A FAIR WARNING

Can you believe that there are just four more weeks of school? It is hard to realize but, nevertheless, it is true.

The fact that there is just a little more school makes me shudder for the most of us will have to get down to work. The few who have kept their work up all thru the school term will be glad to see the tests nearing so as to enjoy a nice vacation. But those who have not kept their work up will keep counting the days and dreading the tests as they come nearer.

It is easy for a person to slide along thru the year, doing just as little studying as possible. In fact, it is so hard to avoid neglecting the studies, that there are very few who do.

Most wait until the eleventh hour to learn the year's work, which usually causes a lot of stewing around and worrying. Every year about this time we resolve that things will be different next year— that we will start preparing for the tests at the first of the year.

Getting down to my purpose, I want to warn you of the fact that there are only four weeks left and that a lot can be done in those four weeks if you keep up with your review lessons.

Here's wishing you much success in your review lessons so that you finals.

JUST ONE MORE OPPORTUNITY

Fellow students we have just one more opportunity to obtain the needed work that we missed during the scholastic year. This opportunity is now, while we are reviewing for Regents. We no longer can afford to let days pass without preparing our lessons, if we expect to pass the final examinations in our subjects. We must not let anything stand in the way of studying, because after all, we have all summer for our pleasures.

A very good system to follow is to make a definite place and time to study for each subject, and live up to this plan.

Let's everyone take advantage of these last weeks of review and make our parents and the whole community proud of our school work this year.

GLEE CLUB WILL GO TO HOUGHTON

Andover High School Girl's Glee Club will participate in the Genesee Country Music Festival, May 23rd. It is being held at Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y.

For the past two years Andover High School orchestra has participated. This year it was decided that the Girls' Glee Club and the orchestra should alternate in attending the festival.

The program is to include a tenminute program of each individual school participating, conducted by its own director. There is also to be a grouped mass singing of all schools participating, conducted by one of the adjudicators.

The required numbers are:

"O, No, John," "Deep River," "Who Is Sylvia," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," "The Voice of Praise," "God Ever Glorious."

GUESS WHO?

This person I'm about to describe can be found in the Senior home room. He has dark red hair, is tall and not very plump. He takes part in all the sports. He is well liked by both boys and girls. During operetta rehearsal he was seen quite frequently with a Sophomore girl. He has a lot of pals including Red Alderson. Get your thinking caps on and guess who this is!

Answer to last week's Guess Who —Oliver Kruger.

ANDOVER PLACES SECOND IN ALLEGANY COUNTY TRACK MEET

Andover High School, altho not deciding to have a track team until a week before the Allegany county track meet, placed second in the meet with 40½ points while Wellsville was first with 70½ points.

Andover opened the day by taking the first three places in the broad jump when Don Lynch jumped 18 feet 2 inches. Bruce McGill 18 feet 1½ inches and Red McAndrew 17 feet 7 inches.

"Red" McAndrew won the high jump at 5 feet 4 inches and John Cannon was tied for fifth.

In the afternoon Andover started off when Joe McAndrew won the 100 yard dash and was disqualified because he stepped out of his lane. Joe came back however to win the 220 yard dash.

Don Lynch won the half mile, beating Dye of Wellsville by ten yards his time of 2 minutes 12 seconds. Donald Edwards took first place in the shot put with a heave of 34 feet 9¾ inches. He also took fourth place in the 440 yard dash.

Farnham Pope took fifth in the mile and John Cannon took third place in the discus and Donald Lynch took fourth place. Andover took third place in the relay.

Everyone who took first or second places will go to Rochester and there will be five from Andover. They are: Joe McAndrew, "Red" McAndrew, Donald Lynch, Bruce McGill and Donald Edwards.

Only two county records were broken when Sutfin of Wellsville threw the javelin 157 feet. The other record was broken when Palmer of Belfast broke his own record when he went 10 feet 6 inches in the pole vault.

OPERETTA VERY SUCCESSFUL

The operetta, "And It Rained," which was presented last Wednesday and Thursday, May 8 and 9, at the Andover High School Auditorium, under direction of Miss Mary Jo Ross, was very successful.

Due to unfavorable weather, the last evening of the operetta caused the attendance to be smaller than expected.

From the fine comments it proved that everyone liked this operetta very much.

At the close of the operetta a bouquet of roses was presented to Miss Ross by Regina Lynch, in behalf of the principal characters, in appreciation for all the work Miss Ross has done to make the operetta a success.

Approximately $30 was cleared on the production.

THE SPOTLIGHT ! !

Well, well, so Enola and Laura have finally "hooked" some Canisteo fellows! Good luck, girls.

Dottie C. and Gertie D. are visiting Hornell real often now. Tell us—what's the attraction?

Hey, "Punk" isn't it about time you were ill? You know "Tish" is back in school.

Kruger is getting friendly with Billy D. Can it really be serious?

Oh, Carolyn, were you really thrilled Sunday night? I still can't see how Milton and Burrell survived.

Now Mary McA., Enola won't stand this "stealing" stuff!

Clyde, tsk, tsk! Leave the Alfred janes alone! You really can get someone very nice here.

So Regina let you down Lloyd. Why, Fern, to whom were you writing the letter Tuesday? I bet it was to Everett, wasn't it?

Hey, Tut, is New Hampshire south of Africa? If some of you don't understand, ask Tut.

A new romance in bud! Is it Mead and Holroyd—I wonder!

Well boys, Eddie A. and Howard McA. you really could have found a better night, don't you think? C. C. and B. K. really had a good time tho, so we hear.

Did Mary McA. really lose her heart Sunday night? And did Wellsville claim it?

By the looks of the tag on the package, Dick was found holding during the operetta, must be he is playing second fiddle to (??). Ask Dick.

Maybe Jo B. can write poems, but she hasn't learned how to ride bicycles.

And I heard Jean and Decatur were out Tuesday night—and with whom was Marilla? Not Wellsville, was it?

Until next week,
—THE SPOTLIGHT.

CAN YOU IMAGINE—

Eddie Brewster as a tight-rope walker.

Eleanor Greene not going steady.

Anna Dean not being able to dance.

Don McNeil going out with June Babcock.

Doris Honegger getting low marks in school.

Marion Swarts fat.

Mary McAndrew staying home one night.

Max Baker not drawing funny pictures.

And everyone passing their final exams.

AROUND A. H. S.

The Seventh Grade pupils are making wall hangings and pillows for their drawing work this week.

The Fifth Grade has a new pupil, Miss Isabelle Hill. She formerly lived in West Virginia.

The First Grade is having a daily news paper on the blackboard.

The following story was written by Anna Hardy of the Sixth Grade:

Lochinvor

In a far off land there was a great knight. He lived in a great kingdom. His name was Lochinvar and he had started out to seek one whom he had loved for many a month. It did not matter how rough or dangerous the way was, he even had to cross the great swift Eske river. When he arrived where she lived he heard music and laughter.

"What is this I hear, can it be that my beloved Ellen has denied me?" He soon found out. He boldly entered the great Netherby Hall and low, there were bridemen, kinsmen, brothers and all. Suddenly the bride's father demanded, while he clutched his sword, "Oh, come ye in peace here, or come ye in war, or to dance at our bridal, young Lord Lochinvar?"

The poor craven bridegroom which had consented to marry Ellen when Lochinvar interrupted, stood bewildered and said nothing. Lochinvar spoke to the bride's father, took a sip of wine and then danced a measure with Ellen. When they neared the hall door and Ellen's horse stood near, Lochinvar swung the fair Ellen onto the croop and Lochinvar jumped to the saddle. Away they went while Lochinvar shouted in a ryming way:

"She is mine we are gone, over anything in our path; They have to have the fleet steeds to catch us."

By that time nothing was left of them but a dim rumble of horse-hoof and a thick cloud of dust. No one ever saw or heard of them after that, but we can imagine that they lived happily ever after.—Anna Hardy.

Lochinvar

One day, long, long ago, a boy named Lochinvar rode out of the west. His horse was the fleetest, most beautiful horse in the country. He had once wooed the fair Ellen, Netherby who lived in Scotland. She had promised to marry him. He had decided to go back and get her. So, after a long, tedious journey he reached Netherby Hall. But the handsome youth came too late for Ellen had promised to marry another man, a cowardly fellow. He left his horse standing near the door and walked in. He stopped surprised for the wedding was being held. The bride's father said "Have you come here in peace or come here in war, or to dance at our bridal, young Lochinvar?"

Lochinvar answered "I came to see your daughter and to marry her, sir, but as she has betrayed me, I'll drink one cup of wine and dance one measure, then will I leave never to return again."

The bride kissed a goblet and filled it with wine. The knight drank it, and taking her hand danced away with her. When they reached the hall door, he whispered to her "Come my love." Racing outside with her he swung her to the saddle and springing on to before her they galloped away. The people rushed from the castle and ran after them, but they never were caught. And, as most stories end, they lived happily ever after.—Regina Anne Richardson.

A crate, bearing a label on which was written, "From the Queen," arrived at Westminster Hospital recently. In it was 50 pounds of tin foil to be sold in aid of the hospital funds. Queen Mary had the foil collected of candy boxes and cigarette cartons.

HUMOR

Joe McAndrew: "I say, Dad, we gave a wonderful show at school. Lots of parents came, and the some of them had seen it before, they all had a fine time."

Father: "How do you know?"

J. M.: "Why, they laughed all thru the play."

Father: "And what was the play?"

J. Mc.: "Hamlet."

* * *

Minister (at baptism of Johnny Cannon): "His name, please."

Mrs. Cannon: "John Lawrence Amos Cannon."

Minister (to assistant): "A little more water, please."

* * *

Kenneth Vars: "I hope you don't think I am conceited," as he told Dorothy Fosner all about himself.

Dorothy Fosner: "Oh, no, but I'm just wondering how you can keep from giving three hearty cheers whenever you look at yourself in the glass."

* * *

M. Ianson: "I envy the man who sang the tenor solo."

O. Greene: "Really? I thought he had a very poor voice."

M. Ianson: "So did I, but just think of his nerve."

Food Market Advice

The jig-saw puzzle of putting foods together to fit a budget is again pretty well scrambled. The most helpful pieces this week will be new potatoes, new cabbage, green beans, spinach, rhubarb, pineapple, fish and butter.

Vegetable Values Excellent

With few exceptions vegetables are most attractively priced. Even the onion, which has been high-hatting its admirers for several weeks is somewhat more agreeably priced. Beets have come all the way down to their usual low level, new potatoes cost only about one-third their recent price, new cabbage prices are halved, spinach is way down, green beans also, carrots are cheap, cucumbers and eggplant lower, and green peas moderate.

Asparagus is somewhat higher but still moderate. Boston lettuce is plentiful and considerably cheaper than Iceberg. Tomatoes are higher because of damaging rains in Florida but the new Texas crop is due next week. Leeks, scallions, watercress, radishes and celery make for inexpensive relishes and salads.

All Meats Higher

Lamb, altho considerably higher, is still a comparatively good value. Veal is better but it is not a really popular meat in this locality. Beef and pork, both fresh and smoked, are higher.

Poultry is moderately priced. New crop duckling is an excellent value.

Butter Production Up

The new crop of spring butter has begun to arrive, promising a sufficient supply to meet the increased demand at its present comparatively low price.

Egg prices show a steady slight upward tendency. At these levels and even higher ones, eggs, however, are a valuable addition to the diet. Cheese continues to be a first class bargain at its regular price.

Pineapples Chief Fruit Bargain

Fresh pineapple is the outstanding fruit value in market. The strawberry crop of Louisiana and North Carolina is ending and the Virginia fields are not yet in full production so that strawberries are none too plentiful. Bananas, oranges and grapefruit are plentiful and moderate in price. Cantaloupes are not yet plentiful.

Here is a menu made up from seasonable foods which are moderate in price:

Clear Soup — Salmi of Duck
New Baked Potatoes
Green Beans — Mixed Green Salad
Rolls and Butter
Fresh Pineapple — Cup Cakes
Coffee

Friendship Scout Master Appointed Commissioner

Everett R. Dyer, Scoutmaster of Troop 19, Friendship, has been appointed as district commissioner of the N. E. District, Seneca Council, Boy Scouts of America, effective May 10th. Mr. Dyer will supervise Scouting under the direction of Edgar M. Sain, Scout Executive of Seneca Council, in Angelica, Belfast, Belmont, Cuba, Fillmore, Friendship, Houghton, Rushford, Short Tract and White Creek.

The Troop Committee at Friendship have not yet appointed a successor to Scoutmaster Dyer and he will act in the dual capacity for a short time.

Rid Yourself of Kidney Poisons
DO you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; backache, headache, dizziness, swollen feet and ankles? Are you tired, nervous—feel all unstrung and don't know what is wrong?
Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly, for functional kidney disorder permits excess waste to stay in the blood, and to poison and upset the whole system.
Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They are recommended the world over. You can get the genuine, time-tested Doan's at any drug store.
