FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION

(From the Batavia Times)

The election of November 7th was almost as great a triumph for William Jennings Bryan as for Woodrow Wilson. In some respects it was a greater tribute to the political genius of Mr. Bryan than to that of the President. Mr. Wilson's administration has been marked by great achievements and lofty purposes, but it is plain that Mr. Wilson would have been defeated for re-election had it not been for the work of Mr. Bryan in the West.

In last week's Times was published an account of a complimentary dinner given Mr. Bryan in Washington attended by 22 Senators, 60 Congressmen, and several members of the President's Cabinet. In 1896 Mr. Bryan pointed out the reforms for which the party should stand if it meant to deserve success as the champion of the rights of the common man. Most of the social and economic reforms which he then advocated have been achieved during the past four years. Mr. Bryan does not believe the party should rest on its record of past achievements. He believes that:

"A man's reach should exceed his grasp. Or what's a heaven for?"

At the Washington dinner Mr. Bryan presented a new program of reforms demanded by present day conditions, — reforms for which the country is now prepared. Chief among these reforms stand:

THE EXTENSION OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE BY A FEDERAL CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT, AND,

THE PASSAGE BY CONGRESS OF A NATION-WIDE PROHIBITION BILL.

The Batavia Times is in full accord with Mr. Bryan when he says that the Democratic party is the party of the people, and that the home is the people's citadel. The fight against the saloon, and the fight in favor of votes for women is a fight for the home, and for humanity. The Democratic party cannot hesitate to close the home against the greatest enemy which attacks it, and it cannot afford to remain from political affairs the mothers of American homes.

Therefore the advocacy of these reforms during the next four years will be prominent in the columns of the Batavia Times.

The saloons must go.

And the women must come.

The prohibition issue and the woman suffrage issue are destined to be paramount, and paramount largely through the influence of Mr. Bryan. Nearly half the states are dry now. For the Democratic party to take the side of the saloon is to invite disastrous defeat. For it to take the part of the home by advocating votes for women, and the banishment of the saloon, is to draw into the party a moral enthusiasm which will make it invincible and make it in the future, as it has distinctly been during the past four years, the party which stands "FOR HAPPY HOMES AND MORE OF THEM."

DAIRYMENS LEAGUE GROWING

Few milk producers realized, when they formed the league that they were making one of the most important steps for improvement and advancement of the business ever made in the history of the milk industry. Little did they think that to-day the league would have a membership of 20,000 dairymen and that it would be recognized by all the large milk companies.

Geo. W. Bush, publicity agent of the league, stated in Utica last week, that 20,000 producers had already joined the league, and that over 5,000 of these had become members since September 1st. Farmers are joining every day and it will be but a short time until the membership will run around 100,000.

Much credit must be given to those who have worked in the interest of the league and have kept its members together when things looked most unfavorable. It has been a difficult task, and many times seemed next to impossible.

The future of the league is now assured and it is so big a feature that it is almost an impossibility to forecast what it will become, a factor in the dairy world.
