Dr. Kilmer Burned Out.

The fire which destroyed the immense Swamp-Root medicine plant of Dr. Kilmer & Co., July 1st, was the most disastrous which has ever occurred in Binghamton. However, the Kilmers resumed business next morning, though not at the old stand, which is a heap of smouldered ashes. While the firemen were yet pouring water on the burning Chenango street establishment, the Kilmers were arranging to do business somewhere else.

That this great industry might not be crippled for a moment, thru the courtesy of other prominent firms and citizens, the large factory and adjoining buildings on South street were vacated for the benefit of the Swamp Root people, and possession was taken immediately, and here, by Monday, July 8, this new, temporary factory will be turning out Swamp Root, the great Kidney Remedy, in quantities of about 60,000 bottles per day, and in two or three weeks' time the full capacity of more than four times that amount will be produced. The immense demand for Swamp Root will thus in no way be interfered with.

On the old site, with adjoining property which has just been purchased, will be erected immediately an absolutely fire-proof six-story structure, plans for which have been nearly completed.

Rules of the New York State Board of Health.

The following rules for the transportation of the dead, having been duly adopted and published by the order of the State Board of Health, have the force of law:

Rule 1. The transportation of bodies dead of small-pox, Asiatic cholera, yellow fever, typhus fever or bubonic plague, is absolutely forbidden.

Rule 2. The bodies of those who have died of diphtheria (membranous croup), scarlet fever (scarlatina, scarlet rash), glanders, anthrax, or leprosy, shall not be accepted for transportation unless prepared for shipment by being thoroly disinfected by (a) arterial and cavity injection with an approved disinfectant fluid, (b) disinfecting and stopping of all orifices with absorbent cotton, and (c) washing the body with the disinfectant, all of which must be done by an embalmer, holding a certificate as such approved by the State Board of Health or other state authority. After being disinfected as above, such body shall be enveloped in a layer of cotton not less than one inch thick, completely wrapped in a sheet and bandaged and encased in an air-tight zinc, tin, copper or lead lined coffin, or iron casket, all joints and seams hermetically soldered, and all enclosed in a strong tight wooden box. Or, the body being prepared for shipment by disinfecting and wrapping as above, may be placed in a strong coffin or casket, and said coffin or casket encased in an air-tight zinc, copper or tin case, all joints and seams hermetically soldered and all enclosed in a strong outside wooden box.

Rule 3. The bodies of those dead of typhoid fever, puerperal fever, erysipelas, tuberculosis and measles, or other dangerous communicable diseases other than those specified in Rules 1 and 2 may be received for transportation when prepared for shipment by filling cavities with an approved disinfectant, washing the exterior of the body with the same, stopping all orifices with absorbent cotton, and enveloping the entire body with a layer of cotton not less than one inch thick, and all wrapped in a sheet and bandaged and encased in an air-tight coffin or casket, provided, that this shall apply only to bodies which can reach their destination within forty-eight hours from time of death. In all other cases such bodies shall be prepared for transportation in conformity with Rule 2. But when the body has been prepared for shipment by being thoroly disinfected, as prescribed in Rule 2, by an embalmer holding a certificate, the air-tight sealing may be dispensed with.

Rule 4. The bodies of those dead of diseases that are not contagious, infectious or communicable, may be received for transportation when encased in a sound coffin or casket and enclosed in a strong outside wooden box, provided, they reach their destination within thirty hours from time of death. If the body cannot reach its destination within thirty hours from time of death, it must be prepared for shipment by filling cavities with an approved disinfectant, washing the exterior of the body with the same, stopping all orifices with absorbent cotton and enveloping the entire body with a layer of cotton not less than one inch thick and all wrapped in a sheet and bandaged and encased in an air-tight coffin or casket. But when the body has been prepared for shipment by being thoroly disinfected, as prescribed in Rule 2, by an embalmer holding a certificate, the air-tight sealing may be dispensed with.

Rule 5. In cases of contagious, infectious or communicable diseases, the body must not be accompanied by persons or articles which have been exposed to the infection of the disease, unless certified by the health officer as having been properly disinfected; and before selling passage tickets agents shall carefully examine the transit permit and note the name of the passenger in charge, and of any others proposing to accompany the body, and see that all necessary precautions have been taken to prevent the spread of disease. The transit permit in such cases shall specifically state who is authorized by the local board of health to accompany the remains. In all cases where bodies are forwarded under Rule 2, notice must be sent by telegraph to health officer at destination, advising the date and train on which the body may be expected. This notice must be sent by or in the name of the health officer at the initial point, and is to enable the health officer at destination to take all necessary precautions at that point.

Rule 6. Every dead body must be accompanied by a person in charge, who must be provided with a passage ticket and also present a full first-class ticket marked "Corpse" for the transportation of the body, and a transit permit, showing physician's or coroner's certificate, health officer's permit for removal, undertaker's certificate, name of deceased, date and hour of death; age, place of death, cause of death, and if of a contagious, infectious or communicable nature, the point to which the body is to be shipped. And when death is caused by any of the diseases specified in Rule 2, the name of the person or persons authorized by the local board of health to accompany the body. The transit permit must be made in duplicate, and the signatures of the physician or coroner, health officer and undertaker must be on both the original and duplicate copies. The undertaker's certificate and paster of the original shall be detached from the transit permit and pasted on the coffin box. The physician's certificate and transit permit shall be handed to the passenger in charge of the corpse. The whole duplicate copy shall be sent to the official in charge of the baggage department of the initial line, and by him to the secretary of the local board of health of the municipality from which said shipment was made.

Rule 7. When dead bodies are shipped by express the whole original transit permit shall be pasted upon the outside box and the duplicate forwarded by the express agent to the secretary of the local board of health of the municipality from which said shipment was made.

Rule 8. Every disinterred body, dead from any disease or cause, shall be treated as infectious or dangerous to the public health and shall not be accepted for transportation unless said removal has been approved by the local health authorities having jurisdiction where such body is disinterred, and the consent of the health authorities of the locality to which the corpse is consigned has first been obtained; and all such disinterred remains shall be enclosed in a hermetically sealed (soldered) zinc, tin or copper lined coffin or box. Bodies deposited in receiving vaults shall be treated and considered the same as buried bodies.

Gas Consumers, Notice!

We desire to notify our customers that we intend, commencing Oct. 1st, 1900, to change to the Meter System in the sale of gas, and that we shall make no contracts from the above date either by yearly or regular monthly rates.

Gas consumers who are connected to our lines at present, and all others who may use gas in the future, are to conform to the above. Meters will be loaned by us upon the receipt of $5 deposited in advance. This deposit will be refunded at any time the consumer discontinues the use of gas and returns to us the meter in good condition, together with the meter deposit certificate so issued for the same.

The price of gas will be 25 cents per thousand cubic feet, subject to a discount of 10 per cent. if paid for on or before the 10th of the month following the meter reading.

Now, in order to take advantage of the summer use of metered gas, the company wish to state to the customers who have a yearly rate and whose contracts as yet have not expired, that they may avail themselves of the same privilege as our regular monthly customers, and connect by meter at once.

We consider that it is the only fair and equitable way of using gas, for in this way you can connect as many stoves or lights as you desire, regardless of the size of the mixer used, and pay for them only when in use.

By the adoption of the meter system, we look forward in giving you an even better service than in the past.

H. H. WILLIAMS.

Death of Mrs. Mary D. Caples.

Mary Elizabeth Perkins was born in Granby, Oswego Co., N. Y., May 19, 1840, and died in Elm Valley July 16, 1900, of heart trouble. She was married to Charles Caples Oct. 5, 1871. They commenced house-keeping in Alfred, where Mr. Caples died in 1878, leaving his widow with three little children, the youngest 6 months old. The same year she, with her little family, moved to Elm Valley, where, during the remaining 23 years of her life, she saw grow up around her into noble Christian manhood and womanhood, the three children given her. Prior to her marriage she spent a number of years in teaching. After moving to Elm Valley she resumed her profession and taught the neighborhood school one year. Mrs. Caples always believed that the first duty of a mother was home. She was a woman of inflexible integrity, industry and jealous love for her family. Hence she has left a posterity worthy of her name and an honor to the community. She had never united with any religious organization nor made a public profession of religion, but she had faith in God and in that faith she died. She had no fear of death. She was taken seriously ill last December and was a great sufferer much of the time of her illness. She was dearly beloved by her children who were ceaseless in their kind devotion to her every want. The neighbors and friends, by whom she was held in high esteem, were exceedingly kind. Funeral services were conducted from the home of her late residence, Wednesday, July 18, 1900, by Rev. W. B. Wagoner of Andover, and the music was furnished by the members of his church choir. The remains were interred in the Robinson Cemetery. The immediate relatives to mourn this irreparable loss are the three children, Giles, Paul and Agnes; also two brothers and three sisters, Richard Perkins of Hornellsville, Thomas, Malissa and Jane Perkins of Wellsville, and Mrs. Minerva Black of Scio. Peace to her ashes. Useful and serviceable in life, beautiful in death.

Letter From Rev. Father Murray.

La Champagne, June 24, 1900.

To the Editors of the Andover News:

Twelve hundred and fifty miles from New York harbor we greet the Andover News.

Having attended, at Buffalo, Monday, June 18th, the funeral of our lamented Chancellor, Rev. J. J. Sheahan, we reached New York city Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, via the Lehigh Valley train. We visited some of our friends in the city, and having celebrated holy mass in Brooklyn, we bade them (our friends) "an revoir" and went aboard the steamship La Champagne, which sailed promptly at 10 a. m. Thursday, June 21st. Knowing that our many friends will anxiously await a word from us we invite the genial editors of the News to say to them that we are all O. K. It is within a few days of fifteen years since I disembarked from an ocean steamer at New York, and I assure you it is a great pleasure to be again "at sea." We are in the hands of our friends, however, and they make life the 7th voyage, while our fellow travelers for eight days. We have pleasant weather so far, having run 515 miles in 24 hours. We have already [illegible] from nearly every nation. Rt. Rev. Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul is the oldest church dignitary aboard. [illegible] Seminary in Baltimore. We [illegible] Cardinal Gibbons to [illegible] Rt. Rev. Bishop Chatard of Indianapolis and some large contingent. We are going to Rome to wait for Cardinal Martinelli, Papal Delegate to the Philippines, and Mr. Tam Pay Shun, private secretary of the Chinese delegation at Madrid. He speaks English fluently and interestingly. We have Signor Carrera of New Mexico, who is a delegate to the Paris Exposition, representing the gold mining interests of his state; also D. A. Dennison, editor of the Bradford Era, who is one of the delegates of Pennsylvania. We also have Mr. Graham, the florist of Bradford, and we have counsellors-at-law from New York and Ohio. Besides the steamer physician we have Dr. Dadirian, an Armenian who has lived in New York city the past thirty years. So you see the professions are well represented, and we shall be properly taken care of.

I should not forget to tell you that we have musicians also among our number, and as I write one of the priests, Fr. Bourget of Chicago, is discoursing sweet strains of music on the piano, and later on I shall listen to the harmonious notes of Sig. Carrera's rich Spanish voice.

I hereby mention these few data for your information, and to let you know that we bear you in mind from time to time; yet one of the reasons for this trip is to forget, for the once, all care; to be free from all duty and responsibility, even that of informing the Andover News of my whereabouts. So do not be disappointed should you hear of us seldom, and then only briefly; tho this scrawl to me seems not so short. Should the remainder of our trip be as pleasant as it has thus far been we shall be repaid a thousand times for having made it. Au revoir.

T. A. Murray.

Jesse S. Phillips for the Assembly

We are glad to be authorized to say in our columns that Supervisor Jesse S. Phillips is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Member of the Assembly in the Allegany county district this fall. Mr. Phillips is a young man of eminent ability, clean moral character and splendid talents. His nomination at the hands of the Republican party in Allegany county cannot help but give to it not only the hearty support of all its members, but also a large following of Democratic and independent voters thruout the entire county. The Andover News does not often mix up in a political deal, but when it does it generally makes its influence felt, and we wish it distinctly understood from the start that we are here to see our friend and fellow-citizen, Jesse S. Phillips, secure the election of Assemblyman in Allegany county this fall, and we don't expect to be obliged to work very hard at that, as he has practically no opposition in the canvass.

Rev. Dwight Galloupe Dead.

Rev. Dwight Galloupe, well known in this county, died suddenly of apoplexy at his home in Newark, N. J., Wednesday of last week, aged 29 years. He was born in Stamford, N. Y., and was educated at Alfred University and Harvard. His first ministerial work was at Angelica, this county, and his second at the cathedral in Portland, Me. From Portland he went to St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Newark. Mr. Galloupe won wide fame during the Spanish War as the Fighting Chaplain. He went to the front as chaplain of the Ninth Regulars, and while on the field with the Red Cross men during the battle of San Juan he noticed that Spanish sharpshooters were picking off those who were the red cross on their arms. Chaplain Galloupe promptly ripped the badge from his arm, and, taking a gun and cartridge belt from a fallen soldier, he thereafter fought during the day as a private and was in the fierce charge to the top of the hill. Later in the campaign he received a wound from a fragment of a shell from which he never fully recovered.
