Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept on hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys: if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble: too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

GOOD ROADS.

Special Election Will Be Held in All Allegany Towns June 23rd.

A good roads movement in Allegany county may be inaugurated on Tuesday, June 23rd, the date upon which the last session of the board of supervisors recommended each town to take separate action in a special election recommended for that date, to vote for a change from the labor to the money system of highway work. Under the money system the state gives each town 50 cents in money for each $1.00 raised by local highway taxation. The calling of the special election was left by the board to the supervisors and town clerks of each of the towns of the county and many good road enthusiasts thru Old Allegany are hoping that these elections will surely be held and that every town will adopt the money system and secure help from the state treasury in constructing better roads.

Goes to Bradford.

Miss Elizabeth Ostrander of Almond, who was formerly teacher in Belmont High School, and who has filled the position as preceptress in the Owego Academy the past two years, has accepted an offer to teach German at Bradford, Pa.

Struck Oil in the Town of Ward.

Wayne Scott, Luther Church and others have opened a new pool to the north of the Scio pool in the completion of their test well on the Lewis farm, Cowley Hill road, town of Ward. The well has been drilled in and has a good showing for a producer.

John B. Jones, Vice President of the First National Bank of Wellsville, has been advanced to the Presidency of that institution.

The German agriculturists who are making a tour of this country to study American farming are said to be favorably impressed with the beauty and comfort of the metropolitan hotels where they pass most of their time. Possibly they are devoting special attention to the study of irrigation.

An English professor has been describing in words of three syllables how one of our high priced "twirlers" curves a baseball. A quarter of a century ago other professors were using words of four syllables to prove beyond question that the thing couldn't be done at all.

Special Election at Ithaca.

Ithaca, May 27.—A special election for the purpose of laying a special tax to raise $10,000 to defray the expenses connected with the efforts to stamp out the typhoid epidemic at Ithaca was held yesterday, and resulted in a majority of 299 in favor of the tax. This practically means that Dr. George Soper, the representative of the state board of health, who has been in Ithaca since March 1 working in conjunction with the local authorities in stamping out the fever will remain in Ithaca all summer, improving conditions here. According to Dr. Soper there are only seven cases of typhoid fever now and no new cases have developed recently.

Jett and White in Jackson.

Jackson, Ky., May 27.—Tom White was brought into Jackson. There was no trouble in making the capture and no demonstration here. The grand jury, after resuming the Marcum investigation, heard statements of Dr. J. M. Kash, who attended Marcum, Dillard, Hadden and Miss Emily Clark. Miss Clark was in Hargis' store when the shot was fired. Hadden was in Day's store. Kelly Kash, the only other witness during the morning, is said to have made a sensational revelation but no details are allowed to be given out. Curtis Jett, also indicted, was brought from Winchester.

POSTOFFICE BRIBERY CASES.

Miller and Johns Will be Tried in Cincinnati in October.

Washington, May 27.—The cases of Johns and Miller will be presented to the federal grand jury in Cincinnati, Oct. 6. Miller was at the postoffice department in conference with Attorney General Robb, who closely questioned him regarding the case.

The case of the Arnold company, the turf investment concern, which was responsible for the first charges against the office of the assistant attorney general, and which, despite the adverse report of postoffice inspectors, secured a favorable decision from the office, is still under investigation.

The checks which figure in the alleged payments to Miller and Johns, which are in the possession of the department, are signed by the Ryan concern and made out to Johns' order and endorsed by him. Ryan has agreed to be a witness for the government. Miller has left for Terre Haute, Ind.

While the department cannot guarantee Ryan immunity it will put his service in turning state's evidence in the best light before the court.

Miller had charge of the investigation of the Ryan case and prepared the letter which acting Assistant Attorney General Christiancy signed. This letter which constituted the decision of the department allowed the concern to use the mails and was signed December 10. The decision in the Arnold case which served as a precedent and whose language it followed, was signed by Assistant Attorney General Tyner September 4.

Roosevelt's Nomination Assured.

Washington, May 27.—When the dispatch announcing that Senator Hanna would not oppose an endorsement of President Roosevelt at the coming Ohio state convention was shown to Senator Foraker he dictated the following statement:

"I am very much gratified to learn that Senator Hanna has withdrawn his opposition to the endorsement of President Roosevelt's candidacy in 1904. Not on any personal grounds, for I have not at any time had any personal interest in the matter, but solely because I think endorsement good for Senator Hanna and the party as well as for President Roosevelt, who has well earned a second term by the splendid administration he has given us. The result will be a harmonious convention and enthusiastic and unanimous endorsement for Senator Hanna for another term in the senate."

The senator added that the votes of Ohio added to the states which have declared heretofore for President Roosevelt gave the majority of the votes in the next Republican national convention.

GRANGE FIRE INSURANCE.

Some Statistics Relative to This Feature of Grange Work.

While there are financial benefits accruing to members of the grange, these are not set forth as inducements to secure membership. However, some facts concerning grange fire insurance are worthy of consideration. In Michigan thirty counties of the state are organized under county and district plans and also a company covering all territory not otherwise organized. The aggregate value of farm properties carried by these companies is about $10,000,000. The average annual cost of insurance upon each $1,000 is not far from $1. Pennsylvania has eight grange mutual fire insurance companies carrying risks aggregating over $15,000,000. Some of these companies have been doing business more than a quarter of a century. The aggregate cost has been about one-half of what the same class of risks costs in other companies. In Maine, with almost $6,000,000 in risks, the fire losses of 1902 in the Androscoggin Patrons company amounted to only $8,000, and the average assessment on $1,000 for seven years, ending Dec. 31, 1902, was only $2. The Oxford County (Me.) Patrons Insurance company carries $1,774,328 at an average cost per year for twenty-six years of $3.80 per $1,000.

In New York state the risks carried by grange insurance companies is, for 1901, last report published, $38,225,000. Losses were $104,000, or $1.80 per $1,000, and expenses $24,000, or 40 cents per $1,000. Cost of insurance per $1,000 was $2.20. There were twenty-three companies reporting. In the Jefferson and Lewis county Patrons Fire Relief association New York state risks amount to $10,249,803, and with losses for the year much above the average the cost of insurance was only $1.81 on each $1,000. In Herkimer county the grange insurance in force Jan. 1, 1903, was $2,518,780. In Steuben and Livingston counties association policies in force Jan. 1 amounted to $3,170,200 and cost to the insured for three years past has been only 53½ cents per $1,000. The Columbia and Dutchess association carries $3,184,000 in risks, of which amount $1,000,800 was written in 1902, and the total cost to the insured for five years was $4.84 per $1,000, or about 95 cents per year per $1,000. The Cattaraugus county association wrote $200,000 insurance in 1902 and has over $1,000,000 in force.

The Ohio Grangers' Mutual Insurance company has been in operation twenty-three years. There are now 3,236 policies in force, the amount of the insurance being $3,100,616. There have been twenty-one assessments for 186 losses during the twenty-three years, and the average cost of insurance per year has been $1.43 per $1,000.

In Massachusetts the grange companies wrote $407,608 insurance in 1902, and total risks are $755,368. Receipts for premiums were $3,272, while the losses were only $150. This is a remarkable showing for, while good fortune has certainly attended the company it is also evidence of carefully selected risks.

Herein lies one of the chief reasons for the excellent showing made by grange insurance companies—care in selection of risks, then economy of administration and careful supervision.

GRANGE CONFERENCES.

Michigan Taking the Lead in a Most Valuable Line of Work.

Michigan state grange, under the careful direction of its worthy master, George B. Horton, is stepping into the front rank as an efficient farmers' organization. More new granges were organized in that state last year than in any other. It has more grange halls owned by the granges. It is proving of vast helpfulness to the farmers in matters of legislation. The latest idea is to hold grange conferences throughout the state, much after the custom of the farmers' institutes. Assignments have been made for a series of nearly 200 meetings in all of uniformity in grange work and to assist all granges, new and old, in the way of essential methods to grange success. These conferences are supposed to be so located as to be convenient for all members from all granges to attend. In behalf of the state grange a proficient conference conductor will assist at each meeting. A considerable portion of each programme is to be made up from assignments to local people, and discussion will be general.

All conferences are intended to be closed sessions. All parts of grange work will be considered. The idea is a good one for adoption in every state.

What the Grange Stands For.

The grange is the strongest and most enduring farmers' society in this country, if not in the world. Other farm organizations have sprung up and flourished for a time, only to wither or die. After a hard struggle and slow early growth the grange lives, a powerful yet conservative element in American farm life. We may safely say that no other organization so fairly represents the American farm freeholder. An honest expression of grange opinion may be accepted as a fair statement of the views held by the better class of farmers who own their farms and live on them. If there is any organization better qualified to give voice to the views of this class, we do not know what it is.—Rural New Yorker.

A noble trinity—the church, the school and the grange. All are laboring for the uplift of humanity.

The ground for the first building was broken on that day and a large number of people from Hornellsville and vicinity were present, and witnessed the ceremonies.

Died from Lockjaw.

The eight-years-old son of Mrs. Edward Westcott, who resides between Bath and Kanona, is dead from lockjaw, the result of an accident sustained a few days previous to his death. He caught a ride upon a wagon passing his home, and fell from the vehicle. The driver did not notice the lad, and the rear wheel of the wagon passed over the lad's head and shoulders, inflicting serious scalp wounds and tearing one ear almost loose. Tetanus developed and the lad died in great agony.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay one cent for it," says C. P. Ryder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar and said, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

New York, May 27.—New York officially commemorated yesterday the 250th anniversary of the establishment of municipal government in New Amsterdam, afterwards called by force and treaty between Holland and England, New York.

The whole city was gay with bunting. The City hall, where the main exercises were held, and City Hall park were the center of attraction, the decorations there being especially elaborate. In the public schools in the five boroughs half a million children took part in special patriotic exercises.

Mayor Low presided over the ceremonies at the City hall. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Cornelius L. Wells, pastor of the Dutch Reformed church of Flatbush, the oldest church of that denomination in this vicinity. Mayor Low delivered a brief address, referring especially to the city's marvelous growth and the openhanded charity of its people.

"Our special pride," said he, "is that we are an American city, and our chief ambition is to show how the greatest American city can greatly serve the world."

General James G. Wilson of the New York Historical society delivered the oration of the day and was followed by Elihu Root, secretary of war, who prefaced his remarks with a letter from President Roosevelt. After expressing his regrets at his inability to be present the president wrote:

"The changes in New York city during the 250 years which have just elapsed are such as could be paralleled nowhere else in the world. We now have in New York the second largest city of the world, and it is no idle compliment to you and those associated with you, Mr. Mayor, for me to say that there is now no other city here or abroad of whose governing officials its people have more just reason to feel proud."

In his address Secretary Root said: "The people of the city are able to show their capacity to govern themselves, slaves to no ruler and to no party. The men who 250 years ago founded this municipal government were sound and wholesome men, and their spirit of freedom, of toleration, of civic pride, and good citizenship survives, permeating the whole increasing mass of the great metropolis. I am proud to come back from the councils of the nation, to my own home; proud to be a citizen of New York."

Addresses were also made by Governor Odell, Judge Clinton Gray of the state court of appeals, the Rev. H. P. Mendes, Rabbi of Congregation Shearith Israel, and Bishop Henry C. Potter of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York. The Right Rev. John M. Farley, archbishop of New York, pronounced the benediction.

Messages of congratulations were received from Edwin Gray, lord mayor of York; President Gomez of the Municipal and County club of London; Chairman Monkswell of the London county council, and S. S. Witheryd of New York, consul general of Ecuador.

Many dwellings and business buildings were brilliantly illuminated at night in honor of the celebration.

Suit Against Major Glenn.

Manila, May 27.—Gabriel Galza, a native living in the island of Leyte, has sued Major Edward F. Glenn of the 5th infantry for 15,000 pesos damages, on the ground of alleged false imprisonment. Galza was an insurgent sympathizer and was suspected of aiding the Samar insurgents. In 1901 he was arrested by Major Glenn's orders, General Smith and the civil authorities of Leyte approving, and was confined in Samar. Ultimately Galza was released. Major Glenn has reported the filing of the suit to Major General Davis, who probably will refer the matter to Secretary Root.

President at Spokane.

Spokane, Wash., May 27.—The Roosevelt train arrived here yesterday afternoon and was met in the eastern suburbs by a committee of 25 citizens headed by ex-Senator Turner and a crowd estimated at 6,000 people. After a brief greeting the party took carriages for a two hours drive through the most attractive part of the city. An escort of mounted veterans of the Spanish war in uniform, accompanied the carriages.

Increase In Domestic Trade.

If domestic commerce may be taken as the gauge of prosperity, we may infer from some figures furnished by the treasury bureau of statistics that we are still in the era of good times, with no prospect of the tide turning in the opposite direction.

The February summary of internal commerce, just issued, shows a general improvement in domestic trade movements over conditions at the corresponding date last year. In live stock, in movements of wheat and flour, in movements of corn and in traffic on the great lakes the figures showing present conditions indicate a decided advance over those of the corresponding date last year.

For instance, in live stock the traffic operations at five western centers amounted during February to 47,151 cars, having advanced from 41,287 cars in February, 1902, and 41,933 cars in February, 1901. For the two months ending with February this year 96,202 cars were reported compared with 88,297 cars to the end of February, 1902, and 88,497 cars for the first two months of 1901.

Receipts of wheat at eight interior markets to the end of February for the current crop year are reported as amounting to 201,502,288 bushels. A year ago the receipts were 185,320,746 bushels and for an equal period in 1901 a total of 163,185,469 bushels. There has therefore been a progressive increase during these three seasons in the volume of grain received at these interior centers.

At the north Atlantic seaboard receipts of grain, including flour reduced to bushels, at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore are reported as amounting to 19,172,639 bushels in February, 1903, compared with 10,750,780 bushels in February, 1902, making a gain of 8,421,759 bushels.

In southern territory port receipts of cotton to the end of February this year amounted to 6,526,889 bales in the current crop year, compared with 6,468,516 bales last season and 5,865,063 bales in the preceding season.

Similarly gratifying figures are shown by the treasury bureau's report in other branches of the country's internal commerce, all of which indicates that Uncle Sam's people are doing a pretty thriving business with each other.

The Word "Cafe."

It is really difficult to understand how the word "cafe," a French term, has come into such general use in this country and how it happens that it is so grossly misapplied. The term means coffee, or a place where coffee is sold, and what relation there is between a coffee shop and a place where liquors are sold we are at a loss to know. It is not improbable that the idea comes from combinations of barrooms and restaurants, in the latter of which of course coffee is sold, but to our mind nothing seems more absurd or more emphatically notice the modern disposition to follow blind custom than sticking up on the window where only beer, liquor and wines are sold the word "coffee," and that in a foreign language. Were it not that an age of misnomer gives recognition to this anomaly we would just as soon the word "meat" or "bread" signalized places where liquors are sold. Either would have as much sense and logical application as "cafe."—Exchange.
