OUR KEYNOTE:

"If There is not a Way, Cut a Way."

Andover, N. Y., July 14, 1916.

Entered as second-class mail matter under act of Congress, at the Post-office at Andover, N. Y.

The essence of wisdom is to avoid being a fool.

* * *

All men are created equal, but some walk on higher stilts than others.

* * *

They say a cat has nine lies, but at that it is a mile in the rear of Villa.

* * *

A flower in your front yard looks vastly better than a weed. Speed up the flowers.

* * *

There's a break in the clouds to the south. Perhaps even yet the sun may shine again.

* * *

No matter how dark the clouds may be, there's a world of cheer on the other side. Break thru.

* * *

Millionaires and paupers are rubbing their elbows at the front. War is a great leveler of caste.

* * *

Young man, you will never reach your goal so long as you spend your time resting on the way.

* * *

If you know a few things and know them well you are a wiser man than the fellow who "knows it all."

* * *

The angleworn is a useless impediment of the earth, but it is about as valuable as some people we know.

* * *

All men make mistakes in the eyes of the Lord and other people. A few never do in their own estimation.

* * *

We often refer to certain people as hard headed men of affairs. No mention, however, is made of the heart.

* * *

The political campaign is making a desperate effort to get back on the front page again. Here's hoping it may.

* * *

Most women are admired for what they are, and not for what their ancestors were before them. It is not always so of men.

* * *

Just why, can you tell us, is the smile of a pretty girl like the purr of your pet cat? There is an answer, but who knows it?

* * *

Sunshine and fresh air are the best tonics for your children. They likewise, are the greatest agencies for the curtailment of doctor bills.

* * *

Some men "know everything," make a big noise and get nowhere. Others know a few things say little, and get to the front. Take your choice.

* * *

This Mexican muddle is working a genuine hardship in the public prints on the political candidates. But then, it is some relief, even at that.

* * *

The man who respects the rights of others experiences little difficulty in securing the consideration due himself, but the wolf generally gets his due.

* * *

A kind word is worth much, costs nothing and leaves a green spot in memory. Harsh ones are the cause of blight, wither and decay. Which do you use?

* * *

You, of course, have your own opinion on current affairs, and believe that you are right. Your neighbor has his and is equally firm in his belief. Respect the rights of each and don't scrap.

* * *

We men are quite in the habit of smiling over the feminine scraps over the back fence, but we apparently overlook entirely the public street. Of the two, we are enclined to the belief that wo man has the best of the deal.

* * *

Digging in the garden is the best of exercise. It clears the brain, developes your muscles, adds to the circulation of blood, and brings the glow of health to your cheeks. But, of course you'd rather have the other fellow do it.

NOT ONLY MAKE BUT KEEP THE TOWN CLEAN

A clean town attracts attention wherever and wherever it is seen. A dirty one catches the public eye in even less time.

When the streets and alleys and yards and vacant lots in a town are clean and sanitary it bespeaks a like condition on the part of the residents with regard to their personal habits.

Some of the untidy conditions in Andover and some nearby villages this year is excusable on account of the rubbish washed on property that was in the pink of condition before the floods came.

It is truly disheartening to have to do the work all over again, especially when the cause of the untidy condition is no fault of the owner of the property, but our very health and life depends upon its being done.

Disease germs like no better place to breed and multiply than this very rubbish washed in on our lawns and gardens.

The Bible says the Lord loves a clean man or woman, and as to that we all have greater respect for the cleanly. The devil worships a dirty person, it would seem, when we find that his followers are usually of that type. Which do you prefer?

If each person in Andover would use just a little more energy and thoughtfulness we could make this one of the cleanest spots in the county and our reputation would grow apace.

Not only would we be benefitted thusly, but the health of the community would be vastly improved and the physical capacity of the people would be greatly mercased.

A clean man works with pleasure and with a definite object in view. Generally he gets there.

The dirty-one labors from necessity only, has no ambition and is the black eye that kills the town in the eyes of other people.

Keep the town clean.

There is another way that Andover still needs a cleaning up. That is morally, as well as physically.

While there is not a doubt but that we have improved our condition wonderfully in this respect within the last ten years, there is work yet to be done. Our officials were elected to do this work. The people have spoken in meaning terms upon the subject, and when proofs of flagrant law violations have been furnished, then it is up to our officers to do their duty regardless of the consequences.

Publicity is the great cleanser. The sins as well as the virtues of a community should be known to all.

Let's make Andover a clean town in every respect.

Then let's keep it clean.

FAILING IN THE TEST

The railroads in the country have been put to the test in the handling of troops and have failed and we have learned yet another lesson in the school of unpreparedness.

Regiments of soldiers, who were scheduled by the roads to start at a certain hour, have been delayed for days thru lack of cars and in a number of instances the troops have lain on the ground at the stations all night long waiting for the cars to take them to the border.

The excuse of the roads is a shortage of cars, but if that be the cause what would we do if we were suddenly required to transport a great army instead of a few thousand men?

The citizen depends upon the army to protect him, in his rights of person and property, and the army depends upon the railroads to get them to the front.

When the roads fall down on an insignificant movement what are we to expect if an emergency arises?

The question demands an answer.

* * *

EXTSPERATING PIDDLING

The Government of the United States, and the people as well, are rapidly losing their patience over the exasperating piddling of Venustiano Carranza, who styles himself the first chief of the Mexican de facto government.

This man Carranza reminds us of the insignificant and bombastic fist that barks at a big dog and then backs away when there is a chance for a fight.

He has insulted and defied the United States on innumerable occasons and yet when we show a disposition to resent his insolence he bobs up with a suggestion of compromise or mediation.

In plain and unvarnished language, we have had just about enough of Carranza, and of Mexico, and it is about time for the big dog to sail in and give the piddling snipper and his horde of ragamuffins and cutthroats — a sound drubbing.

Nothing else will be of the slightest avail.

* * *

MEN WHO LIVE IN MEMORY

Every town (and ours is no exception) has two distinct classes of citizens—those who live in the memory of their fellow men and those who are promptly forgotten.

The man who is energetic, persevering and keeps always in mind the welfare of the community in which he lives will need a marble slab to keep his memory green.

The fellow who kicks and villifies his own home town will die unmourned and his neighbors will not even think of him long enough to forget him.

Say a good word for your town—and say it again.

As The Editor Sees It.

Patriotism is in the air these days and it extends from one end of the country to the other, and embraces all classes of citizens from the millionaire to the pauper. That is patriotism to one's flag and country. But there is still another kind of patriotism that is of quite as great importance but is not so generally observed. That is patriotism to the home town, to the schools, the churches, the lodges, the business men, in fact, to everything that pertains to the home life. The more prosperous the home communities of the country, the greater is the power of the country as a single unit. The man who exerts his influence in behalf of his home town uses as great a brand of patriotism as the one who mounts a platform and starts the eagle to screaming. As a matter of fact there is no comparison between the two, for in nine cases out of ten actions speak louder than words. Patriotism to country is commendable, but that to both home and country is even better.

The Japanese Ovens several centuries ago were famous all over the Orient for their ability as bread and pastry makers. They are said to have first invented the cruller, now popular the entire world over. Our Crullers are famous throughout this entire community. Our customers tell us they are like those mother used to make and that is the best recommendation a Cruller or any other articles can have. "Quality and Cleanliness" is the motto of this bakery at all times.

A SEASON TICKET Is What You Want

A SEASON TICKET admits to all the ten sessions of the Chautauqua—and cuts the cost in two! Without it you will be paying your 25 cent, 35 cent and 50 cent admissions at the gate each day, and you'd be surprised at the difference it makes. So get SEASON tickets and the whole Chautauqua will cost you only a few cents a number. Figure it out for yourself.

BUY TICKETS EARLY

BUY them early and save 25 cents. The price will be raised when the tent goes up. The season ticket COMMITTEE are out trying their best to make this Chautauqua a glorious success. They see its value from both an individual and a community standpoint, and they are putting in their time and their best efforts because they believe in hind these men and put the town on the Chautauqua map so it will stick there.

You will find tickets on sale in many of the stores and banks. Ask any one down on the street about them and you'll get the whole story. Remember the Chautauqua is to be out of doors in a big waterproof tent grams, five lectures of the sort you'll like and an abundance of entertainment to add variety and spice to the affair, besides, a Junior Chautauqua for boys and girls.

GET A PROGRAM BOOK

GET one of the beautiful souvenir program booklets that tell the whole story. It is handsomely illustrated and tastefully gotten up. It is a book you'll want to read from cover to cover and then put away and keep after you have heard this great list of Chautauqua celebrities. It gives all the details, the program for each day, prices of tickets and every fact of interest about the Chautauqua.

And Don't Forget to See About the Tickets the Next Time You're Downtown

—The primary classes of the Presbyterian Sunday School enjoyed a picnic at the Park Wednesday, under the supervision of their teachers, Misses Katherne and Emma Folsing.

—A. J. Hall died at his home in Little Genesee, June 30th. Deceased was born Jan. 28, 1844, in the town where his death occurred. He was a Civil War veteran, a member of Co. E. 85th N. Y., Vols.

—Andover friends are glad to learn of the promotion of James Richardson, of Hornell, formerly of this village, from the mechanical department of the Erie railroad at that city, to a position in the superintendent's office.

—The members of Edward Seaman Relief Corps gave a tureen luncheon in honor of Mrs. Clarinda Brundage, Tuesday afternoon, at her home on Grove street. Mrs. Brundage is arranging to accompany her daughter, Mrs. Fannie Langworthy, to her home in Newport, R. I., for a permanent stay.

—Another "exhibition" game was that played by Cuba vs Andover ball teams, at Cuba, Saturday. The last time Andover played Cuba, at Cuba, our boys trimmed them up to the tune of 3-5, so they "prepared" by hiring an almost entire line-up of professionals to go against the Andover boys. This made the game a very one-sided affair. Of course we have no kick coming; but if the Cuba base ball fans think such makes for base ball spirit, they are mistaken. Our team would have given them a good game stacked up against Cuba players only, which it was understood was to be the case when the game was signed up.
