Mrs. Van Wormer was then told by Father Belanger of the request of her sons that she should not visit them and of the reasons. At first she was overwhelmed at the thought and it seemed as though she would collapse. After a time she became convinced that it was for the best. She remained at the parish house until train time and at night returned to this city, later going to Kinderhook. She will make every effort to have the bodies of the boys brought to that place.

If she cannot arrange it, the bodies of the young men will at once be buried in quick lime in the prison burying ground.

Father Belanger and Warden Deyo visited the boys and found them calm and prepared to die. The question of which shall go first to the chair is still open. It is intended that if any one of the trio show signs of weakening he shall be taken first.

Fred, the youngest, has told both Warden Deyo and Father Belanger that he is ready to go first and that he believes Willis should go second and Burton last.

Burton yesterday wrote a letter to Pearl Connor bidding her good bye. The three brothers are in excellent physical condition and eat and sleep well.

State Electrician Davis will arrive at Dannemora today and will make an unusually thorough examination of the entire electrical apparatus.

Warden Deyo said: "I think that from the time the first of the three starts from his cell until the last one is pronounced dead by the physicians not over 20 minutes will elapse."

It is stated that Warden Deyo and Father Belanger have offered to contribute to a fund to defray the expenses of sending the bodies of the three brothers to Kinderhook.

Since Governor Odell's refusal to interfere in their behalf the three young men have received scores of letters from people in all parts of the country, mostly from ministers, assuring them of the divine forgiveness and urging them to be brave and to trust in God's mercy.

Will Accept Tammany Nomination.

New York, Sept. 30.—All doubt surrounding Comptroller Grout's intentions in regard to his acceptance of a possible nomination by Tammany were removed when Mr. Grout declared that he would certainly accept it. In a long statement he justified his course by declaring that the issues of the campaign were purely local and that the campaign would be made on the record of the administration of Mayor Low. Republican leaders generally, after a conference with Governor Odell, denounced Mr. Grout's attitude.

Drowned While Fishing.

Fall River, Mass., Sept. 30.—Henry Steers, a prominent retired business man of New York city, was drowned at Westport Harbor by the capsizing of a boat from which he was fishing. His companion, Captain William Hammond, was rescued.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—Hanlon got the decision over Ranger at end of the 20th round.

COLLEGE OF CITY OF NEW YORK.

Installation of Dr. John Huston Finley as President.

New York, Sept. 30.—Dr. John Huston Finley, who left the faculty of Princeton to accept the presidency of the college of the City of New York, was yesterday installed in that office, a notable gathering of college presidents and other men of prominence participating in the installation ceremony.

Seventy universities and colleges were represented and Governor Odell, Senator Depew, Grover Cleveland and Presidents Hadley of Yale, Schurman of Cornell and Butler of Columbia delivered addresses.

A letter of congratulation from President Roosevelt was read.

Senator Depew was followed by President Hadley of Yale, Butler of Columbia, Schurman of Cornell and Remsen of John Hopkins in brief congratulatory addresses. Grover Cleveland then spoke, making special reference to the importance and value of free education.

Mr. Cleveland said in part:

"I cannot rid myself of the thought that education is a selfish thing if it is to be hugged to the breast by its possessor as a mere individual prize, and it seems to me that the existence of schools and colleges can scarcely be deemed important except as they are the sources from which education may be distributed for the enrichment of the body politic, and the stimulation of patriotic thoughtfulness among our people.

"If we have outgrown the simplicity of our early national life; if with the growth of abnormal enterprises and a mad struggle for wealth a constant and acute solicitation for the country's weal has been somewhat subordinated; and if in our social and business life we can see signs of a cleavage that may divide our people into distinct and unsympathetic classes, we should be watchful. If with these things we also discover a movement towards a more general collegiate education, we ought to regard it as another unfavorable symptom; if increasing learning is to be made only a mere ornamental accompaniment to the unwholesome and pitiable ostentation of riches and pride.

"It should be the prayer of every patriotic citizen that American education may never be so degraded; that it may always remain true to its mission—a steadying force against all untoward conditions; that higher education as it becomes more accessible and widespread may reinforce the firmness of our national foundation."

A telegram of congratulation from the students and faculty of Knox college of which Mr. Finley was formerly president, was read and President Finley then delivered his inaugural address which dwelt on the importance of locating colleges in cities.

Trans-Continental Litigation Ended.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—The Times-Star says: "It is learned authoritatively in legal circles that John D. Rockefeller, operating through his brother William and others, has settled the controversy between the Harriman and the Keene interests in the Union and Southern Pacific companies and that the ending of the litigation is only part of a general movement for the improvement of the stock market. While nothing can be learned in Cincinnati of the terms of settlement between the contending interests, it is generally believed that there has been such an agreement as to secure in harmonious management the control of the trans-continental trade of the entire country."

Voluntary Raise of Wages.

Binghamton, Sept. 30.—The International Time Recording company has sent a letter to each of its employes, in part as follows: "Commencing October 3, this factory will operate but nine hours per day. Your wages will accordingly be increased enough per hour so that you will receive the same pay for nine hours as you have heretofore received for 10 hours, with the understanding that should you be requested to work overtime you will receive the same rate per hour as for regular work." The company employs 250 men in its Binghamton plant

Demand For a Nine Hour Day.

Wallingford, Conn., Sept. 30.—The local branch of the Buffers and Polishers' union presented a demand upon the management of the factory of R. Wallace and Son for a nine hour day with 10 hours pay. It is announced that a similar demand is to be presented to all silver and silver plated ware factories in the country.

Demurrer to Canfield's Indictment.

New York, Sept. 30.—The demurrer to the indictment against Richard A. Canfield will be argued on Friday, before Judge Sewell, in Binghamton. John B. Stanchfield will represent Canfield and Assistant District Attorney Gans will oppose the motion he will make.

Death In a Sanitarium Fire.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 30.—One person was burned to death and five were injured in a fire that destroyed the private sanitarium of Dr. E. B. Ralph. The flames spread so quickly that the occupants were forced to jump from the second story widows.

One Second of Theologic Seminary.

New York, Sept. 30.—Rev. Wilford L. Robbins, D.D., was installed by Bishop Henry C. Potter as dean of the General Theologic seminary. Bishops Mackay-Smith and Burgess assisted.

Philippine Population.

There are several surprises in the Philippine census just completed, the chief surprise being in the reduction of previous estimates of the population of the archipelago, which ranged all the way from 7,000,000 to 10,000,000, while the actual enumeration shows 6,976,574. The Spaniards never took a careful census, guessing at the number of the Filipinos as they guessed at their capacity for fighting. They guessed wrong every time, and the result was that Uncle Sam in the role of champion guesser stepped in and did the job for them and did it thoroughly.

In the execution of the field work there were 86 supervisors, each with a clerk and messenger; 968 special agents, 61 special enumerators and 5,822 enumerators and as many enumeration districts.

The total of the wild tribes enumerated shows at about 600,000, though the returns from the official enumerators' reports are to the effect that the population generally were "wild" when commanded to stand up and be counted. They had never done it before, and having been so long under Spanish rule that they had acquired the habit of never doing anything they or their ancestors had not been accustomed to doing they, to put it mildly, shied at the enumerators. In the provinces of Bulacan, Batangas, Albay, Laguna and Rizal the officials were held up by bandrones, who took their pouches away from them, but, to the great astonishment of the census takers, "did not molest their schedules."

With not quite 7,000,000 Filipinos scattered throughout their 2,000 islands, extending over a distance equal to that between the north end of Maine and the south end of Florida, the archipelago is not so very populous after all.

Two Thousand Miles Horseback.

Perhaps there may be some who have the opinion that the horse is becoming obsolete. Just because the street cars have discarded the noble steed and the automobile is making much noise in the land it is hardly safe to reason that the horse is going out of business. In point of fact, it would seem that he has just begun to show mankind what he can do in the way of trotting and pacing. But the latest achievement of the horse emphasizes the fact that he is still essential to progress and that if the traveling public in general can do without him the army cannot. In accordance with a series of tests projected by the government a dozen members of the Eighth cavalry, stationed in Oklahoma, started for West Point with a schedule to beat of forty-five days between termini. The distance was 2,000 miles, and it was covered by the winner in thirty-nine days, with an average of more than fifty miles per day. Relays were provided every thirty miles, and the riders were allowed to eat and sleep where they liked.

This test of equine stamina is not for nothing, for it means that cavalry will continue to be of service for a long time to come. It should be a hint to horse breeders, especially as our government has no stud for remounts, unlike the French, who raise the finest horses in the world expressly for their cavalry.

According to the latest news from Mexico, that sister republic of ours is booming as never before. It is better to hear the booming of land companies and mining syndicates than that of cannon, such as erstwhile saluted the ears of people in that land of "pronunciamentos" and revolutions. Since Don Porfirio Diaz came in for good, however, and seated himself firmly in the saddle some twenty years ago things have changed in Mexico.

There are rumors of an immense syndicate just formed for purchasing lands in Sonora, Chihuahua and Sinaloa aggregating some 6,000,000 acres, about 3,000,000 of which are owned by the Mexican government. If this land is like the average in northern and irrigated Mexico it will take a good deal of it to make an acre. But that is nothing so long as Senor Don Juan P. Morgan is behind the scheme, as he is reported to be.

Now that the sultan of Sulu has removed himself from the jurisdiction of the Americans in the Philippines and gone to Singapore, bag and baggage, slaves and harem, the question pertinent to the occasion is, What made him do it? Because, if we could find out, perhaps it might not be a bad thing to try it on another and more famous potentate of the species, one Abdul Hamid, now in the Yildiz kiosk or thereabout.

The schoolmarms of Pennsylvania should not get discouraged because they have to give bonds not to marry until after the term is ended. Why not marry before it begins?

Maybe the Turks have killed 100,000 Bulgarians and Macedonians, and maybe there is a cipher too many in the dispatches. But what is a cipher anyway? It is naught.

"Bulgaria talks too much about what may happen if it breaks loose to cause a panic." But it must be remembered that she is called "Turkey" so to speak.

The Worth of exterminating the guides in the Adirondacks has already begun, and the undertakers in the district are preparing for a busy season. Any one tired of life, but without the nerve to end it by a pistol shot, has only to take up this occupation, and, in the words of Uncle Eben, "he won't be occupyin' his occupashun mo' dan a few days."

Have You Eaten "Tf"?

There are so many "ready to eat" foods on the market now that one hardly knows how to distinguish between them. "Tf" should not be classed with the others. There is no other that compares with "Tf", as one trial will convince you. "Tf" is more healthful, strengthening and tastes better. Made by a new process and ready to eat by adding milk. Get a package to-day at your grocers.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover; and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

The Dividen Ground of the Advertiser is the Home.

The only way it is possible for an advertiser to place his announcement in all the homes of the town of Andover is through the columns of The Andover News. When a newspaper goes into the hom
