...Black Suits...

A Black Suit is a mighty useful member of a man's wardrobe. It's proper for business wear, and is inconspicuous when worn in place of a frock or cutaway for afternoon dress. The coat may, at any time, be worn with a contrasting pair of striped trousers. We have excellent black Suits at $12.50, $15, $16.50, $18 or $20, made from Cheviots, Worsteds or Thibet Cloths. Don't gauge our Clothing by the common standard. Our standard is higher, for we have one of our own. Clothes bought from us pressed and kept in repair one year free of charge.

Hats and Furnishings.

You'll find here the new things that haven't yet reached the other shops.

You will also find the prices more moderate than elsewhere.

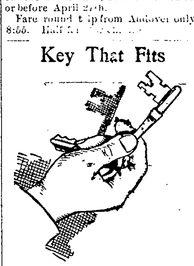
Key That Fits



"Half my patients need more iron," said "our doctor."

Iron makes rich, red blood. Yet it is very hard to give iron so it will do any good.

There are thousands of keys in the world—only one or two unlock your door. So we know of only one or two combinations of iron that seem to do the work.

By far the most generally useful prescription we know of is Vinol.

It has helped a great many cases in this town.

It contains the medicinal qualities of cod liver oil, iron-that-can-be-digested, and a little table wine.

It works wonders in weak women, pale children, old people, and any run-down condition. Money back if you want it.

Neuralgia of the Heart For Years.

Pain Went From Heart to Head.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured.

"About three years ago my sister was so badly affected with heart trouble and neuralgia of the heart that we did not expect her to live. Although we had a first-class physician she grew worse under his treatment. She had a swollen dropsical look and had frequent spells of neuralgia pain at her heart when she would render the most heart-rending moans and shrieks. At times the pain would go from her heart to her head when a lump would appear on her temple half as large as an egg. One night she got up in bed and ran into the back yard crying with pain; she was not conscious of it, however, and was brought back to the house by neighbors. I brought her a bottle each of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure which helped her greatly. She afterward used some five or six bottles and has never had a spell since. I had used your medicine with great benefit myself. I know that Nervine and Heart Cure not only saved my sister's life but also saved me from insanity and death. I was so nervous I could not bear the slightest noise or movement around me and I suffered from palpitation and pain in the heart. I had choking sensations, dizzy and faint spells, smothering spells when I could scarcely get my breath. I was so nervous I was frazzled like a child and at one time it was thought I was losing my mind. Nervine saved me from insanity."—KATIE ACKES, Clover Creek, Pa.

TESTING METHODS

A test as to the value of newspaper advertising over other methods was made a year ago by the great publishing house of Harper & Bros. Two books were selected, one by a well known popular author and the other by an unknown writer. The latter was selected for the newspaper advertising and the other for the usual channels.

With equal expenditure the work advertised in the newspapers outstripped the other in sales by 200,000 copies.

The result was a complete surprise and established the fact that readers go to the newspapers for information with regard to books as well as with regard to most other matters.—National Printer-Journalist.

The best advertising medium for any merchant is the local paper which goes into the homes of the people, as this paper does.

DYSPEPSIA A THING OF THE PAST.

If You Have Indigestion

this article ought to interest you. No matter what else you may do unless you study proper hygiene and diet your efforts will not amount to much. The Laxakola Co., 45 Vesey St., New York, have published a remarkable little book, "Advice to Dyspeptics," free to those who ask for it. It tells all about dyspepsia, its cause, what to eat and what not to, and if the advice is followed no one really need be troubled with indigestion. We sell their dyspepsia cure, Pepsikola Tablets, 25 cents, and are authorized to refund the money if the purchaser receives no benefit. Pepsikola Tablets tone up and stimulate the stomach to do its own work by increasing the gastric juice and saliva. It is particularly recommended to those whose appetite is poor, with coated tongue, distress after eating and the other ills always attendant on dyspepsia.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

Scenes In Both Houses Have Been Very Warm.

GOVERNOR'S MILITARY ESCORT.

Unless Something Unforeseen Occurs the Legislature Will Be free from the trials of State Affairs Tomorrow.

Albany April 22.

The time for adjournment of the legislature of 1903 is rapidly drawing near and unless something quite out of the ordinary happens today, tomorrow the legislators will big farewell to Albany and go back to their homes. To say that the last few days of the session have been the reverse of monotonous is to draw it mild. The legislators have simply made the air blue and red with their pyrotechnics and the biting and scathing remarks hurled from one to the other have been legion.

At first it was only the senate which indulged its propensities to sharp words, but the assembly soon got in line and for a day or two it certainly looked as if a special session would have to be called in order to finish the business which was laid over in order that the two houses might have time to adjust their differences.

The rejection of Commissioner Baker for railroad commissioner made the warmest scene witnessed in the senate for many a day. It was the time for the three insurgent senators, Brackett, Elsberg and E. R. Brown, to get in some tall work and that they did it was proven when the name of Baker was rejected.

Among the pleasant remarks of Senator Brackett on the occasion was the following: "Our prophecy that he—Raines—would never be leader of the majority of this senate has come true. He was elected leader by his own vote and the humiliation is his alone and history has no equal. And this is the man between whom and the office of governor there are but two lives. I join my godless prayers with those of the righteous to make good the health of Governor Odell and of the honorable president of this body." In return Senator Raines said that "when fortune caresses a man too much it oftetimes makes a fool of him, and when fortune or the powers that be against which Senator Brackett has been harranguing caress him as they did when they made him chairman of the judiciary the rest follows."

The matter is really all in a nut shell. Platt and anti-Platt. And that nutty old man sits and listens and smiles and agrees and yet almost always got his way in the end. Whatever the opinion of Platt, friends and opponents will agree that he is shrewd to the limit.

The comedy in the lower house came about by the charges of Mr. Clark against Mr. Graff, stating that he was a lobbyist. Hot shot flew fast and furious on this matter. If looks were daggers and words were revolvers the dead and dying in the assembly would have been many, but fortunately there were no Tillmans in the house and there was nothing more sensational than words, which subsided after a time and peace was restored.

The Vestibule Bill.

The Chambers vestibule bill is now in the governor's hands. The passage of this bill is felt as a great victory by the members of the local union of Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, whose legislative committee has worked so hard for the passage of this bill. James A. Lavery, the chairman of the legislative committee of the Central Federation of Labor, has also worked indefatigably for the passage of this bill. This battle for vestibules is by no means a new thing. It has been going on for years and has caused much agitation on both sides. At one time one side has been triumphant and at another time the other side has felt it was coming out ahead. Now the question is settled, much to the satisfaction of the public, which has certainly been for the vestibuling of the cars. The bill will take effect Sept. 1, 1904, and reads as follows:

"Every corporation operating a street surface railroad in the counties of Albany and Rensselaer shall cause the front and rear platforms of every car, propelled by electricity, cable or compressed air, during the months of December, January, February and March, except cars attached to the rear of other cars, to be inclosed from the front and at least one side of the platform to the hood, so as to afford protection to any person stationed by such corporation or person on such platforms to perform duties in connection with the operation of such cars. Platforms on cars on such street surface railroads used more than one mile outside the limits of a city shall be completely enclosed from platform to hood. Every corporation using and operating a car in violation of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $25 per day for each car so used and operated, to be collected by the people to use for the poor of the county in which such corporation has its principle office in an action brought by the attorney general or district attorney of such county. The supreme court may, on the application of a citizen direct the district attorney to bring such action."

Still About Unification.

The unification bills are still coming and it is very evident that the regents as well as the state department of public instruction mean to keep up the excitement until the bitter end. Superintendent Skinner is still making statements and the regents are also still making statements. In one of Mr. Skinner's latest statements occurs the following which is instructive: "The regents have jurisdiction over a single department in each of less than 700 public schools. In addition they have some control of private schools and have charge of the state library the museum, etc. The department of public instruction has joint jurisdiction with the regents over each of the public school departments named above and in addition thereto has jurisdiction over all the other departments of the same public schools and also has the supervision of 10,000 other public schools with which the regents have nothing whatever to do."

In the light of this statement it would look as if the department of public instruction had a good deal more to do and to see to than the regents. Most people, however, want to know what it is all about anyway and wish that the loud murmurs of the two departments might be silenced. The latest unification bill has been introduced by Senator E. R. Brown. It provides that no regent shall hereafter be elected until the board is reduced to 11 and thereafter the said board shall have only 11 elective regents. This bill was not considered seriously by anyone any more than the five other unification bills.

On Tuesday there was a session of the senate at noon to nominate a regent in place of the Hon. Martin I. Townsend, deceased. The nominee was the Hon. Charles S. Francis, late minister to Greece. The nominee is a man of education and is a pleasing selection for the office of regent.

Odell Will Go in Style.

It is evident from the passage of the bill appropriating $50,000 for the governor's trip to the St. Louis fair on April 27, that New York state's governor will go in style. He will take with him 1,000 picked troops from the National Guard, all of whom shall be selected for their soldierly appearance. Senator Malby stated when the bill was passed that "it is a matter of public necessity that if the state is to be properly represented at St. Louis the funds must be provided immediately." Therefore no time was lost in passing the bill and the governor will be enabled to attend the dedication in great shape. This most of the people believe is as it should be and yet there are others who openly state that if the governor is so anxious to save money let him lop something off from the $50,000 appropriated for the St. Louis trip.

Water Storage.

The water storage bill has been successful in passing the senate, enough Democrats rallying to the support of the measure to pass it. A good deal of opposition to this bill has come from the city of New York. It is believed that a misunderstanding has existed regarding the purposes of this bill, some thinking that its provisions would injure the Adirondacks. There has really, it is said however, been nothing in the bill which permitted any injury to the Adirondacks.

The action of the assembly committee which investigated last year the condition of the Adirondack forests, in condemning the state college of forestry conducted under the supervision of Cornell university, is a surprise to many who had believed the college was doing good work. The report of the committee was submitted to the assembly during the past week and it in no unstinted terms disapproved what had been done by the college and condemned both present and prospective results. The report issued by the state college of forestry for the past year has been made public within the past few days, and it was so favorable that the assembly committee's action was much more of surprise than it would have been otherwise.

The Green bill taxing mutual fire insurance companies 1 per cent on their premiums, 10 per cent of the proceeds to go to the firemen's association for the maintenance of the Firemen's Home and the balance to various associations and fire districts of cities and villages, will also in all probability become a law.

Will Be No Direct Tax.

The talk on the mortgage tax does not subside even though the session of the legislature of 1903 is so very near ended. Some have thought there would be a direct tax if the mortgage tax bill was not passed, but Governor Odell when approached on that subject declared most emphatically that while he was governor there would certainly be no direct tax. In this connection the governor said: "There will be no direct tax while I am governor. If retrenchment is necessary in order to keep within the revenues derived by indirect taxation we will adopt a policy of retrenchment. I intend to fulfill the pledges which I made last fall when I stated then that I would abolish the direct state tax and while I am governor there will be no direct tax."

Exempt From Taxation.

It looks now as if the Green bill to exempt from taxation the Masonic Temple at Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street, New York, would become a law. One of the most strenuous opponents to this measure has been Senator Armstrong who says that the bill affects persons who have no sympathy with Masons and are against secret societies. The senator declared that the measure was wrong and illogical. Senator Grady maintains that the bill is a proper one. The money raised from the rental of this building goes toward the support and maintenance of the Masonic Home at Utica where aged Masons, their wives and orphans are supported. Senator Grady maintains that in this way the state is relieved of what might be a burden and that there should be no objection to the exemption from taxation of the Masonic Temple in New York.

SECOND KENT TRIAL.

Policeman Repeats What He Saw at Scene of the Tragedy.

Rochester, April 22.—The jury for the Kent case was secured early in the afternoon, after which Assistant District Attorney Matson gave a resume of the incidents leading up to the tragedy and announced the means whereby the people expected to show that Kent aided and abetted in the suicide of Ethel Dingle, as charged in the indictment.

The first witness called by the people was Policeman Sisner, who repeated the testimony given by him at the first trial, relative to what he saw and heard as an early arrival at the scene of the tragedy.

The jury will be kept in the custody of court officers to insure against their discussion of the case and another mistrial.

The great number of immigrants arriving in New York and the many Americans who are rushing to Europe for a vacation are offered as evidence of American prosperity, though the two movements are in decidedly strong contrast.

The bill in the British parliament to appropriate several million pounds to deepen the Thames river meets much opposition, the principal ground being that such a thing was never done before, don't you know.

QUICK MAIDEN TRIP

New German Steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II in Port.

TWELVE HOURS BEHIND RECORD.

Encountered Bad Weather Which Compelled Reduction of Speed.—Is Largest Express Steamer Afloat. Estimated Average Speed 22½ to 24 Knots an Hour.

New York, April 22.—Completing the quickest maiden voyage from Cherbourg to New York but failing to break any of the coveted trans-Atlantic records, the new German steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II of the North German Lloyd Steamship company from Bremen, Southampton and Cherbourg, reached port last night.

The time of the vessel's passage from Cherbourg Mole to the Sandy Hook lightship was five days, 23 hours, a few minutes over 12 hours behind the record for the passage between these two points.

Fair weather prevailed when the big vessel left Cherbourg on April 16, but two days later she encountered a dense fog which lasted two days, compelling her to reduce her speed for about 12 hours. The daily runs of the vessel were 257, 560, 540, 547, 534, 542 and 180 to Sandy Hook, a total distance of 2,160 miles. She logged an hourly average speed for the whole voyage of 22.10 knots. The coal consumed by the steamer averaged 560 tons per day.

The Kaiser Wilhelm II arrived off Sandy Hook lightship at 7 o'clock, afternoon, where she was boarded by Pilot J. J. Russell, who brought her into port. It was at first thought that the big vessel would not come up at night owing to the very low tide but she can be handled so easily the pilot brought her up.

On board the steamer were 425 cabin passengers and 637 steerage passengers.

The vessel was launched at Stettin August 12, 1902, and is the largest express steamer in the world. Her principal dimensions are:

Length over all 706 feet 6 inches; beam 72 feet; depth 52 feet, 6 inches; draught to load line, 29 feet, 6 inches and displacement 26,500 tons. The estimated average speed of the vessel is from 23½ to 24 knots per hour at sea.
