GROVES-BARNEY.

A Pretty Home Wedding.

A brighter, prettier June morning never dawned than that of last Wednesday, the 5th inst., the day selected by the contracting parties to solemnize the marriage ceremonies between Lieut. John D. Groves of Ovid and Miss Sara S. Barney of West Union. The home of Hon. and Mrs. A. C. Barney, the bride's parents, at any season of the year is a typical rural residence, but the June visitor will at once pronounce it an earthly paradise, and so it seemed on this occasion. Everything was symmetrically arranged, and the house beautifully decorated. At 1 o'clock the wedding march, played by Frank D. Cannon, ushered the happy couple, unattended, to the parlor, where Rev. V. L. Eggleston said the ceremony, and pronounced them man and wife.

Immediately after the ceremony an elaborate luncheon was served by four of the bride's lady friends, each guest finding at his plate a very unique favor, representing two hearts joined together, and on the back of each were small photographs of the bride and groom.

One of the enjoyable features of the occasion was the smooth manner in which the bride and groom gave the younger members of the party the slip, not allowing them to carry into execution their carefully planned schemes of pelting with rice, etc., as is customary on such occasions. It was managed so that those most likely to perpetrate such deeds were seated at the second table, and while they were feasting the bride and groom slipped up stairs, thru a hall and window, descending a ladder and drove away.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves will make their home at Ovid, where he has a lucrative position in the State Hospital.

Only the immediate family and a few intimate friends of the party were honored with invitations. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Groves, James, Charlotte, Mary, Grace and Robert Groves of Coudersport, Pa.; Rev. V. L. Eggleston, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bassett, G. M. Barney, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wood, Ethel Boyd, Anna Brundage, A. B. Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bunny, Frank D. Cannon of Andover; Mrs. Sarah Burdick, D. S. Burdick, J. C. Green, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Baggs, Albert Crandall, Howard Lewis, Sidney Titsworth, Anna Stillman, Alfred; Ellen Young of Greenwood; Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Barney of Hammondsport; Mrs. Bates, William Morris, Vernie Santee, Hornellsville; Edwin Whitford of Leonardsville; Mr. and Mrs. E. Sherman, Lillian, Ruth and Olive Sherman, of Cowanesque, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Barney, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Barney, Anna Laura Crandall, Independence; Dr. H. A. Barney, Belmont.

on June 13th and 14th, Dr. Clark, Eye Specialist, can be consulted free. If you have eye trouble go and consult him and learn all about your eyesight free. He can give you valuable information.

Allegany Oil Field.

In May there were forty-five new wells completed in the Allegany county field, with a total new production of twelve barrels daily. Of these three wells were dusters. This month opened with twenty-six rigs under way. The only new development during the month of May was the finding of an extension of the Nile pool in the town of Wirt, eight miles north of Bolivar, where five wells have been drilled that started off at seventy barrels a day and settled to sixteen barrel wells. They are all located close together and all five stand on about three acres in area.

The well near Belmont known as the spirit well is down 3,200 feet, and work has stopped, pending the arrival of a new cable 3,400 feet long, with which the drill will be sent down 400 feet deeper. The well was located by Miss Maggie Gaule of Boston, a noted Spiritualist, and a wealthy resident of Allentown, Pa., is furnishing a large share of the money to cover the expense of drilling. He is confident of a gusher.

To Be Made a Broad Gauge.

One of the officials of the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern railway is authority for the statement that that road will be made broad gauge from Olean to Bolivar in the very near future. The action has been contemplated for some time and the building of the new passenger station by the Pennsylvania road at Olean has hastened the broadening of the road. After the new station is completed the trains on this road will have to approach in front of the station, and it is not likely that they will do so with the old equipment which they have been using, and if they do it would require the laying of a third rail.—Olean Times.

Letter to E. R. Carpenter.

ANDOVER, N. Y.

Dear Sir: If there is a spot in your paint where the water gets in, the wood underneath is rotting or rotten. The timbers go too.

Such a spot develops unseen in some corner—under the eaves perhaps—while the paint is still in good condition generally.

Look out for such spots, or paint at random for looks. If you paint for looks, you are likely to stop such spots before there are any spots.

Extravagance pays in paint. Economy don't. Extravagance is economy. Queer, what puppets words are!

Yours truly,
