The report that O. H. Snyder was unable to meet his obligations in full, was quite disheartening news to the patrons of his several cheese factories in this vicinity. It came at a season of the year when many of his creditors were looking for the expected dividend for the payment of taxes, and being about the last source of revenue for the old year, it makes the loss all the harder to be borne. Farmers might secure themselves against many losses that they now suffer by taking proper methods in the beginning. A person handling their money should be required to give ample security that they shall receive their dividends for their hard earned products. They could further secure themselves against claims for losses on account of poor cheese, by scrupulously observing the rules of cleanliness and proper care of milk. It is hard for all to suffer for the negligence or want of care of one.

The British forces appear to be making some headway at last, but the results so far are not in proportion to the effort. The apologists of Great British have justified the war of invasion on the grounds that the British subjects in the Transvaal were in a majority, and therefore were entitled to have a hand in the administration of affairs, but it does not speak well for a majority, and those mostly adult males, to be unable to make any defense whatever for themselves. This large British population have been shut up in their garrisoned towns, and even with a relieving force of three times the number of the Boers, have done nothing so far for themselves. The plucky little nation has shown too much spirit and love of liberty to be allowed to perish by overwhelming numbers. Cannot the United States say a friendly word for a struggling sister Republic?

The question of prize fighting in the state of New York needs attention. It was supposed by some that the statute provided against brutality, and allowed nothing but a harmless exhibition of skill when it required would be champions to be put on gloves in order that neither party should be "hurted," but how flimsy it looks when we know that the articles signed mean a fight to the finish. The avowed object of the law in requiring gloves was that brutality should be prevented, but the ticket buyers expected a gorey show or a return of their money. If the exhibitions were to be the tame affairs that the law contemplated, there would be but few on the outside of the ropes. Cock fighting, dog fighting and man fighting for money ought to find no apologists in an enlightened state, and especially the latter under false pretences of not being prize fighting.

1,000,000 DEATHS!

From Cholera During the Past Year.

The Germs of this Fatal Disease are Lurking Everywhere! Thousands of Dollars Saved by this Wonderful Discovery.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been lost in the poultry business on account of the devastation among the flocks, caused by cholera, roup, gape, and other fatal diseases. There have been many remedies advanced, but none seem to be so successful as the American Poultry Mixture. This will cure chickens in the last stage of cholera and roup, and is excellent for gapes. Do your fowls suffer from violent diarrhœa, dropping of the wings, stupor or excessive thirst? These are the first symptoms of cholera. Cholera is a germ disease and being infectious spreads rapidly through the entire flock. Take time by the forelock; don't stop to experiment with unreliable or untried remedies. Use this mixture at once and the sanitary measures they recommend in connection. Don't give the fowls up. Cholera is a terrible disease but this remedy cures it every time. It is also guaranteed for roup, which can be told by hoarse breathing, swelled eyes, discharge at the nostrils, resembling catarrh. Fifty dollars is offered for any case the Mixture will not cure. If some of your fowls are diseased it will prevent the rest from catching it. Try it. It is cheap, reliable and effective; a scientific preparation, goes more than three times as far as any other remedy; does more good than all of them combined. It is used and endorsed by the most experienced and largest breeders of plain and fancy poultry in all parts of the world. The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture, he's behind the age. In that case send $1.00 for sample box to American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Eighteen men in St. Louis were summoned to act as jurors. When they were asked how many of them had suffered from the visits of burglars recently, six of them answered in the affirmative.

A recent report says that a volunteer in a Colorado regiment at Manila has been cured of stuttering by being shot through the throat by a mauser bullet. Well, wouldn't that jar the stutter out of anybody?

The personally-conducted tour of the club women of New York to the Paris exposition promises to be one of the most notable of the exhibits illustrating this country's advancement.

Stood Death Off.

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once foiled a grave digger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c.

There for years of the census of 1900 to be taken, it will be found that the United States has taken a long leap upward toward the 100,000,000 mark. There are even sanguine calculators who predict that the hundred million mile-stone will be passed as the beginning of the new century, but the best estimates indicate that the total will still fall 12,000,000 or 14,000,000 short of the eighth cipher. There were 62,622,250 inhabitants in the United States ten years ago, according to the last census. Secretary Gage's actuary of the treasury, who is a close guesser in matters of population, computes the present population between Maine and California, Alaska and Key West, at 76,148,000. To this must be added the peoples brought under the stars and stripes by the war with Spain and by the annexation of Hawaii, to say nothing of Cuba, Porto Rico and Guam. If the Filipinos can be counted they may possibly yield a million or two more, but unless the actuary has made a mistake in addition there will yet remain a wide gap between the actual total and the magnificent round number. For a decade or two longer, therefore, the United States must be content to remain in the fourth place in point of population among the nations of the earth. China, despite encroachments upon her territory, still holds the lead, with 402,680,000 men, women and children within her borders; the British empire comes next, with 381,037,874 subjects, including the dusky fanatics of the Soudan, and the Russian empire is third, 129,211,113 persons owing allegiance to the czar. No other nation, however, can show such a rapid increase as that of the United States. George Washington was president of a nation numbering fewer than 3,000,000 individuals. It took 20 years for the population to double. In 1810 it was 7,239,881, in 1820 it had reached only 9,633,822, and ten years later the total was 12,866,020. From this time on it advanced by leaps and bounds. In 1840 it was 17,069,453, in 1850 it was 23,191,876, in 1860 it had reached 31,443,321, and 30 years ago the census showed a population of 38,558,371. It did not pass the half century mark until 1880 when it was 50,155,783, and the last enumeration, 1890, gave a total of 62,622,250.

The statistician of the department of agriculture has made public his estimates of the crops of last year.

oil lamp or an electric lamp. Whether it constitutes 1899. The wheat acreage was 44,592,516, producing 547,303,846 bushels, having a value of $319,545,259, the average yield being 12.3 bushels, the average farm price per bushel being 58.4 cents. The corn acreage was 82,108,387, producing 2,078,143,933 bushels, the value being $692,210,110, the average yield per acre being 25.3 bushels, and the average price 30.3 cents. The acreage in oats was 26,341,250, the production was 786,177,713 bushels, and the value 198,167,975, the average yield per acre 30.2 bushels, and the average price 24.9 cents. The barley crop is estimated at 73,381,563 bushels; the rye crop at 123,961,741 bushels, the potato crop at 225,782,222 bushels, and the hay crop at 156,653,756 tons.

A well-known conductor on the Cairo division of the Big Four railway is authority for the following fish story: About the middle of last November 14 farmers of Lawrence county clubbed together and paid $30 for the privilege of seining Garvey's pond, in that county. In three hauls they secured 13,000 pounds of fish, and shoveled them into a wagon like coal. They got among other large ones a catfish that weighed 94 pounds and a bass which tipped the scales at nine pounds—larger than any bass ever caught in the Wabash river. A seine 100 yards long was used to drag the pond, and was hauled by four horses. The pond contains 25 acres of water, and is fed by the rise of the Wabash river.

A Narrow Escape.

"I had a cough and pain for the well, of the lungs. Consumption seemed imminent, when the doctors said my case was incurable. My friends expected to see me die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Edmonds, of Sidney, Ohio, when the doctors said my case was incurable. My friends expected to see me die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Edmonds, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption. After taking she slept all night, and further use entirely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

It is said that when the late John Phillips moved to Friendship, sixteen years ago, one of the things he moved in his wagon was a trunk containing $12,000 in gold. He had it during the civil war, but did not care to take the chance of exchanging it for paper money, even at a premium.

The following persons were drawn on Feb. 12th, from Andover and nearby towns, to serve as jurors on the Bishop trial which came up for a hearing at Belmont on Monday: Alfred—Geo. C. Bassett, Castner Carwright, I. M. Langworthy; Almond—E. J. Fenner, C. G. White; Andover—W. A. Howland, Henry Joyce, John Deming, Isaac Smith, Henry Snyder.

A fire in the Cuba Times office Sunday evening did about $50 damage. The fire started in rooms above, and the printing office below was flooded with water. Fred Tarbell, the publisher, is away most of the time, working on the Shawmut line, and the office is in charge of Miss Cecil Sweetland.

A. L. Jones, the hustling local agent of the Equitable Life Association, has our thanks for a very pretty calendar and useful Date Book. And, by the way, it would be a grand good idea for you to look up the merits of the company which he represents, the advertisement of which will be found in this week's NEWS.

Al. Brown is on the improve order now, and sends the NEWS greeting. He has been wrestling with typhoid fever for most two months, being confined to his bed 50 days. Everyone is glad to learn of his convalescence and will be ready to extend the glad hand soon when he can again greet us on the street.

If you know a news item or personal mention that you do not find in the NEWS, whose fault is it? It is your own, because you did not send it in. So please don't kick hereafter, because some little item doesn't appear, when you are the one to blame. Bring them in. Few escape our reporters, but when one does, you should be the one to bring it in, not to "holler" because it doesn't appear.

The reorganization of the W. A. Bates Manufacturing Co., Cuba, has been completed, and the newly elected officers are: F. M. Todd, President; H. C. Morgan, Treasurer; H. C. Bliss, Secretary; W. A. Bates will be the General Manager of the establishment.

An old lady over north recently achieved eminence by carrying a quart of pop corn to a donation party, and eating two plates of oysters, a pound of crackers, three slices of fruit cake, half a mince pie, and some apples, after which she was threatened with a "spasm," and in the effort to prevent it sacrificed all the wine there was in the house. She attends donations regularly, and does a great deal for the church in that way.—Geneseo Democrat.

A week or more ago, Jesse O'Donnell, the well-known expressman at Hornellsville, received a letter from a friend named Prescott, residing at Worcester, Mass., that he had sent him a little remembrance by freight, and to be on the lookout for its arrival. Mr. Prescott and his wife had visited Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell on several occasions, and as a matter of course were splendidly entertained upon each occasion. Mr. Prescott is a manufacturer of wagon-makers' supplies, and in a desire to reciprocate the kindnesses shown him by Mr. O'Donnell, sent a handsome moving van. Imagine his surprise.
