The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. Benedict & Van Noy, Andover; E. Breese, Elm Valley.

A Gentle Hint.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing consumption, hemorrhages, pneumonia, severe coughs, croup, or any disease of the throat or lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Get a sample bottle free from Benedict & Van Noy, Andover, N. Y. Regular size, 75 cts. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

Strikes a Rich Find.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed at Benedict & Van Noy's, Andover, or at any other drug store.

Prompt Payment.

The immediate payment of a death claim is often of inestimable value to the widow, executor or other beneficiary. The Equitable Life Assurance Society has always realized this fact and was the first to establish the custom of paying its claims immediately upon receipt of satisfactory proofs of death. This custom has been rigidly adhered to ever since. —Evening News.

Letter to Rev. G. M. Janes.

ANDOVER, N. Y.

Dear Sir: In making pastoral visits, of course, you do not consider your pleasure or comfort or ease; you go where your people live. But you have two sets of feelings in going about—can't help it—we all have. But you especially have; for a part of your business is sympathy. Well-kept lawns and well-tilled fields, nice homes and nice people, are cheerful to you, as they are to every one. Tumble-down buildings, poor fences, men harrassed by burdens too heavy for them, overworked women, and dirty-faced children, you may be strong to get on with; but you would be more than human to find inspiration in misery.

Paint divided the two sorts of people; one paints, and the other don't. Or, perhaps, the thrifty paint well; the unthrifty paint ill.

To paint well is to keep paint sound. There are two ways to do it: one is bound to paint often; the other to use good paint.

It costs about half as much to paint Devoe as to paint lead and oil; for Devoe lasts twice as long and costs no more—indeed it costs less, but not much less.

The thrifty and comfortable have the art of using money more wisely. How lucky they are! how happy!

Yours truly,
52 F. W. DEVOE & CO.

Furniture that is not pleasing to the eye is fit for nothing but a barn. Elegance is our thing and strength is another, but there is not the least reason in the world why the two should not go together in Furniture.

To say that a thing is cheap does not necessarily make it cheap. To say that our Furniture is cheap, scarcely does it justice. Take our High Chair as an illustration: We sell them for 99 cents, which is about one-third less than you have to pay at other places for them. After No-License, What?

NUMBER I.

The time will soon come when the bars of this town will be under the ban, instead of under the protection of law. Public drinking places will have no legal existence. What can we expect? and what should we do? are two questions worthy of consideration.

1st. We may naturally expect some lawlessness. The open saloons have been oreating a class of citizens with depraved appetites and propensities who are liable to seek to perpetuate the drink evil in spite of the law against it. Society is always infested with a class of persons who assume such an attitude concerning all classes of crimes. Every year of the reign of license increases the number of such persons. The traffic thrives at the cost of degrading human beings. Some of that class of persons are liable to do all they can to convince the people that no-license is no relief from their burdens. They may purposely do what they can to make the no-license policy appear odious.

DRUNKEN BOYS.

Such individuals sometimes seek to get boys drunk and then publish the fact that they were drunk as widely as they can. They sometimes take special pains to ensnare the boys of temperance people and get them to drinking. Cases have been known where they have gleefully carried such boys to their homes dead drunk. The legal position of boys is the same under license and no-license. In both cases the law forbids furnishing them strong drink. But the absurd plea is made that we should license the sale of liquor to adults in order to keep it away from boys. But the most prolific cause of drunken boys is the existence of drunken men, and license provides for manufacturing that class of men.

DRINKING MEN.

Drinking men sometimes club together and provide a common resort where they can gratify their appetites. The writer remembers one town where, after no-license, some of that class of men first had their drinking headquarters in an old saw mill. They next moved to the home of a very dirty and disreputable negro. Their next move was to an old dwelling house, a part of which was being used for a hog pen. It was an appropriate place for the business but an imposition on the hogs. It is said to the credit of swine that after being made drunk once they forever after refuse to touch the stuff.

GRAND CLOSING CONCERT.

OXFORD MUSICAL CLUB OF BOSTON,

Vocal and Instrumental.

Prest's Opera House, Tuesday Evening, March 26,

AT 8 O'CLOCK.

PERSONNEL.

JAMES A. KORMAN, Bass Soloist, Pianist.
HOWARD E. TILTON, Flute, Piccolo.
RALPH L. REINEWALD, Cornet, Violin, Mandolin,
ARTHUR E. THRASHER, Tenor Soloist, Mandolin, Banjo.
FRANK LANCY, Various Instruments.

The closing number of the Entertainment Course will be given as above indicated. The Oxford Club are well known thruout the country as one of the very best of musical companies. The entertainment being given by far the highest priced attraction on the course, and consisting of a very large variety of both vocal and instrumental specialties, cannot fail to please the most exacting. They are first-class singers and play nearly every instrument commonly known, and many rare instruments. They aim to give a popular program. Their imitative sketches are of a very amusing nature, and "A Day at the Circus," with the grand street parade, side show, etc., and "Down the Mississippi," or "Ten Minutes with the Minstrels" are decidedly novel and pleasing.

The following program will bear out the statement that the Oxford Club give a more varied program than any other concert company in the country:

SAMPLE PROGRAM.

1. March, THE CLUB.
2. Tenor Solo, Selected — MR. THRASHER.
3. Flute Duet, Selected — MESSRS. TILTON AND LANCY.
4. Descriptive, "Down the Mississippi," THE CLUB.
   All aboard; life on the river; deck-hand's pastime; the village chimes; arrival at Memphis; the race; fuel all gone; the explosion.
5. Piccolo Solo, Selected — MR. TILTON.
6. Vocal March, THE CLUB.
7. Bass Solo, Selected — MR. KORMAN.
8. Descriptive, "Ten Minutes with the Minstrels," THE CLUB.
   Introducing first part of a minstrel show; songs, jokes, etc.
9. Musical Selections, MR. LANCY.
10. Cornet Solo, Selected — MR. REINEWALD.
11. Tenor and Bass Duet, Selected — MESSRS. THRASHER AND KORMAN.
12. Descriptive, "A Day at the Circus," THE CLUB.
    The grand street parade, introducing drum corps, band, jubilee singers and steam calliope; side show; freaks; menagerie, grand nature; Lazelback riders; hippodrome race; wild West.
13. Cornet and Trombone Duet, Selected — MESSRS. REINEWALD AND LANCY.
14. Opera Pipes, THE CLUB.
15. March, THE CLUB.

The following are samples of thousands of press notices:

The Oxford Musical Club appeared last night before a rousing audience at the Oliver. The entertainment was one of the popular series given this winter under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, and was one of the best of the series. The club has only five members, but each one can do so many things well, that there was plenty of variety to the program.—The State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.

The Oxford's entertainment last night at the Y. M. C. A. delighted a large audience. It was not classical, but popular. The music was bright and tuneful and caught the popular ear. The solo and concerted work were alike good, being rendered with a dash and spirit that kept the audience on the qui vive, carrying it along with anything but an adagio moment. The descriptive song, "Down the Mississippi," was a musical hurricane, and it swept the audience off its feet. "Ten Minutes with the Minstrels," introducing the first part of a minstrel show, was exceedingly clever. —Charlotte News, N. C.

The best entertainment given in the Star Lecture course was that of Wednesday night at the Grand Opera House by the Oxford Musical Club. The house was packed and the entertainment was a great success.—Akron (O.) Journal.

Admission 25 cts. Reserved seats 35 cts. Seats now on sale at the store of L. A. Burrows.

Fire at Bolivar.

A disastrous fire occurred at Bolivar last Friday morning at daylight. The Opera House, Lafe Starkweather's dry goods store, W. A. Myer's restaurant and bottling works, L. A. Loop's furniture and carpet store, Van Gorden & Wertman's cigar factory, and the Western Union Telegraph office were wiped out. The Masonic Temple and other buildings caught, but were soon extinguished. The fire started in the rear of the double store occupied by Starkweather's dry goods store and Loop's furniture and carpet store. The damage was $20,000.
