Fluid Milk Sales In New York Reach Record In July

Farmers To Get Uniform Price of $2.54 Per Hundredweight, Says Milk Administrator.

With consumption of fluid milk in July at a record high level, the uniform price dairy farmers of the six states of the New York milkshed will collect for July deliveries is $2.54 a hundredweight, which betters the July 1941 price by 24 cents for a rise of 10.4 per cent, and is the peak blended rate for the month since 1920.

In announcing the computed price N. J. Cladakis, administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area, reported the July milk pool will yield a farm value of $15,138,706.67 for a gain of 25 per cent over the previous July's return.

"Improvement in the utilization of milk as well as the higher price levels it is selling at is responsible for the uniform price of $2.54," Mr. Cladakis commented. "The rate has turned out four cents better than our forecast of $2.50 mainly because more milk was sold in the more valuable uses.

"Slicing the deductions from the pool to pay diversion claims nearly 55 per cent as a result of the restriction of such payments last April also has improved the farm return. Diversions cost the July 1941 pool $270,952.16. This July they came to only $123,968.95. The difference can be marked up as a gain of nearly three cents a hundredweight to this pool.

"A large part of the increased value can be credited to the higher price of fluid milk, $3.10 as compared with $2.65 a hundredweight, and to a gain of 5.2 per cent in fluid consumption. July was the sixth straight month with fluid sales above the previous month.

"Fluid milk in July reached 220,627,488 pounds in the New York area and is the largest volume on record for any month since the federal-state marketing orders became effective Sept. 1, 1938. Only once before has the fluid volume approached that peak and that was in October 1938 when the sales hit 220,473,310. The average consumption of fluid milk was 208,229,831 pounds a month in 1940, and 206,084,407 in 1941.

90% OF WORLD'S CRUDE RUBBER NOW CONTROLLED BY AXIS!

Whether you know it or not—more than 90 per cent of the world's crude rubber is now in control of the Axis powers! That means that what crude stock this nation does possess must be used exclusively for military needs of ourselves and our Allies.

Tires on our present automobiles constitute the only rubber supply in sight for civilian use—and we can no longer afford to wear out these tires at peace time rates.

Here's the solution. Join a car-sharing club in your vicinity NOW. Drive your neighbor today—he'll drive you tomorrow. Double up! Don't drive alone!
