THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, - EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., JULY 29, 1891.

The Ohio campaign this year seems to be a sort of "Billy" and "Jimmy" affair.

"The true story of Mr. Blaine's illness" is getting just a little monotonous, notwithstanding it is different every time it is printed.

It is not encouraging to old maids, but it is nevertheless true that the marriage rate is constantly decreasing in this and other countries.

In view of the failure of European crops, and the prospective high prices for American cereals, it would seem that our greatest present need is, more harvesting and less politics.

Before making up your mind that there are no good people in Philadelphia, as one is apt to do after reading about the recent financial occurrences in that city, it is well to think of the adage, "The devil is not so black as he's painted."

According to Senator Hale, reciprocity is to be the main issue in the Presidential fight, and the Farmers' Alliance will support the Republican ticket. It is but fair to state, however, that Mr. Hale is not what might be called an unprejudiced prophet.

The Senate sub-committe which is engaged in finding out the effect of the McKinley tariff act on things in general is now at Narragansett Pier, presumably to study what effect the law has had upon the gorgeous bathing suits of the shapely girls who have made that resort famous.

We don't know how much Sam Small knows about it, (he isn't credited with knowing very much about anything) but he said to a big crowd in New York the other day that no man with the whisky record of D. B. Hill will ever get the vote of the South in the Democratic national convention.

At this season of the year all Government property, no matter how insignificant in value, that happens to be located in the mountains or upon the seashore, is discovered by the powers that be to be in immediate need of official inspection, and it takes one or more officials and a party of friends to do the inspecting. Uncle Sam, he pays the bills.

The free coinage bomb from the Ohio Democratic convention has made another big hole in the already ragged sails of skipper Cleveland's nomination yacht, which has been in a bad way for some months. It is extremely doubtful whether new sails can be procured in time for the now disabled yacht to enter the great race for the Presidential cup.

The Grant monument in New York hasn't been built, and it is not at all certain that it ever will be, but the announcement is made that the committee will place on sale about the first of September a large engraving showing the monument and grounds as they will appear when the work is completed. An engraving showing the present bare condition of the ground, exhibited in comparison with the one proposed to be issued, might possibly assist greatly in procuring subscriptions.

Things that are only occasionally found: An honest and truthful politician; the newspaper that hasn't the largest circulation; the fellow who gets licked in the scrapping match; the girl who refuses an eligible offer of marriage; the merchant who does not carry the largest stock and sell at the lowest prices; the boiler that wasn't all right just before the explosion; the farmer who doesn't raise the finest stock and best crops in his neighborhood; the fair that isn't going to eclipse all previous exhibitions; the candidate for office who isn't urged on by his friends; a dude with brains; a banker who favors Farmers' Alliance principles, and the man that knows when the old gun is loaded.

Over 4,000 boxes of cheese were offered at Cuba last week, the price being 8⅛ @8⅜ cents. C. J. Elmer bought 250 boxes of other near-by factories at 9⅜ cents.

The village of Cuba has the reputation of having the best and most perfectly constructed system of water works of any village in the state, for which the people of that place are largely indebted to I. N. Sheldon, who was the prime mover in their construction.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Written from Andover--Strong Testimonial for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

ANDOVER, N. Y., May 3, 1891.

DR. KILMER:—

Dear Sir: I thought I would write you a few lines and tell you how much we think of your remedies. About three years ago my husband commenced to fail very rapidly with kidney trouble. He lost his appetite and became so weak that the least exertion would cause him to lie down. He could scarcely walk. He doctored with all the local physicians here, but without getting any relief. He gave up and said that he could not live three months. One day we received one of your "Guides to Health" through the mail, and I persuaded him to get a bottle of your Swamp Root and try it. Before he had taken the whole of the first bottle we could see a change for the better. He kept up the treatment for some time, until he was able to do considerable work, and to-day he is so much improved that it is not necessary for him to take the medicine all the time, and he can walk a mile and a half to the village and back.

We have also tried your Indian Cough Cure, and never found anything that could beat it. I noticed in our "Guide to Health" that you would send six beautiful cards and a picture of yourself. We would be very glad to get your picture, as we are certain he would have been in his grave, if it had not been for your Swamp Root. We recommend your medicines everychance we get.

MRS. D. B. LEE.

Fresh stock of bananas, oranges, lemons, watermelons, tomatoes, ripe apples, new potatoes and cabbages just received at H. E. Miner's. Prices right. Please call early and often.

Mrs. George E. Brown was taken suddenly ill last Wednesday afternoon and her mind has been somewhat unbalanced ever since. It is hoped and believed that the derangement will be temporary.

See the new derby and soft hats at Phillips'. They are good, and cheap.

The Mutual Gas Company is putting down another well. It is located on the Patrick Hyland farm in Quigg Hollow. This is supposed to be good gas territory and a good producer will probably result. The company doesn't intend to have a shortage of gas here if they can help it.

A Union Prohibition League is being organized in this place. The NEWS a short time ago gave a synopsis of the plan of organization and purposes. It is proposed to stop the illegale sale of liquor by a united effort to enforce existing laws, and also to secure if possible the enaction of more stringent ones. The work of organization is progressing satisfactorily, and much interest has been awakened.

W. H. Phillips has a new stock of men's derby and soft hats.

Twelve fresh air children were killed at Binghamton Monday night. They were on the same train with those who came here, but were going to another place. The train was on a switch, very near the main track. The children had just been out of a window just in time to be struck by a passing train. Two were killed instantly, one died about ten minutes later. Sad affair.

Personal.

Mr. Will H. Crandall of Alfred Centre was in town Monday.

Miss Fannie Spaulding returned from Chautauqua Friday evening.

Mrs. T. McTighe and Miss Kate McTighe were in Wellsville Friday.

Mrs. Preston, who has been ill for some time past is slowly improving.

A. M. Burrows returned Monday evening from a few days' outing at Chautauqua.

Mrs. J. A. Robinson and daughter Grace visited friends in Honeoye, Pa., last week.

Mrs. L. C. VanFleet and daughter Bertha are visiting friends and relatives in Black Creek.

Mrs. Dr. McGraw of Denver, Col., has been visiting Mrs. A. C. Frisbey and other friends here.

Mrs. A. W. Allen of Whitesville has been visiting at the home of her parents in this village for several days past.

B. B. Hann of this place completed a Business Course at Hornellsville in 12 weeks and began a short-hand course this week.

Mrs. James Gilmore and little daughter returned the first of the week from a couple of weeks' visit at the home of her parents in LeRoy.

Miss Carrie Leonard had recovered sufficiently to enable her to be moved last Friday, and she was taken to the home of Mr. F. S. Osborn in Elm Valley.

Jesse Phillips started last Saturday morning for Chicago, where he expects to continue the study of law. He has the natural ability to achieve great success in the profession, and his strict integrity and innumerable other good qualities have made him hosts of friends here. He will some day be heard from in no uncertain manner, if he lives and has health, and the time will come when it will be an honor to this town to say that he once lived here.

He is Decidedly "In It."

Geo. A. Green of Belmont, Allegany County Clerk, was our caller last Saturday and we made our first acquaintance with him, and found him to be an agreeable, pleasant gentleman. He is in the field for renomination this fall.—Fillmore Observer.

Died.

Anthony Lynch died at his home in this village on Friday, July 24, 1891, of bronchitis. His age was 77 years. The funeral services were held at the Catholic church Monday morning at ten o'clock, and the remains were buried in the Catholic cemetery in this place.

"See Me Shoot the Cow."

That is what the 14-year-old son of Newell Baker said last Thursday to his brothers and sisters, and as he said it he pulled the trigger of a Winchester rifle. His aim was good and the cow fell dead. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were away from home and the boy was fooling with the gun when the cow came along and he made a target of her. The animal belonged to Mr. Baker.

Five Innings--Score 7 to 0.

The ball game yesterday at Bolivar between the Bolivar and Andover teams was stopped by rain at the fifth inning. The score then stood, Bolivar 7, Andover 0. Most of the runs were made in the first two innings; after that it was a well-played game until the rain came. Another game will be played here soon by the same clubs.

Another Game Friday.

A great game of ball will be played here on Friday at 3 o'clock p. m. between the Hornellsville and Andover clubs. Admission 15 cents, ladies and carriages free. Don't miss seeing it.

Behind the Times.

It seems good to read the annual statements in our worthy country exchanges that Deacon So-and-So, nearly a hundred years old, is making all the boys tired by the way he and his scythe lead them down the hay field.—Elmira Advertiser.

For the benefit of the Advertiser we will say that a machine has just been invented that will, if it proves a success, deprive the Deacon of his job by the time the editor of that paper is, well, say fifty years older. Other people know that the scythe is as much out of place in the hay field as a hand press would be in the Advertiser's press room, and has been for about the same length of time.

The Erie's Summer Excursions.

The Erie Railway has issued a very handsome and complete book descriptive of its summer excursion reports. For full particulars and a copy of the book address A. W. Bodle, D. P. A., 177 Main St., Buffalo N. Y.

Candidate for Sheriff.

There are said to be ten candidates in this county for the nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket. Only two of them, so far as we are aware, have visited Andover. The later of these is Russell Tremain of Wellsville, who was here last Thursday. Mr. Tremain is known to many people in this vicinity, by reputation if not personally. He is a jovial, good-natured gentleman, making friends wherever he goes. Those best acquainted with him say his integrity and honor have never been questioned and are not less in degree than his hearty good humor. He has never asked his friends to support him for office before, and wherever he goes he creates a decidedly favorable impression and is favorably commented upon after he goes away. It is quite probable that no man will go into the convention this fall with enough votes to nominate him on the first ballot, but we venture the prediction that Mr. Tremain's showing will not be far below the best, and if he succeeds in bringing enough delegates to his support to nominate him, the Republicans of this county will have a nominee whose ability and fitness for the office can not possibly be doubted.

Grand G. A. R. Encampment.

The Allegany County G. A. R. Association have perfected arrangements for a rousing encampment August 25 and 26 on the grounds of the Temperance Camp Meeting Association at Cuba. Hon. Asa W. Tenney of New York, unquestionably one of the best speakers in the state, has been secured for the 25th. A lively Camp Fire will be held on the evening of that day, at which comrades Blackman, Richardson, Fuller and others are expected to speak. This, with excellent music both vocal and instrumental, already engaged, will make this one of the most enjoyable reunions ever held in our county. Aug. 26th will be devoted to regimental reunions, visiting and exchanging memories of the days Lang Syne. The Camp Meeting Association will furnish tents at the low rate of one dollar for the two days. All orders for tents should be sent to the Secretary G. A. R. Association (C. H. Miner, Cuba) not later than Aug. 18th. Admission to the grounds Aug. 25th day and evening 25 cents, honorably discharged soldiers with their wives and minor children admitted free. Aug. 26th grounds free to all. Come and bring the wife. Bring the children. Bring the neighbors and have a good time. By order of committee.

C. H. MINER, Sec'y.

Miss M. Genevieve Jacobs has so far recovered from the measles as to do light work.

The numerous rains of late interfered with haying, but gave the farmers a breathing spell.

Mr. George Popple of Whitesville was the guest of his uncle, T. J. Livermore, on Sunday.

Mrs. Josephine Lane and daughter and Miss Nellie Eaton, of Lewisville Pa., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Potter Saturday.

The hail storm last Friday night fortunately did not pass over here, but did considerable damage about two miles from here in Andover. It is reported that Mr. Frank Davis lost about $200 worth of crops.

The Farmers' Alliance of this place will hold an open session Saturday evening, August 1st. It is expected that County Lecturer Dennis Barnes of Allentown will be present and address the meeting. The Whitesville Cornet Band will discourse sweet music, and other exercises will enliven the occasion. Everybody is cordially invited to be present and enjoy a good time.

Arrested for Burglary.

On the 12th of June a jewelry store in Salamanca was burglarized and a quantity of goods stolen. The work is alleged to have been done by one John McLaughlin, who has lived in Andover considerable of the time for a number of years. No trace of him was found until recently. A week or two ago the officers here were requested to keep a lookout for McLaughlin, who it was thought might return to this place. He did return last Friday and was taken into custody by officer H. S. Smith. On Saturday an officer came after him and he was taken the same evening to Salamanca where an examination was held and McLaughlin was sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury. He claims to have been in Andover the night the crime was committed, and we understand there are parties here who saw him in this place that night after the last train had gone west. It seems enough evidence was obtained against him to warrant the justice in holding him, and it is probable the exact facts will appear when the case comes to trial.
