VACATION DAYS.

Not many days before school will be closed and the scholars and teachers will have left the rooms where "learning has been enthroned" to seek the rest and renewed health in the summer days to come. The vacation time may be made a season of great benefit or it may be used at a great loss to the mental culture. Because one has a few days or months to do as one pleases it is not time to be wasted. The days of summer partly spent in the pleasurable enjoyment, such as mind and body crave, will be beneficial, and part of the time spent in reading good literature; perhaps sidelights on the lessons, either those that have been gone over or those anticipated; for instance, the study of the history of some locality. American and local history abounds in incidents thrilling and interesting and that give new pleasure in the study of the history of one's own country. The writer was instructed the other day in learning the facts as to how Painted Post got its name. What strange incidents must have occurred there at the four roads where the painted post was placed and which gave the present village its name.

Then the teachers, how much they can enjoy the well earned vacation. The general public and parent little know the hardships, and annoyances the teachers have, and so doubly will they enjoy the vacation time. They too use a large part of the vacation days in improving the mind, for the successful teacher must be ever alert for new methods and ideas. The true teacher learns more from nature and outside life than can ever be acquired from books. So it is the vacation days are nearly here, and while the teachers and pupils are enjoying the summer days, the Board of Education will find little vacation from the perplexity and problem confronting it in the building of the new school building.

The True Light. In some quarters the administration has been blamed for not probing the post-office scandal. Postmaster General Payne has been accused of dilatoriness, but no less an authority than Ex Postmaster General Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press, not only shows, in a double leaded editorial, that Postmaster General Payne, six months ago, planned for a thorough probing of his department. Because it has not been done with the blow of trumpets, the opposition has tried to make it appear that nothing has been done. The press declares it speaks from personal knowledge, and further declares that the investigation will be as complete an inquiry as can be made. This is what we would expect under the leadership of the President, who was the only man who ever saw that the law was enforced by the Tammany corrupted police of New York city.

True Democracy. The democratic ways of the President on his homeward journey, at the dinner given by the newspaper men, seems to have shocked the sensitiveness and the dignity of some of the foreigners who were the President's guests. The true democratic spirit of President Roosevelt is more pleasing because of its heartiness and whole-souled manliness. The old illustration of the true American spirit, in the tying of the horse to the hitching post and walking up to the White House by one of the Presidents in days gone by, has been eclipsed in the genuine democracy of Theodore Roosevelt, who, according to the actions of the recent state conventions, seems to be the "favorite son" of many states.

Strange, isn't it? The West is flooded while the East burns because of the drought. It gives one an idea of the size of the United States.

NOW THE BARBERS.

One of the laws recently passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor is the new "Barber Law." The appointment of four examiners has made the law operative. The examiners are to receive $5 a day for each day in actual employment of their duties. The state examiners have authority to appoint sub-boards in the cities or villages who can conduct examinations and recommend the granting of certificates. One of the mandates of the law is that every barber now engaged in business must register with the Secretary of State within three months, and upon the payment of $1 can secure a certificate which shall be displayed in a public place. The certificate may be revoked in conviction of felony, drunkenness, uncleanness or neglect in caring for the tools. In fact, if the shop is not kept in a sanitary condition it may be closed by the local board of health if the conditions are not changed within thirty days after complaint has been made. The law may seem oppressive but it is likely to be a benefit to patrons of barber shops. It will tend to abolish the drunken and uncleanly barber. It is expected that the law will be enforced to the letter, and the barbers, for self protection, will undoubtedly wish for its enforcement.

Rural Free Delivery. The daily press report that some of the rural free delivery routes are to be abolished. In the craze for free delivery many routes were established in the Southern states that were practically of no benefit to any one unless it be to the politicians. The routes in the Northern and Eastern states, where the population is larger, have paid, and are proving a great convenience to the people. However, the danger of the whole thing is the possibility of its use as an adjunct to a political party There may be the foundation for a repetition of the Brady Star Route scandals of years ago. New York state rural free delivery routes have paid, and, so far as knowledge goes, have been placed where they were needed.

License or No-License. Next fall the question of license or no license will be brought again before the people. It will tend to give a spice to the campaign, so far as local interests are concerned. Over two years ago the no-license people won after a strenuous fight. The whole question is one that has to be considered from every standpoint during the two and more years. What the decision of the people is to be will be awaited with a great deal of anxiety by both the pros and cons. We are looking for a stirring up of the question and expect the fight will be an interesting and exciting one.

One of the most complete fizzles was the boycott proclaimed by the New York liquor men against the farmers. In the words of the street urchin, the farmers can say, "Never touched me."

Andover base ball cranks are wondering why Andover can't, or why the boys don't, win a game now and then.

One thing to be regretted is that the forest fires are destroying splendid trees, which is always lamentable.

We have sold many different remedies for dyspepsia, but we give you our word that nothing gives such universal satisfaction as PEPSIKOLA. The manufacturers authorize us to guarantee a cure or refund the money, 25 cents. L. A. Burrows.

Once more we are blessed with a lovely rain.

There will be a necktie social at Ed. Breese's next Friday night. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. Rogers was home Tuesday.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Helen Lippincott Thursday.

An error was made in the report of the officers of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Union Chapel. The following are the officers: President, Mrs. E Breese; Vice President, Mrs. Howland; Secretary, Miss Fannie Burdick; Treasurer, Mrs. Hann. The ladies are actively engaged in planning work for the future. The membership numbers about 20.

Misses Maggie and Gertie Osborn visited friends at Colesburg last week. Maggie goes to Cuba to work in the Kinney House. Her many friends in the Sunday-school and I. O. G. T. are sorry to have her go.

Miss Maggie Leonard visited at Smith's and Strait's last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith have accepted an invitation to attend a wedding at Greenwood June 17th.

Burt Doran is having a serious time with a swelling on his hand.

The I. O. G. T. social at Smith's and Strait's was well attended and every one pronounced it a very pleasant gathering. The Lodge is prospering and gaining ground. Success to the Good Templars.

Rev. Pickett of Andover preached at Elm Valley May 31st, being the alternate Sunday from Rev. Harrington's appointment. His sermon was full of gospel truths and no one could listen to it without feeling they had heard a message from the Master. He left an appointment for the pastor of the Presbyterian church from Andover in two weeks. The good people of Elm Valley are very glad that the pastors of the different churches in Andover feel enough interest in them to come down and preach to them. They are more than welcome.

Starting Right.

In every great race much depends upon the start. "Getting away" with the whole system tingling with confidence in the strength to win, is half the battle. In the race of life the start each day is at the breakfast table. A dish of "Ze", the new cereal, served with milk, invigorates the body and refreshes the brain. "Ze" makes the start right. "Ze" is cooked and ready to eat. Young and old like "Ze". You can eat it at any time. At grocers everywhere.

Do You Realize

a constant war is carried on between your stomach and your taste? What pleases one may not suit the other. The question is what to eat. "Ze", the cereal that tastes good, forever sets at peace the jarring, human factions. "Ze" is a grain product with all the health giving nutriment retained. "Ze" builds up the body, adds to the strength, keeps the brain active and clear. "Ze" is cooked and ready to eat with milk or cream. Grocers sell "Ze".

TO A. M. BURROWS & SON,
Andover, N. Y.

Dear Sirs: You know all about shoes. How many customers have you who know anything about 'em?

You have bought and sold shoes for years, and have learned what you know by your customers' liking one sort, and not liking another. They find out by wearing 'em.

So with paint; but we go deeper. We are 149 years old in the business; and we make, not buy—we make a good deal of paint.

We paint a good share of the railroad and steamer property in the United States, and may as well paint the private property. Yours as well as anybody else's.

Devoe Lead and Zinc is your paint. Costs half as much as mixed paint or lead and oil because it takes fewer gallons and wears twice as long.

Beck Bros. & Co., Williamsport, Pa., writes:

Ezra Rathmell had used 11 gallons of a well-known mixed paint for his house; he repainted it this year with Devoe Lead and Zinc; bought 11 gallons and had 5 gallons left.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.,
New York.

P. S.—E. J. Atwood sells our paint.

IF IT'S YOUR STOMACH,

Why not Try the Waters at Cambridge Springs, Penna.

Probably more than half the ill health arises from disordered digestion. So long as the body is properly nourished the microbes of disease do not usually find lodgment; but when the stomach fails, all bad things are possible. Some very remarkable cures of this nature were reported from Cambridge Springs the past season, and there was hardly a case that was not benefited. These waters are efficacious at all seasons, and there is always enough going on at the Springs to make a stay there thoroly enjoyable. For all complaints the cool dry air of Crawford County is likely to be more beneficial than a more enervating atmosphere. Booklets on application to D. W. Cooke, G. P. A., Erie Railroad, New York, or to any Erie passenger agent

A Disastrous Fire at Olean.
