SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Sparta, Mich., N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when a coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval enough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had got his adieu." Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

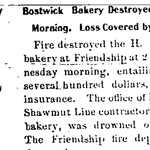
How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.



What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

For Greater British Navy.

The British admiralty's proposition to spend $174,000,000 for naval construction must be somewhat staggering to the British taxpayers. Hitherto it has been Great Britain's policy to maintain a navy equal to the combined strength of France and Russia. This has been done without raising much protest in or out of parliament, but the proposed new departure means that Great Britain feels her safety to lie in a navy equal to the three largest in Europe. Neither France nor Russia has on hand any very ambitious naval programme, but Germany is fast increasing her already strong force of modern ships. The inevitable conclusion is that Great Britain means to be prepared to fight all three if the necessity arises.

Naturally protests have been made in the house of commons against the expenditure of so vast a sum, but it is insisted that the money spent for armies and navies is merely a form of national insurance. There may be such a thing, however, as paying a ruinously high rate of insurance.

Naturally Mr. Morgan does not like to pay the duty on his $4,000,000 art collection purchased in Europe, which would amount to something like $2,500,000. It has been pointed out to him, however, that by opening up his art treasures to the public he could escape this heavy charge, but apparently he does not take kindly to this commendable form of evasion.

It is reported that Jeffries says that he will try to kill Corbett. Now let Corbett make the same avowal in relation to Jeffries. This would insure a lively and interesting mill, and if both should succeed in their purpose the public would have little cause for grief.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia when proper care is not used, however, said Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all dangerous results may be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that the remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

The board of estimate of the city of New York has voted in favor of asking the legislature for authority to build a municipal electric light plant. This decision follows a report by Commissioner Monroe of the department of water, gas and electricity to the effect that the city appears to be in the hands of a monopoly and that it is being charged prices which are excessive when compared with what other cities pay.

The sultan of Turkey is one of the very few managers to keep out of trouble by keeping in debt. He has lately borrowed money in large sums from European financiers, evidently with the idea that as long as he owes them enough the other European nations are going to see to it that nothing happens to him.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

WILL RECLAIM ARID LANDS.

Secretary Hitchcock Has Approved Five Irregation Projects.

Washington, April 1.—After nine months of careful investigation the geological survey has decided upon and Secretary Hitchcock has approved five irrigation projects to be developed under the terms of the and land reservation act of June, 1902.

These projects are to be located at Shoshone, Buffalo Bunn, Wyoming; Gunnison Tunnel, Colorado; Truckee and Carson Rivers, Nevada; Milk River and St. Mary's Lake, Montana; and Tonto Creek, Arizona.

Roughly estimated, they make possible the irrigation of 1,000,000 acres of land at a cost of $7,500,000, an average of $7.50 an acre. As a matter of fact, however, much of the area that may be reached by water is unsuitable or unavailable for cultivation.

It is not expected that more than 60 per cent of the total will be found worth irrigating, which will increase the average cost to something like $12.50 an acre.

The cost is eventually to be paid by the owners of the land reclaimed in 10 annual installments. That is the policy of the government.

Much of the land is already in the hands of private individuals, and undoubtedly that which still remains will be taken up by settlers as soon as the plans are made known, but the government will require pledges that the cost of the reclamation will be refunded according to the provisions of the law.

SHAMROCK III FAST.

Superior to Shamrock I in All Points in a Trial Race.

Greenock, Scotland, April 1.—Sir Thomas Lipton, in an interview after the trial of the challenger in a spin with Shamrock I, said he considered that he had every reason for the utmost gratification at the result. Shamrock III had done all that could be asked of her. He thought that the trial proved her to be undoubtedly the best of the America's cup challengers.

In his opinion she was the fastest boat afloat in the day's weather and he looked hopefully to see her do equally well in heavier weather.

D. F. D. Neill, a leading Clyde amateur yachtsman, who was the only outsider on board Shamrock I all day, said he was satisfied that she was sailed in an honest endeavor to secure the utmost of which she was capable, and she was honestly beaten. In windward work, he added, Shamrock III completely circled Shamrock I, but while he considered the new challenger a wonderful boat, he did not expect to find as much difference between the two racers in heavier weather as was shown in the trial.

No Cause For Suicide.

He must have killed himself in a moment of temporary insanity. Mr. Esher will take the body of his son home to Chicago.

They were last heard from at the mouth of the Patuca on the southeast coast of Honduras, where they were reported to be borrowed money in large sums from European financiers, evidently with the idea that as long as he owes them enough the other European nations are going to see to it that nothing happens to him.

FURNACE EXPLOSION

Worst Accident In History of Carnegie Company.

MEN BURNED BY MOLTEN METAL

Twenty Injured, of Whom Six Died and 10 Are Not Expected to Recover - White Hot Dust Fell Over Men in a Pit and There Was No Escape.

Pittsburg, April 1.—An accident at furnace I of the Edgar Thomson plant of the Carnegie Steel company at Braddock yesterday is expected to prove one of the worst in the history of the plant in the number of deaths resulting.

Twenty men were injured, six of whom are dead and 10 are in the hospital and are not expected to recover. The other injured went to their homes and are suffering from painful burns.

The accident was caused by a "hang" in the furnace dropping and forcing large quantities of white hot dust down a large pipe into a pit where the men were at work. The victims, caught like rats in a trap, were without means of escape and all were burned and blistered over their entire bodies and large strips of flesh peeled off their bodies when they were pulled out of the pit by fellow workmen.

The cries of agony of the victims as they writhed in the lava-like stuff from which they were vainly trying to extricate themselves, could be heard for nearly a block away.

Hundreds of workmen from other portions of the plant rushed to the rescue of their fellows and as quickly as possible pulled them from the pit and carried them to the emergency hospital.

Seven of men were completely nude when their bodies reached the hospital and then the others had but a few shreds of clothing upon them.

The bodies of the fatally burned could scarcely be recognized as such. They were blackened or shredded in strips by the white hot "down comer" dust that burned into their flesh.

Many of the men had large blotches burned through the flesh, caused by the large splashes of molten iron that had struck them and burned through to the bone.

Furnace I is equipped with the famous electric "skids" that are now used on all United States Steel corporation's blast furnaces.

Turf Commission Company Quit.

South Bend, Ind., April 1. — The Benedict Turf and Commission company, established many years ago by John W. Benedict, who was later succeeded by Walter Curtis, has suddenly ceased operations. The company operated in Chicago until recently when, after paying back about $240,000 during a run, it removed to this city. The proprietors have left town, but before they left they sent out a circular to hundreds of investors stating that the latter will lose nothing. They carried nearly a half million dollars of business and practically all that is left is said to be horses valued at $100,000 now at the Memphis track.

Irritable, E citable

Nerves on Edge

This describes the condition exactly. Children's noises, street sounds, little things that usually pass unnoticed, annoy. A sudden sound, a call—you jump—a harsh word, a crying spell. The sleep is full of jerks and starts—trouble fills your dreams—you do not rest. Tired you go to bed, weary you rise. It's the unstrung nerves, weak, shattered, over sensitive, on edge. They need rest, quiet, strength, steadiness. A citizen of Hornellsville, N. Y., gives you the cure in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—the most remarkably successful medicine ever produced. Mrs. G. L. Newton of 62 East Avenue, Hornellsville N. Y., says:—"I am very partial to all of Dr. A. W. Chase's Medicine and more than pleased to say that the Nerve Pills that I got are splendid. I was run down, nervous weak and irritable. The tonic effect of the medicine was great—it toned me up quickly and easily, stopping the nervousness—my strength and energy came back and I feel finely again. I am glad to recommend the pills." 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Med. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package. For sale by O. RAINES BILL PASSED

Liquor Licenses to be Increased 50 Per Cent.

BILL GOES TO THE GOVERNOR.

Went Through the Assembly by a Party Vote Except That Ruehl and Patton of Erie Voted With the Democrats—Six Hours of Unbroken Debate.

Albany, April 1.—Very much less spectacular than the senate's action but none the less inexorable was the battle between the Republican majority and the Democratic minority in the assembly, at the close of which the bill of Senator Raines increasing by 50 per cent the liquor license fees throughout the state was passed by a vote of 84 ayes to 61 noes.

Assemblymen Ruehl and Patton of the Sixth and Seventh districts of Erie respectively, both Republicans voted against the bill with the Democrats, though their action was hardly a surprise as it had been expected ever since the caucus of the assembly Republicans which adopted the bill as a party measure, when they protested against the bill and declared that they would not be bound by the caucus action. Their vote of "no" on the bill was applauded by the Democrats.

The absentees were Coon of Albany Farrs of New York, who sent word that he wanted to be recorded in the negative; J. J. McCarthy of Rensselaer and Treat of Cayuga.

Speaker Nixon did not vote.

Nearly every Democrat on the floor spoke at some period in the debate. Mr. McManus asserted that if the bill passed the brewers would hereafter buy hops in other states, at whatever cost, and that a like policy would be exerted against the cheese districts of the state, on the ground that the bill was put forward and passed by the farmers.

Mr. Dale declared that the Raines law had demoralized Brooklyn and Mr. Miller argued in favor of a tax on land values. Other speakers against the bill were Messrs. Ellis, Abrams, Prince, Dooling, Daly, Sherry, Hackett, E. J. McCarthy and Cohn.

Of the Republicans who spoke in favor of the bill G. H. Smith denied that the distillers, brewers and saloon keepers represented the true sentiment of the state. Mr. Burnett declared that as the saloons caused a large proportion of the expense for police, charities and reformatory institutions, they should pay their share of the cost, and Mr. Dwyer, while according every degree of reputability to saloon keepers as engaged in a legitimate business, said he bowed to the wisdom of his party which had made this a party bill.

Mr. Traub of Onondaga said he was and always had been opposed to the bill, but yielded to the will of his party. Others who spoke in favor of the bill were Messrs. Landon, Reeve and Fowler.

Leaders Palmer and Rogers closed for their respective sides and the previous question was moved.

Mr. Palmer offered an amendment providing that the one-third, two-thirds division of excise tax receipts between the state and the localities respectively be continued as under the present law. The amendment was defeated—ayes 60, noes 85—and all of the other amendments proposed were disposed of in like manner, Messrs. Patton and Ruehl of Erie, Republicans, voting with the Democrats to kill the bill.

At 5:30 p. m., after six hours of unbroken debate, the bill was passed by a vote of 84 ayes to 61 noes, a strictly partisan result with the exception of the votes of Messrs Patton and Ruehl, the only Republicans who voted against the bill. No Democrat voted in its favor.

Options on Buffalo Breweries.

Cleveland, O., April 1.—According to H. Boeman of this city, Cleveland capitalists have secured options on all but one of the Buffalo, N. Y., breweries, and a plan is developing to incorporate the brewing interests of that city into a single corporation. Those who have charge of the enterprise have carried out a similar program in other cities. If the deal is completed it is expected that Cleveland bankers will finance the incorporation. The remaining outstanding plant is the Lang brewery.

Chancellor von Bulow's good natured discussion of the Venezuela affair in the German reichstag contains many evidences of a disposition to soothe our feelings, but it is not convincing. The Venezuela matter, he declared, was "neither a question of territorial acquisition nor of glory for us, but of a business settlement through extraordinary means. In which, of course, the maintenance of our honor played a part." In spite of this explanation the opinion here remains and spreads that Germany organized an expedition not to collect bad German debts, but to see how far a European nation could go in South America before we should consider that the Monroe doctrine was infringed. It seems somewhat unjust that impecunious Venezuela should have to pay for this experiment because Germany, England and the United States got most of the information developed.

It would appear to be entirely superfluous for light skilled sportsmen to engage in a double quartet duel in the suburbs of Paris as they did recently in order to demonstrate the harmlessness of French duelling. The world has for years refused to take these encounters seriously and the duellists themselves have continued to justify the opera bouffe view of their performances.

It is announced that England is not opposed to referring the Venezuela matter to The Hague. Indeed England is not opposed to referring it to any place provided that there is a guarantee that it will stay referred.

"OLD GORGON" ON COLLEGES

They Make Neither Fools Nor Bright Men—They Develop Them

From "Letters From a Self Made Merchant to His Son." by George Horace Lorimer

Dear Pierrepont—Your ma got back safe this morning, and she wants me to be sure to tell you not to overstudy, and I want to tell you to be sure not to understudy. What we're really sending you to Harvard for is to get a little of the education that's so good and plenty there. When it's passed around, you don't want to be bashful, but reach right out and take a big helping every time, for I want you to get your share. You'll find that education's about the only thing lying around loose in this world and that it's about the only thing a fellow can have as much of as he's willing to haul away. Everything else is screwed down tight and the screwdriver lost.

I'm anxious that you should be a good scholar, but I'm more anxious that you should be a good, clean man. And if you graduate with a sound conscience I shan't care so much if there are a few holes in your Latin. There are two parts of a college education—the part that you get in the schoolroom from the professors and the part that you get outside of it from the boys. That's the really important part, for the first can only make you a scholar, while the second can make you a man.

Education is a good deal like eating—a fellow can't always tell which particular thing did him good, but he can usually tell which one did him harm. After a square meal of roast beef and vegetables and mince pie and watermelon you can't say just which ingredient is going into muscle, but you don't have to be very bright to figure out which one started the demand for pain killer in your insides or to guess next morning which one made you believe in a personal devil the night before. And so while a fellow can't figure out to an ounce whether Latin or algebra or history or what among the solids that is building him up in this place or that, he can go right along feeding them in and betting that they're not the things that turn his tongue fuzzy.

Does a college education pay? Does it pay to feed in pork trimmings at 5 cents a pound at the hopper and draw out nice, cunning little "country" sausages at 20 cents a pound at the other end? Does it pay to take a steer that's been running loose on the range and living on cactus and petrified wood till he's just a bunch of barbed wire and sole leather and feed him corn till he's just a solid bunk of porterhouse steak and oleo oil?

You bet it pays. Anything extra that trains a boy to think and to think quick pays. Anything that teaches a boy to get the answer before the other fellow gets through biting the pencil pays.

College doesn't make fools. It develops them. It doesn't make bright men. It develops them. A fool will turn out a fool whether he goes to college or not, though he'll probably turn out a different sort of a fool.
