Caught a Dreadful Cold.

Marion Kooke, manager for T. M. Thompson, a large importer of fine millinery at 1658 Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago, says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold which kept me awake at night and made me unfit to attend my work during the day. One of my milliners was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very pleased to acknowledge its merits." For sale by Benedict & Van Noy, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

An Immense Establishment....

OPENING OF WOOSTER'S HANDSOME HOUSE FURNISHING EMPORIUM.

It is doubtful if any one passed along Main street, between Seneca and Church streets last evening without being attracted by the spacious and richly decorated show window of T. G. Wooster & Bro.'s new furniture emporium. Still this window gave but a faint idea of the extent and beauty of the interior of this immense establishment, which was thrown open for public inspection last evening. From the hour of opening the doors until closing time the place was thronged with admiring visitors, who were profuse in their compliments for the elegance and taste displayed in the decorations, and the large and carefully selected stock of home furnishings contained in the various departments.

The store on the ground floor is attractively decorated in light blue and white, which are the prevailing colors in decoration throughout. Here are displayed in great profusion, sideboards, dining tables cabinets, etc., also china, including dinner and tea sets, as well as separate pieces. The offices, which are to the right of the entrance, are models of comfort and convenience besides being attractively arranged.

In the rear of the store is a staircase leading to Metropolitan hall, which has been transformed into one of the most spacious and handsome show rooms in any city in the state. The prevailing colors in decorations here are also light blue and white and the floor is covered with crash. Along the west side and south end a gallery has been erected part of which has been transformed into a completely furnished house. Under this gallery which is hung with rich draperies, are displayed bedroom suits of all descriptions, extending nearly the length of the hall, and under the end an immense stock of carpets and draperies. The remainder of the main floor is simply packed with furniture of all kinds, including tables, chairs, couches, metal bedsteads, parlor suits.

The gallery is reached by a staircase at the south east end of the room and the end portion is devoted to the display of fine chairs and parlor furniture. The side as before stated is thrown into a house. The exterior, which has three bay windows is painted in three different colors giving a fine effect. The interior contains five completely furnished rooms, reception room, parlor, library, den, bedroom and dining room. The decorations and furnishings of these rooms are the acme of artistic taste and show what can be done in the way of home furnishing at a moderate cost. when it is done in a scientific manner. Any attempt at a description of these rooms would fail to do them justice; they can only be appreciated by being seen.

Throughout the establishment rich palms and tropical plants, as well as the handsome pictures hung upon the walls, and the brilliant lights add to the beauty of the scene. Merriman's superb orchestra which is stationed under the balcony at the street end of the hall enliven the opening by splendidly rendered selections.

Since coming to this city two years ago the Messrs. Wooster have by their courteous and up-to-date business methods and by carrying an immense line of home furnishings which have been sold at reasonable figures, built up a splendid business, and in their elegant and commodious new establishment it should continue to increase.

NECROLOGY.

MRS. JESSE C. GREENE.

Theoda E. Greene, wife of Jesse C. Greene, died suddenly at her home on Chestnut street, in this village, Thursday morning, aged nearly 59 years. She was the youngest of seven children of Hiram and Maria Boyd, was born in the town of Andover Aug. 27, 1841, and has always lived in this town. She was married to Jesse C. Greene Sept. 18th, 1866, a little over a year after his return from the army in which he served in the civil war. One son, H. Sidney Greene, who, in addition to her husband, survives her, was her only child. Miss Laura Crane now of Chicago was also brought up in the family. A number years ago Mrs. Greene accepted Christ as her personal Savior, and joined the Presbyterian Church of this village, and lived an exemplary Christian life. Four sisters and one brother also survive her, Mrs. E. C. Martindale, Mrs. J. C. Cartwright, Mrs. W. B. Hall and Clark Boyd of Andover, and Mrs. J. R. Barber of Decatur, Mich.

Funeral services were held at her late residence, conducted by her pastor, Rev. G. M. Janes, assisted by Rev. Jared Kenyon of Independence. The many and beautiful floral tributes were very appropriate, as Mrs. Greene while on earth loved to be with her flowers, watch their growth and caring for them. How fitting to lay her to rest from the cares and trials of this life on Easter day amid a shower of blossoms, and to think of her as passing her first glorious Easter in heaven. The interment was in Robinson Cemetery. A very large concourse of people manifested their sympathy in their attendance at the funeral, prominent among whom were the ladies of the Women's Relief Corps, of which Mrs. Greene was a member.

MRS. RICHARD PREST.

Word has been received from McCool Junction, Neb., by relatives here that Mrs. Richard Prest of that village, and sister-in-law of our townsman, John Prest, died March 29th. Her maiden name was Harriet S. Kemp. She was born in Alfred Sept. 4, 1828, where she lived until she married Mr. Prest in 1847. In 1865 they moved to Minnesota, remaining there 20 years. In 1884 they moved to where her son now lives. Of late years she was greatly afflicted.

She earnestly sought to live a Christian life. Her mind was clear to the last, and she expressed herself as willing to go. Her age was 71 years, 6 months and 25 days. Six brothers survive her. She leaves the husband, with whom she spent more than half a century, a son and eight grandchildren to mourn the loss of one they loved so dearly. As her family and friends gathered around her bed to say good bye, in the solemnity of that hour, when the angel of death was present, she spoke cheerfully to her loved ones, saying, "We ought not to weep: we ought to be rejoicing." Soon after this bright testimony she laid aside the mortal to put on immortality.

The Farmers' Club.

The April meeting of the Allegany County Farmers' Club was held at Academy Hall, Almond, April 10th, 1900. The meeting was called to order at 1:30 p. m. by President C. F. Moulton.

The question box was taken up and questions were asked and answered as follows:

"Does it pay to spray fruit trees?"

S. S. Karr said it was a disagreeable, dirty job, but that we cannot afford to neglect it. He had had four good crops, and it was a pleasure to see people watch the orchard in the fall from the time they come in sight until they were out of sight.

Mr. Moulton said by spraying the foliage is protected, and without good foliage you cannot raise perfect fruit. The spray pump is also handy to have around the farm for washing wagons and cleaning house.

"How can we prevent the forest worms from destroying our orchards?"

Spraying will destroy them the same as other pests.

"What kind of soil is alfalfa best adapted to?"

Mr. Karr thought that a gravely soil, with water not very far below the surface, was well adapted to growing the plant.

"What causes scabby potatoes, and what can we do to prevent it?"

It is a fungus growth, and is propagated in the soil or on the potatoes. Soaking the seed with a solution of corosive sublimate will kill it on the seed. If it is in the soil, plant potatoes on some other land.

"Does keeping cows pay better than selling hay?"

It will keep up the fertility of the farm better and pay better in the long run.

"Is it advisable for a farmer to wear a stand up collar?"

S. S. Karr said he thought it was all right in the morning, but he should sweat it down before night.

"Is the price of land, suitable for farming purposes, advancing, and if so, is this advance in price likely to continue?"

The price of farms is increasing where the farms are kept up. Old run down farms are not wanted.

"Should farmers and their wives sacrifice common home comforts in order to send their children to college?"

The farmers and their wives should not deprive themselves to any great extent for the purpose of sending their children to college, though the college bred man would be a better man and a better farmer for such an education.

Mr. Moulton thought it depended on the boy or girl whether they are worth it or not.

Music by school children.

The President gave a talk on "How plants grow." He illustrated the points that he wished to make by supposing that a man proposed to raise sheep, but did not know how to care for nor feed them, but provided for them the food needed for pigs and hens. So with the plants that we raise, we must know what surroundings the plants should have and also the kind of plant food they need. In order to know these things we should know the form of the plants in detail, and how they take up the food on which they exist and grow. The plants must have moisture and sunshine. It takes about 400 tons of moisture to produce one ton of dry matter. This moisture is taken in through the very small fibrous roots. This water is full of the plant food and as it is taken up by the plant the water is evaporated by the sun and leaves the solid matter in the plant. In order to have the water absorb or dissolve the plant food to the greatest extent it should be warm. This may be increased by getting the surface water off the land as soon as possible. When the land is well harrowed it should be rolled, as that leaves less surface to evaporate and evaporation cools the soil. The surface should be worked freely and often that the moisture may be held in the soil for the use of the plants.

Music, school children.

Question box:

"Should farmers trade with their local merchants?"

Yes, and so should all others.

"Does the farmer have more drawbacks than the other average citizen, if so, why?"

Mr. Karr thought the temperament of the individual had much to do with the troubles that he has.

Mr. White thought farmers had less drawbacks than men of most occupations.

Mr. Moulton: Difficulties are not necessarily disadvantages.

"What is the best way to get rid of paint brush?"

Proper cultivation of the soil will keep it in subjection.

Music.

Adjourned to meet at Birdsall, on Tuesday, May 1st.

CHAS. STILLMAN, Secretary.

Queen Esther.

Once again the people of Andover will have opportunity to enjoy this most delightful concert. From the fact of its having been recently revised, and many new and beautiful features added, it is to-day one of the greatest drawing entertainments brought before the public. In this particular instance the management boasts of having a very superior cast, the part of "Queen Esther" being sustained by Miss Clair, whose proficient knowledge of music enables her to carry the part in a delightful manner, while the part of King Ahasuerus, personated by A. B. Burrows, has justly brought forth the sanction and applause of those who have seen his work thus far. Mr. Burrows is an ideal King. Associated closely with the King, as history records, comes Counselor Haman, and we do not expect to surprise our readers at all, when we say that in the roll of Haman, J. E. Cannon is a very hard man to beat. The rich and well guarded tones of his voice, expressing the sentiment of his thought to a point of perfection itself, while the wife of Haman, Teresh, as represented by Mrs. Prest, most acceptably adds the last number of the four leading characters in these celebrated scenes. Connected with these four leaders are seventy others, making a large number of voices for chorus effects, and from which will be produced many beautiful solos, duets, etc. Costumes for this concert from Mrs. L. M. Wackerman of Rochester. Entertainment to be given in Prest Opera House. Admission, 25 and 15 cents. Review the history and prepare for a treat.

A Feast of Literature.

Passengers on the Lake Shore Limited, the most luxurious train in the world, are treated to a perfect feast of literature. ANDOVER, N. Y.

Dear Sir.—You know your painter; we don't; we only know painters in general.

There are two sorts, as there are two sorts of everybody else. One paints as well as he can, the other as poor as he can and get business.

The one who paints as well as he can is all the time learning; the other one knows it all now.

Josh Billings says "it's better not to know too much than to know so many things that a'n't so." There are lots o' things in paint that "a'n't so." Lead and oil is one of 'm.

Devoe lead and zinc lasts twice as long; is better in every respect; is ready to dip the brush in; you can depend on the colors; no mystery; no uncertainty; costs no more; costs less.

We hope you employ Mr. Open-Mind Painter, and not Mr. Know-it-all-now.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.
