CLOTHING

That reputation pronounces best is the kind. It isn't for to-day, to-morrow or next week that you buy a suit of clothes or overcoat. Clothes are bought to serve—the longer the better. The better the clothes the better they look even to the last day.

You can't get service or appearance out of poor workmanship. A thrown-together, pressed-up suit may look all right for a week—then comes the time of kinks and dissatisfaction.

SCHAUL & ROOSA Clothing is made to serve long and well—to keep its shape—to look dressy as long as you want to wear it. That is the kind of clothing it pays to buy.

Men's Suits, $8 to $25.
Men's Overcoats, $8 to $35.

A Good Recommendation.

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by L. A. Burrows, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

Cambridge Springs a Winter Resort, and Why.

The idea that because "a change" is needed it is necessary at this season to go to some much warmer climate, is not always correct. Such a course may sometimes be necessary, but in nervous troubles, disorder of the digestive functions, kidney complaints and many others, nothing is gained, and much is often lost by breathing an enervating atmosphere when vitality and vigor most are needed. Besides, one is seldom comfortable in such places because there are cold days there, with no facilities to meet them.

The best place to thoroly enjoy and benefit by cold weather is in a dry, ozonic atmosphere, with ample preparations for keeping warm, a generous table, good society, opportunity for exercise indoors, such as enclosed balconies, sun parlors, etc. Add to these the health-giving waters of Cambridge Springs, Pa., and you have an ideal place to spend the winter, or any part of it. If not informed as to Cambridge Springs ask any Erie Ticket Agent for illustrated booklet, or send to D. W. Cooke, G. P. A., Erie Railroad, New York.

Unconscious From Croup.

During a sudden and terrible attack of croup our little girl was unconscious from strangulation, says A. L. Spafford, postmaster, Chester, Mich., and a dose of One Minute Cough Cure was administered and repeated often. It reduced the swelling and inflammation, cut the mucous and shortly after the child was resting easy and speedily recovered. It cures Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, and all throat and lung troubles. One Minute Cough Cure injures in the throat and chest and enables the lungs to contribute pure, health-giving oxygen to the blood. L. A. Burrows, Andover.

If there are any other powers and principalities in Europe which have not filed their claims against Venezuela, now would seem to be their time to do it. With Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Spain and Belgium all presenting their bills at once the little republic is in an unhappy position, but it is easier to hit a man when he is down, which is a characteristically European procedure.

Luxury as a Handicap.

The history of our country is a record of the successes of poor boys who seemed to be hopelessly shut off from books, culture and education, except that of the most meager kind—from almost every opportunity for mental development. The youthful Franklins, Lincolns, Hamiltons, Garfields, Grants and Claytons—those who become presidents, lawyers, statesmen, soldiers, orators, merchants, educators, journalists, inventors, giants in every department of life—how they stand out from the pages of history, those poor boys, an inspiration for all time to those who are born to light their way up to their own loaf!

The youth who is reared in a luxurious home, who from the moment of his birth is waited on by an army of servants, pampered and indulged by every fond parents and deprived of every incentive to develop himself mentally or physically, although commonly regarded as one to be envied, is more to be pitied than the poorest, most humbly born boy or girl in the land. Unless he is gifted with an unusual mind he is in danger of becoming a degenerate, a parasite, a creature who lives on the labor of others, whose powers ultimately atrophy from disuse.—Success.

Pays the Current Price.

My young friend Jimmy Banks was married a little over a year ago. He had previously spent twelve months in the most furious courtship. The girl had not at first cottoned to Jimmy very much, but he moved heaven and earth so vigorously that she at last consented, says the Cosmopolitan. Now, the other day who appears before me but Jimmy, with a long face, and makes a complaint that the baby keeps him awake nights. "Good gracious, Jimmy!" I said. "Didn't you know that babies always do that? A baby has to have some entertainment." Go home and be thankful that it isn't twins." There is the reverse side to every joy. You can't have the advantages of bachelorhood and married life at the same time. You buy everything with a price—leisure, family, office, learning, wealth, fame, position. Nothing is free. Be sure you want the article, pay the current price and enjoy your possession.

Didn't Know His Own Chile.

At Antietam, just after the artillery had been sharply engaged, the Rockbridge (Va.) battery was standing waiting orders. General Lee rode by and stopped a moment. A dirty faced driver about seventeen said to him:

"General, are you going to put us in action?"

Think of such a question from such a source to the general of the army, especially when that general's name was Lee!

"Yes, my boy," the stately officer kindly answered, "I have to put you in again. But what is your name? Your face seems familiar somehow."

"I don't wonder you didn't know me, sir," laughed the lad, "I'm so dirty. But I'm Bob."

It was the general's youngest son, whom he had thought safe at the Virginia Military institute. "God bless you, my son; do your duty," and the general rode on.

Spoke Too Soon.

Alexandre Dumas was one day the guest of Dr. Gistal, a leading practitioner in Marseilles. After dinner, while the coffee was being handed round, the host requested the great novelist to enrich his album with one of his witty improvisations.

"Nothing easier," replied Dumas, with a smile, and, drawing out a pencil, he wrote under the eyes of his entertainer the following lines:

Since Dr. Gistal came to our town
To cure diseases casual and hereditary
The hospital has been pulled down—
"You flatterer!" here exclaimed the doctor, mightily pleased; but the poet went on:
And we have made a larger cemetery.

Mrs. Hamilton's Ice Cream.

Mrs. Alexander Hamilton had the first ice cream in the city of Washington. She used to tell with amusement of the delight with which President Andrew Jackson first tasted it. Guests at the next White House reception were treated to the frozen mystery, and great was the fun of the initiated when they saw the reluctance of others to taste the cold stuff. Those from the rural districts especially eyed it suspiciously, then melted each tenspoonful with the breath before swallowing it. The next time they had a chance they ate it with delight.

It Wanted His Tongue.

At an auction sale in a Scotland village the auctioneer was trying to sell a number of domestic utensils, including a porridge pot. As usual, he was making a great fuss. Flatshing, his keen eye caught a well known worthy, the beadle, standing at the back of the crowd, and he shouted out:

"Master Macfee! You make me an offer for this pot. Why, it would make a splendid kirk bell."

"Aye," replied the beadle, "if your tongue was in it."

Waited Twenty Years For a Solution.

A bit of pure and harmless mischief at recitation at Yale was the device of a member of the class of '72, who inflicted their claims against Venezuela, now would seem to be their time to do it. With Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Spain and Belgium all presenting their bills at once the little republic is in an unhappy position, but it is easier to hit a man when he is down, which is a characteristically European procedure.

Our Cooks.

"I believe," said the young physician, "that bad cooks supply us with half our patients."

"That's right," rejoined the old doctor, "and good cooks supply us with the other half."—Chicago News.

"Don't Know How I Got Such a Cold"

Most of us have heard this expression many times.

Did you ever notice that the Don't know how I got it cold is a bad one to get over? That before you are through with the hoarseness, the cough, the "tight feeling," the general discomfort, and the out of sorts sensations, you are apt to have another such cold, and so on until it hangs on for weeks?

These colds mean that your system is out of gear. They usually precede serious diseases like consumption, bronchitis. They are dangerous.

We have found a remedy for all sorts of colds, coughs, that is not a so-called cough-cure. It does not stupefy with opium, nor fill the system with vicious drugs.

It is Vinol. We are perfectly willing to tell any inquirers at our store what it is made of and how we came to take hold of it.

It certainly does the work. Old coughs go off like magic. It even relieves people far gone in consumption. People right in town have proved it. We sell it subject to guarantee—money back if doesn't help you. Isn't it foolish to put the matter off?

Prayed

To Be Released From Life.

Almost Insane From Nervousness.

Dr. Miles' Nervine My Salvation.

Do you enjoy life, or do you sleep so poorly that you are more tired when you get up than when you go to bed? Is your appetite failing, are you getting thin; does your head ache, back ache, eyes tire easily? These are symptoms of a nervous disorder, which should be promptly treated or fearful epileptic, mental and physical nervousness, morbid fears and loss of control will lead to insanity or mental irresponsibility. Strengthen the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine. It quickly supplies nerve-force and vitality to the weakened system, bringing sleep, appetite and health.

"I was almost insane with nervous trouble. Could not eat or sleep. Could see no pleasure in life; indeed, life was a burden to me, and I even prayed God to release me from it. Three doctors did all they could for me, all to no purpose. I was in despair of ever getting better when I saw the advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I got a bottle, commenced taking it and wrote you for advice. I followed it carefully, taking your Nervine, Restorative Tonic, and Nerve and Liver Pills. Those remedies were my salvation. It is some months since I stopped taking the Tonic but I keep the Nervine in the house all the time, as it is a friend for me, do not feel safe without it. If any sufferer should doubt the truth of this statement, let them write to me and I will do my best to drive all doubt from their mind."—MRS. MABEL REDDEN, La Jose, Pa.

One Thing at a Time

"I can't afford to advertise on a large scale," said a merchant lately, "and with my varied stock I wouldn't know where to begin on a small scale."

It is a common fallacy that the advertising must cover the whole stock.

In point of fact it never does, even with the most lavish advertisers, and, if it did, the result would be a jumble of prolixity. The true policy is to select one article at a time—something moderately priced and meeting the want of the day—and push that at the people.—Philadelphia Record.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

Business Begins Today After An Adjournment of a Week.

Raines Flurry Subsiding — Speaker Nixon Thinks Session Should Be Short But It Will Not Be — Lewis' Measure to Prevent Strikes — Will Ask For State Fair Appropriation.

Albany, Jan. 14.—The legislature will commence business this evening after an adjournment of one week from the day of its organization. This is a very unusual delay, but out of respect to the memory of the late Senator Trainor it was deemed best to fix the date farther away from organization than is usual. It will have the effect of delaying the business of the legislature considerably and it is probable that the members will not be able to get down to business much before the latter part of the month.

Senator John Raines, who in spite of the opposition of Senators Brackett, Elsberg and Brown, was elected president pro tem of the senate, has had more years of service in the senate than any other present member and of longer continuous service than any other Republican member. Before his election to the senate in 1886 he had served three terms in the assembly. Senator Raines' name is pretty well known wherever there is any interest in excise matters, and whether one likes the laws he has fathered or otherwise one cannot deny that he has been a power in certain directions.

Speaker Nixon, Clerks Whipple and Baxter of the senate and assembly were unanimously re-elected and in fact about the only changes in the officers are Charles H. Bernard of Broome, first assistant doorkeeper of the senate, and Mr. Sanger of New York and D. C. Easton of Washington, principal and second assistant doorkeepers in the assembly.

On the Democratic side Senator Thomas F. Grady will lead the minority in the senate, while Assembly G. M. Palmer will lead the minority in the lower house. Senator Grady has always many interested admirers, as has Mr. Palmer. The elections seem to be pretty fairly satisfactory all around.

Flurry Over Raines.

The flurry over the election of Raines as president pro tem of the senate is subsiding. Those who expected to see the disaffected senators, Brown, Brackett and Elsberg, rave on the day that the legislature was organized were disappointed, for they did nothing of the kind. Whatever the merits of their case, they did not exploit them in any marked degree. Senator Brackett with his long head is too politic and careful to make any great public disturbance. The disaffected senators, however, may mix matters a trifle during the session. They can worry their Republican colleagues not a little if they choose, for it takes 26 votes to pass bills. Without Brackett, Elsberg and Brown there will be but 25 votes. After all, as Senator Raines says, the three senators are Republicans and they may not care to worry their contreres.

The bolting senators say but little about Plait. Brackett and Brown have said they would not vote for him, but Elsberg has said nothing. There must be a change of 13 votes controlled by the Republican leaders in the legislature to affect the vote for United States senator, for the Republican majority on joint ballot at present is 35 votes. As to chairmanships of committees, while there has been any amount of idle talk, it is quite likely that matters will be smoothed out some way. Elsberg thinks he ought to have the chairmanship of the committee on cities and Brackett and Brown think so too.

Senator Horace White of Syracuse will probably, however, have the place. Malby will be chairman of finance. Brackett will of course be reappointed chairman of the judiciary, even though it has been stated in certain quarters that his bolt might prevent his reappointment. The committees will be announced tonight.

Too Many Bills Introduced.

Speaker Nixon thinks the session should be short. He is of the same opinion as last year that there are any amount of bills presented each year which are of no earthly good only to take up time. Many bills are never heard of again after their introduction and as Speaker Nixon says add nothing to the name or fame of their introducers. The old cry of short session is given by Speaker Nixon, who acknowledged, however, that nothing like the short session of last year can be repeated, as there are so many important matters coming up for consideration. The idea that many of the local bills introduced ought to be passed upon by the respective boards of supervisors in the counties where the bills originate, seems to be growing in favor and may in time be adopted.

One of the interesting measures to be introduced in the very near future in the senate by Senator Lewis will be a bill which provides for the settlement by arbitration of controversies between public service corporations and their employes. One of the principal features of this bill will be the providing that every public service corporation shall, within 20 days after the passage of the bill, prepare and deliver to each of its employes a written contract engaging to retain such employe in the service and not to discharge or reduce the rate of compensation paid without first giving at last 20 days written notice of an intention so to do, so that an individual employe may be discharged without notice for good cause to be specified in writing at the time of such discharge.

Another feature provides that every public service corporation shall prepare and present for signature to each of its employes a form of written contract to be signed by such employe within 20 days after this act shall have taken effect; such contract shall provide that the employe shall remain in the employ of the company for a period of 20 days after notice in writing of an intention to quit the service, and further that the employe so signing binds himself to observe and faithfully keep all the provisions of this act so far as the same are applicable to him.

Whenever by reason of a strike or lockout the regular operations of any public service corporation are interfered with or are likely to be interfered with, it shall be the duty of the attorney general, either upon the application of any citizen or of his own motion, to apply to the appellate division of the supreme court in the department in which such strike or lockout exists for the appointment of three suitable and proper persons to act as arbitrators. Corporations may be represented by counsel and the employes may appear personally or by such counsel as they may designate in writing to be filed with the arbitrators.

In the event that neither the company nor any of its employes appear before such board of arbitrators, it shall be the duty of the board, notwithstanding such failure, to proceed forthwith to an investigation of the causes either of the lockout or the strike and to render decision. The awful coal strike and famine has set people thinking and it will not be surprising if a large amount of legislation on public service corporations comes out of this session.

Ball Playing on Sunday.

Among the really amusing bills which have already made their appearance is one on baseball playing. Sipway but surely during the past few years the game of ball on Sunday has been finding favor. A large class of the young men of the cities cannot secure that amusement on any day of the week but Sunday and they have taken the seventh day for that purpose. In many localities this playing ball on Sunday has been looked upon with great disfavor and in some cases arrests have been made.

Senator George A. Davis is evidently one of those who believe that the young men should have their fling in the national game on Sunday if they wish to and he has introduced a bill permitting the game of baseball on Sunday. Every young man and boy in the state who loves the game and loves to play it on any day, Sunday included, will swear by Senator Davis this session.

Schools of Agriculture.

One of the interesting bills which will soon be forthcoming will be that of Assemblyman Charles S. Plank of St. Lawrence on authorizing county boards of supervisors to establish schools of agriculture for which the state shall furnish the instructors and the county the buildings and equipment. This bill was introduced by Assemblyman Plank last year but it was allowed to die.

Another bill from the same assemblyman will probably be received with a good deal of favor. This bill will permit the organization of county boards of education who shall have power to prescribe uniformity in text books throughout the county and provide free text books for all the scholars. This provision of free text books to the scholars of all the schools of the state has been before the public for some time and there are many educators and others who strenuously maintain that the state should certainly furnish all the books its scholars need, without money and without price.

State Fair Appropriation.

One of the things the legislature will be asked to do this session will be to appropriate $160,000 for permanent improvements and contingent expenses of the state fair for this year. One of the propositions which will be put before the legislature will be to erect a large and handsome building to be known as the New York state building. Other improvements proposed are a grand stand connecting the two present stands at a cost of $40,000; the establishment of a new water system and the placing of hydrants at a cost of $12,000; repairs to the poultry building, new wire coops and other small matters at a cost of $3,500; the removal of tracks from the rear of the grand stand, premiums, printing and other contingent expenses, $30,000.

Crowding of Cars.

Every person in the state who has had bitter experience in the way of crowding in surface and elevated railroad cars will be glad to know that there is a strong prospect that something may be done by the legislature this winter on this subject. Senator Wagner of Brooklyn has introduced a bill providing that no car shall carry more than five passengers beyond its actual seating capacity and inflicting a penalty of $50 per passenger on the railroad company for each passenger carried in excess of that number. One half the penalty goes to the person making the complaint.

If this bill goes through there is likely to be no more strained shoulder sockets from hanging on with desperate determination to straps and no more bruised and mutilated feet from being trodden upon by other passengers as unfortunate as oneself in the matter of seats. This is a matter that in the opinion of many should have some up before the legislature long ago.

NO IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

Senate Committee Investigating Causes of Coal Famine.

INDEPENDENTS FORCED RAISE

Mr. Cassett Says He Does Not Think Present Conditions Will Improve For Several Months to Come—Winter Output Never Sufficient and No Accumulation Last Summer.

Washington, Jan. 14.—In the coal famine investigation of the senate committee Senator Stewart, commenting on testimony submitted that the independent dealers had forced the advance, said: "Why man who puts up prices of coal now with the result of causing the freezing of women and children is a shark. I don't know," he added, "that we can punish them by law, but we will give them a chance to explain."

Senator Stewart has received a letter from President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, in which Mr. Cassatt says in part: "After mining operations were resumed our agents proceeded to sell the coal from our mines, as well as the coal purchased from the private operators, at the circular prices, which were fixed at 50 cents per ton only above the prices prevailing before the strike. The individual operators, however, protested strongly against this, holding that the agents were bound to sell their coal at the best obtainable prices, and after consulting counsel it was concluded that their demands would have to be acceded to.

"It is very easy to account for the shortage in the anthracite coal supply. The strike, lasting nearly six months, caused a falling off in the output of some 24,000,000 tons. The output during the winter months has never been sufficient to supply current demands, the deficiency being made up from stocks accumulated during the summer; but this winter began with absolutely no stocks on hand either at shipping places or in coal yards or in private cellars, and while more coal has been mined and shipped since active operations were resumed than ever before during a like period, it has not been sufficient to supply the demand, nor has it been possible to supply enough bituminous coal to make up the deficiency in anthracite.

"While the coal carrying railroads generally are making every possible effort to increase the movement I regret to say that I do not think the present conditions will improve for several months to come."

ARRESTS FOR COAL STEALING.

Judge Says He Will Send No One to Jail Who Has Less Than a Ton On Hand.

Hoosick Falls, Jan. 14.—After raiding several cellars in the vicinity of the railroad tracks Detective Atwood of the Boston and Maine railroad and Deputy Sheriff Meyers made three arrests of persons charged with stealing coal from freight cars during the past few nights.

When P. Reakan and A. Herbert were brought before Justice Cahill, Reakan said the coal belonged to him. Herbert testified that he had bought his supply. Both were discharged and John W. Davis' case went over.

Justice Cahill announced that would not send any one to jail who has less than one ton on hand. A conflict of authority between the local police and deputies is expected.

Mayor Confiscated Coal.

Toledo, O., Jan. 14.—A special to the Times from Bellevue, O., says: "The fuel situation in Bellevue today reached an acute stage and a conference of the mayor, councilmen and coal dealers was held. It was learned that there were eight cars of anthracite coal and several of soft in the local yards of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad and it was decided to confiscate the contents. The fire bell was rung and the mayor and councilmen, followed by a small army of citizens armed with shovels, marched to the railway yards and unloaded the cars in record breaking time. The mayor issued orders with the village seal and the coal was distributed to citizens through the local dealers at the rate of $8 a ton."

No Coal For the Needy.

Fishkill, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The coal condition here is serious. Local dealers have refused to supply coal to the poor commissioner for distribution among the needy and an appeal made to dealers in Newburg was met by a refusal to deliver any coal except on orders from the local dealers. One man was found in a dying condition, it is claimed owing to the lack of fuel.

"Get Coal" Convention.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 14.—Mayor Maybury has issued the call for the reassembling of the Detroit "get coal" convention at Washington, Jan. 27. It says
