Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is over-loaded, when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarrh of the stomach. For years I suffered with the catarrh of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. H. WELLSVILLE'S FIRE.

A Fierce Blaze in that Village Friday.

RICE LIVERY BARN BURNED.

Fourteen Horses Burned, and a Number of Buildings, Mostly Barns, Burned.

A fierce fire early Friday morning raged among wooden barn buildings, storehouses, etc., in the rear of and in close proximity to the business blocks on Main street, east side, and residences in the whole square of West State and West Fassett streets and Park avenue, Wellsville, entailing a loss of about $16,000, with small insurance; the cremating of ten livery horses belonging to Fred D. Rice, the Fassett house bus team, and the valuable running horse, Castro, belonging to Homer Elliot. The firemen worked like heroes and saved property to the value of many thousands with the harmony of a paid department. The Wellsville Fire department cannot be beaten anywhere, as the property saved will show clearly to any one. The fire was first seen about 1 a. m., in what is known as the red livery barn, in which the thirteen horses all were that perished and spread rapidly to the Fassett house barn and ice house on one side, the new iron clad livery barn on the other and then communicated to other buildings until the whole interior of the square was alive with flames almost at once and covering several acres, and the bright flames lighting the country for miles around. The four hose companies had eight streams pouring on the flames and also the steamer was put into service, while the hook and ladder company were doing great service. In about two hours the flames were under control and the department praised by everybody. The losses are about as follows: Fred D. Rice, livery barns, horses, carriages, sleighs, cutters, harness and livery equipments, $5,000, insurance $1,500; barns $4,800, $1,000 insurance, Hotel Fassett bus horses and contents of barn $500, and the company had $1,000 insurance on the barn, which will cover that loss; while the ice house filled is a loss of several hundred. Dr. Coller, barn loss about $200; Van Buren barn loss about $150. Mrs. Grover, barn and contents, loss about $300, no insurance on any of the three; R. Harder, barn $300, insurance $200; T. J. Applebee, $400 with $300 insurance, and all the contents, several hundred, not known, as he is in the west; R. A. Wells, barn and contents, $800, insurance $200; Mrs. Fred Nichols, barn, covered with insurance sufficient for loss; J. W. Gallam & Co., grocers, loss in warehouse goods about $1,200, insurance $1,000; Mrs. W. P. Decker, household goods stored in Rice barn, loss $450, insurance $200. There are also damages amounting to several hundred to the rear of residences and blocks not included in the above.

Myers' Effort to Produce Rain.

Utica, June 10.—Prof. Carl Myers of Frankfort arrived at Nehashane, in the Adirondacks, and today an effort will be made to produce rain by bombardment of the heavens. Three balloons will be sent up from the dock on Lake Lila and each will be inflated in the right proportion to produce a terrible concussion. Prof. Myers is confident of success and anticipates rain immediately after the bombardment. The indications are for rain, and it is probable that Prof. Myers' experiments will not be made before the afternoon.

Anti-Toxin For Lockjaw.

Albany, June 24.—Two important matters are included in the forthcoming bulletin of the state health department. One is that the department is prepared to furnish tetanus (lockjaw) anti-toxin for use in cases of Fourth of July gunshot wounds, in which cases it is strongly recommended. The other is that the state anti-toxin laboratory this summer will co-operate with the Rockefeller institute in an investigation into the cause and treatment of dysentery.

Uncle Russell Sage takes an optimistic view of the future. He not only sees no clouds on the financial or industrial horizon, but he has not seen fit to sweep off any of the personal taxes assessed against him by the New York assessors. He was put down for $2,000,000 and was apparently willing to let the record of his taxable personality stand at that. In this respect he differs from most New York millionaires, who studiously evade the payment of taxes on personal property.

It is reported that the maple sugar yield this spring is but one-third of the average crop. As there has apparently been no falling off in the production of brown sugar, it may be confidently expected that there will be as many scalloped cakes of maple sugar upon the market this year as usual.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by O.E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.

The Irish Land Bill.

It is to be hoped that the Irish land bill will not be defeated as the result of the contention over questions of detail. Whether Undersecretary Wyndham and his associates in the cabinet are justified in maintaining that there should be no change in the minimum price which the tenants might have to pay or whether the representatives of the Irish Nationalist party are right in contending that in this respect there should be a material qualification it is difficult to say, nor does it in a broad sense matter materially.

The contention of the Irish leaders is that the effect of the law now proposed will be to make the tenants, who wish to become owners of the land they have leased pay more for it than the landlords are justly entitled to claim. But it would appear that if the law is put into force in substantially the manner that the bill has been drafted by Mr. Wyndham and it is found on practical application that it results in hardship and injustice it will then be possible to amend it without in any degree impairing its main features. The land bill, when it becomes a law, is not such a piece of legislation that no future change in it is possible. On the contrary, it is to quite a degree experimental, the value of a number of its features depending on what is developed by an impartial application of it.

If under these circumstances it is found that a certain class of tenants are paying for their land more than they should and that certain landlords are obtaining from the government greater compensation than the sum to which they are rightly entitled, there should be but relatively little trouble in securing a correction of these defects; but the measure as a whole has such great value and if put in force would be so far reaching in its beneficent effects that it should have the speedy indorsement of the British parliament.

American War Ships at Kiel.

The American squadron which sailed into Kiel the other day is not to be compared in size with the European fleets which are accustomed to cruise in the North sea, but it was received with exceptional honors. It is evident that the emperor accepted the visit of the Kearsarge and the other vessels under Admiral Cotton's command as an affair of the utmost ceremonial importance and that he endeavored by his marked courtesies to repay the attentions which were shown to Prince Henry in this country last year. All this Americans will put down to the credit of Kaiser Wilhelm. He is to be congratulated, however, in getting hold in the person of Admiral Cotton of an old sea fighter who may give him and his naval officers some points. European navies have no admirals who have upon them the smoke of two sea fights such as the battle between the Merrimac and the Monitor and the battle of Mobile Bay, in both of which Admiral Cotton participated. In this respect the American navy can pay the kaiser an even greater compliment than he can pay it.

We are not showing the Germans much of our navy in showing them Admiral Cotton's ships, although the special assignment of the Kearsarge to the European squadron increases in a measure the importance of our naval representation there. At all events, the showing is sufficient to indicate to certain German critics of the American navy that we have some fairly good fighting ships. Doubtless the Kiel visit will serve to create a better feeling than has hitherto existed between the German and American navies.

Again the political status of Porto Ricans presents a problem. Two natives of that island who have been studying law at an institution in Washington have been informed that they can take the bar examination subject to a decision by the court as to their right to practice. They have indignantly refused to submit to this condition, contending that they are entitled as a matter of right to entrance to the bar if they pass the examinations. Sooner or later this question of citizenship will have to be settled, and congress might save time and trouble by taking it up at its next session and settling it right.

Perfect harmony was possible between Germans and Americans at least when the American flagship's band played the Prussian national air and the German flagship's band played "America." In tune they are the same.

The unwisdom of teaching women how to use firearms is again illustrated by the experience of the Newport constable who was shot by his wife while trying to climb into the window of his own house.

The Servian populace is said to remain perfectly sober. It has to be in order to say "Karageorgevitch."

It is possible that certain securities would be more "digestible" if their water was "ozoned."

Nervous Headache Breeds Insanity.

Many a person's whole pleasure in life is ruined by the fear of nervous headaches. Any little excitement, no matter what, business or social, brings them on. The feet and hands grow cold, the head is hot, the face stiff, the temples throb, and only in the quiet of a darkened room is relief obtained. This condition must be checked or it means complete mental ruin. To those people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills come as a blessing. They do not stop, they cure the headaches. They do not blanket, they build up. They put the nervous system in a strong, vigorous, sturdy condition—a condition that gives one resistive power, and enables them to again enjoy life's pleasures.

Mrs. J. F. Pierce of No. 310 5th street, Olean, N. Y., says: "My trouble was nervous sick headaches—headache that made me sick all over. Following the attack it took several days to right myself again. For this condition I got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and value them highly. Since I used the box I have not had an attack and that is saying a good deal. I feel I can recommend them to others as a positive cure in such troubles." 50c. a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. OIL FEVER LIKELY.

CANISTEO INVESTORS JUBILANT OVER NEW DEVELOPMENT.

Big Gas Well Struck at Cameron Proves Territory.

An oil fever is likely to spread thru Canisteo shortly. News Wednesday night of last week that a big gas well had been struck at Cameron in the test well in which considerable Canisteo money is invested, caused great excitement. The well is on the K. Tuttle farm and is being put down by a stock company. The pressure of gas is 75 pounds to the square inch and blows the bailer out of the well, also sand and fragments of rock when the drill is in operation. The well is down about 900 feet and will be put on down until oil is struck or to a depth of 2,000 feet. The big gas well is a good indication and if some oil is found more wells will be sunk. The well is 14 miles south-east of Canisteo. The big new "Marsh" oil field with 13 producers is only 15 miles west of Canisteo.

RELIANCE WON AGAIN.

Scored Another Decisive Victory Over Constitution and Columbia.

Newport, R. I., July 1.—The Reliance scored another decisive victory over the Constitution and Columbia in a 15 mile thresh to windward and return. Boat for boat, the Constitution won over the Columbia, but time allowance will probably give the latter second place. The new craft sailed the course in seven minutes two seconds less time than the Constitution and eight minutes one second less than the older boat. The Constitution covered the 30 miles in 59 seconds less time than the Columbia.

It was a cracking race, under conditions supposed to be more to the liking of the Columbia than either of the other boats, both to windward and running dead before the breeze.

Only during the first five miles of the race was there any doubt about the result and while this distance was being sailed there was a battle royal between the Reliance and Columbia, which resulted in the former establishing a commanding lead. From Point Judith to the windward mark the new boat sailed steadily from the others and coming down the wind with sail spread she outran them both in splendid style.

The race was sailed in a breeze of from 10 to 12 miles strength and after Point Judith had been left behind on the way out to the weather mark a long rolling sea was met. The Reliance dipped deeper into the waves than did either of the other boats, but it had no retarding effect upon her speed. On the contrary, the new craft seemed to like the water, for it was at this point she walked away from her opponents the fastest. The Columbia also gained over the Constitution in the rough water going to windward, outpointing and outfooting the latter.

The race was started promptly on time, the Constitution being the first to come about at 12:02:25 and the Columbia followed suit a few seconds later.

The time at rounding the outer mark was: Reliance, 1.24; Columbia, 1.38.20; Constitution, 1.39.

Spinnakers and balloon jibs were broken out after rounding and the Reliance gained steadily on the home leg, increasing her lead over the Columbia by two minutes three seconds, and over the Constitution by one minute 45 seconds.

Before the finish line was reached, the Constitution crept past the Columbia and crossed the line seven seconds ahead of her.

Pekin, July 1.—Prince Ching, president of the foreign office, has returned here from the summer palace in order to hold a conference with Minister Conger in regard to the commercial treaty between China and the United States. MINE EXPLOSION.

Two Hundred Men Imprisoned by the Disaster.

NO HOPE OF ESCAPE FOR ANY.

Twenty-Eight Bodies of those Working Near Mouth of Pit Have Been Brought Out—Union Pacific Has a Large Force Working to Reach Imprisoned Men.

Hanna, Wyo., July 1.—Probably the worst disaster in the history of Wyoming occurred here yesterday when a terrific explosion of firedamp in Union Pacific mine No. 1 shut off the means of escape of 200 men who were working in the pit.

The fire which started immediately it defying all efforts of the rescuers and there is slight hope of saving any of the men.

Twenty-eight bodies of those working near the mouth of the mine have been brought out, all of them horribly mangled and some still showing slight evidences of life.

The Union Pacific Railroad company, which owns the mines, has a large force of men working to reach the imprisoned men. The flames seem to be abating and there is hope of getting most of the bodies out.

So dense is the excitement that no one seems able to say how the disaster occurred. The supposition is that a careless miner allowed his lamp to come in contact with firedamp.

The mine was not fired as was stated in the earlier reports, but the explosion was terrific and completely shattered the timbers of the main shaft and numerous entrances, filling the working with debris and those of the miners that were not killed outright by the explosion were buried alive.

NEWS FROM ORIENT.

Russians Continue Aggressions in Manchuria and Korea.

Victoria, B. C., July 1.—News was received by the Aki Maru that the Russians are going on with their building operations at Yong Ampho irrespective of Korea's protests. Communication with the Manchurian mainland is being maintained by three steamers from Antung.

Permanent barracks, warehouses, stores, are being built. Reports are also received that Russians are seizing rafts belonging to Koreans on the Yalu.

The Korean government has granted a concession to A. Tatsuke, a Japanese, in the same locality and complications will doubtless arise as a result.

The Japanese papers comment at length regarding the visit of General Kuropatkin, Russian minister of war. The general comment is hopeful that his visit may bring about a better understanding regarding Manchuria, but many journals speak more or less definitely.

The Pekin correspondent of the Asahi Shimbun writes at length regarding secret audiences being given to the Russian chargé d'affaires at Pekin and Prince Ching, while the British or Japanese ministers are not received. M. Lessar, Russian chargé d'affaires, in order to ensure secrecy in all matters relating to Manchuria, has arranged that all advices received from Manchurian officials by Chinese officials shall not be given to any clerk or subordinate for transcription.

The Niorku prints a significant article in which it says:

"We know that Russia is persuading the United States to turn her back on the Anglo-Japanese alliance. We know also that it is almost certain that England will not draw her sword in order to settle the Eastern question. Whatever disadvantages Japan may entertain, she and she alone will be compelled to push it to the last argument." The article continues at length in advocacy of war with Russia.

The American warships Kentucky, New Orleans, Helena and Oregon arrived at Taku on June 78. They stay there 10 days and then leave for Cheen Foo, where manoeuvres will commence at the beginning of the month. Altogether 14 men-of-war, three transports and two tenders will take part in the manoeuvres.

The news that the University of Michigan's daily paper, always known in abbreviation as the U. of M. Daily, has been bought by the administration and will henceforth be an official publication is certain to start discussion among the thousands of undergraduate editors east and west. There are now about a score of college dailies, and their position is seldom perfectly satisfactory. The rocks of the classical metaphor are hard to avoid. On the one hand, the paper must not be made purely a vehicle for official notices, and, on the other, it must not become sensational. It is constantly competing with the outside newspapers, which print college news and also with the hallway bulletin boards which give their information for nothing.

Figures for eleven months compiled by the treasury bureau of statistics show that the foreign commerce of the United States for the year ending June 30 will be the largest in the history of the country. Imports will for the first time exceed $1,000,000,000, and exports will be larger than for any previous year except 1901. It is expected that the exports will exceed the imports by $400,000,000, which makes a nice little sum on the right side of the ledger.

It is proposed by an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin to have a department for the cultivation of humor in that institution. It is not a bad idea. While it would probably not increase the number of humorists, it might have the effect of making some people see the point of a joke without having it explained to them.

The new king of Servia is said to have highly advanced ideas of governmental reforms, but he will probably not insist upon enforcing any of them until he finds out what the Servian army would like.

The decision of the society leaders of Newport not to wear anything on their heads this summer may not be approved by the milliners, but there is no doubt about the views of the hairdressers.

Those faithful lovers in Missouri who waited forty years to marry ought to be able to get along without the divorce court for the short time left them.
