We have reiterated in our columns over and over again that we should not give up the idea of more manufacturing enterprises being located here until they were obtained. With this idea in view we this week present to our readers an industrial edition of the News, and hope and expect that every one will help us in extending its circulation. We have printed an immense edition, most of which have already been spoken for, but we have a few yet and will gladly dispose of them. Send them to everybody and thus let the outside world know that we are alive. If you will bring them to us after wrapping and directing them you may have the advantage of our regular postal rates, 1 cent per pound.

to make it difficult for owners to believe they are not receiving new curtains. Pillow shams, embroidered articles, neckties, etc., are laundried in the most artistic manner and the prices charged are very reasonable. The excellent work and moderate prices have been an incentive to our people to patronize the home laundry. Few out-of-town laundries can do work as well. This is no fairy tale, but the blunt truth. This steam laundry was established about five years ago by Mr. Livermore, and has been successful beyond his expectation. Owing to ill health Mr. Livermore is desirous of selling or renting the plant. It can be bought on the most favorable terms or rented at a reasonable figure. The machinery and appliances are new and up with the times, the running expenses are low, the business is good. Any one desiring to embark in a profitable laundry business will do well to call on or address M. F. Livermore. Andover, N. Y.

BENTON & STEPHENS.

A leading position must be accorded the above firm as having furnished the facilities for the prompt receipt of lumber from the producing sections of the country. The office, sheds and yards are located near the depot along the line of the Erie railroad. Here will be found a complete and well selected stock of rough and dressed lumber which is retailed for building purposes, including a full assortment of Southern pine and Washington red and white cedar shingles. The firm handles nearly everything that goes into the construction of a building—pine and hemlock lumber, lath, shingles, columns and spindles, mouldings, brick, sand, etc., and prospective builders will do well to call on this firm and get prices before making purchases. House and barn bills is the specialty. Estimates on lumber and building supplies, and all information pertaining to the business will always receive prompt attention, and orders are filled and delivered with utmost dispatch. Messrs. Benton & Stephens are in position to offer inducements and advantages to buyers that are difficult to duplicate in this vicinity. They also handle the best grades of anthracite and bituminous coal. Mr. Benton has been in the business since 1884, and about 5 years ago he formed a partnership with Mr. Stephens. They are enterprising men and patrons will always find them alive to their wants

P. CANNON & SON.

Conservative progression has been the maxim that has placed the popular general merchandise store of P. Cannon & Son in the front rank in its line, and no house in Andover enjoys more thoroughly the confidence and good will of the people. Messrs. Cannon & Son have constantly aimed to conduct their business upon the soundest and highest principles of mercantile honor, handling goods of the best quality and selling them at prices that command attention, and their merit has met with their just appreciation. They carry dry goods, grocers, boots and shoes and clothing.

F. C. VARS.

On Greenwood street is located the jewelry and repairing store of F. C. Vars. Here will be found a display of jewelry of every variety, gold and silver watches, clocks, and a line of sporting goods, including guns and ammunition. Particular attention is given to fine watch repairing. Mr. Vars has had 6 years experience in the business and is capable of turning out good work. Every piece of work that leaves his store is marked by the greatest accuracy that skill and care can attain. When your watch goes wrong take it to Mr. Vars. He will fix it right, and his price will be reasonable. In connection with the jewelry business he handles bicycles and does bicycle repairing. He handles a line of bicycle sundries, supplying everything that pertains to this modern source of exercise and locomotion. If your bicycle needs repairing take it to Vars. If you need bicycle parts, he will get them for you at factory prices. His prices are reasonable and his work first-class. Give him a call.

EDWARD J. ATWOOD.

This important hardware establishment enjoys the special distinction of being the most complete in the assortment and magnitude of its stock of any in this vicinity. The store always keeps just what the public require, and the goods are bought direct from the leading manufacturers. The business was established in 1874 by A. B. Atwood. Under the management of the present proprietor, Edward J. Atwood, the house has not only maintained its old-time reputation, but has pushed its way to the front rank, and to-day it carries an enormous stock and its volume of business is perhaps equal to that of any similar concern in Allegany county. The store and warehouses are most extensive and the stock includes bar, hoop and band iron, sash, doors, blinds, glass, paints, including the celebrated Devoe paints—varnishes, and japans; nails and builder's hardware, robes and blankets; plows, hardware and all manner of farm implements, pocket and table cutlery and razors; farm wagons and carriages, of which the largest stock in this part of the county is carried. From this enumeration it will be seen that everything in the line of heavy and shelf hardware is to be found here and it is no wonder that with so complete a stock the trade is heavy. Mr. Atwood is the distributing agent for the Oliver plows and farm implements, and is in position to make wholesale prices on anything in his line. Quality and low prices has always been the watchword of this house and the motto is "Quick sales and small profits." Mr. Atwood is a responsible man of business, always ready to please his customers and give them good value for their money. He is widely known to the trade.

HARRISON MOURHESS.

A leading position must be accorded the jewelry establishment of Harrison Mourhess. It is neat and attractive, well appointed and arranged, and is filled with a splendid variety of beautiful and valuable goods, the stock representing all the fancy and choice, as well as the most unique styles of jewelry to be found in this vicinity. Here is carried fine gold and silver watches of the leading makes, handsome clocks in unique and artistic designs, rings, jewelry in great variety, solid silver and plated ware, etc., in short everything to be found in an up-to-date jewelry establishment. Special attention is paid to watch repairing and engraving. Mr. Mourhess has had many years experience as a watchmaker, and he spares no pains to render the fullest satisfaction, and every piece of work that leaves his store is warranted to please and give good satisfaction. He is an expert in his line and is constantly placing before the public articles of novelty, beauty and merit, not to be obtained elsewhere in the vicinity. Every article sold at this store is exactly as represented, and the prices are low—two facts that buyers should consider. Before making your purchases it will pay you to examine this stock.

MRS. S. J. MOURHESS.

The well known and admirably conducted millinery store of Mrs. S. J. Mourhess is the center of attraction to the female population of Andover and vicinity, being by common consent the leading millinery store of this village. Here is always displayed the latest and most correct styles in bonnets, hats, novelties in millinery, exquisite trimmings, flowers, feathers, ladies' neck wear and nice line of fancy goods. The assortment of goods carried is rich and elegant, and reflects much credit upon the good taste of the proprietress. The millinery assortment comes direct from New York, to which place Mrs. Mourhess pays a visit twice a year, selecting personally her own stock and thoroly informing herself as to the prevailing styles and latest novelties in the market. She is an expert trimmer and employs only competent help. She always gives satisfaction, never disappoints, and her charges are as reasonable as is consistent with high class work. Take a peep in the store and see the handsome hats and bonnets for the summer of 1900.

MUTUAL GAS COMPANY, LIMITED.

The Mutual Gas Company was organized in 1889 for the purpose of supplying natural gas for domestic and manufacturing purposes to Andover and vicinity. The business has met with success and the plant has increased, until to-day the company is in possession of facilities that make it the peer of any in the immediate field, and gas is supplied not only to Andover, but to the villages of Alfred, Greenwood and Whitesville. They have enlarged their field of operations from year to year, until at the present time they are in a position to furnish an unlimited supply of gas to their patrons at a very moderate cost, not only for domestic purposes, but they have a list of manufacturers and shops to whom they are successfully supplying gas. Their prices are lower than those charged in most gas districts, the minimum cost being so small, that for manufacturing or domestic purposes there is no fuel half so cheap. The company operates a plumbing establishment in connection with their business, and orders for plumbing are executed on short notice at reasonable prices, and the wants of all patrons are administered to with eminent success. After October 1st, the company will adopt the meter system, which will greatly facilitate matters and be of much advantage to the consumer. The reputation enjoyed by this company, the excellent patronage it receives, and the good service it renders its patrons, affords ample evidence of the confidence the general public have in their resources and ability to operate their plant successfully and assures Andover, Alfred, Greenwood and Whitesville of a supply of natural gas for years to come.

DR. JOHN COMMON, DENTIST.

In this great world of science, the art of dentistry is no small exponent. There is no profession that is more necessary and useful for the good appearance and well being of mortals than that of dentistry. As much care and attention should be given the teeth as any other part of the body, if not for health's sake, it should be attended to from the fact that no other one thing so detracts from the beauty of man or woman as bad or decayed teeth. To keep them in perfect order, a visit to an expert dentist should be paid at least twice a year, if not oftener, and we recommend our readers to call upon our popular dental surgeon, Dr. John Common, whose office is located in the First Block on Greenwood street. Dr. Common, who is preeminent in his profession, received his early education at the Wilson Academy of Angelica, N. Y. After graduating at that institution, he entered the Philadelphia School of Anatomy, graduating in '96. He then entered the Philadelphia Dental College and was graduated from this school in 1898. In making artificial sets of teeth and in filling broken or decayed ones, Dr. Common has become well known. A specialty is made of gold and porcelain crowns. Teeth are extracted, filled and adjusted in the most skillful manner, while plates are inserted and artificial work of every description is executed in the best form of the art. In fact, during the two years he has practiced here, Dr. Common has proven himself capable of attending to the performance of any task in practical dental surgery, and patients will always find him courteous and pleasant to do business with.

JNO. F. PAINE.

The old theory that clothes do not make the man has long since been exploded. Good clothes and well dressed are the requirements that a man is expected to have when he pays a business call to another person. If he does not dress well his visit loses one-half of its force. The tailor of to-day is able to meet these requisites and make the man. Jno. F. Paine has long since proven himself a practical and most accomplished tailor, an excellent cutter and designer, and he makes his suits of the best material and trims them with the best fabrics and linings. It is the well dressed man who wins the prizes of life, and there is no excuse for any of our citizens wearing shabby or out of date clothes when Paine the tailor is making nobby suits from $12 up and pants from $4 up. He keeps on hand a large line of foreign and domestic samples to select from, and the most fastidious can find fabrics here to suit them. Call and see his spring and summer samples. At Paine's you get a perfect fit; he does all his own work, and every garment that leaves his store is warranted to be as near faultless as a garment can be. Mr. Paine has been in the merchant tailoring business for the past 20 years. He has been in Andover about three years, and his store is located up stairs in the Ellis Block. Buy your next suit of him and you will be pleased.

G. B. PROPER.

We include in our list of the business industries of Andover the handsome meat market of G. B. Proper. This is the leading market of the village, as is attested by its numerous customers and patrons. It can boast of as fine an equipment as any market in the county, and is fitted up in a tasteful and convenient manner. Mr. Proper is possessed of ability in his business, push and enterprise, and these qualifications have fully exemplified the success he has had, and the first-class trade he has built up thru his efforts to give satisfaction to the public. Everything is handled that is to be found in a first-class meat market; that is, fresh, salted, smoked and dried meats, fish, poultry and oysters in season. He makes a specialty of fresh rendered lard of his own make. It is needless to say that everything he keeps is of the best, for his continual growth of trade bears evidence to this fact. This market is noted for the neat and expert manner in which orders are put up, which never fails to please and delight the good house-keeper. Mr. Proper has been in the meat business in Andover for 16 years. He is always ready to please and add to his list of patrons. All orders are promptly attended to, telephone orders especially, and patrons can rest assured that they will receive meats just as represented and in quality none better.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale in my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by Benedict & Van Noy, Andover, and N. E. Costen, Greenwood.

Odd Fellows at Church!

The eighty-first anniversary of the birth of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was observed in Andover last Sunday evening. About 50 of the brothers formed in line at their hall and marched to the M. E. church to listen to Pastor Wagoner, who addressed them from the text: "All ye are brethren"—Matt. 23: 8. The discourse was excellent in its thought and delivered in a faultless manner. No one who heard it could help but be impressed by the lessons drawn. All felt well paid for their effort in attendance there that evening, even tho some of the boys drove six or seven miles after doing their chores to be present. Surely such gatherings are a benefit to all, and such sermons cannot help but aid in the noble effort to fraternize the world.

Letter to N. L. Beebe,

ANDOVER, N. Y.

Dear Sir,—It takes 3000 gallons of paint for the two big hotels at Coney Island — Manhattan and Oriental. They are painted once in three years with Devoe lead and zinc.

Why so often? Three reasons: (1) sea air cuts paint; (2) sand in the wind cuts paint; (3) hotels, especially pleasure hotels, want freshness and color as much as protection. Once in three years is often enough and not too often to paint a hotel on a windy sand beach.

How long do you think lead and oil would last there? One year. Is there anything for you in this?

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.
