Phillips' Bill. The bill to which we referred last week as having been introduced by Assemblyman Phillips, passed the Assembly with ninety votes to spare in its favor. This is remarkable inasmuch as both leaders were opposed to it. It demonstrates that Mr. Phillips is alert, and that his legislative acumen is proving valuable to the interests of the state as well as his own constituency. The Country Justices of the Supreme Court under the Phillips bill receive compensation worthy of their labor and position.

That Eastern Question. Those who have watched recent developments in the East are not over-sanguine about the peace of Europe continuing. Turkey and the Armenians are evidently walking over a powder mine. No one can predict how soon or how long before some match will be dropped, and then perhaps the whole of Europe will be after the "Sick Man," and the dismemberment of his empire may lead to further complications. It is an open secret that Turkey, the Armenians and the Macedonians have been procuring arms and ammunition for a long time back.

* * *

That Dublin Convention. They held a convention in Dublin to consider the Wyndham land purchase bill, a few days ago, and T. P. O'Conner said the bill had emerged "scathless and honored from a test which the whole world had been watching." The bill is, as understood in this country, a good one, and while it is not meant for a settlement of the Irish question it is a settlement of the land question. The Irish question can be settled only by the people themselves, and that when they are given control of their own affairs; and that they are able to control and manage their affairs is evidenced by the harmony and careful consideration given to the bill in convention at Dublin.

Strikers and Strikes. Strikes and strike rumors fill up a large part of the daily press, but one of the features that shows the sincerity and carefulness of capital and labor is the willingness to arbitrate. The railroad companies, especially the New Haven, met the men, and made liberal concessions satisfactory to both sides. The Wabash took a summary mode of procedure by securing an injunction against the men because they were preparing to strike. Judge Adams, of the United States District Court, decided, and wisely too, "that to prepare to order to strike was no conspiracy," and the result is that the Wabash met its men and they gain an increase of from 10 to 15 per cent. in wages. On the other side, a Vermont court has recently held that damages could be recovered for applying the term "Scab" to non union workmen or shops, and gave a judgment against the union for $2,500. It would seem that capital and labor is learning the lesson that fair mindedness and carefulness will bring beneficial results to both.

The Village Fathers might do a popular thing in placing stone cross walks instead of the wooden affairs that are most of the time buried in mud.

* * *

If some move could be made to put the street to Main street from the depot in better shape and run a walk clear to the depot, it might help Andover's prosperity.

After all the fuss the yellow journals made about that shooting of a lion by President Roosevelt, it seems he refused to shoot or even to carry a gun with him into the wilds of Yosemite.

May I escort you to the next moth ball? No, I'd rather go to the Minstrel show.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The malcontents are always looking for the time when eruptions come to the party in power. The recent excitement in the Senate has been seized upon as a repetition of the "Platt Conkling" time, when it took years to heal the wounds and bring together the waring factions. That men have their opinions and the privilege of acting upon them is true, but in leading a revolt it may remind some of a story that Henry Clay used to tell concerning a prominent member of the Whig party who deserted in the hope of starting a general revolt. To his dismay he found himself alone and then bent all his energies to getting back in good standing. He said it reminded him of a stage-coach that took aboard a passenger who insisted upon riding with the driver, and who diligently drew upon the contents of a bottle carried in his greatcoat pocket. When his potations at last overcame him, he fell off. The coach stopped long enough for some charitable travelers to alight and pull the poor fellow out of the mud.

"Ha!" he exclaimed, as he looked down at his tattered garments, "we had quite a (hic) turnover, didn't we?"

"O, no," answered one of his rescuers, "there was no turnover. You only fell off."

"I say," he persisted, "there was a (hic) turnover, and I leave it to the company."

Every one joined in assuring him that the coach had not upset.

"Well," he remarked ruefully, "as he tried to climb back to his former perch, "if I'd known that (hic) I wouldn't have got off."

GOOD ROADS.

One of the necessities of modern convenience are good roads, and little has been done in "Old Allegany" toward bettering the road condition. Other counties have arisen to the opportunity, and with the assistance o the state have roads that are a delight to ride upon. Nothing saves expense to the farmer who has long distances to draw the products of his farm as good roads, and surely there is no greater delight for pleasure than a good team or automobile over a fine road, and the scenery of the hills and valleys of this section cannot be equaled, so it is surprising that some one has not settled the movement and has some of the state work done in this section where it is so necessary. If the county papers took hold of the matter undoubtedly the outcome would be better roads.

Women Spoke for the Home. In no previous election has the influence of women, both at the polls and elsewhere, been so potent and manifest, says the Daily Herald, Topeka, Kan., of April 8th. The magnificent majority for the enforcement ticket was due more to the women of Tepeka than to any other influence. Nothing superior to their intelligent management and perfect organization has ever been seen in a political campaign in this city. They were not only tireless in their efforts to create sentiment favorable to the law and order candidates, but they displayed the greatest ability in the practical political work necessary to get out their vote, and to secure the results for which they labored. The part which the women played in this year's campaign, from start to finish, is an unanswerable argument in favor of woman suffrage, and proves what all the advocates of that cause contend, that the enfranchisement of women would be a large contribution of conscience and common sense to the management of public affairs.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Raise the Taxes.

[Last week we gave space for a well-written poem on "Raise the Rent." This week the landlord side of the question is given in the following rhyme.]

If you want to loom the town,
Raise the taxes for renown;
Take the toll, and, at your will,
Mark them upward, upward still.

Then everything can be so nice,
All just as easy as a slice,
Tax the mortgage on the farm,
Tax the house and tax the barn.

Tax the mortgage, then the land
Just the same, please understand;
Raise the price of bread and meat,
And everything we have to eat.

Raise whate'er we have to wear,
But raise it with the greatest care;
Put the sidewalks on the line,
Raise them till we have to climb.

Raise the school-house and the mill,
Higher, higher, higher still:
Raise the dollars and the cents,
But, mercy sakes, don't raise the rents.

SPRING NOT YET HERE TO SOME.

Evidently some of our readers are sorely afflicted with rheumatism, dyspepsia or gout, and are therefore not in a frame of mind that will allow them to see the pleasant side of life. The spring time weather escapes their notice, and the success of new ideas and up-to-date methods brings out their sarcastic versifications. When they were able to be on the active scene of life, because their feeble intellect did not have caliber enough to originate or stamina sufficient to inaugurate, jealousy rangles harshly in their bosom.

Keeping House for the Brain.

The brain is an exacting tenant. Its house must be kept clean and fresh or there will be trouble with the landlord. The brain needs a constant supply of good wholesome food. "Fe" the new cereal, tastes good and supplies the nourishment needed, because "Fe" is made from brain strengthening grains, invigorates the tired system and kindles activities. You will like "Fe" at any meal. Grocers sell it.

MORNING MOONLIGHT SKETCH.

A YOUNG BUSINESS MAN GOES COURTING.

Moral: Stay Where the Pretty Girls Are, and You Won't have to Jump Freight Trains.

One of Andover's young business men and an agent for a western house decided to go to Wellsville Sunday night to see a couple of young ladies. The charms of the fair ones were so fascinating that they forgot about the time until the cocks crew Monday morning. They quickly repaired to the depot and secured tickets on a box car for Andover. The train being a little late the conductor forgot to ring the bell for Andover, so it was up to them to jump or go thru to Hornellsville. Our western agent was an athlete and made the first jump. After turning three or four somersaults, he landed up against the fence with such force that he lost all the buttons from his clothes. Our young business man decided to go thru to Hornellsville, and said if the NEWS wouldn't tell his ma he would stay home and play "pin on the hat" with the girls in Andover hereafter.

ANDOVER BOY ADVANCED

Step By Step, They Still Keep Climbing For The Top Round.

In a private letter from D. D. Walker renewing his subscription to the NEWS, and changing its address from Wellsville to Fredonia, we glean the following:

He has left the employ of Barker, Rose & Clinton Co., of Elmira, and accepted a similar position as commercial traveling representative with the George Worthington Company of Cleveland, O., one of the largest wholesale houses in the United States. His territory extends from Niagara Falls to Erie Pa., on the lines of the Lake Shore railroad. He has moved his family to Fredonia. Step by step the Andover boys advance.

NEW UNION CHAPEL.

Elm Valley People are Doing a Noble Work.

The prospects are bright indeed for a new union chapel for religious purposes at Elm Valley. Under the direction of Rev. Chas. H. Harrington, of the Baptist church, the people have gone heartily to work and have subscriptions amounting to over $700 in cash and site, and the end is not yet. The purpose is to have a chapel for all kinds of religious meetings, and that it will be union and kept so, is provided for in a clause in the deed of the property, for if ever used for any other purpose it reverts back to the donors. A little assistance from those who would like to help will insure a building worthy of the object.

MAYOR DUKE MARRIED.

Miss Lydia T. Clark the Happy Bride.

A dispatch from Binghamton announces the marriage of Wellsville's popular young mayor, Grant Duke, and Miss Lydia Clark of Wellsville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Longley, of Christ church, Binghamton, and the congratulations will come from all their extensive acquaintances. Mrs. Duke formerly was an operator in the Bell 'phone exchange in Batavia and is a sister-in-law of F. E. Preston, Batavia, manager for the Bell Company.

ELABORATE PROGRAM.

Friendship's G. A. R. Preparing for Memorial Day, Jesse Phillips Orator.

The Republican of Friendship says that the G. A. R. company of that place are preparing an elaborate program for Memorial Day. The Olean band has been engaged for the occasion and our Assemblyman Jesse S. Phillips will deliver the address. At the firemen's meeting Wednesday evening it was decided that the entire department take part in the parade.

Carriage and Cab Service in New York City on Arrival of Erie Trains.

TROUT FISHING.

The Rod and Gun Club Taking Care of the Law Violators.

The season for trout fishing opened Thursday. Notwithstanding the fact that the day was cold and unpleasant, numbers of fishermen availed themselves of the opportunity to engage in the fascinating sport. Many others were found by the side of the stream as soon as the weather became pleasant. Thru the efforts of the Andover Rod and Gun Club any illegal fishing will be punished if the guilty parties can be apprehended, and they will keep a vigilant eye out for that purpose. The Association have stocked the creeks with trout fry, and do not calculate that they are to be taken out until above lawful size, thereby in future years good fishing may be had.

REBECCA LODGE.

Ten Andover People Join the Rebecca Order at Wellsville.

Last week Tuesday evening, ten Andover people, eligible to membership in that fraternity, joined the Rebecca Lodge at Wellsville, with the express purpose of organizing a lodge of that fraternity, here in connection with the Odd Fellow Lodge of this place. Those eligible to membership are those who are either Odd Fellows or wives, sisters, mothers or daughters of Odd Fellows.

Those who went to Wellsville were: Clinton E. Hann and wife, Floyd Hann and wife, B. B. Hann, Charles Mix and daughter, George Bennett, Grace Lanphear and Mrs. F. M. Lanphear.

Notice to Odd Fellows.

The next meeting of Andover Lodge No. 786, I. O. O. F., will be on April 28th. As the 26th of April is the 84th anniversary of the organization of the order, the Andover Lodge will hold appropriate services, celebrating that event on their next lodge night. Rev. S. D. Pickett will speak. All members are urgently requested to be present, and bring their ladies. Light refreshments will be served.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

ABOUT THIRTY WELLSVILLE CITIZENS JOIN THE HORNELLSVILLE COUNCIL.

Largest Delegation of Fraternal Society Members Ever in Wellsville.

Sunday a class of about thirty Wellsville people became members of the order of Knights of Columbus, as members of the Hornellsville Council, that Council going there on train No. 7 by special car. Olean Council were invited and exemplified the work of the second degree, arriving on train No. 202. The Hornellsville and Olean Councils met at the Erie station the trains from the east and west being within a few minutes of each other at Wellsville, and marched to Macabee Hall. At 10:30 the Knights attended High Mass at the Immaculate Conception church in a body. Then, after dinner, at the Fassett House the degree work commenced. Aside from the members of Hornellsville and Olean Councils, there were also present Knights of Columbus men from different councils in all this section, making probably the largest delegation of visitors in any fraternal or social organization which has ever visited that city.
