ABOUT INCORPORATION.

The Friendship Register and the Every Week of Angelica were discussing the improvements of roads under the regime of an incorporated village and those under the system of the pathmasters, in which the latter says to the former:

"If any one over there wants to keep up the pathmaster system, send them over here to compare our roads in the village, where teams can draw twice as big loads, with those out of town where pathmasters reign—and we have extra good pathmasters too, as pathmasters go. Angelica has been incorporated over a quarter of a century, and a vote to return to the old pathmaster system would be almost unanimously defeated. Or, tell your citizens to go to Andover which was incorporated just a few years ago, six, perhaps, under the new village law, and has grown steadily ever since. It is now one of the best business places in the county, and we think it is because they waked up when they voted for incorporation."

Friendship is the only village of any size in the county, and perhaps in Western New York, that is not incorporated. A notice is published, however, announcing that an election will occur on the 17th day of May to decide whether the village shall be incorporated. There are people in every community who are opposed to any move not in the old rut, and it is difficult to convince them otherwise, no matter how much affirmative argument may be presented. Andover had just such a struggle. Article after article was written and the best of argument used in favor of incorporation, and when it came to a vote, the measure was defeated. The wise ones, not to be baffled, after a necessary lapse of time, tried it again, and this time succeeded. Steps were at once taken to make good the promises made, and today, after six or seven years, where are we? What have been the improvements? Good roads, good sidewalks, the best water system in the state, and as good a fire protection as can be found anywhere in a village of its size. Not only this, but new residences have been built, and the old ones repaired; the streets are neatly kept, the sanitary system is as complete as possible. One has only to travel over the village to be convinced that the improvements coming from the laws of an incorporated village are far in advance of what can be done in a village not under the laws governing such villages. Can you name one in Andover today who would willingly go back to the old way? May, verily. Steady improvement seems to be the motto of our people, and not satisfied in making our village beautiful and attractive, every effort is and has been made to increase the facilities of our school, and many have been brought in here from adjacent towns and villages to avail themselves of its advantages. One improvement is an incentive to another. If Friendship people are wise, Friendship will be incorporated, and, Mr. Fries, your citizens would never regret it. If you don't at once succeed, try, try again.

THE WALSBACH LIGHTS.

The Walsbach Street Light Company has established a light in front of the American House on a thirty days' trial, offering to put up a sufficient number of iron posts with the aforesaid burners to light the village at so much a piece, and keep them in order for a stipulated sum per year. Any one comparing this light with the "lightning bugs" so called, now in use, can appreciate the advantages the Welsbach would be to our village. We have now forty three lights. Let us suggest that half the number of these lights would be sufficient to light our village nicely, say four or five on Main street, and the rest scattered over the village. We make this simply as a suggestion, believing, however, that the Board will act wisely on the suggestion. "Increased improvements," remember, is our motto.

Important Views.

There is a Heap of Valuable Information in What This Gentleman Says.

Throughout our entire state, but particularly in the western part of it, Mr. W. Davis, of Garden street, Olean, N. Y., Lodge Organizer for the Order of Ben Hur, for N. Y. State, is well and favorably known. He could not be induced to lend his name to bolster up the reputation of any article, and it could not be employed in any such connection without his permission or knowledge, for if he did not stumble across the fact himself when reading newspapers that such a report as follows was being circulated about him, some of his many friends would be sure to advise him. The reader can therefore depend upon his statement as being reliable.

Mr. Davis, says: "For the last three years my kidneys were out of order and every time I contracted a slight cold or in changeable weather I would have a renewal of the trouble, characterized by a weakness and aching across the loins; a distressing and annoying difficulty with the kidney secretions; frequent attacks of headaches accompanied by spells of dizziness, and I felt tired and used up nearly all the time. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store and took them. The results obtained were rapid and lasting. My back got stronger, the aching left my loins, the secretions were regulated and my system generally toned up."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents a box, by all dealers, or mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for U. S.

M. L. Yocum, Cameron, Pa., says: "I was a sufferer for ten years, trying most all kinds of pile remedies, but without success. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me and I used one box. It has effected a permanent cure." As a permanent cure for piles DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal. Benedict & Van Noy.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Andover meets the first and third Thursday in each month.

Major Lugard, the African explorer, declares that the liquor traffic in Africa is an unmitigated curse, and calls upon the governments of England, Germany and France to come to some agreement which will in time effectually prohibit the importation of liquors.

Thomas A. Edison declares women have more quickness and insight about machinery than men have, and he prefers to employ them in carrying out the details of his electrical inventions. He is credited with saying, "Women have more sense about machinery in a minute than men have in a life time," and he shows his faith in them by keeping 200 women on his pay roll.

—o—

The Earl and Countess of Carlisle have cleared out all the liquor shops from their extensive estate. The advantage to the people, says the Alliance News, is very great. In one of the villages, before the public house was closed, a direct vote of the inhabitants was taken, and, by four to one, they decided that intoxicating drink should not be sold in their midst. The public house was forthwith transformed into a useful place of business. "Peace and prosperity now prevail in Hallbankgate."—The Scottish Reformer.

—o—

Thomas Jefferson once said in regard to raising tobacco: "It is a culture productive of infinite wretchedness." We see men like General Grant go down in the midst of usefulness, because of this fearful scourge; and yet, because we are so accustomed to see intelligent Christian men deprive themselves of the society of the faithful wife or sister, and seek the filthy smoking car, to selfishly indulge in a debasing habit which defiles the body, the temple of God's spirit, renders offensive the very garments he wears, endangers his life and wastes his money, we only mentally protest against it. I well know it requires much moral courage to denounce this universal sin, because we respect and love so many who indulge in it, but I believe the women of America have no right to be silent on this great question, when our brothers are falling on every side, and our sons are following their examples.

"Josiah Allen's Wife" says, "If it is right for Thomas Jefferson to smoke, it is right for Tirzah Ann also." What would the world think of a woman who used tobacco? They would say she should be ostracized from society. In the city of Chicago twenty-four thousand five hundred dollars are spent daily for cigars alone, while thousands of children are deprived of the necessaries of life. I used to think Horace Greeley's definition of a cigar a little severe when he said it was "a little roll of tobacco leaves, with a fire at one end and a fool at the other;" but I cannot really believe a truly wise man will, after considering the subject thoughtfully, be at either end of a cigar.—Mrs. H. M. Bullock.
