One Week to Go!

Students, do you realize that only one week remains before we will be confronted by those quizzes generally known as midyears?

The perfect student, if there could be one, would have nothing to fear for he would have studied his lesson thoroly every day and spent much time eulogizing facts which others "skimmed over." But we are not perfect. We let history go one day because "Johnny had a party and it wouldn't matter anyway." Or maybe we never learned those valences because "shucks, it only takes a minute to look them up —page 154, aren't they?" We forgot "page 154" wouldn't be handed out with the Regents or exam paper. Alas, what will we do?

You can't learn it all, but you can learn a lot and "brush up" on what you do know. And you can pay strict attention in class, for isn't Miss Brown very liable to ask you questions which are on the exam? Remember she makes it out if it is not a Regents!

Then, when that paper confronts you, put down everything you know. Read it over to see that it makes sense and says just what you want it to say. If you are in doubt, guess at least—never leave anything blank. JR

Keep the School Clean

Students should realize that one of their chief duties to their school is to keep it clean. Altho much ink spilling and paper throwing occurs in the halls, the janitors have more than enough to do without constantly cleaning the homerooms and corridors. All this can be avoided by throwing waste papers in the basket and keeping ink bottles in a safe place. Let us do our best to make our school the cleanest and most commended school in the county. DB

Congratulations, Mr. Holt

The Hi Herald wishes to offer its congratulations to Mr. Holt, who has recently taken over management of the Andover Central School buses. Due to the leaving of Mr. Shirey who is going into business for himself Mr. Holt, the driver of No .1 bus, has taken over this responsible and worthy position. The staff wishes him success in his new position. Best wishes are also extended to Mr. Shirey in his new business venture. JB

New Year "Firsts"

Many New Year "Firsts" came into the office after everyone's return from vacation. Some of them were:

1—The first to call the office by buzzer system: Mr. McKibben asking "Did the bulb for the projector arrive?"

2—The first to bring an excuse for attendance card—Harold West.

3—First teacher to receive a phone call—Mr. Ingerson.

4—First telephone message was for Margaret Lynch.

5—First request for "paper for a booklet"—Warren Dolan.

6—First announcement — Senior meeting 12:55, Monday.

7—First to "borrow" —Miss Anderson borrowed the key to the show case. ES

Hi Herald Meets

Jean Rogers, editor of the Hi Herald called together a meeting of the Hi Herald members this afternoon during activity period. Every one worked on his or her assignment for next week. Comments on these articles based on previous articles of the same type, were made by the officers and Miss Colberg, faculty advizer.

Regents Diplomas Received

Sixteen of Last Year's Class Earn State Diplomas

Regents High School and College Diplomas for 16 members of the Class of 1941 have been recently received at the high school office. These will be signed and sent out to the recipients during the next few days.

Of the 16 State diplomas, six were of College Entrance Grade and ten regular Regents High School diplomas, covering major fields of homemaking, commercial subjects, science, languages, mathematics and agriculture. Of the three remaining members of the graduating class two are in school taking post graduate work to complete their requirements for Regents diplomas.

Regents College Entrance diplomas were issued to John Ahrens, Laurence Dean, Kathleen Howland, Betty Jo Ludden, Eleanor Northrup and Lyle Ordway.

Only Seven High School Pupils Absent Monday

To the Sophomore and Senior Classes goes the honor of having perfect attendance the first day of school in 1942. However, a total of only seven high school pupils were about the Monday following vacation. This figure contrasts strongly with the long list of pre-vacation absences.

Francis Gavin, Bernice Ray and Veronica Ray were absent from the Freshman class. Cecelia Lynch, Julia Beil and Barbara Brownell from the Junior class and past graduate, Regina Richardson were also on the absence list. JB

Seniors Hold Adult Gym Night

After much commentation and debating over the possibilities of giving an adult gym night, the Senior class opened the gym of ACS to the public where a frolicing good time was enjoyed by an energetic crowd Wednesday evening from 7:30 until about 10.

Games played consisted of volley ball, badminton, shuffleboard, Chinese checkers and basket shooting. Refreshments were served later in the evening and it seemed apparent that the majority of the guests were the recipients of a good time. SCR

Students Start New Year Right (? )

It seems that 1942 surely came in like a lion from the looks and feel of the weather, and, in accordance with the usual customs of previous years, comes the question of "What is your New Year's resolution?"

Below are the resolutions of several of the students:

M. Stevens: To be good in classes and to go skating more often.

S. Ruger: Go to more square dances.

W. Vars: Continue being a good boy.

A. Hardy: Not to make any I can't keep.

J. Dean: Study Trig. harder after Jan. 19.

J. Rogers: To be more thoughtful of others.

C. Holt: Restrain from drinking cocoa.

P. Lynch: Not to bite my finger nails.

E. Pope: To keep last year's resolutions.

M. Hardy: Stop criticising others.

D. Mead: To study more accurately.

R. Lynch: More studying.

D. Potter: Try to stop asking Mr. McGee questions.

A. McDonough: Keep off men for life.

D. Lever: To study harder.

B. Rogers: To stop "cutting up" in study hall.

C. Gath: To be Andover's most popular hermit.

A. Dunham: Cut out social life (?).

D. Baker: To get blue marks in geometry and chemistry. MJH

Faculty Meeting Held

The first faculty meeting of the new year was held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 212.

Prin. Bretsch, who presided at the meeting, stressed to the faculty members the vital part that high schools would be gravely affected by the present war crisis. He explained that teachers are and will be called on to help in any war program that might arise. Already the Home Economics Department is co-operating in the home nursing program. The physical education department and the ag. department will also be called upon for additional duties.

He presented the appeal of the Red Cross to both pupils and teachers to help in attaining Andover's quota of $750.00 and urged the active support of this campaign by the teachers.

Mr. Bretsch stated that physical fitness of all pupils was an important element in future National Defense and urged teachers to encourage pupils and their parents to have the medical defects reported to them corrected as soon as possible. Lists of all the major defects were given out for teachers to make reports as soon as corrected.

The importance of teaching the values of our democracy were stressed as well as the need of teaching rebellion against totalitarian principles, but teachers were warned against the inculcating of personal hatred against any race or nation.

Adult Home Nursing Course To Be Given

Andover Central School will be the location of the adult home nursing course to be given in Andover soon. This course is open to all adults and is sponsired by a committee headed by Mrs. Richard Harder.

The group will meet weekly at the school and the facilities of the health and homemaking rooms have been made available.

ACS

Teachers Attend Conference

Mr. Bretsch and Mr. Maloy attended conventions at Syracuse last week. Both returned to report that National Defense will soon be playing an important part in the school curriculum.

Mr. Maloy attended the science convention of New York State teachers, held Dec. 29-30. At a banquet held Tuesday night discussions were led by a committee to revise Chemistry and Physics, on future changes in the State syllebus in regard to these subjects.

Dr. Manning, State supervisor of science, told of the plans being incorporated in some large schools to include advanced radio courses which would train students to qualify for posts in the Army and Navy. These courses would require a background of elementary physics, plane geometry and plane trigonometry.

The theme of the convention was that school science should empasize for National Defense proper nutrition, health and safety in everyday life.

Mr. Bretsch attended the New York State Association of Secondary School Principals, Dec. 29-30-31. The theme of this convention was "Training High School Pupils for Occupational Competence" and Mr. Bretsch reported the convention very enjoyable and profitable. VO

What Did You Do?

With the long Christmas vacation over, and with everyone back at school again, comes the familiar "what did you do during vacation?" queries.

The following are some of the ways and means by which students amused themselves over vacation:

Jean R.: "Did all kinds of work."

Anna H.: "Had a swell time in general."

Marian S.: "Went skating twice and saw four movies."

Betty H.: "Went to Wellsville."

Marilyn H.: "Dancing and parties."

Rose Y.: "Visited cousin in Wellsville and entertained sister from New York."

Marjorie B.: "Went to Wellsville

Pat L.: "Went to a party.

Anne M.: "Visitod Ruth Lynch."

Ruth L.: "Visited Anne Mc."

Doris S.: "Went to Hornell."

Jean B.: "Nothing, except entertain a cold." PEL

CHIT-CHAT

Anne McDonough declares that she is "off men" for life. I wonder how long it will last?

Some strange new romances have come into bloom since school ended (before vacation).

How about some class sponsoring a skating party soon? Maybe after mid years, eh?

Why was Rose Y. so excited when she returned to school Monday?

Pat Lynch, Monday, broke the macaroni necklace which consumed two hours "string time" not long ago. Better luck next time.

Santa Claus must have remembered all the A. C. S. gals. Anyway, nearly everyone had on something new when he or she returned to school Monday.

Mid-year exams are not far away. Better start studying. PEL

Everyone is rested up for exams and Regents after the vacation—or are they?

The student body was well represented at the square dance at the I. O. O. F. hall Friday. They're finding out that it's really fun — when one doesn't get coffee spilled on one.

Sleigh riding certainly is becoming popular among a certain few!

Why does Marilyn's face brighten up so when —— comes into the room? Ask Barb C. and Ruth.

Red Cross Drive In School

The local Red Cross Drive is being carried on in school and a prize of a flag is going to be presented to rooms collecting the most money. The room in the first six grades turning in the most money and the room in the Junior and Senior high schools with the most money will be presented with the flags. The money can be deposited in conveniently located boxes in any class room and it is hoped that the school will make a fine showing in the drive. VO

Was Santa Good to You?

It's always true that after the Christmas holidays the students in general came back to school all decked out with their new clothes, jewelry or what have you that Santa brought them. Below are a few of the favorite gifts that students received:

C. Gath: Clothes.
D. Emery: Hunting coat.
A. Hardy: Ice skates.
M. Baker: Everything.
C. Wentworth: Bill fold.
M. Bergman: House coat.
M. Stevens: Wrist watch.
E. Pope: Mittens.
R. Lynch: Locket.
A. McDonough: Necklaces.
P. Kilbane: New coat.
D. Potter: An adding pencil.
D. Mead: House coat.
D. Baker: Suit case.
M. Hardy: Necklace and beret set.
J. Rogers: New dress.
D. Lever: Radio and phonograph combined. MJH

FFA Meeting Held

The weekly FFA meeting was held in the Ag. Room Wednesday afternoon during activity period, with President Pat Lynch presiding.

Plans were suggested for the Farm and Home Week, which will be held in the near future.

It was also decided that a night meeting would be held sometime next week.

A vaulting box in completed form was presented at the meeting. This box which is for gymnastic purposes was ordered to be made by the FFA boys for the Jasper Central School. Money received from the sale will be used to help pay the expense of the Farm and Home Week. PEL

Grade News

In Miss Butler's first grade has been seen a new bulletin board called "The Winter Wonderland." Some people are out with the mumps.

From Miss Gottlieb's room—Lola Woodworth has moved to Hornell. Virginia Ellis and Ronnie Sutor had birthdays. The class also made New Year's resolutions.

Miss Butler's second and third graders are reading "The Dutch Twins" in their study of Holland. They are going to make Dutch boys and girls and will make a book about the farm.

In Miss Perkins' fourth grade John Lynch, Donald Greenan and Richard Reisman have the mumps.

Robert Dunham, Maxine Filler and Robert Coats were the first to contribute to the Red Cross fund.

In Miss Jordan's fifth grade Ernest Woodworth has moved to Hornell.

In Miss Schwartzenbach's sixth grade six people have two stars in their Bookland Club. They have their room decorated with "Winter Scenes."

In Miss Kuhn's room "Margie" Brown has returned from Rochester where she has been residing.

In Miss Baker's room Dolores Dean has the mumps.

In Miss Jackle's room they are making a Red Cross bulletin board. Pearl Henry has returned to Andover.

All the rooms are participating in the Red Cross drive contest.

What It Cost Him

The struggling author and his lovely young wife were at a party.

A friend approached the writer and, with admiration in his voice, said: "Penwell, your wife is the most beautiful woman in the room. And her gown is positively a poem."

The writer nodded gloomily, and replied: "Not a poem, old man—16 poems, seven short stories and a novel."

War Now Brings "Messengerettes"

ONE thing to be said about the "Messengerettes" serving Canadian National Telegraphs in many Canadian cities, is that they do not whistle. Otherwise they possess the speed and efficiency of the boys they are replacing. The army and war services seriously depleted the delivery forces of Canadian National Telegraphs, and girls, such as the Vancouver lassie here pictured, have proven satisfactory for the day time distribution of cables, telegrams and social messages.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:

Please tell me what to do. I am a girl twenty years old, going with two young men who are both one year younger than I am. The one I love most lives a reckless life and will drink. He even drinks when he takes me out places. Otherwise he is very nice to me and has proved more than once that he loves me. I love him dearly and feel that I can never love anyone else, but I am worried over his reckless living.

Now, the other man is also very nice to me, seldom drinks and never when he takes me out. He says he can never love anyone else and he would rather die than hear of me marrying anyone else. While I do not love him, I can hardly bear the thoughts of wrecking his life by marrying the man I love. I know I will have to give up one or the other, but I feel that if I give up the man I love and marry the man I like, my life will be wrecked forever. Will you please help me?

WORRIED. (Virginia)

Answer

You will certainly be foolish to marry a man who drinks and lives such a reckless life even if you do love him dearly. Don't do so unless you will be content after marrying to wear last year's coat and hat, wait up night after night listening for the stumbling step of the man who is supposed to care for you, watch your children do without the luxuries and medical care that your neighbor's children enjoy and grow old before your time from work and worry. If he refuses to reform before marriage, it is a ten to one shot that he will not do so afterwards.

As to the other man, he sounds like a good chance, but if you really do not love him, you will be doing him more harm than good by marrying him. Marriage lasts a long time and if we have no taste for the man or woman we marry, life becomes a dismal affair.

You are young and there is no necessity for you having to make your decision immediately. So why not wait awhile? The young man you think you love may straighten up and behave himself or you may discover that you really love the quiet man and were just infatuated by the rowdy one. LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

For thirty years, the most important thing in my life was the deep abiding faith I had in my husband. An incident happened which shook this faith to its foundation and altho I discovered that it was of no consequence, it has left me with a feeling of doubt and insecurity. This is entirely my own fault but how can I repair the deep trust I once had? JANET (Maryland)

Answer

You say that the incident was of no consequence, so it seems to me the solution lies within yourself. Try to put away such fears and doubts and you will probably find that there are none. Surely two people who have been living together for thirty years and have loved each other devotedly should trust each other and do away with imaginary bugaboos. LOUISA.

HOW, WHAT AND WHY?

Special to the Andover News

The Andover News has arranged with the Office of Information of the New York State Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics to answer questions about problems of farm and home. If you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope and mention the name of this paper you will receive a direct reply to your query from the colleges. Do not ask more than one question in one letter or on one postcard. Ask as many questions as you like, but make each one a separate communication.

E. E. D. writes: "Please let me know whether it is all right to leave horseradish in the ground over winter and to plow it out in the spring?"

Prof. C. B. Raymond of the department of vegetable crops answers: "It is perfectly satisfactory to leave the roots in the ground thruout the winter and to use them up to the time there is considerable top growth in the spring.

"The roots are also usable late in the fall or any time in the winter they can be harvested. Some persons harvest them in the fall and store them so they are available for use fresh thruout the winter."

Can Water Be Piped?

D. C. writes: "I wish to pipe water from a spring on a hill to the house. The total distance is 800 feet. The ground slopes down from the spring 400 feet to a creek. The creek must be crossed. Then there is a bank 25 feet high before the ground slopes to the house."

Prof. B. B. Robb of the agricultural engineering department replies: "You fail to give the total fall from the spring to the house, which is essential information.

"Assuming that the house is considerably lower than the spring, the problem then is to know whether or not water can be forced over the hill that lies between the spring and the house. This can be done.

"Trouble may be encountered by the collection of air in the pipe at the top of the hill. An air trap can be installed at this point to take the air out of the pipe. It will need some attention, however."
