ANDOVER, N. Y., APRIL 8, 1891.

A CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.

Hiram Smith, last fall's Democratic nominee for Member of Congress from this District, has given notice that he intends to contest the right of Warren B. Hooker to a seat in the next Congress, on the ground that Mr. Hooker secured his nomination and election by fraud and the corrupt use of money. The matter is creating much excitement throughout the District, and it will not be surprising if Mr. Hooker should lose his seat in Congress. The NEWS doesn't know anything about the truth of the charges, but it is a fact that ugly rumors filled the air all through the last campaign, and a good many threats were made, which it was thought would be forgotten after election. But it seeme they were not. If a Democrat is seated in Mr. Hooker's place, it will be a funny thing, but funny things happen sometimes. However, we do not believe Mr. Smith is entitled to the seat, any more than a Republican would be entitled to represent a strong Democratic District, unless Mr. Hooker's alleged crime was in securing his election by fraud, which we do not understand is the case. The fraud (if there was a fraud), as we understand it, consisted in getting the nomination by the use of money, and it seems to us that Mr. Hooker should be tried in the courts, and if found guilty, should be punished according to law.

It was unfortunate that an Allegany man did not receive the nomination, last fall. We were entitled to it, and from all that we have heard, some of the other candidates before the Republican Convention have far better grounds for contest against Mr. Hooker than Mr. Smith has.

The politician who does the most boasting this year will have the most crow to eat next year.

Jay Gould is at his old tricks again. This time the western railroads not under his control are the sufferers.

The State that isn't represented at the World's Fair will lose a great deal more than the exhibition will by its absence.

A deserted wife has fallen heir to $60,000. There are a good many wives in this vicinity who would be willing to be deserted for much less money.

The "smart aleck" who thought the Farmers' Alliance down-pour was only a momentary shower, is now making for higher ground with all the speed he can command.

Jerry Simpson's prediction that the Alliance will carry at least seven southern States next year, isn't pleasing the Democrats half as much as the carrying of Kansas did.

"What is an 'outrageous gerrymander'?" asks an anxious correspondent. As near as we can make out, it is the redistricting of your State by the political party to which you are opposed.

Parnell may, after all, lose the woman for whom he sacrificed honor and his political future, as Mrs. O'Shea is reported as having said that she had become tired of Parnell, and that she would not marry him when she gets her divorce from Capt. O'Shea.

It needs no argument to prove that a hungry Indian can readily become a bad Indian. Hunger will make a savage out of the meekest man or beast; therefore it behooves the Indian bureau of the Government to see that no Indians go hungry through the fault of it or its agents.

In two years it will be difficult to find a man opposed to the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, and when the new idea is once adopted, it will be still more difficult to find a Senator whose election is tainted by charges of bribery, a task which is now, alas, entirely too easy.

There is a slight difference of opinion between the Democratic Governor of Rhode Island and the Democratic Governor-Senator of New York, as to who is the Governor of Connecticut. It is probable that the same two gentlemen disagree as to who should receive the Democratic presidential nomination.

The alleged spring weather we had in March would seem to indicate that Gen. Greeley is revenging himself in advance, because of the new law under which the weather bureau will, on the first of July, be transferred to the Agricultural Department; or perhaps he wants to help along "Uncle Jerry" Rusk's boom, by making the weather so bad that any change is bound to be better.

Governor Hogg, of Texas, thinks he knows when he gets enough of anything. He has vetoed a bill passed by the legislature, authorizing the acceptance of the sugar bounty by the State for sugar produced on the State sugar plantation. He objects to the bounty because he thinks it will lead to Government supervision and interference with State affairs. This veto may be based on good constitutional grounds, but it will cost the State of Texas a "pretty penny."

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," was never truer than it is to-day. He is a careless student, indeed, who cannot, even in a casual study of the present social and political condition of Europe, perceive the marked tendency towards a general upheaval. Whether, when the now smothered volcano bursts its bonds and overflows continental Europe, the people will simply exchange masters or become their own masters, depends largely upon the people themselves.

Is anything impossible? For years we had been told that it was impossible to duplicate the silk-veined paper upon which the Government prints its money, which is manufactured under the control of the Government, by a secret process which has made the owners all wealthy; yet this paper has been so well imitated that experts have been unable to tell the genuine and the imitation one from the other. A very dangerous counterfeit $2 silver certificate is in circulation printed upon this paper, and every one should exercise care in receiving notes of that denomination. The series counterfeited has a picture of Gen. Hancock on the face of the note.

Senators and Assemblymen have come to the opinion that they can't solve that problem of taxation. There bore Senator Canton of New York, has introduced a bill for a taxation commission of seven persons, to consist of a farmer, a manufacturer, a working man, a representative of the commercial classes, a banker, and two experts on taxation. This commission is to propose a plan for taxation to the next legislature. It is thought the bill will become a law.

William Will is the father of John Will, who lives just over the line in Alfred. The meeting between the son and the rest of the family at the depot, this morning, was very affecting.

Another Fatal Wreck.

A bad wreck occurred one mile east of Hinsdale last Thursday morning about 5 o'clock, by which three men were killed and a great deal of damage done. It was a head-end collision and happened through the carelessness of the men on train 81. About twenty cars were wrecked and three men were killed. The men who lost their lives were John Conroy, Fred Morse and Fred Moore. Train 88 was given the right of way against the fourth section of train 81 from Olean to Cuba. After the second section of train 81 had passed, train 88 pulled out from Hinsdale and met the other section of 81 about one mile east of Hinsdale on the sharp curve. The crash was a terrible one. The body of Conroy was buried under the wreck and could not be found until nearly noon. Two men were hurt in jumping off, but their injuries were not serious.

The train which caused the accident was in charge of Conductor James Hazely. Son of James Hazely of Greenwood.

A Serious Runaway.

Last week's Alfred Sun contained the following:

Our esteemed citizen, P. A. Burdick, arrived in town on No. 1, Saturday evening, from Rochester, in response to a communication announcing the serious illness of members of his family. Mr. Burdick was met at the station by his nephew, Francis L. Green, a student at the University, and a highly esteemed member of the class of '91.

Mr. Green drove a very spirited horse, and, after the departure of train 1, he, thinking the coast clear, together with Mr. Burdick, started for the home of the latter. When opposite the water tank, a locomotive suddenly came down from the west switch, which so badly frightened the horse that Mr. Green lost control of him, and he ran rapidly down the hill, going through the fence and into the gully at the south end of the sluice near the railroad crossing west of the depot.

Both gentlemen were thrown violently from the carriage, and miraculously escaped insant death. As it was they were both badly bruised, Mr. Burdick receiving a broken collar bone, and some severe contusions, and fears are entertained that Mr. Green's head and spine are seriously injured.

Mr. Green's parents, L. R. Green and wife, of Adams Centre, Jefferson Co. were summoned by telegraph, and arrived at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

At this writing the sick and injured are doing as well as could be expected, and a sympathizing community anxiously hope for their speedy recovery.

County Alliance.

The County Farmer's Alliance met at Belmont yesterday. At least 300 delegates were present, and a more intelligent body of men could not have been brought together from the ranks of any trade or profession. A great deal of routine business was transacted and delegates were elected to attend the State Alliance, which will be organized in Hornellsville, on Wednesday, April 22d.

One of the most pleasing features of the meeting was a speech by Hon. Jerry Simpson, the famous Alliance Member of Congress from Kansas. He was introduced to the audience and spoke for about an hour. His address is very pleasing, and he told many truths and made a great many strong points, in a way that was pleasing and effective. He also spoke at Belmont, last evening, to the general public.

A Homestead Law.

Very few people know of a law which, if its provisions are lived up to, exempts the homestead of a man possessing a family, from execution to the amount of $1,000. It is the homestead act, and it is surprising that persons do not take advantage of the privilege granted under it and place their homes in such shape that if trouble should occur, an execution could not touch them. Unlooked for emergencies, unavoidable failures to meet engagements, long periods of sickness and many other contingencies are liable to rise and ruin any one deeply into debt.

The law to which reference is made was an act passed in 1850, which provides that any person may secure exemption on his homestead of $1,000, and on his necessary furniture, tools, teams, &c., to the amount of $250. To secure this exemption it is necessary to have recorded in a book, kept at the county clerk's office for the purpose, a deed or notice, designating that the property described is to be used as a homestead.

INDEPENDENCE NEWS.

The Silver Anniversary of the G. A. R. was faithfully observed by the members of Sawyer Post of Whitesville, at the Baptist church Monday evening, April 6th.

The Knights of Reciprocity is a new organization that will cause the Farmers' Alliance to hustle to keep up with them. I understand it is organized in the interest of the Republican party, and expects to recruit its ranks largely from the soldier element.

As I understand it, the price of sugar was to drop two cents per pound on and after 1st of April, but some people think not before the 15th. What says ye editor? [We understand it was the 1st of April, but it does not follow that the consumer will get the benefit on that date. We'll all be glad to see it when it comes. ED. NEWS.]

During the last good run of sap Mr. Henry Kenyon, who has 1,000 sap buckets hung, made 1,000 pounds of sugar in five days. A sample he sent me resembles white wax more than sugar.

Elder H. D. Clark received a dispatch from Nile Saturday, to the effect that Mr. Charles A. Coon, a former teacher of our school, died that day, and requesting him to be there to preach the funeral sermon Tuesday. Mr. Coon was an active member of the Society of Christian Endeavor at this place, and was well liked. He died of consumption. May his active membership in the society of Heaven continue to the end of time. SOME GUMPTION.

Vital Statistics.

At a meeting of the Board of Health held March 30, 1891, it was voted that notice be given to delinquents in not reporting vital statistics, that they must report the same to the health officer or the registrar within the proper time, which is on or before the 15th of each and every month, or they will be dealt with in accordance to the law.
