SHOWING OF NEW ...FALL CLOTHING...

The apparel of a gentleman, like the frame of a rare painting, is rather to be sensed than seen. A gentleman seeks habiliments that excite no comment.

Our showing of STEIN-BLOCH SMART, CLOTHCRAFT GUARANTEED and GRIFFON New Fall Suits and Overcoats are ready-to-wear, conservative and gentlemanly garments, rightly draped for the young fellow and more conservatively for the middle-aged man. Ours are the new and authentic Fall and Winter styles ranging in price from $25.00 up to $60.00.

Richard Lloyd Jones says

The School House Leads Us

Democracy has defects. Our government is not without fault. But with all our faults we have a better government than anything any other country in any other clime or time has ever produced. In time of distress every people the wide world over hold out their hands to us for help.

We are a people of big ideas, and compared to the rest of the world, small faults. Europe is a continent encumbered with monumental faults and little ideas.

That is shown quite as much in her mechanical and inventive ingenuity as in her parliamentary practices.

The Swiss will make a very intricate and delicate watch which will do many things, — ring bells, tell the time of tide, the season of the moon and still, as the Yankee would say, have a saucerful of wheels left over.

We make a pocket piece that keeps time. That's the main idea. That is what a watch is for.

The French and the Germans make more complicated cameras than any we produce. But we do what they don't; we put a simple little camera into every home, and collect the priceless snapshot memories of life as we live it.

These are but evidences of our tendencies. We get a big idea and use it.

Europe and Asia live largely in darkness because their schools have been for the select and the masses are illiterate. They seek to cultivate a few minds to superlative intelligence. We do no less, and we do vastly more; we cultivate all minds as far as we can encourage every mind to go.

Behold the little red school house, the cornerstone of our greatness. It has done wonderful things for our country. Now it is going to do more.

Just about the time that Europe and Asia are beginning to get the essential idea we are pushing the little red school houses together into the big brick, modern, metropolitan Consolidated School, with all its better equipment, social lessons, assemblies and better teachers. Now we are making the school work play.

We are beginning to teach by eye as well as by ear. The film is going to be a better story-teller of history and geography, a better revealer of biology and botany than any book.

For a long time we graded our pupils by averages, holding the bright boy back, which discourages the slow boy. But now comes Dr. A. H. Sutherland, another pedagogue of distinction, who out in Los Angeles has demonstrated the value of de-grading our schools so that the slow boy is encouraged rather than discouraged, helped rather than handicapped, and the quick boy is not held back.

We're a long way ahead of the rest of the world, and we're going to keep a long way ahead

poem by UNCLE JOHN

Most every disease that begins to show, by the howl of pain or the tale of woe—be it nutmeg liver, or pest-house itch, or weepin' janders—I don't keer which,—We can jugulate 'em, beyond a doubt, by simply clippin' the tonsile out!

You mebby have heard of Melindy Crane, who was borned with softenin' of her brain. . . .
So, when she developed the craze fer verse, we jedged a relapse would fetch the hearse but she whooped with joy, an' hollered fer kranthe minnit they jerked her tonsils out!

And of course—you knowed old Sandy Beggs, which had the pralysis in his legs,—an' when the old feller commenced to bloat, we seen right off, it was all his th'oat! And, jest afore she run into gout, they cured him, by whackin' his tonsils out!

The feller that's skeered of a dearth of days, can dodge it—by joinin' the tonsil craze. He can set down, an' let 'em rim out his neck,—an' get up again—like new, by heck!

Yours truly John

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1922

WHEN the Irishman got into a row with his wife and she threw a plate at his head the melee is said to have started and in the midst of it the husband jerkingly remarked: "If—I'd—known married life—was like this—I'd—have got married long ago." All of which carries out the general conception of the Celtic conviction that we must have peace even if we have to fight for it.

Christ preached non-resistance which meant letting everybody walk on your neck. This brings peace to the bullies and death to the meek. Jesus turned the other cheek, but he took the money changers by the scruff of the neck and threw them out of the temple. So it all depends when to fight and what to fight for, which means keep an eye out for the spurious flag waivers.
