Cut to Fit

Has the significance of this phrase ever arrested your attention? Hasn't it occurred to you in the past that mighty little so-called ready-made clothing is cut to fit? Ours is.

Nothing better can be made. Only thoroly tested and trustworthy fabrics and trimmings are used. The patterns and styles are up-to-date.

In short, our Ready-to-wear garments have reached that degree of fitness, style and character that is otherwise to be found only in the better grade of custom-made clothing. The difference in price in favor of SCHAUL & ROOSA clothing is practically the only difference.

Men's Suits $8. to $25.

Overcoats are loose and boxy. Every one has the close fitting collar and hand padded shoulders. In three lengths, short, medium and long.

Overcoats $8. to $35.

Rain Coats $10 to $22.

Perhaps our illustrated catalogue will help you in determining what you will wear this Fall and Winter. You may have a copy for the asking.

It is not very encouraging for our local foot-ball timber to study the statistics of the fatalities laid to the game this season. Seventeen dead and four of them from broken backs and necks is paying dear for the fun if it is called such. The wise ones are those that can learn from the experience of others.

According to his statement of election expenses, Devery spent $11,000 trying to run for mayor of New York. This is a rather large sum, but it must be remembered that Devery had a whole lot of fun for his money, besides adding much to the gayety of nations.

The solution which the New York chemist has discovered to remove the beard will evidently not be popular with barbers nor with women who use their husbands' razors for ripping seams or paring corns.

Dressy Overcoats.

Between the extremes of style comes the Regular style; it's called that, we suppose, because wearers never get tired of it. You should see how Hart, Schaffner & Marx make it; very dressy and just as stylish as the long, loose backed shapes, or the form-fitting kind.

You can't make an overcoat mistake here; there is n't a wrong one in the store, and there are a good many right ones.

Better buy Hart, Schaffner & Marx make and get full money's worth.

Boys' Overcoats.

You've been thinking about an overcoat for that young man!

Well, he ought to have it and we ought to sell it to you. All styles, sizes and grades are here. Lots of pretty new ideas for the little gentlemen.

MILITIA AS COAST DEFENDERS.

General Robert Shaw Oliver, the new assistant secretary of war, under whose charge are the general problems of state militia organization, is anxious to stimulate the formation of companies of heavy artillery in the seaboard states as a reserve to man the coast defenses in time of war. Secretary Root dwelt briefly on this point in his last year's report, and General Oliver desires that additional emphasis be laid on it at this time. When the national militia bill was under consideration the secretary pointed out that if it became law an effort should be made "to procure the organization of a national guard force of heavy artillery in the neighborhood of each coast defense fortification, with the understanding that whenever the president finds occasion to call out militia to repel invasion that organization will be called into that fortification." Continuing, the report said:

In the meantime an immediate and special relation should be established between the militia organization and the fortification for the purpose of practice and instruction. They should be made as familiar as possible with the use of the guns and methods of defense at that particular point. In many cases it will be practicable to give them facilities for meeting and keeping their equipment on the military reservation, which would make unnecessary any outside armory for their use. Such an organization could readily perform all its duties to the state serving as infantry, but it could at the same time be distinctly known and constantly prepared for service as the militia reserve of the fortification with which it sustains the relations described.

Something has already been done toward the establishment of such a relation, a number of militia companies in New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts having taken up this branch of the service and being each year admitted to the harbor forts for artillery practice. If the plan is carried out the garrison of each fort along the coast will have a reserve of militia, who will make their encampment there each year and will know that it is to be their station in case war breaks out. This is in the strictest sense the duty to "repel invasion" to which the constitution refers, and such service would doubtless appeal to many men who would hesitate about enlisting in a body which in war time is liable to be ordered to distant parts of the country.

As Panama is to copy the constitution of the United States it will be a long time before the Panama senators can be elected by direct vote of the people.

Coughs

"My wife had a deep-seated cough for three years. I purchased two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, large size, and it cured her completely."
J. H. Burge, Macon, Col.

Probably you know of cough medicines that relieve little coughs, all cough, except deep ones! The medicine that has been curing the worst of deep coughs for sixty years is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Three sizes: 25c., enough for an ordinary cold; 50c., just right for bronchitis, hoarseness, hard colds, etc.; $1, most economical for chronic cases and to keep on hand.

AMERICAN STEEL RAILS FOR TURKEY.

The Pittsburg Dispatch reports that the Turkish government has closed a contract with the Pennsylvania Steel company for 20,000 tons of steel rails to be delivered at Beirut. The fact that the contract was secured only after strong competition with the Krupps and several Belgian firms in also not without significance as showing the constantly increasing inroads which American manufacturers are making in the foreign markets of the world. The rails are to be used in the construction of the road projected from Damascus through that portion of Turkish domains extending along the Red sea coast to Medina, thence to Mecca. Its chief use will be for the transportation of the countless hordes in the annual pilgrimages to the shrine of Mohammedanism.

While the contract is not an unusually large one when compared with some made with the Russian and Japanese governments, it is highly significant as indicating a revival in the foreign demand for American steel rails and also a good omen for the future. In view of the present depressed state of the iron and steel industry such indications are decidedly gratifying.

In fixing the Alaskan boundary according to the "findings" of the commission Canadian charts will be used as the basis of the survey work. This will be done because the work of the Canadian cartographers was more extensive and elaborate than that produced on the part of the American side of the boundary dispute.

If it is going to cost proportionately as much to transfer the ownership of the earth from the hands of Morgan to the hands of Rockefeller as it did to turn over a few properties to Schwab for the shipbuilding trust there ought to be a general protest on economical grounds.

Canadians are saying lots of things that in Patrick Henry's day and time would have been treason to the crown. But times have changed since then. Royalty is somewhat less cocky than it was in those days.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

NO PAY, NO PAPER AFTER JANUARY 1, 1904.

The "News" Adopts the Cash in Advance System, Believing it Better for both Publishers and Readers.

The ANDOVER NEWS is to-day the only paper in Allegany county printing eight six-column pages all at home, that does not charge more than $1.00 per year subscription. It is a close thing to issue such a sheet at that price and make both ends meet. The price of print paper has doubled within the past four years. The only way the NEWS can possibly maintain the present $1.00 rate is to carry no deadheads. Believing it unjust that a good subscriber be taxed to help pay for his deadbeat neighbor's paper, we have determined to adopt the "No pay, no paper" policy January 1st, 1904, and live rigidly up to it after that date. Kindly read the label on your paper and if you are not credited beyond Jan. 1st, 1904, you are hereby notified that your paper will then be discontinued, unless you walk up to the Captain's office and settle before that date. After Jan. 1st, 1904, all subscription accounts then due us will be placed in an attorney's hands fro collection.

THE PUBLISHERS.

Henry Bordewisch, the United States consul general at Christiania, Norway, reports that "during the year 1902 the emigrants from Norway to the United States numbered 27,000; and 1903 promises still larger figures. The reasons for the great increase in emigration during the last few years are to be found in scarcity of work, poor prospects for the future, high taxation and information received from friends in the United States of the satisfactory conditions found here. Large sums of money are sent from Norwegians in the United States to their relatives here. The amount in 1902 has been estimated at no less than $1,000,000."

The Norwegians are among the most desirable immigrants that come to this country. They mainly settle on the agricultural lands of the northwest, where they have become a powerful factor in the development of the country. They are industrious and economical, taking kindly to our institutions, and make good citizens. We have plenty of room in this country for these hardy descendants of the vikings.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cought Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indications of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

Trend of Civilization in All Lines from Week to Week

POLITICS and GOVERNMENT

General.

Cleveland Out of the Race.

In a letter to Editor McKelway of the Brooklyn Eagle former President Grover Cleveland has taken cognizance of the boom started some time ago for the presidential nomination by the Democracy. Mr. Cleveland says that he has not for a moment thought that in any circumstances should he "ever again become the nominee" of his party and that his determination is "unalterable and conclusive."

Platt Objects to His Burial.

Since the Odell-Platt conference at the White House last week, resulting in the positive announcement of the president's recognition of Odell as the real manager of the Republican machine in New York and the virtual sounding of Platt's death-knell, signs have multiplied showing that the senator is going to make a fight for his leadership. The Roosevelt-Odell alliance is thought to be prepared for a way if necessary to control the state organization next year.

Governor Odell.

Philadelphia's Row.

The political boss of the Quaker City, Israel Durham, has locked horns with Mayor Weaver, neither being willing to take orders from the other. The occasion is the nomination of a tax receiver, but the question of the $28,000,000 loan is involved.

Hanna Boom Irrepressible.

In spite of all Mr. Hanna's disavowals, a Cleveland Republican club meeting went wild over the suggestion in a speech that Hanna was the choice of the majority of the people for president. It was said that the financial interests and the south were for him and that these would control the next national convention.

Executive.

Dry Rot in the Army.

Brigadier General Bliss in his report as president of the Army War college says that the officers of the army are neglecting to study the military problems confronting the United States and that these should form a part of the college work. He suggests the working out of a great war game.

Increasing Treasury Deficit.

During the month of November there has been a steadily increasing difference between current receipts and expenses of the government, making a deficit of nearly $2,000,000 for the month.

Notes.

The battleship Maine has been ordered home from the isthmus for repairs. A break in her engines kept her speed below twelve knots.

The commissioner of internal revenue estimates a decrease in collections for the current year.

Legislative.

Speaker Cannon and the majority leaders of the house resolutely refused to entertain the proposition of the senate to have the extra session adjourn, notwithstanding that the senate put off its vote on the Cuban treaty bill till Dec. 10. To adjourn with the Cuban bill undisposed of was thought to be an insult to the president. Nevertheless a great many of the members of the house went home for Thanksgiving, and there has not been a quorum in either branch of congress since. Adjournment for three day periods kept the session alive.

Morgan Attacks President.

The expected attack on President Roosevelt's Panama policy was made by Senator Morgan of Alabama. He charged that the president had not kept his faith with congress in interpreting the Spooner law and said the revolution was a Caesarian operation "which took Panama alive from the womb of Colombia."

Williams Taunts Republicans.

Leader Williams of the house minority has taunted the Republicans on their inactivity since the passage of the Cuban bill, especially on their failure to take up tariff revision. Mr. Payne, the Republican leader, replied that "the Republican party is just a little too wise to revise the tariff on the eve of an election," whereupon the Democrats applauded.

Oil Trust Defies the Law.

In the execution of the publicity law enacted by the last congress Commissioner Garfield of the department of commerce and labor sent out a list of perfunctory questions to the large corporations. The Standard Oil company has refused absolutely to answer, and it is expected to test the department under the new law. Most of the other trusts have sent replies.

More Presidential Cranks.

Two more instances of so called cranks or persons unbalanced seeking to compel an interview with the president have occurred. One was at New York where the president was attending his uncle's funeral. A harmless old patent medicine man got past the detectives and handed Mr. Roosevelt a letter containing indorsements. At Washington a demented priest wanted to collect a vast sum.

No Crime to Sell Vote.

According to the supreme court of Massachusetts, it is not a crime for a man to sell his vote, but it is a serious offense to buy one. The court holds that to say of a candidate for office that he "sold his vote" is not slanderous of itself and that in order to recover damages the person of whom it is falsely said must allege and prove special damages.

May Recover Lost Betd.

By a decision of the supreme court of New York Wednesday it was held that a man who bets on races at race tracks can recover his losses by going to law.

More Georgia Peonage.

The United States court at Savannah, Ga., Monday returned indictments against eight prominent men, including one state representative, for the alleged sale and return of negroes into peonage.

Captain Carter a Free Man.

Captain Oberlin M. Carter left the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 28, having ended his term of servitude of three years and seven months of the five years imposed by court martial for defrauding the government in connection with the Savannah harbor improvements. It is said that he intends to sue the government for the proportion of his fortune which was sequestered.

Notes.

Various large land companies in northern Louisiana are implicated in indictments for fraudulent homestead entries, the companies advancing money to dummy settlers.

More peonage indictments were found last week against prominent planters in both Louisiana and Georgia.

The United States district court at Cincinnati has again acquitted Daniel Y. Miller and Joseph M. Johns, former postal employees, from the charges of having conspired to extort a bribe from the Ryan turf enterprise of Cincinnati.

Foreign.

Colombian Commission Here.

General Rafael Reyes, Colombia's most renowned soldier, who is also famous for his explorations of the upper Amazon, reached Washington Nov. 28 via New Orleans after having failed in his peace mission to Panama. He at once conferred with Dr. Herran, the Colombian minister, and denied all interviews. It was rumored that he would offer a free right of way for the canal in return for a free hand in regaining control of the isthmus. General Reyes is accompanied by General Pedro Nel Ospina, General Lucas Caballero, Jorge Holguin and Jose D. Amrigo. They have called on Secretary Hay to file their protest.

Italians Against Austria.

Serious disturbances have occurred in Italy by the activity of the party known as Irredentists, who demand that Austria shall cease to Italy the provinces of Trent, Trieste, Istria and Dalmatia, known under the general title of the Southern Tyrol. The immediate cause of the demonstration was Austria's prohibition of a free Italian university at Innsbruck. All over Rome the cry went: "Down with Francis Joseph! Let us break the triple alliance!" At the university the Austrian flag was burned. The students were charged with drawn bayonets.

General Morales in Control.

Since the surrender of the Gil government Nov. 24 and the insurgents' entry into Santo Domingo the provisional government headed by General Morales has been in control, though not recognized by the American minister. President Gil sailed away on a German warship to St. Thomas. An election is to be held soon.

Russia's New Move.

Peking confirmed the report that the Russians had reoccupied Haicheng, an important strategic city thirty miles north of Newchwang, in Manchuria. The Chinese antagonism over this and other Russian moves greatly increased, and all the viceroys offered foreign drilled troops for defense.

Colombia Raising an Army.

The government of Colombia, following the appeal of President Marroquin addressed to the people of the United States, has issued orders for raising the national army to 100,000 men in case the mission of General Reyes to Washington should prove fruitless.

Kaiser and Czarina.

Some fresh alarm was caused regarding the condition of Emperor William owing to a bulletin in which it was shown that the royal patient was still unable to speak aloud and was undergoing massage of the larynx. It was said that a number of slight erosions had appeared beyond the original wound. Voice specialists have advised that the emperor cultivate a lower key in speaking.

The Russian czarina has been suffering from some form of blood poisoning, causing local inflammation of the ear, the tympanum of which has been perforated.

Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the new British ambassador to the United States, arrived at New York Nov. 28. He is fifty-three years old and a six footer. * * * W. J. Bryan, the American silver knight, has been making a great social stir in England, where he has been entertained by all the leading public men, being dined by London's mayor and Mr. Chamberlain. * * * The French president and deputies have entertained 200 visiting members of the British house of commons. * * * The sultan of Turkey has put a ban on all soaps made of lard. * * * Cuban senate has authorized a government lottery, the proceeds to go to the army's support.

EDUCATIONAL

Total School Enrollment.

United States Commissioner of Education Harris reports that 15,925,887 pupils were enrolled in the public schools last year. The average monthly wages of teachers were $49 for men and $40 for women. More than two-thirds of the teachers were women. Total attendance in private schools was 1,272,537, in evening and special schools 620,840, making grand total of 18,080,540.

Schools Must Teach Morals.

Before the Massachusetts Teachers' association, in session at Boston last week, Professor M. L. Perrin of Boston university said that the time had come when the public school must take up the matter of morals. "The children should be taught to be good," he maintained, "but not led to think that they would all be presidents." He declared that our great weakness was lack of humility. "Success is everything; humility is forgotten. We are on the border of despotism, and the schools can cure it."

Notes.

Educational authorities of New York city are considering the resumption of corporal punishment in the schools, since a recent investigation revealed the fact that 6,700 pupils were not amenable to present forms of punishment. Girls of the Baltimore Western High school have been severely disciplined for beating a classmate accused of telling tales about cheating in examinations. * * * The high school principal at Waveland, Ind., expelled fifteen students who refused to sing high A when told by a teacher. Many parents are opposed to the compulsory music rules in force there.

Postal Corruption Laid Bare

The long looked for Bristow report has been given to the press, or a 12,000 words gist of the big document, together with a memorandum comment by President Roosevelt.

The president takes occasion to denounce the gross corruption thus exposed in the postoffice department and to promise the prosecution of all offenders to the limit of the law. He makes especial reference to those whom the three year statute of limitations protects and urges that the limit be increased to five years. This is a pointed reference to former First Assistant Postmaster General Heath. The president concludes his denunciation with this sentence:

"The toleration of the wrong, not the exposure of the wrong, is the real offense."

The report shows that the misconduct of Postal Attorney Tyner had gone on willfully for a number of years and that Machen and Beavers began their systematic grafting as soon as appointed, distributing favors to senators and members of congress. The total contractors received fraudulently are between $300,000 and $400,000. Since the investigation began four officers have resigned, thirteen have been removed and forty-four indicted.
