$1.00 will be charged for a card of thanks.

Rates for space advertising made known on application at the office.

Five cents a line, each issue, will be charged for resolutions and business notices.

Copy for change of display advertisements must be in the office Tuesday noon to insure change the same week.

Protective Policy. From an almost strictly agricultural community, this country has risen to a point where it now supplies the world's commerce in manufactured goods, all of this by reason of the protective policy. What chance is there for a free trade party under such condition?

Bryanites Would Support Mr. Roosevelt. The futility of all attempts to defeat President Roosevelt's nomination and election is emphasized by the report from Nebraska, that should Grover Cleveland or any other "reorganized Democrat" be nominated, the Bryanites will support Mr. Roosevelt.

Post-Office Department. Postmaster General Payne may have erred in minimizing the importance of the irregularities and dishonesty which has prevailed in the post office department, but the President will soon be in Washington, and the public may rest assured that he will be content with no attempt at whitewashing.

Don't Fuss. The crude philosophy in "Mrs. Wiggs" is a good thing to remember during the warm days of summer. "Don't fuss" might save a lot of ill temper and lost patience, may make things more softly and with less friction. Never mind the weather, wet or dry. Some one who knows controls it. "Don't fuss" and next winter you will look back, forgetting discomforts, and say, "In the sweet old summer time."

The School Building. The cut of the school building in last week's NEWS shows a building plain, sensible looking and without frills. We stated some time since that we believed the Board of Education would look out for the taxpayer's interest. This has been more than verified, and yet the taxpayer who will allow or compel a policy of false economy in the erection of the new building, in a few years may see the mistake. Give the Board wide latitude and trust their judgment.

Business Methods. It will not be very long before the business methods, so admirably evidenced in the bringing about the new industry for Andover, will or should manifest themselves in every department of village life. Business methods applied to the part of the village government should be practiced. If there is a village ordinance it should be enforced. If 30 days notice has been given, is it business to wait 30 or 90 days thereafter? There are ordinances for the protection of health. Are these obeyed? Business methods applied by village, town or county boards of health might save a deal of ill health.

What Will be the Result? There is room for thought as to what will be the outcome of the movement to civilize China, and serious minded people are giving the subject much consideration. Left alone to follow its antiquated methods and its barbaric whims, China proved neither a benefit nor a detriment to the civilized world—civilized, at least, to the extent of having been taught to use moffern methods, machinery, etc., with a teeming population capable of subsisting on rations on which a white man would starve, will the markets of the world be flooded with the products of cheap Mon olian labor, and the "yellow peril" materialize, despite Chinese exclusion and other restrictive laws.

The Strenuous Life.

Every day the system needs a certain quantity of nutritious matter to supply the deficiencies of the day before. The building-up process must begin at the breakfast table. "Fe", the new cereal, tastes good and furnishes that material. A breakfast of "Fe" fits the entire body for the strenuous trials of the day. "Fe" is made of best selected wheat. "Fe" has a taste to it. One dish makes you want another. You can eat "Fe" at any meal. At grocers everywhere.

"THE PROMISED LAND."

The whole world has been stirred with the outrage against the Russian Jews at Kishineff. Resolutions by common councils and bodies in the government of state, as well as other civil and ecclesiastical bodies, calling upon the Government to protest even to the point of war against a continuance of the outrages by the Russians. The eyes of those persecuted have turned toward America as the haven of refuge. America is the promised land for the Jew. This is the consensus of opinion in the thought of men who have made the matter a subject of much thought. There are 10,000,000 Jews in the world, according to the Jewish Year Book, and one half or more are in Russia. Of the remainder, two thirds are in the United States and Austria Hungary. There is in New York city to day the greatest company of Jews gathered in one place since the dispersion of 600,000. The Zionites, such men as Israel Zangwill and Prof. Cottheil of Columbia University, look forward to the re establishing of the government by Jews in Palestine. Prof. Cottheil recently said: "A free people in a secure home! For that we Zionists have been working; for that we hope to work successfully under Divine guidance in the future. The blood of these innocent Kishineff martyrs will not have been shed in vain if it incite us to such a noble effort." Naturally the persecuted Jews look toward Palestine, but America, where so large a number of these people are, will for a time be the Jews' promised land. This throws the burden of responsibility upon the people of the government, and upon the American Jews the grave responsibility to see that the new comers adapt themselves to the changed conditions, and become the citizens worthy of the respect and rights of Americans.

"WHAT FOOLS THE MORTALS BE."

One of the weekly comic papers has the above caption at the head of its paper that cartoons in burlesque every prominent feature of political life. One of the grotesque features of the coming fall campaign is the antics of William (Bill) Devery who, in a public "coat tail" meeting, was placed in nomination (without the formality of delegates or convention) for the mayoralty of New York city. Perhaps it is because the summer time is the season of circuses (and every circus has its clown) that New York city must have its clown too; and yet Devery is appealing to the hearts of the people of the Old New York IXth, and may create a greater stir in the world of politics than now thought possible. There are always people enough to take even a clown seriously. The fact is that Toledo has its Jones, Cleveland its Tom Johnson, Chicago its Carter Harrison and New York has its Bill Devery.

The first yacht race between American yachts proves the superiority of the Reliance.

Business methods applied to the cleaning of the streets would help matters of industry along.

You may have a "bargain," but how are the people to know it unless you inform them? Advertising is the only way.

Democratic editors are hard put these days in finding evidences of dissensions in the Republican ranks. In their own ranks, however, there is as little evidence of harmony as ever.

We make a great outcry when a Chinese barbarian kills a missionary in China, but what have we to say when a mob of cowboys in Western Texas murders a Bible agent because he wears a silk hat?

Water Ways. The canal problem will not be put under. The simple fact of the request of a Legislature for the right to expend $101,000,000 is not sufficient. Why help the West at the expense of the East? Why should the Empire State bear the burden of taxation to provide waterway to get western grain and products to tidewater? It's a matter for the United States Government to undertake, and they should so do. A government canal, "ship canal," maintained by the Government, is the only waterway to meet demands now and in the future. The canal proposition should be remembered and defeated.

Railroad Earnings of 1902.

It was thought that the high water mark in railroad earnings was reached in 1901, and the experts predicted that a turn in the tide would follow. The fallacy of these predictions is shown by the figures which have just been completed on railway operation for the calendar year 1902. These figures indicate that railroads enjoyed the most remarkable year in their history, the total gross earnings of companies having about 200,000 miles of road being in round numbers $1,700,000,000, an increase of about $105,000,000 over 1901.

Twenty-three railway systems show gross increases of $1,000,000 or more from the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, with $1,000,137, to the Pennsylvania, with $17,418,900. Only nine railroads show decreases, and these total $9,812,000. During the past twenty years gross earnings of United States railroads have more than doubled. For 1882 the gross income aggregated $770,256,762 and for 1892 $1,171,407,343, increase in that decade amounting to $401,050,581. For the decade ending 1902 the increase was $540,337,851. During the latter decade mileage increased from about 145,000 miles to about 200,000 and gross earnings from about $5,000 per mile to over $9,000.

During the past three years increases in capitalization have kept pace with increases in gross earnings. The total capitalization of American railways, according to the recent report of the interstate commerce commission made to the senate, is $11,724,035,829 par value, which is $223,000,869 in excess of the figure of 1901, while the latter year showed an increase over 1900 of $357,080,062. If the present rate of increase is maintained, 1903 will exceed 1902 by as great a figure. These increases in capitalization, however, have had their effect upon the net earnings, which have not always shown increases in keeping with net earnings.

With the great volume of business already in sight and with the prospect of big crops to be moved next fall, railroad earnings for the present calendar year will no doubt equal if not surpass those of the last year.

Mrs. J. J. Mullen and Mrs. Ira Stuart are home taking care of their mother, Mrs. R. Monroe on Grove street.

Miss Clara Lauterborn was surprised by thirty of her friends of Hornellsville at Mr. John Hayes' home in that city on her eighteenth birthday. Refreshments were served.

Peter Riley died in the Catholic home, Buffalo, Saturday. Funeral services were held at the Blessed Sacrament church Monday and the burial made in St. John's cemetery.

P. A. Dean and J. W. Richardson are the Grand Jurors from Andover for the June Court at Belmont, and J. A. Swink, Elwin Livermore, Arthur Jones, Michael Shields and E. E. Clarke Trial Jurors.

Prof. A. O. Tucker of North Cohocton was looking over the school matters here at Andover Saturday. He has rented the R. M. Bundy house corner of Center and Church streets, and will move his family to Andover about the middle of July.

It Ought to be Enforced.

Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, has signed the following bill: "That if any person or persons shall sell cigarettes or cigarette paper to any person or persons under the age of 21 years, he or she so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than three hundred dollars nor less than one hundred dollars."

H. P. Myres Dead at Lima, Ohio.

Word has just been received by relatives in Andover from Lima, Ohio that H. P. Myres is in a hospital in that city ill with little if any hope of recovery.

Later—A telegram announced the death of Mr. Myers. The body will arrive in Andover for burial Thursday. Funeral Friday, conducted by the Mason fraternity.

Masonic Notice.

The members of Andover Lodge, No. 558, F. & A. M., are summoned to be at the lodge rooms Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, to form in funeral procession and assist in the burial ceremonies of Bro. H. P. Myres.

STRUCK BY ENGINE.

CHAS. FOX OF CUBA KILLED BY TRAIN AS HE WAS WALKING THE TRACK.

The Erie's Evening Train Going West, No. 101, Struck and Killed Charles Fox of Cuba Saturday evening about 5 o'clock.

The accident occurred near Champlain Place at the head of Spring street. The unfortunate man was walking from the village to his home about a mile and a half east. Engineer Chas. Allen saw the man and he was seen to step to one side, while the fireman states that he afterwards stepped back onto the track just before the engine struck him. The train was stopped and the injured man carried to Cuba station, where Erie surgeon Gillette was on hand but nothing could be done to save his life. He died in about ten minutes. His neck was broken and his head and face badly cut. Mr. Fox was about thirty-seven years of age and is survived by a wife and son fifteen years of age. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fox, reside at Friendship.

POLLUTED FOOD.

Found Remains of Dead Rats in the Flour.

Some time ago James Hammond took three bags of wheat to J. B. Thompson's mill at Wellsville to have it ground into flour. Circumstances were such that the grinding could not be done immediately, and it was several weeks before the flour was taken from the mill. When it was opened at Mr. Hammond's home nothing out of the ordinary was discovered, but food prepared with it made the family severely ill. Upon close investigation and re-handling two half decomposed rats were found in the flour.

BUILT ON WATER.

The Growth And Prosperity of Cambridge Springs, Pa.

The observing old lady who could not help noticing how providential it was that a river almost always ran thru a great city, would have found further cause for congratulation in the fact that the medical springs of Cambridge, Penn., are so near the hotels.

The truth is that the city of Cambridge Springs owes its existance entirely to these waters. There is little or no manufacturing, and practically all the inhabitants derive their living directly or indirectly from the thousands who come summer and winter to benefit their health. With wisdom not always shown in similar instances, there is no attempt to take undue pecuniary advantage of the visitor, and even last summer, when every hotel and boarding house was full, many private houses were opened to lodgers at very moderate cost. There is probably no watering place in the country where the benefits are so general, and rates so low. A handsomely illustrated booklet will be sent on request by addressing D. W. Cooke, General Passenger agent, New York.

Letter to F. S. Clark,

Andover, N. Y.

Dear Sir: You can afford the best, and your business experience has shown you that it is also the cheapest. If all men would learn this, they'd save a lot of money.

Devoe Lead and Zinc costs a little more per gallon than mixed paints, but it takes fewer gallons to paint a house, and it wears longer. It is the cheapest paint in the world.

Mr. Frank A. Morse, druggist of West Rutland, Vt., writes:

I ordered 15 gallons of your paint, thinking, from experience with mixed paints, that it would require that amount to cover my house. I used 8 gallons.

Mr. M. Austin Belcher, of Winthrop Mass., bought eleven gallons. He only used six.

Our agent at Morrisville, N. Y., Mr. E. N. Dexter, writes:

On every job I have sold, Devoe Lead and Zinc has given good satisfaction and has taken a less quantity than expected.

We could make this letter a hundred times as long with such examples.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.,
New York.
