THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, - EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., NOV. 5, 1890.

THE RESULT.

Great Democratic Gains Reported Everywhere.

The next Assembly and House Democratic---M'Kinley Defeated---It seems to be a Democratic Day.

Three hundred and seventeen votes were polled in Andover for the head of the ticket—about 50 over half the whole number of voters in the town. No serious difficulty was experienced in conforming to the requirements of the new law, and the day was very quiet for election day.

We give below the vote polled here for each candidate, by districts:

	1st dist.	2d dist.
JUDGE COURT OF APPEALS.
Robert Earl	143	139
Silas W. Mason	18	22

IN THE COUNTY.

The whole Republican county ticket is elected by an unusually small majority. The total vote in the county is very light.

OUTSIDE.

Returns show great Democratic gains everywhere. The Assembly will probably be Democratic by six majority. The Republican majority in the State Senate being six, there will be a tie on joint ballot, probably insuring the election of a Democratic United States Senator.

The next House of Representatives will be Democratic by a safe majority.

Pattison (dem.) is reelected Governor of Pennsylvania.

McKinley is defeated in his Ohio Congressional district by a small majority.

Grant (Tammany) is reelected Mayor of New York city.

List of Jurors.

The following persons were drawn at the Allegany County Clerk's office on the first day of November, 1890, to serve as trial jurors at a County Court and Court of Sessions, to be held in the village of Belmont, N. Y., on the 17th day of November, 1890.

COUNTY AND VICINITY.

The Chautauqua Board of Supervisors has fixed the price of boarding prisoners in the county jail at $3 per week, to take effect on December 1st.

The fall meeting of the Western New York Association of Congregational churches will be held in the church at Randolph on Tuesday, Nov. 11th, continuing through the following day.

It is reported that Miss Emma Smith of Rushford, who has worked in this place for some time past for Atty. W. E. Wiley, has fallen heir to $10,000 through the death of a millionaire relative.—Fillmore Observer.

Geo. P. Drake of Hermitage, Wyoming county, realized 1,000 bushels of potatoes from 3½ acres, of which very few were rotten. A farmer at Portage offered to sell his 12 acres of undug potatoes at $8 per acre, and another one dug 75 bushels and realized 9 bushels of good ones.

An important change is about to take place on the Erie railway mail service. A through New York and Chicago mail train will be put on about January 1, running direct from New York to Chicago, and composed of mail cars only. This change is an important one and will give the large amount of mail matter going on the Erie to all western cities and states the attention it deserves.

The weatherwise Indians, as a Chautauqua county paper says, are making preparations for a long season of cold. The Farmer's signs that indicate a heavy winter are multiplying. The beavers are said to be building more carefully and deeply than in previous years, and the weather prophets corroborate these predictions, that the ensuing winter will be one of unusual severity.

President King of the Erie railroad is reported as saying that decisions just rendered will save the Erie company $250,000 now and $90,000 every year during the corporate existence of its two leased lines, the Bradford, Eldred & Cuba and the Kinzua lines. These companies claimed that the Erie owed them 6 per cent. interest on $1,500,000 bonds. The court decides that it does not need to pay this interest.

Saturday's Elmira Adaertiser says: Some unknown person or persons attempted to wreck Erie passenger train 24 last night about 5 miles below this city, near Wellsburg. Train 24 left here at 6:05 last night and when nearing Wellsburg the engineer saw a pile of stones heaped upon the track ahead of him. He reversed the lever just in time to save what might have been a terrible catastrophe. As it was the engine left the track. None of the passengers were hurt. This same thing happened at about the same place two years ago.

The farmers throughout the county are considerably interested in the test suits which will soon be brought by the holders of the Bohemian oat notes against the makers, who under the advice of legal counsel have refused to pay the same, claiming not to have received value. Some $60,000 or $70,000 of these notes are held in this country. In a test suit in Oswego last week, brought in the Circuit court then in session, to recover $120 due on a Bohemian oat note, the jury rendered a verdict $2.60 in favor of the plaintiff, or 32½ cents per bushel instead of $15 a bushel which the note demanded.

A Bright Polly.

A lady of Bremen, Me., has a parrot and a cat. The cat's name is Shag. The lady has taught the parrot to spell c-a-t, cat, d-o-g, dog, and a few such words, and the other day Polly electrified the household by spelling very loudly and plainly, "c-a-t," and then pronouncing it "Shag." Perhaps Polly can't think.—Boston Journal.

Badly Fleeced by Sharpers.

Albert Stives of Alma, and Fred Peters of Wellsville, went to New York last week. They had seen a statement somewhere to the effect that certain parties in that city could furnish "queer" that could not be distinguished from genuine treasury notes. They found their men, who refused to negotiate with or in the presence of but one party. Peters was sent to a hotel. Stives completed the business, paying $330 for $4,000 of the spurious money. He was advised by the sharpers to ship the—stuff home by express to avoid detection. He saw the "money" as he supposed packed in a box that was delivered to him. Stives gave the box to Peters, who expressed it to Wellsville. It arrived Tuesday. When opened it was found to be empty. Peters now accuses Stives of combining with the sharpers to rob him. Both will now, doubtless concede that honesty is the best policy. Blackman & Hall are investigating the case.—Wellsville Democrat.

For Farmers to Consider.

EDITOR ANDOVER NEWS:—In reply to the "Farmer Outside the Fold," I would say, in the first place, he takes a very short-sighted view of the intentions of the Alliance. It is not for the purpose of buying a pound of soda that the farmers are organizing, but to equalize taxation, and many other things which, if the farmer outside the fold were inside he would understand much better than he does now.

No Apples.

The LeRoy Courier thus bemoans the shortage in the apple crop:

"In many families during the ensuing long winter evenings the loss of the usual late lunch of cider and apples, or apples and doughnuts, will be severely missed. The doughnuts may come on as usual, but oh, how lonesome they will be! No crisp Northern Spy to moisten their mouthful, no Kings, no Baldwins to 'make the mouth water;' no Swarss, no Spitzenburgs, not even a Golden Russett—just dry doughnuts with not a sip of sweet cider as a mollifier.

Talk of oranges, of lemons, of bananas, of figs and such trash! How little way they go toward filling the place of the delicious winter apple in our thoughts or in our stomachs! Of them we sicken and from them we fly after a short introuction; but of or from the mother apple and her progeny—never! We eat them in health, are fed on them 'for the stomach's sake,' raw, baked, stewed, escalloped, fricaseed, fried; on top and between crusts, pared, quartered, cored, sliced, any way, every way and always. The lemon has a delicious acid, but who has not noticed a sort of sameness in the acid of all lemons? And so with foreign fruits. All foreign fruits except the orange are without change of aroma. Eat a lemon, a fig, a pomegranate, a banana, a pineapple, and you have tasted the aromas of all their kinds. Now try the American apple. Does this taste like that or the other one? And does not each succeeding one taste better to the palate than its mate which is a 'goner?'

How few people stop to think that nearly all the aromas extant are to be found and enjoyed in our fifty or a hundred varieties of the American apple—ten thousand aromas in one! and all delicious to the most limited comprehension:"

When Mr. Howe of the Courier wants to enjoy the pleasure of eating an American apple, which it seems from the foregoing he cannot do in LeRoy, we advise him to come up to Andover. Here you can eat doughnuts and apples to your heart's content, while you sit before a warm gas fire and dance the little granddaughter on your knee. Who would ask for anything better than that?

THE PULPIT AND THE STAGE

Rev. F. M. Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs. in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Fanny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles at Brainard's drug store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00 3

Something More Than Wealth.

Wealth and all that it implies cannot be an efficient substitute for those higher tendencies which expand the mind while subduing the passions, which teach the inferiority of pursuits and desires bounded by the narrow space of physical existence, which lend to the doctrine of human brotherhood a meaning and a force. It cannot derive from mere philosophy, and which afford a compensation for the trials of circumstance and condition in giving to those who follow them a contentment independent of fortune and a hope beyond the reach of human vicissitude.—New York Ledger.

A Stuffed Hen.

"That's prized about as much as any of my treasures," recently remarked an old lady in Auburn, as she pointed to a glass case inside of a gilt frame, in which a black biddy was skillfully mounted. "We had her fifteen years, and as it has been eighteen years since I had her stuffed, why it must have been thirty-one years ago when she used to nestle in the cotton and later follow me about the house. How time flies!"—Lewiston Journal.
