WISCOY BRIDGE WASHED OUT.

The Third Temporary Bridge Goes Out in Last Week's Flood.

The temporary bridge spanning the Wiscoy creek was carried away by the high water Sunday. This is the third temporary bridge the water has washed away since the iron bridge was destroyed by the July flood. It is somewhat discouraged the people of Wiscoy to be without a bridge nearly half of the time.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. O. E Vars & Son, Druggists.

DOCTOR ARRESTED.

Charged With Assault With Intent to Kill.

ADVERTISED FOR MEDICAL STUDENT.

Then Forcibly Deprived His Sweetheart of His Friendship Home.

Belmont Inspirit.

Dr. John Curry, who lives about a mile and a half from Friendship on the road to Belvidere was arrested, charged with assault. He was taken before W. H. Scott, justice of the peace, but was released on $500 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

About ten years ago Dr. Curry practiced dentistry at Belmont, going from there west with his wife. His wife died under circumstances which aroused considerable comment. About a year ago Dr. Curry came east to Friendship.

Two weeks ago Miss Marie Johnston of Niagara Falls Center, Ont., Canada, came here to study medicine under him in answer to an advertisement Dr. Curry had placed in the papers. She was taken by the doctor to his home but became uneasy after a few hours and decided to return to Ontario. This, she claims, the doctor prevented by locking her in a room and taking part of her clothing from her. She escaped from the house in an old coat and a pair of rubber boots but was overtaken at the station by Dr. Curry and taken back to his home.

Miss Johnston then succeeded in securing a horse and buggy from a livery man and, by a ruse, drove to the home of John Curry, arrived here Wednesday and went to the house. Dr. Curry refused to allow her to see her sister and, it is claimed, forcibly ejected her from the house. Miss Johnston then returned to the village and swore out a warrant for the doctor's arrest.

Death of Mrs. Jane Talcott.

Mrs. Jane Talcott of Wellsville died at her home in Wellsville Sunday, after months of patient suffering. She is survived by only one immediate relative, John Henry Talcott. Funeral services were conducted at the house yesterday afternoon.

What's in a Name?

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. C. E. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered some years ago, how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. O. E. Vars & Son, Druggists.

RUTS,

The walking sick, what a crowd of them there are: Persons who are thin and weak but not sick enough to go to bed.

"Chronic cases" that's what the doctors call them, which in common English means—long sickness.

To stop the continued loss of flesh they need Scott's Emulsion. For the feeling of weakness they need Scott's Emulsion.

It makes new flesh and gives new life to the weak system.

Scott's Emulsion gets thin and weak persons out of the rut. It makes new, rich blood, strengthens the nerves and gives appetite for ordinary food.

Scott's Emulsion can be taken as long as sickness lasts and do good all the time.

There's new strength and flesh in every dose.

We will be glad to send you a few doses free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

INJURED ON THE RAILROAD,

Chester Halliday Badly Hurt While at Work for the Showmut.

Angelica Advocate.

Chester Halliday was badly injured at the Showmut Line Tuesday forenoon. Mr. Halliday, with several men, was raising a tent for the trestle, being built for the dirt train, when the tent swung around and fell, pinning Mr. Halliday under one of the timbers. He was quickly released and taken to Clark Phippen's near by, and Dr. Conley summoned, who found only one rib broken, but he was horribly bruised and wrenched. He has now been taken to his boarding place at L. A. Nichols'. Mr. Halliday formerly lived at Transit Bridge and had been at work here only a few weeks.

DEATH FROM APOPLEXY.

John Burt Found Dead in a Barn at Wirt Center Thursday Morning.

The Reporter:

John Burt, a farmer 35 years old, was found dead early Thursday morning in the barn of Allen Smalley at Wirt Center, where he had gone to do the chores. He was a brother of Mrs Smalley and came from Dakota two months ago to visit his sister. He had just rented a farm at Angelica and had moved a portion of his household goods to his new home. He expected to take his family there in a few days. Death was undoubtedly due to apoplexy. He leaves a wife and four small children.

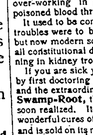
Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.



The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart action, nervousness, makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the test of the wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

STORY OF MRS. PAINE

Tells of Her Relations With the Burdicks and Pennells.

HAD TALKED OF DIVORCE SUIT.

Fully Detailed Her Movements Day of the Murder—Burdick's Business Partner Testified He Believes Pennell took Burdick's Life—Rev. L. M. Powers' Statement.

Buffalo, March 18.—"I believe that Arthur R. Pennell in person or by hired assassin, murdered Edwin L. Burdick."

Charles Parke, Burdick's business partner, made this statement in a loud voice at high pitch while on the stand at the police court inquest.

Parke spoke this awful belief in a sincere and terrible tone of voice. I looked to the listeners like a thrilling moment in a bloody stage play. Parke's eyes glittered as if for hatred for the man who was killed by the automobile plunge last week.

It was decidedly "ladies' day" at the Burdick inquest. There were girls of all ages and sizes present. Girls from the Elmwood district occupied front seats; there were women from the East side of Buffalo who seemed as much interested as those of the fashionable section of the city.

Sergeant John J. Ryan and Detective Sergeant Holmlund had charge of the crowd that clamored at the doors of police court. Fully 200 people crowded into the nasty-looking room where the hearing was in progress. Fully 100 women were in attendance when the inquest was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock.

Would Tell All She Knew.

"I am going to tell all I know regarding Edwin L. Burdick, his personal life, and whatever I can say to keep that the slayer of the dead man."

With this statement to friends was accompanied her to the police court inquest. Mrs. Seth T. Paine entered the courtroom to meet the gaze of 500 curious eyes. The wife of the Batavia dentist did not look so beautiful in court as before the murder of Burdick. She had evidently worried and lost much sleep.

There was a change in the tone of voice when Mr. Coatsworth asked Mrs. Paine if she knew Arthur R. Pennell. When Mrs. Pennell's name was mentioned Mrs. Paine almost cried. She answered in a voice filled with sympathy. When Pennell's name was spoken by the questioner, her reply was a coldblooded "Yes."

Mrs. Paine did not speak in a very loud voice. She answered the questions deliberately and slowly. Not once did she show signs of breaking down, except when Mrs. Pennell's name was mentioned. It was the opinion of those in the courtroom that Mrs. Paine was well collected regarding facts concerning the murderer man.

Slowly it came out that Mrs. Paine had met Burdick very often in down town department stores and once in a cafe in Main street near Summer street. Mrs. Paine admitted all engagements with the murdered man.

When Mr. Coatsworth questioned Mrs. Paine why she had met Burdick in the Main street cafe, the answer came that "It was simply to talk over the divorce of Burdick and the conduct of Arthur Pennell."

Like a sudden explosion came the remark from Mrs. Paine that Mrs. Pennell had urged Burdick to take his wife Alice back to his home and family.

Mrs. Paine was garbed in a new tailor-made gown, and a fur coat topped off the gown. Her pretty face was becoming, covered with a toque covered around with a light fur. Her face was pale and her voice was tremulous as she replied to the first questions of District Attorney Coatsworth. Her body hahas gripped the arms of her chair and her eyes were half closed. She was evidently very self possessed and had weighed well whatever information she might give at the inquest.

Her answers were direct at all times and she always looked at Mr. Coatsworth while answering questions. She lost her nervousness as the examination continued to the point where it touched upon her acquaintance with both Burdick and Pennell.

Last Interview With Burdick.

"When did you last see Mr. Burdick?"

"A week before the murder. Met him on the Elmwood car. He only bowed. We did not talk."

"When did you last meet him and talk with him?"

"I don't remember."

"When did you talk to him last?"

"Thursday before he died."

"You called him up?"

"Yes."

"What did you say?"

"Said I had not seen Pennell and did not know if he was in town. He asked if the Pennells were going to the next dance and said if they did not go he thought he would, but he did not want to meet them."

"You talked to him over the 'phone the previous night?"

"Yes."

"At what time?"

"Seven thirty."

"He wanted to know if I knew whether the Pennells had left the city. He said he saw Mr. Pennell at the Orpheus and concluded Mrs. Pennell was out of the city."

"Did he ask about Mr. Pennell?"

"Yes. I told him I did not know if Mr. Pennell was in the city. I told him I did not see Mrs. Pennell the next day and could ask if Mr. Pennell was in the city."

"Did you see Pennell the next day?"

"No; I did not."

"You did call Burdick up about 11 a. m.?"

"Yes, sir."

"Where were you on February 26th?"

"At home."

"Where were you in the morning?"

"Down town."

"Did you have company?"

"Yes; I had a woman friend in the afternoon and guests in the house for dinner."

"What time did you have dinner that night?"

"At 6:30."

"Who ate supper?"

"Mr. Carlson, Miss Cunningham, his friend, my girl and myself."

"What time was this?"

"From 6:30 until 7."

"What did you do then?"

"Went up and put my little girl to bed."

"What did you do then?"

"I went down stairs and read until 9:30, and then went to bed."

"Did you have company that night?"

"No."

"Did you occupy the same bed with your little girl?"

"Yes."

"You didn't go out that evening?"

"No."

"Will you swear you were not out that Thursday night or early the next morning?"

"Yes. I was not out."

"You were at the Pennells' two weeks ago?"

"Yes."

"Pennell there?"

"No."

"Did you talk about Mr. Pennell and Mrs. Burdick?"

"Yes."

"Did she say she was going to get a divorce from Pennell?"

"No. She said there was no truth in such a statement."

"Where was Pennell."

"I don't know."

"Did Mrs. Pennell tell you she had been coaxing Burdick to take his wife back?"

"Yes; Mr. Burdick told me the same thing."

"What did he tell you?"

"He said Mrs. Pennell started the trouble and he would not intervene."

"What did he mean?"

"Mrs. Pennell introduced them."

"Did Mrs. Pennell say she had asked Mr. Burdick to take his wife back?"

"Not as strong as that. She said she had suggested to Ed that he take Mrs. Burdick back."

"Did she tell you she had written to him asking him to take his wife back?"

"No; but Mr. Burdick had told me."

"You knew the relations between Pennell and Mrs. Burdick?"

"I had heard the gossip; I didn't believe it."

"Did you talk about that to Mrs. Pennell?"

"Yes."

"What did she say?"

"That she did not believe it."

"You never heard Pennell threaten Mr. Burdick?"

"No."

"Had you ever heard that Pennell had threatened Burdick?"

"No."

It is probable that the Rev. L. M. Powers will be called to the witness stand in the inquest to determine the circumstances of the death of Edwin L. Burdick. The rather startling statement given out by the dead man's pastor charging two murders and suicide against Pennell has created a sensation.

"If Mr. Powers could prove one half of what he says, his testimony would be of great value to us," says District Attorney Coatsworth and he adds, "but we have not decided yet whether we shall call him or not.

"I have read the statement through very carefully and there are some things that Mr. Powers failed to tell me. When he talked with me a few weeks ago, and all are interesting. We may call him or we may not. I cannot now say."

Weather Indications.

Fair Wednesday; Thursday rain; variable winds becoming fresh southeast.

Baby Suffered Awful From Constipation

I wish to thank you very much for the good LAXAKOLA her has done for my little niece, Marion Lurline Bass. She is only two and one-half years old, and has suffered something awful from constipation. She has never had what you call a natural movement. Sometimes we were almost afraid our medicine would hurt her so much, and she would be so frightened. She is awful pleased to think it doesn't hurt her now, and she will take LAXAKOLA without a fuss. We are pleased to think it helped her so much.

MRS. ORA MOFFATT,
Gorham, N. H.

CURED BY LAXAKOLA

LAXAKOLA is the only remedy that should be given to babies. It tastes good. Children like it and ask for it. Absolutely pure, being entirely vegetable, its gentle yet speedy action commends itself to mothers of ailing, fretful babies.

A single dose of LAXAKOLA often relieves the infant sufferer by moving the bowels and thus removing the cause. LAXAKOLA will keep the bowels open and the stomach in healthy, active condition, and its tonic properties will keep the little folks healthy, hearty and happy. It costs less than other laxatives. You get more for your money and smaller doses are necessary.

At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or free sample of THE LAXAKOLA CO., 44 Vesey street, New York.

Irritable, Excitable Nerves on Edge

This describes the condition exactly. Children's noises, street sounds, little things that usually pass unnoticed, annoy. A sudden sound, a call—you jump—a harsh word, a crying spell. The sleep is full of jerks and starts—trouble fills your dreams—you do not rest. Tired you go to bed, weary you rise. It's the unstrung nerves, weak, shattered, over sensitive, on edge. They need rest, quiet, strength, steadiness. A citizen of Hornellsville, N. Y., gives you the cure in Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—the most remarkably successful medicine ever produced. Mrs. G. L. Newton of 62 East Ave., Hornellsville N. Y., says:—"I suffered partial to all of Dr A. W. Chase's Medicine and more the I pleased to say that the Nerve Pills that I got are splendid. I was run down, nervous weak and irritable. The tonic effect of the medicine was great—it toned me up quickly and easily, stopping the nervousness—my strength and energy came back and I feel finely again. I am glad to recommend the pills." 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Med. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package. For sale by O. DECISION RENDERED.

United States Circuit Court Affirms Former Courts Decision.

In the celebrated C. E. Kellogg bankruptcy case of Canisteo, the United States Circuit court of appeals has decided that the lower courts should be sustained.

It seems a $25,000 mortgage upon the plant was decided void on account of usury by the lower courts.

After this decision was rendered the property was sold according to it for $25,000 and the money was distributed among the creditors. The decision was appealed from in the United States circuit court of appeals and was argued last October. The decision, affirming that of the other courts was just received.

If the decision had been reversed the responsible parties would have been obliged to pay back the money they have received as a result of this sale, for the benefit of the owners of the mortgage. The decision will lift a great load from the minds of many in Western New York, for while the case may be still appealled to a higher court it is unlikely that it will and probable if it should that the decision will again be sustained.

BROKE THRU BRIDGE

Ed. Robertson, Team and Load Fall Into Creek.

TEAM AND DRIVER RESCUED.

A Few Broken Ribs, a Severe Nervous Shock and a Thoro Shaking Will Cover the Physical Discomforts.

While Ed. Robertson of Canisteo, was driving over the bridge across the river at the Asa Baker farm with a load of wood on his way to the village Saturday, the middle span of the bridge gave way and precipitated him to gether with the team and the load of wood into the river. The bridge at this point stands about 12 feet above the river even when the water is high as it is at the present time. The river was lined with fishermen yesterday and a number who were near the accident hastened to the place at once to assist the unfortunate man, and had they not done so he probably would not have been able to get out of the water, and both Robertson and the team might have perished. They got Robertson out of the water and then carried him to the house and Dr. Sutton, of this place, was summoned and went to Robertson as speedily as possible. He found that aside from a number of severe bruises Robertson had also sustained the fracture of several ribs. He will be laid up for some time. The fishermen also rescued the team and wagon but the wood went sailing down the river. M. E. Burrell, who was fishing on the bridge at that time, had a narrow escape from being dumped into the river. He was standing at the point on the bridge where the bent which went down joined the next bent and before he had time to gather up his pipe and fish basket they were in the river and he was almost wondering how he came to escape. Robertson is a mail, has a good accident policy.

The bridge was a private structure. The township was asked a year ago to make that road a public highway and vote a sum sufficient for the erection of a new bridge, but the objection was too strong and the amount was left off the sums to be voted at that time.

DRIVING HIMSELF.

Free Show and Kicking Circus of a Headstrong Horse.

On Monday afternoon, while Oscar McNeil and son were driving along South Main street, his horse suddenly conceived the idea of driving himself, and thereupon grabbing the lines with his caudal appendage he tightened up on the off rein and started for the sidewalk. He then tried to kick the lines from under his tail and got somewhat tangled up when he came down. After some coaxing he finally proceeded homeward with his fly switch tied to the breeching.

"A dose in time saves lives." Dr Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; nature's remedy for coughs, colds pulmonary diseases of every sort.

Admitted to the Bar.

C. Mortimer McGill of Hornellsville has successfully passed the examination for admission to practice in the court of this state. He has received his certificate and has entered upon the practice of his profession at Buffalo.

A Grateful Bookkeeper.

PEPSIKOLA is the only sure relief for indigestion that I ever found. Quite frequently after breakfast if I have eaten something that does not agree with me I have a pain in the pit of my stomach, when I promptly take a PEPSIKOLA tablet and it always relieves me within half an hour. Frank Byers, No. 1 West 97th Street, New York. For sale by L. A. Burrows.

They Don't Like the R. F. D.

Purdy Creek Residents are petitioning the Postmaster General asking him to re-establish their old mail route. As it now is, the mail is one day late in all respects. The mail starts in the morning and what comes that day lies there until next morning.

A Printer Greatly Surprised.

"I never was so much surprised in my life, as I was with the results of using Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says Henry T. Crook, pressman of the Ashe (N. C.) Gazette. "I contracted a severe case of Rheumatism early last winter by getting my feet wet. I tried several things for it without benefit. One day while looking over the Gazette I noticed that Pain Balm was positively guaranteed to cure Rheumatism, so I bought a bottle of it and before using two thirds of it my rheumatism had taken its flight and I have not had a rheumatic pain since." For sale by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

Sugar Social at Henry Young's.

Wednesday evening the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church held a sugar social at the residence of Henry Young. A large number responded to the invitation and a good time realized.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Prof. Burr, a graduate of Spencer Optical Institute of New York city, will be in Greenwood two weeks. He will also visit Rexville and Whitesville. Consultation free.

A household necessity—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil. Heals burns, scalds, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

Euchre at Mrs. C. M. Griswold's:

Mrs. C. M. Griswold gave a party to the euchre club Friday evening. Seven tables were kept humming until the hour for refreshments, after which a flash light picture was taken of the party (poor players and all) by Harvey Goodno of Niagara Falls. All had a good time, of course.

Celebrated Evacuation Day.

Boston, March 18.—The celebration of the evacuation of Boston, for which event Lieutenant General Miles is here as a guest of the South Boston Citizens' association, took place yesterday. In the afternoon a parade was held in South Boston and there was a flag raising on Dorchester Heights, the site of the ancient fortifications.

Vanderbilt Again Wins.

Paris, March 18.—W. K. Vanderbilt's horses again made a good showing at the opening of the Maisons Laffitte races, Bright winning the Prix de Saint Fair du Mont and Biltmore winning second in the handicap optional, which were the only races having Vanderbilt entries. Nasa Turner rode both horses.

Applause by Machinery.

Nothing apparently is impossible to American inventive genius. Among its latest triumphs is a device for doing away with the hired "claque" as a means of expressing approval in the theater.

Trial has been made in St. Louis of a machine which will drown the hand clapping of thirty husky supermarionettes and turn cold disdain to an ovation. The apparatus in construction is not unlike a mammoth street piano. That is to say, its principal working part is a cylinder supplied with pegs which strike the sounding hammers at intervals. Instead of strings, however, the "applause machine" has "clappers," 104 of them, each tuned to a different pitch and arranged to imitate all varieties of applause from the soft impact of kid glove against kid glove to the stamp of an enthusiastic man's No. 11 boot and the thump of a gold headed cane in the balcony. When the handle is turned, the response is not to be distinguished from that of a large and varied audience. Thus far the new device has been used only behind the footlights. It has taken the part of an audience supposed to be behind the scenes. In this capacity it has proved a money saver, enabling one reasonably strong boy to do the work which formerly required a score of men and a trained leader.

There is no apparent reason why it would not work just as well in front of the footlights. If a manager desires to give the impression that his star is hailed with expressions of delight, all he will have to do is to turn the power on the applause machine in the orchestra. This would be more economical for the manager and just as fair to the public as to pack the first dozen rows with heavy handed "deadheads."

President Truesdale's Explanation.

President Truesdale of the Lackawanna road is reported to have asserted at the annual meeting of that company that the anthracite strike was incited and fostered by certain bituminous interests which are in direct competition with the hard coal industry. Whether or not this be true, it is evident that the anthracite strike would never have occurred had the anthracite operators been as ready to arbitrate at the beginning of the trouble as at the end of it. At any stage of the proceedings from the time of the original demand of the miners the anthracite operators had it in their power to prevent or end the strike by doing what they eventually did do nine months later.

In the light of this indisputable fact, says the Pittsburg Dispatch, it must be apparent that if the wicked bituminous operators incited and fostered the strike in order to capture the trade of the hard coal field the anthracite operators played right into their hands. In either event the anthracite people, by Mr. Truesdale's showing, were either remarkably ignorant of their business or are now stating a proposition which is self contradictory.

We might retaliate against the order of the Hungarian government which has interposed to prevent the wholesale emigration of poor girls to the United States. Suppose the Washington government should prohibit the emigration of rich American girls to European castles, especially when accompanied by fortune seeking noblemen, with some title, no wealth and considerable debt!

A new burglar alarm has been invented which photographs the burglar, arouses the family and calls the police. If it had an attachment which would handcuff the burglar and hitch him to one of the legs of the grand piano in the parlor, the machine would be complete.

The British war office has been vindicated, and Secretary Brodrick can now resign without doing so under fire. This seems to be the regular and accepted way of letting delinquent ministers down easily.

Count Boni de Castellane is now in this country advocating an alliance between the United States and France. Boni knows by personal experience that such an alliance pays.

A rich Chicago girl who wished to do some charitable work has been set to addressing envelopes by one of the philanthropic societies of her city. Doubtless the officers of the society thought that she could do less harm among the poor that way than any other.

"I owe my whole life to 'Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Chas. Hutton, Berville, Mich.

Steuben County School Money.

The annual apportionment of school moneys from the state gives Steuben county the sum of $74,150.29, as follows: 156 districts quotas at $150, $23,400; 202 districts quotas at $125, $25,250; 218 teachers, quotas at $100, $21, 800; apportionment by population, $1,565.74; apportionment for libraries, $534.55; supervision in the cities of Hornellsville and Corning, $1,600, making a total of $74,150.29.
