What's In a Name?

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago discovered years ago how to make a salve of Witch Hazel that is a specific for piles. "For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by O. E. Vars & Son.

Monday night was one of the coldest in the history of this locality and particularly so for the month of January. The mercury here went 32 degrees below zero and in some places in town it was reported even colder.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much they save by their great work in stomach and liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c. at O. E. Vars & Son's Drug store.

We express thanks to the public for the very generous and liberal patronage accorded us during the year just ended, making it possible for us to record the largest year's business we ever had.

The same careful and conscientious methods—the same high class, honest merchandise—the lowest prices, always consistent with quality, which has been the policy in the past, will be the standard for the future, thus further distinguishing this store from others.

While awaiting the arrival of spring goods, much of which is now in course of manufacture for us, we will close all winter goods at the lowest prices.

We have good assortments of Coats, Furs, Underwear, Waists and Flannelette Garments, as well as all other cold weather apparel.

Promptness will secure values unmatched.

A Leading Question.

A certain judge, living in the upper part of New York, while trying a case listened with pain and displeasure to the testimony of a colored woman who was describing how she had whipped one of her offspring. She enlarged on the harrowing details until the judge stopped her.

"Do you mean to tell me that you were cruel enough to punish your son like that?" he demanded.

"Oh co'se I did, yoh honoh," she replied.

"How dare you be so brutal?"

The colored woman looked at him in fine contempt for a moment, then asked slowly:

"Look a-heah, judge, was yoh eber de father ob a wuthless mulatter boy?"

The judge almost fell from the bench.

"Ef yoh ain't," continued the negress, "then yoh don't know nuffin' about de case!"—Harper's Weekly.

BIG DISCOUNT OFF

This is the off season in clothing when many retailers take it for granted that there will be nothing doing, and are content. Not so with this progressive store, however. Experience has taught us that it is better to make any sacrifice to keep things moving than to suffer business to come to a standstill. It's bad policy to pack goods away from one season to the next. Styles change and most men know what's what. We run no risk of piling up Clothing that's out of date and have no dead capital. This is the course of procedure we adhere to. But here are the facts and figures—they need no puffing—they do their own talking most convincingly and eloquently:

MEN'S SUITS	MEN'S PANTS	MEN'S OVERCOATS
$8 Suits $5	$2 Pants $1.39	$8 Overcoats $5

How Could It Be a Mistake?

What a woman doesn't know about newspapers isn't worth knowing. The other morning Mrs. B. was talking to her husband.

"I notice in the Daily Hoodoo that Mr. Biffkins died on Sunday."

"It's a mistake, my dear," replied the husband. "He died on Monday."

"But the paper said Sunday."

"I know it, but it was an error in the print."

"I thought so, too, at first, but I got a half dozen copies of the paper, and it was the same in all of them. They certainly couldn't have made the mistake over and over again."

The husband tried to convince her, but it was no use, and he gave it up.

Wonderful Nerve.

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental cuts, wounds, bruises, burns, scalds, sore feet or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best salve on earth for piles, too. 25c. at O. E. Vars & Son Druggist.

Queer Salutations.

The Abyssinians drop on their knees and kiss the earth when they meet. In saluting a woman the Mandingas take her hand, put it to their nose and smell it twice. The Egyptians stretch out one hand, then lay it on their breast and bow the head. Among the less civilized tribes of the old world, say the Kalmucks and in Polynesia, the custom of rubbing noses is pretty general. Perhaps the most extraordinary form of salutation is to be found in Tibet, where the natives put out their tongues, gnash their teeth and scratch their ears.

One More Brute.

Mrs. Nubbins—My husband is a perfect brute.

Friend—You amaze me.

Mrs. Nubbins—Since the baby began teething nothing would quiet the little angel but pulling his papa's beard, and yesterday he went and had his beard shaved off.—New York Weekly.

A Yeast-Pocket Doctor.

Never in the way, no trouble to care, easy to take, pleasant and never failing in results are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. A vial of these little pills in the vest-pocket is a certain guarantee against headache, biliousness, torpid liver and all of the ills resulting from constipation. They tonic and strengthen the liver. Sold by O. E. Vars & Son.

The airship which an Englishman has invented especially for military purposes will doubtless kill any enemy who embarks upon it.

Coughing

"I was given up to die with quick consumption. I then began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I improved at once, and am now in perfect health."—Chas. E. Hartman, Gibbstown, N. Y.

It's too risky, playing with your cough. The first thing you know it will be down deep in your lungs and the play will be over. Begin early with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and stop the cough.

Three sizes: 25c., 50c., $1. All druggists.

Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows. Leave it with him. We are willing.

PATENT LEATHER.

The Process by Which It Takes on the Enamel Finish.

All manufacturers of patent leather have their own tanning processes, much like those of the calfskin tanner, though some patent leather is given a bark tanning. Horsehide and colt skins are the chief leathers made with a patent finish.

The patent or enamel finish is really painted and baked on, as the bicycle manufacturer paints and bakes enamel on to a frame. Tanners are very particular about keeping their processes secret, and nobody but workmen is ever allowed in the finishing rooms.

The hide or skin, having been stretched and dried as much as possible, is first given a coating of a mixture of linseed oil, litharge, white lead or similar materials, boiled together until they make a pasty mixture.

This is daubed on the surface with a steel tool and well rubbed in, so that the pores of the leather will be filled up. Then the leather is put into the oven, its surface being exposed to steam pipes at a temperature of about 160 degrees.

Next the surface is rubbed down with pumice stone, and then it is covered with linseed oil and ivory black, about six layers being applied, each layer being dried and rubbed down. Finally a varnish is applied, and then the surface is rubbed down and finished off as nicely as a painter finishes a fine carriage.

E. Vars & Son, Andover; and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

A Cat Story.

A cat owned by the manager of an English restaurant noticed a mouse which had contrived to find its way into a cupboard among a lot of wine glasses. Evidently the cat saw that to capture the mouse in that retreat would be a somewhat difficult task, so, jumping on the top of the cupboard, from a plate there he gently precipitated a piece of cheese on the floor and waited. For over an hour the cat's eyes were glued on the decoying morsel, and not in vain. At last the mouse could resist the temptation no longer and made a rush for the cheese, when the problem which the cat had seemingly propounded to himself found a solution, and the mouse was caught.

Educational.

Highland Schoolmaster—Norman, did you ever see an elephant?

Norman—Noh, sir.

H. S.—Hav you seen one, Donald?

Donald—Noh, sir.

H. S.—Hamish, hat you ever seen an elephant?

Hamish (eagerly)—Yes, sir.

H. S.—You are a coot poy, Hamish. Go up top.—John Bull.

What Bothered Him.

"Dat's one thing bothers me 'bout de hereafter," said Brother Williams.

"En what's dat?"

"Dis thing er livin' on milk en honey."

"Don't you like it?"

"No; it always did gimme de dyspepsia!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it will wear them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure they would immediately see the excellent effect, after taking the first dose. Price 25c. and 50c. TRIAL SIZE FREE. At all druggists.

Chinese Minister Wu Ting Fang has announced her willingness to make improvements on the Isle of Pines, as suggested by the United States, and this will probably overcome any trouble about ratifying the treaty on the subject. The United States has no particular use for the island, and as it has always been treated as a part of Cuba it might as well be allowed to remain in that position.

Congress may succeed in abolishing the committee room buffets at the capitol, but it will experience no end of difficulty in doing away with the cloakroom canteen in overcoat pockets.

When Dreyfus has been reinstated in the French army Paris will have to invent another sensation to give it an appetite for its absinth.

Another Treaty Message.

As soon as the regular session of congress was resumed, Jan. 4, a special message was received from the president relaying the whole Panama situation. In it he denied that anybody connected with the administration had had anything to do with inciting the revolution, and he urged prompt ratification of the treaty, saying to do so would not undo what has been done.

The later portions of the Panama correspondence were also transmitted. This included the note from General Reyes asking if a Colombian invasion of Panama would be regarded by the United States as a declaration of war and Secretary Hay's reply saying that such an invasion would be viewed with the gravest concern, but professing friendly intentions toward Colombia.

Seven to Two For Wood.

The senate committee on military affairs voted, Jan. 4, 7 to 2 in favor of the nomination of Leonard Wood to be a major general. The two opponents were Scott and Blackburn.

Democratic Prophets Heard.

At the Omaha (Neb.) Jackson day banquet, Jan. 1, 500 prominent Nebraska Democrats applauded the speech of Representative De Armond of Missouri when he said he would "welcome all who come to battle on our side for what now is an issue" and repel "none whose help we did not get in the past," although he declared no one was available as a presidential candidate who did not support the Democratic nominees in 1896 and 1900. "Labor and capital," he declared, "bid fair to unite in support of the Democratic standard bearer."

Senator Francis G. Newlands said Bryan's renunciation of candidacy was accepted and that Cleveland was an impossibility. Imperialism was a dead issue and the tariff no longer a question of principle, but only one of percentages.

The McClellan Banquet.

National politics figured to some extent in the banquet given in honor of Mayor McClellan at New York Jan. 4. Democrats formerly in opposing camps were side by side or sent words of cheer. Ex-Secretary Olney called on ex-President Cleveland to be the party standard bearer once more. De Armond of Missouri said that the west and south were ready to join the Democracy of the east and read a marconigram from Bryan, then on the ocean, saying his heart was with them, but not to forget the western Democrats, "who polled 6,500,000 votes in 1900." Bourke Cockran was toastmaster, and ex-Senator Hill said pleasant things about Tammany, besides attacking the administration. Cleveland, Gorman and Parker sent regrets.

Bryan's Views Unchanged.

W. J. Bryan sailed from London for home Dec. 30, having completed his tour of Europe. Asked whether his study of the financial conditions abroad had resulted in any change in his views on the silver question, he replied, "Not the slightest."

Straws For Roosevelt.

Republican state committees of Georgia and Arkansas have pledged their support to President Roosevelt. Senator Platt of New York after conferring with congressional leaders said that all were for the president's nomination.

Foreign.

War Seemed Inevitable.

With each succeeding day of the past week the hope of peace in the orient became dimmer in the absence of any reply from Russia to Japan's last ultimatum. The rising tide of the war spirit in Japan appeared to sweep all before it, and a powerful fleet of six armored cruisers under Admiral Kamimura was ordered to sail Jan. 4 for Masampho, Korea, to pave the way for the landing of a large army. In some quarters this was believed to be with Russia's acquiescence. Masampho is the port in Korea which Russia desires to possess in order to maintain communication between her outpost at Port Arthur and Vladivostok. It is at the southeastern extremity of the Korean peninsula, not far from Fusan, the proposed sea terminus of the railway from Seoul which the Japanese government recently brought under its own control, taking it from the Japanese company which held the concession.

Another Colombian Landing.

Another step toward war on the isthmus of Panama has been taken with the landing of 1,500 Colombian regulars on the San Blas coast, reported at Colon Dec. 31. This territory belongs to Panama, and the Indian allies of Panama were captured. Admiral Coghlan immediately summoned to his fleet all the marines on shore. His flagship, the Olympia, a protected cruiser, the auxiliary cruiser Prairie and the gunboat Castine were prepared for sea and dispatched in haste down the San Blas coast.

United States Minister Beaupre and Mrs. Beaupre were brought safely to Colon from Cartagena by the flagship Olympia, and they at once sailed for New York.

The Panama elections for members of the constitutional convention resulted favorably to the candidates of the junta.

Canal Company Favors Sale.

At the annual meeting of the French Panama Canal company at Paris, Dec. 30, the sale of the property and rights to the United States was confirmed.

Anarchy in Santo Domingo.

The progress of the Jiminez movement against the Morales provisional government of Santo Domingo was further complicated by a third revolution under General Gelletier at Azua de Compostella. Fighting around the capital was reported, and throughout the island anarchy was virtually rampant.

Notes.

For his vindication in the new trial of Captain Dreyfus it appears that the date of an important telegram was altered by Colonel Henry so as to implicate Dreyfus. * * * In the French chamber during the debate on amendments to the budget proposals adopted in the senate, Premier Combes raised the question of confidence in the government and obtained a majority of 100. * * * A proceeding very unusual in Canada is stated to have been decided on by the authorities of the postoffice department. Strict censorship is to be exercised henceforth over blacklisted American newspapers for sensational stories respecting Canadian men and women, which if printed in Canadian newspapers would subject the responsible parties to criminal libel.

Executive.

Army Recruits Not Up.

Major General John C. Bates, commander of the department of the lakes, reports that the character and appearance of recruits are not up to the standard of former years, the number of undeveloped youths being especially noticeable. According to the report, the "baby blue" facings for infantry is unpopular and without exception is opposed by all infantry officers, and a return to the white facings is universally desired, as is also the retention of the officers' blue overcoats in lieu of the new olive drab overcoats. The general mess system in operation throughout the department is declared unsatisfactory, and a return to company mess system is recommended.

Turbines For the Navy.

The special board of naval engineers after many experiments has designed a turbine of reasonable proportions that seems admirably adapted to naval needs. The new turbine is only about twelve feet over all in height and about the same in length, and the rapidity of revolution has been brought down to 250 per minute, an object toward which all designers have for the past few years been looking. It is the purpose to place two or three of these turbines, aggregating 10,000 horse power, on one or perhaps both of the two new scout ships.

Legal and Criminal.

Lynching Mob Restrained.

Through the efforts of Representative Smith of Council Bluffs, Ia., a mob of 1,000 men and boys about to break into the jail to lynch two negroes accused of criminal assault was dispersed, and the negroes were taken to another place of detention pending trial.

Chicago's Scandal Monger.

The postal authorities at Chicago have been roused by renewed activity of the mysterious letter writer whose anonymous missives to prospective brides contain reflections on the past of the bridegrooms.

Massachusetts' Race War.

Another chapter has been added to the Sheffield (Mass.) dispute over mixed schools for colored and white children. Jan. 2, when the Plain district school, built expressly for the negroes, was burned, presumably by offended colored citizens. A white teacher had been employed there last, and the colored people were fined for sending their children to other schools.

Senator Dietrich on Trial.

The trial of United States Senator Charles H. Dietrich opened in the federal court Jan. 4. Senator Dietrich has been indicted on three different counts.

RELIGIOUS

Catholic Music Revised.

Pope Pius X. issued a note suggesting some changes in the music used in the Catholic churches. He condemned the transformation of liturgic music into compositions for use at concerts and complained that in Italy and France the ceremonies were irreverent and given with operatic effect. He expressed a desire for a return to the Gregorian chant, the official music of the church.

Mills' New Evangelism.

In a series of meetings extending over three weeks the Rev. B. Fay Mills, for many years one of the best known evangelists of the country, has presented to the people of Green Bay, Wis., a new method in evangelistic work. Mr. Mills speaks in behalf of no sect or set of dogmas, but presents what he believes to be fundamental truths, which can be believed and practiced by those whose theological ideas differ. Although it is only six weeks since Mr. Mills began his "new evangelism," he has openings enough in inviting fields of labor to occupy him for two years or more. In some cases these invitations come from orthodox and sometimes from liberal churches.

In explaining the purpose of his movement Mr. Mills says: "I believe the people to be sick unto death of doctrinal controversy and that they are ready for a real religious revival, a revival of manhood living, which forms the basis of what is vital in every religion. I hope to lead individuals to practice unselfishness in every relationship of life through a better understanding of the reason and results of it." He says that the practice of unselfishness is the only cure for social and personal problems.

SOCIOLOGICAL

Australia's Race Suicide.

A royal commission appointed some time ago by the New South Wales government to investigate the declining birth rate in that state has been making some surprising reports. Contrary to the generally believed theory that this condition was the result of hard times and economic causes generally, the commission declares that the trouble lies with the women, who more and more are avoiding families. Two main reasons are given—namely, the fear of the physical suffering and inconvenience involved and the consequent interference with social duties and pleasures. Statistics are produced showing that women are less capable, physically, of child bearing than formerly. The decline is said also to bear relation to intellectual status and to postponement of marriage.

Drunkards' Blacklist Fails.

The provision of the licensing act adopted in London last year, which blacklisted any one convicted of drunkenness the second time, was abandoned Jan. 1 as impracticable. The decision of Lord Chief Justice Alverstone that no one could be detained in an inebriates' home against his will made the whole affair a dead letter. Of those placed on the list during the year 61 per cent were women.

Benevolence of Last Year.

An estimate of money bequeathed to schools, churches and charitable institutions during the year just ended places the grand total at $100,000,000. The largest single gift was that by John D. Rockefeller to Rush Medical institute, Chicago, amounting to $7,000
