HOW are the children dressed this summer? Are they doing well? Do they get all the benefit they should from their food? Are their cheeks and lips of good color? And are they hearty and robust in every way?

If not, then give them

of cod liver oil with hypophosphites.

It never fails to build up delicate boys and girls. It gives them more flesh and better blood.

It is just so with the baby also. A little Scott's Emulsion, three or four times a day, will make the thin baby plump and prosperous. It furnishes the young body with just the material necessary for growing bones and nerves.

In sending a fleet of warships to bulldoze little Columbia for its failure to pay a debt, Italy merely followed the example set by more powerful nations.

The returned Klondiker who says the $100,000 he brings with him compensates him for the loss of both his feet, last winter, must be peculiarly constituted.

If Spain will really carry out her latest bluff by sending Camara to attack our seacoast cities, she will save us a lot of trouble, and will get rid of the last of her warships.

Had the 25,000 Spaniards who are to be returned to Spain at our expense been allowed to retain their guns it would have been difficult to have found ship-owners to take them home.

Gen. Shatter's army is finding its fight with yellow fever a more serious affair than whipping Spaniards. Fortunately the fever is of a mild type, and up to this time the fatalities have been comparatively few.

The Cubans are not altogether pleased with the appointment of Gen. McKibben to be United States military governor of Santiago; they had expectations that the place would be turned over to them as soon as captured.

The fortifications at San Juan, Porto Rico, are the strongest in the West Indies, although not the most extensive, and it will be no picnic to take them. But as our soldiers have a habit of getting what they go after, they will, of course, be taken.

No harm can come of adopting Admiral Dewey's recommendation to make American citizens of the Chinese who bravely fought for our flag in Manila Bay; indeed, it would seem only right and proper to reward these aliens who fought beside [illegible]

When Admiral Camara left Spain he said he would never return until the flags of his fleet had been steeped in Yankee blood. Poor old man! he is on the list, and as soon as he can be caught up with will have to lower his flags to the victorious Yankees, just as the other Spanish Admirals had to do.

President McKinley would doubtless be glad if every man in the United States would express a positive opinion for or against the retention of the Philippine Islands. Public opinion, in this country, will play a leading part in determining the policy that will be adopted towards all captured [illegible] at the close of the war.

The longer you sift the less you save. There is no economy in using a coal stove in summer, no matter how careful you are. A modern
