Ezekiel's Vision of Hope

Ezekiel 47:1-9

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

When half of the Seventy Years of Captivity was over Ezekiel had the vision of the Stream from the Temple in Jerusalem. Hope is a wondrous stimulus in the midst of any distressing condition. The heart of devout Jewry was still in the land that Jehovah had given them in perpetuity. God is always timely in His promises, and the things thus assured must come to pass. Meanwhile there is inspiring cheer to encourage in the midst of daily toil.

Read chapters 40-48 as they are an entity. You will go with Ezekiel to Jerusalem, in 40:2, and behold the Jews restored to their tribal possessions, with a rebuilt Temple in the midst of the Holy City. The prophet declared the vision with assurance, knowing that his Lord could bring all to pass. The people listened with rapture, for their fondest hopes were being portrayed.

With exactness the very footsteps had been traced as Ezekiel tells how he was guided by the angel. Water within the city had always been a problem, and particularly so in time of war. It was startling to behold water flowing continually from the temple area wall. Usually the most that could be counted on was the water in some cistern. The only explanation was that the altar was at the source thereof. A thousand cubits were measured as the flowing stream was followed. Since a cubit was from 18-21 inches the distance was about one-third of a mile. Then another standard is used, the stature of a man. The water was ankle deep, but it flowed onward, which was contrary to experience in Jerusalem. Another 1,000 cubits and knees were covered. Again the same distance was measured and the stream was now loin deep. A fourth 1,000 brought them to a condition where even a man was out of his depth and could swim at will.

The vision was not portraying a wonder. The waters were flowing for a blessed purpose. They issued from the city wall, entered the Kedron valley and rushed onward and downward to the depth of the Jordan at the Dead Sea. All had been desert desolation. Attention was then called to the conditions at the side of the stream. There was now rich vegetation and productive trees. Tho the Dead Sea is five times saltier than the ocean its waters were made sweet as the stream issuing from the Temple altar flowed into it. Now life could be found in the sea that had been called "dead." In fact "everything shall live withersoever the river cometh."

This stream of fulfillment can be followed in the progress of Christianity. One-third of the race has already named Him, and all mankind is helped thereby as Christianizing civilization reaches them. No previous condition of man is too hard but that life can be changed for the better. The Golden Text is similarly prophetic: "Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end," Isaiah 9:7. A broader life was pictured for Jewry. Thus far they had lived for and largely within themselves. Tho Jonah had given a great teaching they had yet to learn that "Other sheep I have which are not of this fold."

The Boon of Sleep.
Egg Statistics.
Wonderful Lands.
Eight "Big Men."

If you have sound sleep, don't envy any man his millions.

An American, very rich, knighted by King George because of the American money he spent in London, was taken to a hospital, suffering from insomnia.

In the morning he was found dead, clutching a piece of paper on which he had written that, as sleep was impossible, he could endure life no longer. He had poisoned himself.

A majority of us go thru life, not appreciating our greatest blessings, especially the

"Sleep that knits up the ravell'd sleave of care,
The death of each day's life, sore labour's bath,
Balm of hurt minds, great nature's second course,
Chief nourisher in life's feast."

Until sleep goes, you do not know life's greatest physical misfortune.

Every year two thousand million American eggs are confided to hens and incubators. Every year 800,000,000 of them don't hatch.

Much lost possible wealth, at least $200,000,000, at 25 cents per chick.

The Department of Agriculture owns one hen, laying eggs of which 90 per cent. hatch, and she transmits her qualities to daughters and granddaughters.

This interests millions of woman in the United States.

The government has thrown open to settlement government lands formerly covered by the Mississippi river. Wonderful lands these are, low, level, deep, heavy black loam.

As the "wind bloweth where it listeth," so the Mississippi flowers where it listeth, covering and uncovering land, washing millions upon millions of cubic yards of fertile soil into the Gulf of Mexico.

When will man's intelligence control "Old Man River" and make him an obedient part of the national machine?

President Hoover, whose business is engineering, will attend to that, was "cut out" for that job.

The President seeks eight "big men" to put on the Farm Board.

The big eight and the Secretary of the Treasury will administer funds for farm relief, spending the people's money as intelligently as they know how.

How can you tell a "big man" when you see him, and how can you be sure that your big man understands farm problems?

It would be interesting to put the eight big men, after they are chosen, in charge of some typical American farm to see what they could make of it.

The President signs the Boulder Dam proclamation, thus making operative the Boulder Canyon Dam bill.

And now, perhaps, the able engineer elected President, will be able to do what he wants to do, some able engineering.

Doing Big Business

Albany, N. Y., July 10.—The Bureau of Motor Vehicles is facing its greatest year since its organization in 1926. Figures compiled for the first half of the year indicate that in the number of automobile drivers licensed, the number of cars registered and the number of motor vehicles transferred all records of the New York State Bureau will be broken in 1929. The Central offices of the Bureau are overwhelmed with records, the filing of which is 30 days behind.

The total number of examinations of new automobile drivers in the week ended June 29, closing the first six months of 1929, was 16,050, compared with 10,675 in the same week of 1928. The total number of tests of drivers by Motor Vehicle Bureau Inspectors in the first half of 1929 was 175,501, or 6,125 more than in the same period of 1928. The increase was uniform in each of the seven districts of the state.

Dog Owners' Notice

Dog licenses for 1928 expired on June 30, 1929. The 1929 license fee is due July 1. Licenses so issued will cover the period from July 1 to December 31, 1929. Every dog must wear a tag of the current dog license year. A dog without such a tag is not protected by law and no action can be maintained for his injury or destruction.

An unlicensed dog may be seized and killed and the fact that a dog is without a tag is presumptive evidence that the dog is unlicensed.

Dog licenses must be obtained from the clerk of the city or town where the dog is harbored or kept.

License fees for the six months period, July 1 to December 31, 1929: Male dog, $1.25; female dog, $2.75; spayed female dog, $1.25. These amounts include clerk's fees.

No license can be issued for less than the full license fee.

The owner of a dog who fails or refuses to obtain a license or the dog as required by law incurs a penalty of $10 and costs.

The enumerators of towns and the police departments of cities are required to prepare in July of this year a list of dog owners. The omission of the name of an owner from the enumerator's or police list will not excuse the owner from obtaining a license.

If you owned a dog last year and do not own one now, so advise the clerk of your town or city.

Dog licenses in the town of Andover are issued by J. D. Cheesman, clerk. P. O. Address, Andover, N. Y. 30
