A Foolish Fad. One of the foolish fads is the setting aside of that book, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," out of the libraries. No book had more influence in the liberation of the 4,000,000 slaves that took the dark spot from America's escutcheon, and the book will be forever linked with the freedom of the negro. Let us hope the fad is a temporary one.

Supervisors or No. A tempest in the teapot has been raised by some of the county papers over the question whether Supervisors are Supervisors or not. A little grain of common sense applied to the reading of the law would at once show that the law made provision for that. Our Supervisors hold until their successors are elected. The changing of the time of election extended the period of their terms of office. We have Supervisors and they will be until the term of office expires as designated by law. The warm weather questions debated are usually questions aroused to make padding and fill space when they are calling for "copy."

The Public School. The public school where the children spend about 30 hours a week for 40 weeks in the year, a total of 1,200 hours, is a potent factor in the moulding of the character of the pupil. A good teacher or corps of teachers may work in honest endeavor, and their work be offset by the indifference of the parent or guardian. It does not speak well for the parents' interest in our public school that last Friday, Arbor day, only a few parents were present to the exercises after invitations had been extended to the public. If parents want a good school, a school that will have an "esprit de corps" to influence both school and home life, let them visit the school, show a lively interest in all the public exercises, and the results will be surprising.

Another Side of It. There has much been printed by the press about the chilling reception given to the visitors at the St. Louis Exposition dedication; but on the admission of one of the officers of the company which was in attendance, the boys surely made things lively at every station. Signs, barber poles and things moveable were taken to decorate the train. Now that was vandalism. The men from whom they were taken must replace them out of their own purse. Such acts tell of the spirit of liberty and license bordering on lawlessness that is becoming a dangerous characteristic. There is no need of such acts. The marking of the streets and buildings with the score of a recent victory may be one way to show enthusiasm, but it tells of a spirit of license that ought to be curbed.

Is Cleveland To Be? The unterrified seem to be looking toward Grover Cleveland as the leader of the Democratic host during the next presidential campaign. A speaker, in launching a Cleveland boomlet the other evening, said, "He is the strongest man, and his name will go down with Lincoln, McKinley, etc." However, there will be too much to forget. The Government is buying up its bonds under Roosevelt's administration and not selling them as under Cleveland's administration. Then the prophet of Buzzard's Bay is fishing in the waters to carry out that pet measure, "Tarriff Reform," and surely the people have not forgotten the panic and industrial depression of those years under Cleveland. No, there is much to be forgotten to make Cleveland as strong in the old Empire State as Theodore Roosevelt.

The way the kings, emperors and rulers of Europe are exchanging visits, it looks as tho the game of international chess is on in earnest. Who is to be checkmated?

A NEEDED REFORM.

In this day of reforms, one of the reforms that receive very little attention from the good people at work on the reconstruction of our social fabric, is the maintainance of order and the enforcement of justice. Usually, unless there is a powerful and insistent demand made for the punishment, there is no assurance that the perpetrator of a crime will be punished. There are delays of the law and often the one in crime seeks at the outset to bring to bear the influence of friends that the delay of the law may be brought to bear in his interest, and in effect the criminal goes unpunished. There is much false sentiment also worked thru the daily "yellow journals."

The public officials are more or less under the influence of party politics and are apt to be braced by the interests of those who have placed them in positions. The juries are often influenced by personal considerations and the facts are that there has come to be a lack of the positive fear for the law. Judges that hold their offices for life have no need to consider their prospects, and hence that courts where such judges are has and is the bulwark of a republic's safety. There should There should be a reform in increasing the respect of law and order, for there is nothing more important to a civilized community than the maintainance of order and the enforcement of justice. Many of the measures introduced in legislatures are of slight consequence compared to it. No pressure, political or otherwise, ought to be allowed to influence any where the question of the enforcement of law is concerned, and the reform will be of incalculable good to the community where such reform is needed.

BASE BALL.

One of the distinctively American sports is base ball, and there is something in it that carries a spirit of enthusiasm and rest that no other sport does, not merely to be a participant in the game but an onlooker. Indeed, men and women with cares and anxieties have found healthful and beneficial results in the hooting and calling of "Play ball." It is a clean, honest sport. Nowhere is there better material for a club than in Andover, and the wonder is that no effort has been made to form an association to have a permanent base ball club. The advertising gathered from a good club, a club of winners, is not to be overlooked, and then beyond all else is the fact that local pride arouses itself and helps us to get out of that lethargic state. Base ball, good and clean, is a winner, and will help to give the village an air of progressiveness that nothing else will. Surely there is sporting blood enough in Andover to maintain such a club, and we are sure there is material enough to make an excellent club. Why not try it by popular subscription?

There must be money in Christian Science when Mother Eddy can give $120,000 for the erection of a temple.

It may be necessary to employ a police officer if the spirit of fun is carried to excess. Fun carried too far becomes lawlessness.

There ought to be some other way of giving vent to enthusiasm over a victory in a game of ball than defacing buildings and sidewalks.

That's a good road improvement being made on Greenwood street, but some of the other streets would be better if the scraper went over them.

Some of the walks if not soon repaired will be the cause of a suit for damages against the village. It's dangerous to life and limb to walk some streets in a dark night.

ELM VALLEY.

The New Chapel at Elm Valley is Practically Assured.

Rev. Chas. H. Harrington, pastor of the Baptist church, has led the people of Elm Valley to the assurance of the hope for a new chapel. At a meeting of those interested, Tuesday evening, Rudolph Howland, Prentis Burdick and Lester Burdick were elected trustees for the term of one two and three years respectively. These with the addition of Byron Howland and Chas. Burdick were appointed a building committee to secure the erection of the proposed building. The people of the community are to be congratulated on the energy and liberality displayed in the undertaking and over $800 has been secured in good subscriptions, the site not included, making in all $900 which has been contributed for the purpose designated. The lists are still open and it is hoped all the friends will show an interest by helping, if it be only a small amount.

Letter to C. L. Earley,

Andover, N. Y.

Dear Sir: Two and two make four—not always: depends upon what "two and two" are.

Two gallons of water and two gallons of milk don't make four gallons of milk.

Neither does four gallons of paint that's half lime, whiting, clay and kerosene oil, make four gallons of real paint.

That's what we mean by saying "Fewer gallons; wears longer." It takes fewer gallons of Devoe Lead and Zinc than of mixed paints to paint a house, and it wears twice or three times as long as lead and oil, mixed by hand.

Prowse & Pelton, Herkimer, N. Y., write:

Mr. Charles Avery of Herkimer, bought 4 gallons of Devoe Lead and Zinc to paint his five houses, his painter having figured that it would require at least that amount; 36 gallons did the work and he returned 15 gallons.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.,

The Strenuous Life.

Every day the system needs a certain quantity of nutritious matter to supply the deficiencies of the day before. The building-up process must begin at the breakfast table. " Joe", the new cereal, tastes good and furnishes that material. A breakfast of "Joe" fits the entire body for the strenuous trials of the day. "Joe" is made of best selected wheat. "Joe" has a taste to it. One dish makes you want another. You can eat "Joe" at any meal. At grocers everywhere.

BUYING A SUIT HERE

is a good way to spend money because whether you pay little or much you always get what you pay for.

The values accompany the prices whether they go up or down, and they are never higher than they ought to be. Just high enough to put in all the good things that belong to carefully made clothing, but low enough always to meet the knowing man's idea of economy.

What's the want?

TEMPERANCE AGITATION.

ANDOVER LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE MEETS AT PREST'S OPERA HOUSE.

Addressed By D. M. Pickett of Detroit. Subject, "Misplaced Power."

A fair attendance was secured at the meeting under the auspices of the Law and Order League in Prest's Opera House last Sunday afternoon. The President stated that the League was anxious to secure a prosecution of all violators of the excise law, and requested the names of persons who could swear to such violations, who would be likely to state the facts when under oath.

The speaker, D. M. Pickett, of Detroit, Michigan, is a business man and is also Superintendent of the department of agitation of the John Russel Union. He delivered a very impressive address on the subject of "Misapplied Power."

He maintained in the first place that the liquor traffic was a misapplication of the money power; in the second place, it is a misapplication of social power; in the third place its protection by law is a misapplication of civil power. Mr. Pickett has become a recognized authority on the temperance question in the city of Detroit, where he is widely known, and is having much success in his reform work.

DRUG STORE LAW CHANGED.

Amended Excise Law Grants Druggists What is Known as Emergency Privilege.

In addition to the privilege granted a druggist heretofore, under a druggist's license of selling on physician's perscriptions only, the amended excise law grants a privilege of emergency sales of liquor, not to exceed a pint, the druggist pay a tax of 10 cents on each such sale and keep a careful record to whom the sale was made and under what emergency. The tax thus raised is to be turned over to the county treasurer, to be divided like the other excise revenues.

Should Keep Posted by Reading the Bulletin.

All farmers, dairymen, fruit growers and gardeners should make themselves familiar with the work of the experiment stations in order that they may profit by valuable points discovered in the tests. Those who are not thus acquainted with the Geneva Station, thru regular perusal of its bulletins, should at least send to the Station for Bulletin No. 229—The Director's Report—which summarizes the work of the year, gives a list of bulletins published and presents interestingly many facts relative to the progress and needs of this agency for the advancement of agriculture.

It Costs Less.

If you wish to keep your friends living away posted as to things doing in Andover, just remember the NEWS, sent every week, will be cheaper than a letter every week, and will give them more information. tf
