International Yacht Races. The great international yacht races will take place in about a week, or the first race Aug. 20th. The interest increases as the days draw apace, and there has not been much said recently about the racing qualities of the two boats. However, the New York Sun thinks the cup is in danger, and would not be surprised should Sir Thomas Lipton prove successful in his endeavor. It will certainly be a great victory should he so do, but some of the lovers of the sport think the superiority of the American sailor who mans the Reliance will prove an important factor. The whole world will forget other things of interest, national and international, and watch with the keenest interest the results of the races. The Americans defeated the English recently in the international rifle tournament, and it may be the English cousins' turn in the yacht races

Pope Pius X. This is the title taken by Cardinal Sarto on his election to the papacy. The election has been received with great approval all over the world. He is regarded everywhere as a pious, learned, and broad minded man, who has kept out of national church politics and devoted himself to the work of the church. His work, according to the published reports in Venice, caused him to be loved by the people for his wide charity. He is not an autocrat, coming from a poor family and humble origin, and has raised himself by his own endeavors From the reports given he is evidently a self-made man in the Roman church. One of the beautiful characteristics of his life is his sympathy for the poor and unfortunate. His elevation or coronation occurred on Aug. 9th, and his future work will be watched with a degree of interest, probably following the policy of Pope Leo XIII.

That Coal Commission. Echoes from the great strike of last winter show the difficulties encountered in the settlement of some of the miners' troubles. It will be remembered that a board of conciliation was appointed consisting of six members, three from the miners and three from the operators. In the settlement of some of the questions the board came to a deadlock and have now applied for an umpire to settle the difficulties. This is in accordance with the provisions made by the strike commission. The principal point in dispute seems to be the right of employees to black list miners who were charged with rioting and destruction of property during the late strike. This black listing is a form of punishment which would operate as a preventative to a miner earning his living. Rioting meets punishment, but such punishment should be administered by the court and not by individual or the mining operators.

The suggestion given by the News last week for clean street lamps has been acted upon. Thank you!

When the telephone stamps come to Andover the smiling post office clerks will be changed to "Hello girls!"

"A TWENTIETH CENTURY SCHOOL-HOUSE."

In a little over two weeks the school bell will call the pupils of Andover back to the work of the school room. It is to be regretted that the new building will not be ready for occupancy, but nothing will be lost to the teachers nor pupils in the anticipated pleasure of occupying the new building. In the Outlook for August there are two articles on modern school houses. From the one on the construction of the modern school the following is clipped:

"Let us have a twentieth century school-house in which it will be possible to educate a twentieth century child—in which a well trained, refined man or woman will be willing to teach. Why should the newness or the difficulty of the problem daunt us? What a terrible waste, not only of municipal money, but of human energy, to keep on building impossible houses and then try to remodel them! Let us cut loose from tradition and have a school-house in which the whole child may thrive—not only his mind, but his body."

This evidently is the writing of a student of educational institutions, and from the view point of this authority, Andover's Board of Education decided wisely and in good judgment when they accepted the plans for the structure in course of erection. Certainly, with its up-to-date heating and ventilating plant, its high ceilings and an abundance of light the twentieth century child can be physically and mentally equipped to face twentieth-century problems. No building in the county used for school purposes can excel it, and after its completion even the strongest objector will look with pride on a modern structure with all modern facilities. It may seem as tho the result was brought about by some magic of Aladdin's Lamp, but not so. It will be Andover's pride and a monument to the sagacity and liberal mindedness o. her citizens. There will be a growth in moral as well as mental being. The fact is becoming more and more widely known and accepted that the beautiful has much to do with moral culture. This may be added to by beautifying the halls and class rooms of the new building. Of course the Board of Education cannot use public funds for such purposes, but in some villages and cities the local woman's club has undertaken and brought about the placing of pictures and plaster casts, "copies of the masters," in class room and reception halls. Nothing will lead a child's mind to a sense of the beautiful and classic as constant association with the "mind of the masters." Indeed, the writer recalls one of the happiest moments of school life when a copy of one of Raphael's Madonnas was placed on the wall of a class room, which had been purchased by pennies of the pupils. It is not too early to act upon the suggestion, and while the Board of Education are busy with the building some child loving, public spirited men or women might start the work of adding beauty to the interior by picture or statue. A child's eye on a blackboard will not bring the culture that a picture seen and studied will communicate. This followed will make a truly, unexcelled twentieth century school-house.

No Cause for Alarm. There is no cause for alarm in the panicky condition of the stock world. During the week past several houses, some doing a commission business, have gone to the wall. It might well be termed a "Maelstrom Stock Exchange." The facts are that large blocks of stocks were inflated way beyond their value, and they could not stand. The bubble burst and the speculators were caught. The prosperous condition of the country and the large crops in the west and east, will stay the panicky feeling, and the outlook is for continued prosperous times. As we noted last week it was only a flurry, and the speculators were the only sufferers. It is true some of the "lambs," dealing in margins, were bitten, but it's always a safe rule to keep from speculating in margins and keep away from the get-rich quick advertisers.

The outlook for prosperous times for the Allegany county farmer is very encouraging.

Advertising in the News is like the Allegany crops. "It never fails" to bring some results.

Bunco Steering. William J. Bryan, at the Ohio Chautauqua Assembly, in a speech on Democracy, said: "The trouble with the Democratic party began in 1892, when a 'bunco steerer' led the party into the net of Wall street, just as confidence men work individuals." He insisted that the same "bunco steering" could not be repeated. Of course Mr. Bryan referred to Grover Cleveland, and while such language may win applause from the friends of Bryan, it seems belittling to a man who has twice been honored by the nomination to the Presidency by one of the great political parties. Even Mr. Bryan's leader in Greater New York, E. V. Brewster, takes exception to such demagogic language, and predicts the re-election of Theodore Roosevelt to the Presidency, no matter whom the Democrats nominate.

Hornellsville Races and Fair.

Hornellsville now has the largest and most beautiful fair grounds in Western New York if not in New York state. All the buildings have been painted and Hornellsville people are proud of their "White City." Without doubt the finest fair in this section will be at that "White City" Aug. 24-28. The grounds will be overrun by the exhibits in all departments. Never before have the arrangements been so large or more complete. On Tuesday will be run the coaching parade and show of horses in harness. On Wednesday Governor R. B. Odell will speak and on Friday there will be a review and parade of prize stock. The world's famous "Loop the Loop" will give two performances each day in front of the grand stand. This act costs the fair $1000 for the week. It is the most dare-devil feat on record. Music will be furnished by the Hornellsville band of 30 pieces and with the numerous and varied attractions each day the people are sure to find enough to amuse them during the week of Aug. 24-28.

SCHOOL ADVERTISING.

Several Nearby Boards of Education Throwing out Inducements to the Country Academic Scholars.

Since the state has offered to pay the tuition of the country academic scholars, it is remarkable to see the number of High School advertisements in the local papers. Boards of Education are getting adept at the advertising business, as some are written in striking style, bringing out the many advantages their individual school possesses over their competitors. Such foresight displayed by school trustees is evidence of the possession of business ability on the boards they represent, for today, if any one desires to do business he must ask for it, and let the people know what advantages they offer that the other fellows cannot boast of. Competition seems to be entering into all branches, even to our schools, and in the future the successful school will be the school that blows its own horn the loudest and longest. The summer vacation is the season in which school advertising will be most generally done.

P. T. Barnum's Friend.

Phineas T. Barnum once said: "If you have 10 dollars to spend, spend one for the article and the other nine for advertising. I can outtalk any other man on earth but a printer. The man who can stick type and the next morning talk to a thousand people while I am talking to one is the only man I am afraid of. I want him for my friend."

Still Another Factory Looking Toward Andover.

The Business Men's Association are still at it. A large manufactory of Crushing, Grinding, Drying and Pulverizing Mills is contemplating Andover for a future home. In a letter in the possession of the writer they say, "As soon as this matter is taken up in the very near future, we will certainly consider your proposition of which we think very favorable."

About Our Advertisers.

Some of our county exchanges occasionally run an item like this: "Read the ads. Many changes this week." Such a mention would be well in every issue of this paper as nearly every advertiser changes the ad. every week, and the bargain-hunter loses the golden opportunities if he does not continually and persistently read the announcements of our live and up-to-date merchants. They are always offering special bargains.

Elm Valley Union Chapel.

The work in the new Union Chapel is proceeding in a very satisfactory manner and the building makes a very imposing appearance and will be very much appreciated by those attending. The services continue to be held in the school-house and next Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Rev. Chas. H. Harrington, pastor of the Baptist church, will conduct the services.

The attendance has been uniformly large during the summer months.

MRS. W. L. CATLIN HURT.

Hit While Walking on the Erie's Track Near Main Street Crossing.

The noonday accommodation train, No. 25, struck Mrs. W. L. Catlin Tuesday as she was on her way to the Erie station to take that same train.

Mrs. Catlin was hurrying to get to the station, knowing she was a little late, and just before she came to the trestle above the Main street crossing heard the locomotive blow the whistle, but thought she had plenty of time to cross the trestle. This miscalculation nearly cost her life, as the train was upon her and went whizzing by just as she stepped from the track, striking her right arm, with which she was holding her dress, breaking it above the elbow and throwing her into the ditch. She was taken to the home of J. D. Comstock immediately and Dr. O'Donnell reduced the fracture. She suffered a slight nervous shock after the accident and with the exception of a strained back caused from the fall is not otherwise injured.

The regular August meeting of Andover Village Board convened at Village Hall Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, a full board in attendance.

Gulled the Public.

F. Deniston and his wagonload of notions entertained the people of this village Saturday evening with great bargains and relieved many a pocket book of its dimes in exchange for eight papers of pins for a dime to gold watches at $3.25. He was a good "spieler" and kept the crowd in a happy frame of mind. We understood that one individual not satisfied with his bargain (?), returned the goods and got his money. He is somewhat wiser now.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
