THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, — EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., NOV. 19, 1890.

IN THE INTEREST OF REFORM.

The NEWS is reliably informed that the bills for printing the session laws of the past year, as presented to the Board of Supervisors last week, aggregate $1,558.80, for the two papers. This would give each paper $779.40, and at 20 cents a folio it is evident that 3,897 folios have been published.

We are also reliably informed that the printers' bills were made out in accordance with the report of the committee appointed last year to count the folios.

We are also further reliably informed that the said committee, in counting the folios, found only seven chapters, or about 40 folios, of the laws passed last winter, that did not apply to Allegany county.

Now, one of two things is true: we have been misinformed, or else there has been jobbery somewhere. One only need spend a few moments in examining the laws to find that there are tens, dozens, scores—we might almost say hundreds—of laws passed by the last legislature, which are of no interest or value in Allegany county. In the one act amending the charter of Hornellsville we find almost as many folios as the committee threw out, and there are a great many intances of the same kind.

After an examination of the laws, we are willing to make this statement: In our opinion the bill for printing the laws is one-third if not one-half greater than it should be, and if it is paid the tax-payers will be robbed to that extent, to say nothing of the exorbitant price paid per folio for publishing laws that should be published. Of course the latter cannot be helped now. The price per folio is fixed by state law.

It seems to us that the Board of Supervisors of this county should look into this matter a little further before it pays these bills. It is due to themselves, to the tax-payers, and to the newspapers who are taking up the fight against exorbitant bills, that a most thorough examination be given this matter, and at once.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL LAW.

It has been ascertained in Albany that the "Corrupt Practices Act" is unconstitutional. This act requires candidates for office to file an itemized statement of their campaign expenses. In the issue of the NEWS of July 9, 1890, was published an article concerning the law under which excise commissioners were compelled to swear that they were not interested in the liquor business. We give below an extract from the article.

Article XII of the Constitution of the State of New York prescribes the oath to be taken by all officials, (generally known as the oath of office,) and the same article in its concluding sentence says: "And no other oath, declaration or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust."

This would seem to settle the matter, and the excise commissioners remain in their places, at least until the constitution is amended. And if this is so, we do not believe that the new law known as the "corrupt practices act" will hold water. This law requires all candidates for office to file an itemized, sworn statement of all monies paid out by them for campaign purposes, under a heavy penalty.

So it seems that the NEWS is entitled to the distinction of first showing the "Corrupt Practices Act" to be unconstitutional.

While the Board of Supervisors are taking measures to secure much needed reforms in the affairs of the county, how would it do to pass a resolution making 7:30 a. m. the hour for beginning the morning session? These sessions usually begin about 9 a. m., except when the members want to get away on an early train. It is no trouble then to meet at 6 o'clock, adjourn, and thus get in another day.

The Supervisors passed a resolution last week declaring the publication of the session laws a useless practice, and appointed a committee to confer with Senator Fassett and Assemblyman Thompson, in regard to making this county exempt from the law which requires their publication. While the NEWS believes, as it stated last week, that some means should be taken to acquaint the public with provisions of new laws as they are passed, yet the expenditure of so much money for that purpose is reckless extravagance. If the supervisors can abolish the practice in this county they will be entitled to the thanks of the taxpayers. In the meantime they should put the price down to the very lowest notch allowed by law, and carefully scrutinize each law, to see if it may not be omitted, as having no interest to the people of this county.

We are With You.

The Northern Allegany Observer, The Hume Enterprise, Rushford Spectator, Friendship Register, Bolivar Leader, Every Week, Andover NEWS, Alfred Sun, and Canaseraga Times, all ought to join in a fight against the Session Law swindle. It is unjust to the newspapers named, and no better than highway robbery of the taxpayers.—Belmont Post. We believe that the system of publishing the session laws should either be radically changed or totally abolished. Send up some of your petitions and we'll help circulate 'em.

A Boom for Maple Sugar.

A tremendous impetus will be given to the production of maple sugar by the bounty of 1¾ cents and 2 cents per pound which is to be paid from the United States treasury for all maple sugar hereafter produced in this country. This is one of the features of the agricultural part of the new tariff law. According to an amendment inserted by the conference committee and now a part of the law, "The payment of bounty on sugar of domestic production shall take effect on April 1st, 1891." Therefore all maple sugar made next spring will receive a bounty. In order to draw the bounty, the producer must before April 1st, get a license from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and must not make not less than 500 pounds. The law on this point is as follows:

On and after July 1, 1891, and until July 1, 1905, there shall be paid, from any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, under the provisions of section 3689 of the revised statutes, to the producers of sugars testing not less than 90 degrees by the polariascope, from beets, sorghum or sugar-cane grown within the United States, or from maple sap produced in the United States, a bounty of 2 cents per pound; and upon such sugar testing less than 90 degrees by the polariascope, and not less than 80 degrees, a bounty of 1¾ cents per pound, under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenues, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe.

The producer of said sugar to be entitled to said bounty shall have first filed, prior to July 1st each year, with the Commissioner of Internal Revenues a notice of the machinery and methods to be employed by him with an estimate of the amount of sugar proposed in the current or next ensuing year, including the number of maple trees to be tapped, and an application for a license to so produce, to be accompanied by a bond in a penalty, and with sureties to be approved by the Commissioner of Internal Revenues, conditioned that he will faithfully observe all rules and regulations that shall be prescribed for such manufacture and production of sugar.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, upon receiving the application and bond hereinbefore provided for shall issue to the applicant a license to produce sugar from sorghum, beets or sugar-cane grown within the United States, or from maple sap produced within the United States at the places and with the machinery and by the methods described in the application; but said license shall not extend beyond one year from the date thereof.

But remember, if you want to get the bounty, you must comply with the above regulations. This is not a serious matter. It involves only the simplest kind of a record of what apparatus you use and the amount and quality of your sugar. Full information, with the necessary blanks to fill out in order to get a license that will entitle you to the bounty will be sent to you free of cost if you will write a letter as follows:

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE, Washington, D. C., Sir:—Please to send all necessary papers and blanks for me to fill out in order to make application to you for a license to manufacture maple sugar and get the bounty therefor. Very respectfully yours. (Sign your name in full, your postoffice, county and state.)

This request should be made at once, to make sure you get the papers, fill them out, have them accepted and receive the official license long before April 1. Remember also that thousands of applications will be made, that many will rush in at the last moment, that official business is always slow, and that as licenses will be issued in order of application, it will be first come first served. If you don't get your license before sugaring begins, you can't get the bounty. Write the above request at once and you will be ready for the extra two cents long before April 1.

COUNTY COURT.

No Verdict Yet in the Boyd-Brown Assault Case--Other Court News.

Court opened Monday at Belmont, with Judge Norton presiding. The first case tried was that of Mary Jane Mead vs. J. D. Rathbone. L. C. Van Fleet represented the plaintiff and C. S. Hall represented the defendant. The jury rendered a verdict for 25 cents in favor of the defendant, who presented a counter claim against the plaintiff.

The next case was the people vs. Dan Hogan, of Bolivar, for violation of the excise law. This was one of the club cases. Hogan plead guilty and sentence was suspended.

It was understood the case of the People vs. Edward Brown would be called Tuesday morning. Considerable time was spent in selecting a jury, and it was after dinner when the case was opened by District Attorney Brown. The first witness called was T. N. Boyd, who testified that on the 30th day of April, 1890, Edward Brown, one of his hired men, assaulted him without provocation at his farm in the town of Andover. He detailed the affair as far as possible, and stated that he became insensible after the first blow was struck.

Chas. Church, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Church, Dr. E. M. Stillman, C. C. Burdick, and H. D. Smith were sworn for the prosecution. Charles Church was the only eye witness of the affair. He swore that Brown threw a heavy milking stool at Boyd's head, then jumped and hit him with his fist, afterwards using the stool and his fist alternately, until he (Church) pulled Brown off from Boyd.

Dr. Stillman swore as to the nature of the wounds received by Boyd, his condition, &c. The other witnesses gave testimony concerning events before and after the assault.

A. L. Elliott, counsel for Brown, stated in opening his side of the case, that they would not attempt to deny the fact of the assault, but claimed provocation on the part Boyd.

Brown then took the stand and gave his version of the affair. He claimed that Boyd sought to provoke a fight, and as he (Brown) was in an alley in the barn with no means of escape, he was compelled to hit Boyd in order to defend himself.

Several witnesses were sworn to prove Brown's previous good character.

The jury retired at 3 o'clock yesterday. At noon to-day (Thursday) they had not agreed. It is understood that nine are for conviction for assault in the second degree, and three for assault in the third degree.

Jacob Bauer of Bolivar, plead guilty to violation of the excise law, and sentence was suspended. This was another Bolivar "club case."

Mary Hatch, of Rock City, plead guilty to violating the excise law and was sentenced to $75 or 75 days in jail. She will go to jail.

Murray Carl plead guilty to petty larcery, and was sentenced to 6 months imprisonment in the Erie County penitentiary.
