THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, - EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., AUGUST 19, 1891.

The Democratic state convention will be held at Saratoga Springs September 15.

Mr. Russell Tremain is now the only candidate for the nomination for Sheriff on the Republican ticket, in Wellsville. It is said he is by no means the last man in the race. He is every way competent and would make a good officer. If he wasn't such an intense, uncompromising Republican, we might wish him success.—Wellsville Democrat.

The million of young men who will cast their first Presidential votes next year will decide the contest.—Boston Traveller.

We doubt it. Nine tenths of them will vote as their fathers did, not, perhaps, because they have no mind of their own, but because they have been brought up in that particular school. It is the army of independent, or floating voters, old and young, that decides the contest.

The following editorial from the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser shows conclusively which way the tide of public opinion is drifting in this Judicial district: "It seems that delegates to the Judicial Convention from Chautauqua county have been elected favorable to the nomination of Hon. Hamilton Ward for Supreme Court Justice, notwithstanding Chautauqua county had a local candidate of considerable merit in the person of Frank W. Stevens. Judge Ward's peculiar fitness for the office he now holds, as demonstrated by the able manner in which he has performed his duties since his appointment, together with his great personal popularity, will make him a formidable candidate in the Judicial Convention."

Two Republican county conventions were held in Horseheads, Chemung county, last Saturday. For some time past a factional war has been waged between Senator Fassett and his friends and Ex-Congressman Flood and Postmaster Flood, all of Elmira. Each faction claims to be the "only straight" Republican element. It was these two factions that held the two conventions Saturday. There were more contested delegations that there were uncontested, and the Flood element pulled off and held a separate convention. The result will be two sets of delegates to the state and Senatorial conventions, and two county committees. It is probable that the Fassett faction will win in the long run, as it is backed by the old county committee and has other elements of strength not possessed by the Flood faction.

The youthfulness of the country and the linking of the present with what we call our past appears from the announcement today of the death of Mrs. James K. Polk, widow of the eleventh President of the United States. To the rising generation Polk and his times are dim. This generation holds little in vivid remembrance back of the beginning of the civil war. The reminder of the closeness of a period beyond which is held dimly in mind excites curious reflections. Polk was inaugurated President in 1845. Since that time have been the admission of Texas and Florida, and the Mexican war, the discovery of gold in California and the stretch of civilization and railroads to the Golden Gate, slavery debates, the admission of California, and the civil war. Following have come the new relations of the black race to the republic and the spread of life over the great regions of the west. The twenty-third President is now in office. The Union has grown from twenty-six to forty-four states—all since the woman now deceased was the lady of the White House.—Saturday's Elmira Gazette.

A Wealthy Hotel Waiter.

A waiter who is worth over $60,000 is Adam B. Andre, who is employed in the Hoffman house. He has been there for thirteen years. He is a graduate of the Heidelberg university, and he was forced to start as a waiter, as he could secure no other employment when he came to this country.

In a year he saved $1,000, and he intended to return to Germany. One day an actress, whose name I will not mention, who had been stopping at the hotel for some time, and with whom he often talked, mentioned the fact that she needed $1,000 to produce a play. He volunteered to advance the money. The play was a success, and in a month he possessed $5,000.

That evening, while waiting on William H. Vanderbilt, with whom he was quite a favorite, he said he had $5,000 and was going back to Germany in two days.

"Don't you do it. Stay where you are and invest your money in Wall street," Mr. Vanderbilt replied, and he gave him a tip that made his fortune.

Since that time he has followed the millionaire's advice and remained where he was, doing everything in his power to please the guests and get an occasional "tip" on stocks.

Nearly fifty other waiters in the swell hotels who are worth all the way from $5,000 to $30,000 could be mentioned. They all seem to have a mania for Wall street, and are ever on the alert to secure a piece of advice from some of the magnates.—New York Telegram.

A Post-Obit Thought.

"It is lucky for some prominent men that they died when they did."

"Why?"

"So their feelings would not be hurt by the hard time their friends have in rearing monuments to them."—Epoch.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Written from Andover--Strong Testimonial for Dr. kilmer's Swamp Root.

ANDOVER, N. Y., May 3, 1891.

DR. KILMER:—

Dear Sir: I thought I would write you a few lines and tell you how much we think of your remedies. About three years ago my husband commenced to fail very rapidly with kidney trouble. He lost his appetite and became so weak that the least exertion would cause him to lie down. He could scarcely walk. He doctored with all the local physicians here, but without getting any relief. He gave up and said that he could not live three months. One day we received one of your "Guides to Health" through the mail, and I persuaded him to get a bottle of your Swamp Root and try it. Before he had taken the whole of the first bottle we could see a change for the better. He kept up the treatment for some time, until he was able to do considerable work, and to-day he is so much improved that it is not necessary for him to take the medicine all the time, and he can walk a mile and a half to the village and back.

We have also tried your Indian Cough Cure, and never found anything that could beat it. I noticed in our "Guide to Health" that you would send six beautiful cards and a picture of yourself. We would be very glad to get your picture, as we are certain he would have been in his grave, if it had not been for your Swamp Root. We recommend your medicines everychance we get. MRS. D. B. LEE.

Last Saturday evening about thirty members of the Whitesville G. A. R. Post and Women's Relief Corps visited the Andover Post, where they were royally entertained. A program of speeches, reading, recitations, etc. was presented, and the report of all present is that the occasion was a highly enjoyable one.

Mrs. Geo. E. Brown has improved in bodily and mental health since she was taken to Willard. She eats and sleeps well and the doctors write encouragingly concerning her case. Mrs. Brown has also written a letter to her husband which does not indicate much of mental aberration, although it is not just what would be expected from a sane person. Altogether, her friends have reason to feel hopeful of the case.

The Andover ball team played a game of ball against an umpire from Bolivar on the home grounds last Friday. It was evident from the start that the umpire was in the game to win. He did win by a score of 16 to 3. He made runs right along on fouls, and our team went out in one, two, three order on "strikes" when the ball passed a foot over their heads. The Bolivar ball team was on the ground and witnessed the game, admitting that it was funny how the umpire made so many runs with so little work. If our boys had played against the Bolivar team instead of the umpire the result might have been different.
