A Women's Vanity. The story is told that the King and Queen of Servia were warned of the danger of a plot against them, and it is also stated that King Alexander had deposited a sum of money in an English bank. They were all ready for flight, but Queen Draga would not go because a gown she had ordered from Paris had not arrived. Thus in one instance a woman's vanity proved her destruction.

* * *

It Might be. Most village high schools have prizes donated by some of the leading liberal spirited citizens for—well, for example, the best oration at the graduating exercises or the best essay, and it stimulates a healthy competition. The writer, enjoying the finely trained pupils at the last graduating exercises, wondered if it wouldn't be a good idea to have something of the kind here. Now the new school building will bring in new pupils. A reward will bring about the best results. It might be well to think about it, and it is none too early, either.

* * *

Wonder of Wonders. The last vestige of doubt concerning the anti-progressiveness and back-number sentiment was dispelled at the school meeting, when, almost unanimously, the people gave the Business Men's Association the old school building, after the pupils leave it, for manufacturer's use. Well, well, wonder what some of the fathers would think about it. Wonder of wonders will never cease, and yet the village has struck a gait, and that will carry it to growth. It means business and business means money. A village never had better spirited, more progressive set of men to promote the best interests of a town, and the people appreciate it. Keep right at it, and Andover will be the winner.

* * *

A Fine Endorsement. That the people have confidence in the Board of Education was plainly evident at the last special school meeting. One of the facts evident was that the people realize that the best is none too good for the pupils in Andover's High School. It was a great compliment to the Board and also to the intelligence and far-sightedness of the district. The people have never failed in the crucial moment, and their action will bring to the village a renown for good judgment and sound sense. The fact that the state will now pay the sum of $20 for each High School pupil means much. The boys and girls back on the hills and away from the villages will now look toward the high schools. Andover is to be the gainer for the liberal spirit of the voters. It will bring a number of pupils to our school.

A Courageous Man. They celebrated "Hooker Day" over in Boston June 26th, and they had a stirring time indeed. Major Gen. Thomas L. Rossee, who served in the Confederate service, stirred the Grand Army veterans to tremendous enthusiasm by saying in his address, "I never confronted so many Yankees before," said he, "and I fought to surrender. I know no North, no South, no East, no West, but thank God for being an American. The privates did their duty, regardless of their cause. The man from the South who says he wished the South had won is a fool. I thank God that the South did not win. God Almighty was the great Commander. There is no man commands troops that is greater than the troops themselves." The farther away from the "great struggle" men get the more the light of humanity and reason comes. Wonder what some of the old "fire eaters" will think about such talk. The General has made a lot of trouble in the South for himself, but the world will applaud the courageous words of the old warrior.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND THE JEWS.

That President Roosevelt has decided to send to the Russian Government the petition presented him by the B'Nai B'Ruth (a national Jewish organization) regarding the treatment of the Jews in Russia has put an importance to the question hitherto unnoticed. It will raise grave apprehensions in the mind of some. Of course the President will not indulge in any comment, but the very fact that he has invested the petition with the dignity of his official notice will, to some extent, demand a recognition from Russia, and compel her to show her hand. Secretary Hay realizes the possible seriousness of the President's action, for in announcing the decision, he says: "Of course you well understand that the President cannot tell what reception your petition will meet with at the hands of the Russian Government." The question arises if Russia takes no notice of the petition the relations existing are apt to become strained, and f the Russian Government protests, which she has a perfect right to do, the seriousness of the whole matter is plainly evident. Much can be done for humanity's sake, and President Roosevelt, of sterling integrity, is the man to make Americanism tell for all it is worth, but we are led to inquire, where will this protesting business end? Any body of people have the right to petition the President for the protection of their kindred in other countries—the Irish for protection in Ireland, and others likewise. We wonder if it is not all a mistake taking official notice. If it is a play for political purposes it may prove altogether too costly. Mr. Wolf, who sent the petition to the President, was Consul General to Egypt under President Grant. He also has addressed a letter to the Russian Ambassador, Count Cossini, in protest, and suggests a new treaty wherein will be the recognition of the American passport in Russia, irrespective of race or creed. This, he says, "might tend to allay, to some extent, the most aggravating and annoying difference between two great and friendly powers." However, the outcome will be waited with a degree of interest. Russia may remind us of the domestic troubles within our own borders, that is, the number of lynchings and family feuds in the South and East, for some are not less savage and barbarous than the massacre at Kishineff.

* * *

Grangers vs. Canal. The Grangers, in their annual convention, are passing resolutions condemnatory to the proposed amendment providing for the expenditure of $101,000,000 for canal purposes, and they propose to fight the measure to the last ditch. If calculations are right the sum proposed will not fully complete the canal, and there is no reason why the farmers should be burdened with a tax which will prove to be of no benefit to them. The benefit will be to the cities on the line of the canal. The canal built by the Government, a ship canal thru the lakes down to the seaboard, would seem to be the better way out of it all. Money might rather be spent by the National Government for such a proposition than on the annual dredging of some harbors. The rivers and harbors bill usually put thru Congress, closely scrutinized, might furnish a good argument on why "build a ship canal with government money."

* * *

Change of Heart. One of the significant changes in the political feeling in the West was evidenced when the Democrats of Iowa, at a recent state convention, emphatically refused to reaffirm the Democratic national platform of 1900. The Iowa Democrats had long been committed to the free silver policy, and again and again had endorsed the leadership of the "peerless" William J. Bryan, but twice has Bryan led them to defeat, and the change has come. The platform is as silent as the tomb on the "peerless leader," and Bryan, so far as Iowa is concerned, is not in it. The whole free silver scheme, leader and all, is repudiated. This means much, for it indicates that the task of debryanizing the party in the West is not so difficult a task as Eastern Democratics have supposed, but in either event the Republicans seem to have the advantage and will undoubtedly profit by it.

Religion at the World's Fair. Plans are now being discussed in religious circles for conducting evangelical work on an extensive scale during the world's fair at St. Louis. It is confidently expected that the Rev. Campbell Morgan will accept the leadership of the work, for which his broad experience amply qualifies him. It is the plan to associate with him many other noted evangelists both of this and other countries, giving the meeting a national and international as well as local significance. It is proposed that daily meetings be held in some centrally located building, if one may be secured; if not, it is the plan to erect a building specially.

The idea is an excellent one and, if carried out on the large scale contemplated, will doubtless constitute the greatest series of evangelical meetings in the world's history. As a part of a great scheme of concentration of the world's interest the project is fitting and proper. No great assembling of the nations would be complete or characteristic without its religious aspect and motive. The spiritual as well as material interests of humanity ought to have full representation. Christianity, civilization's dominant and eternal motive, should have perfect freedom of expression at such a universal undertaking as the St. Louis world's fair. As an exposition of the world's development and activities in the twentieth century it would be incomplete with the religious element omitted.

Taylor-White.

At the Baptist parsonage, June 28, by Rev. Chas. H. Harrington, Edmond Taylor of Hornellsville and Miss Julia White of Cameron were united in marriage. They will reside in Hornellsville.

An Apology.

The NEWS owes an apology to Miss Jennie Church for the unintentional omission of her name from the commencement program in last week's paper. She read most enjoyably "The Defense of Saragossa."

A Timely Receipt.

Fresh rheubarb preserved in cold water will be found of great use next winter for pies. Clean the stalks well, cut in inch lengths and fill glass cans, pour clear, cold water in until it overflows and seal tightly. That the preserve cans and rubbers must be in perfect condition goes without saying.

GEORGE BLOSS HURT.

Third Base Ball Man Runs Into Him While After a Foul Ball.

While watching a game of base ball at Whitesville last Saturday, George Bloss of Independence was badly injured by being run over by one of the players. He was sitting on the ground between third base and the home plate, when a foul ball was knocked by the batter. It should have been the work of the catcher to have caught the fly, so Mr. Bloss was looking toward him. The third baseman took it as his play and ran after the ball, going right thru the crowd, stepping on every one in the way. He hit Mr. Bloss in the side just above the hip, breaking one rib near the spine, and loosening others in front. It was twenty minutes before he regained consciousness.

LARGEST HOTEL EVER BUILT

E. M. Statler Requested to Erect an Immense Hotel at St. Louis.

The executive committee of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company has authorized the granting of a concession to E. M. Statler of Buffalo, for the largest hotel ever known in the world. Its minimum size will be at least twice that of the Statler Hotel at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo. It will have at least 2,000 separate sleeping-rooms with minimum accommodations for over 6,000 guests. It will be almost one-fifth of a mile long and over half as wide, and the hotel is to be inside the exposition grounds.

CORWIN HILL.

We got it—some wet

Several men in this place have signed a petition for a free mail route.

P. J. Dougherty recently bought a new Milwaukee twine harvester.

Allen W. Corwin was home from Belmont, where he has a night job in Clark Bros.'s machine shops.

Miss Olive Howland of Elm Valley visited at John Kemp's Sunday.

D. P. Corwin's people took dinner at R. Hardy's Sunday.

This place will be represented in several near-by towns on the Fourth, some going to Hornellsville, some to Whitesville, some to Pennsylvania and some—will stay at home.

Our school closed Friday with appropriate exercises. Speaking, reading and singing were the order of the day. Miss Livermore has given us a very good school this year, and deserves much credit. The attendance has not been large, but the average has been very good, and our school stands high on the list of districts of the town in regard to public money.

The past few days have witnessed quite a number of women from your town strolling thru the fields in search of strawberries. We wonder if they think people like to have them make such visits without invitations. With perhaps a few exceptions they have not taken away a very big quantity of the luscious fruit.

Mrs. Loren Pingrey attended the Lewis reunion at Independence the first of last week.

SOUTH HILL.

R. A. Stout, of the Inter-Ocean Telephone Co., was up from Wellsville Sunday, visiting his father, M. G. Stout, at Fulmer Valley.

The Andover Oil Co. drilled in their No. 2, Lynch, Monday. It is showing for a good producer.

The casing was put in No. 3, on the M. Casey farm, Monday.

J. B. Phillips of Warren, Pa., has located a well on the Mrs. Hunt farm. W. W. Cheney, the contractor, expects to commence drilling there the last of this week. They will use the Knupp Patent Portable Rig. Mr. Knupp is here superintending the building of it. It is claimed that it will greatly reduce the cost of operating, as it is easily moved from one location to another.

A. M. Mingus and wife attended the Lewis family reunion at Myron Lewis' at Independence last Wednesday.

ALFRED STATION.

Mrs. Milo Shaw has gone to Brookfield to visit relatives and friends.

Harvey Lynch of Hornellsville was visiting his son George at Ed. Shaw's last week Friday.

F. W. Stevens and wife, and Tim. Turner and wife of Alfred were visiting at Sam. Turner's last Saturday.

W. H. H. Keller and wife visited at Chester Clair's in Andover Saturday night and Sunday, returning Sunday night.

M. A. Green, President of the Allegany Mutual Telephone Co., was in town Monday. He connected the village of Andover line, so that the Alfred Station and Alfred line is the same as one line, so not to have to call the central to get the patrons on the village line, now direct connection with Andover without central.

NOTICE.

CLOTHING

In no class of merchandise is there such deception, these days, as in the Clothing business. To make a price that looks attractive, the garments are made to LOOK well, to sell, but not to Wear. Shoddy wool and cotton yarns are used and the cheapest kinds of linings and interlinings. Garments of this kind seldom wear well, very soon lose all shape and after being worn a few times look worse than the suit that has been discarded for them.

We aim to sell

RELIABLE CLOTHING.

Every garment sold for JUST WHAT IT IS. It's not necessary to go out of town to get FULL VALUE in Clothing buying.

We have in stock Men's Suits Ranging in Price from $3 to $16, with one of the Largest Stocks of Clothing In Allegany County.

We can give you a good assortment from which to choose and are SELLING RELIABLE CLOTHING CHEAPER THAN YOU CAN BUY IT ELSWHERE. We have a fine line of the celebrated "DUTCHESS TROUSERS," Some New Summer Patterns are just in.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS.

WHITE CAT UNDERWEAR for Men is just as dependable as Black Cat Stockings, being made by the same manufacturers. We are Andover Agents for WHITE CAT UNDERWEAR. Every garment bearing the White Cat stamp which fails to give full value for every cent paid for it will be cheerfully replaced or money refunded. They cost no more than other kinds but they do WEAR LONGER. We have all the sizes.

A GOOD MACKINTOSH, all the sizes at $2. New Belts, Negligee Shirts, Neckwear, Colars, Fancy Hosiery, etc. In fact the entire line of Men's Furnishings never presented so attractive an appearance.

Trunks, Traveling Bags, Suit Cases, Telescopes, etc.

This line is full of good things and at Lowest Prices.

MEN'S OXFORDS. We are showing the best line of Men's Oxfords we have ever had. A good oxford at $1.50. The "Genesee" in both Kid and Patent Leather at $2.00 is one of the best values we've ever shown.

LADIES' DRESS ACCESSORIES. This department is full of new things such as Collars, shirt-waist-sets, belts, belt brooches, etc., etc. It's impossible to mention them all, but we are showing a fine assortment of the novelties considered so essential now-a-days.
