WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.

THE LAND MEN ALWAYS SHUN

He had the goods. He wanted me to walk over the lines and to know, as he knew, that he was secure in his claims.

I didn't have the time or the inclination. I admitted that he had all he claimed or even hoped for, but I had not the heart to tell him that it would be years before the markets would find a path to his find, and that when railroads had builded in, when the stamps or the cyanide system had developed his holdings he would have been a lost checker on the board of fate.

And then we moved along. We had dinner at a mountain ranch where they served cantaloupe, tomatoes, cucumbers—and I forgot the prospector.

And we went on down, out of the mountains, into the world-famous Imperial Valley.

We struck the cement road (where the autos run slowly because the road sucks off its tires) From the mountains of desert and dryness, we spin out into the plains of plenty—and water.

You smell it—see it. Fields of alfalfa grow about as fast as machines or cattle can cut them. It is a wonderful land of richness—and heat. The thermometer stands at 110. You hear a ranch owner tell the station agents he wants a solid train to take his melons out the first of the week. You hear a stockyards man quoting prices on fat steers that will take your breath away. It is a once-desert country that has water poured in it, and it can beat any place in the U. S., about 60 days in getting stuff on the market. It's a wonderful valley, there is none like it. It grows while you sleep (or try to) and sweat. The stuff just pushes up and makes you rich.

But say—

If "Barbara Worth" had to be won in midsummer; if she had to be courted and petted with the mercury standing at from 100 to 118—well, say, you may all have Barbara—I don't think she is worth the exertion, I don't think she is worth the winning. I would rather meet her in December—if you don't mind.

AUDITORIUM, MONDAY EVENING

"The Battle Cry of Pease," "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of Pictures

By "Zit," New York Journal

Last night at the Vitagraph Theatre J. Stuart Blackton's "Battle Cry of Peace" was given its initial performance. It is the greatest piece of work yet accomplished by any film record, and it will go down as a piece of epic work closely rivaling the famous "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The situations are not so very different. In one we have the days of slavery—slavery to power. To-day we have slavery just as flagrantly shown in the helplessness with which we lie in the way of any chance enemy that may happen to attack us.

Uncle Tom and his brother slaves suffered the whip and taunt of the slave driver. The black woman of that time was made to feel the indignities and insults that any white man wished to inflict upon her.

Uncle Tom's case was just one out of thousands, but what of the situation to-day? We are slaves in the grip of our unpreparedness. We think we are humane when we listen to the peace propaganda that is constantly preached by many of our contemporaries, but are we human? The time may come, and that soon, when our wish to obtain peace at any price will leave us at the mercy of a far more cruel master than Simon Legree of old, who lashed the poor, quivering flesh of Uncle Tom.

Who is to Blame?

Our wives and our children will be delivered into the hands of the enemy and we who sat back in our chairs and refused to contemplate war, are we any better than slave drivers? With our own hands we bind the fetters of cruelty on the frail hands of the women and children of America who in time of war always suffer the cruelest penalty.

"The Battle Cry of Peace" is a spur toward preparedness. Not in order to declare, but in order to prevent it. Many have read the book "Defenseless America," which has for its plot the laying bare of every weakness of the on equal terms. Our country has digressed to quite an extent from the days of Washington and Lincoln. We count on our wealth and our number to safeguard us against anything. These things do very well in times of peace, but in times of war what will a whole army avail against a handful of men who are equipped to wage modern warfare?

The "Battle Cry of Peace," then, is a frank setting forth of a problem that ought to be faced by every man and every woman full of manly we love to ve[illegible] the slightest e[illegible] it to pieces.

A bolt of lightning recently set the rig on fire, and as firemen undertook to extinguish the flames, they found a heavy pressure of gas coming from the well.

—The big display advertisements of A. M. Burrows Sons and Cannon Brothers, for their special mid-summer clearance sales in this issue of the News disarranges the reading matter of the paper this week to some extent, but the dollars you can save at these sales will more than repay you for the trouble of turning the paper over several times to find your favorite columns.

Misery in Back, Headache and Pain in Limbs.

Dear Mr. Editor—For more than a year I suffered with misery in the back, dull headache, pain in the limbs, was somewhat constipated and slept poorly at night until I was about ready to collapse. Seeing an account of the wonderful qualities of "Anuric" prepared by Doctor Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., I sent for a box, and before using the whole box I felt and still feel improved. My sleep is refreshing, misery reduced, and life is not the drag it was before. I most cheerfully recommend this remedy to sufferers from like ailments.

Yours truly, W. A. ROBERTS.

NOTE: The close connections which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uremic poisoning occurs and the person dies, and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a sample package of "Anuric"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. When you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his medical opinion without charge—absolutely free. This "Anuric" of Dr. Pierce's is found to be 37 times more active than lithia, for it dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water does sugar.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. There can be no imitation.
