Library "Sported" Naval Bulletin Board Display

Portraits of Lincoln met one's eyes as he ventured into the library at various intervals during the day last week. Besides pictures of this famous emancipator there were interesting articles giving information concerning his life.

On the other bulletip board, one found a unique display of the "Heart of Bookland" with various book jackets set among a background of Valentine hearts. These red hearts pointed out to the students books which will prove to be of interest to them.

Miss Anderson's ability in keeping up interesting bulletin boards, not only makes for a more attractive library, but also furnishes information which benefits the students. CP

Trip To Ithaca

On a cold and windy Sunday afternoon at approximately 12:30 o'clock four agricultural students, Francis Horan, Leo Lewis, Charles Gath and Brice Kenyon accompanied by their teacher, Mr. Fribolin, journeyed to Ithaca in the station wagon to attend the National Farm and Home Week which was being held at Cornell University.

The purpose of attending this event was to enter contests which were being held, such as poultry judging, livestock judging, and potato and seed judging. The boys also wished to obtain a broader knowledge of what is being done to improve the farm business.

On their way home, on Tuesday, the boys stopped at a farm in Odessa to pick up 450 White Leghorn baby chicks which are being used as a project by the F. F. A. boys. CEG

Thomas Kelley Gives Lecture And Chalk-Talk

Mr. Thomas Kelley, noted lecturer and outstanding on wild life and conservation, gave an interesting and educational talk to A. C. S. students Wednesday morning on the topic of "Conserving Wild Life."

Mr. Kelley held the interest of the audience thruout by his chalk drawings and sparkling wit and it is believed that the students learned something from what he had to tell.

This program was presented as another part of the National Assembly Services which ACS has been fortunate in having this year.

The ACS band furnished music for marching in and out of the auditorium. VO

Guess Who?

This bouncing lass has a cheery smile,
Laughs a lot, chews gum all the while.
She goes on jaunts with the basketball team
Hair shining, teeth and eyes agleam.
This Senior has oomph, glamour and quite a few brains
Tho they're scattered all over at times (so she claims)!
She sings, skates well, but she dances even better,
And she'd turn cartwheels and such when cheer-leading if they'd let her.
She received a (diamond) from some camp-pitching tenter,
But was she disappointed when 'twas found a ten-center.
Now who is this lassie with heart of gold,
Who has earned with merit this story I've told?

Answer to last week: Miss Colberg.

Defense School Approved

Courses to Be Held Evenings. First Meeting Tonight

Word has been received recently by Principal Glenn E. Bretsch that the Andover Central School has been approved as a Federal Defense School for young men out of school. Two courses have been approved, one in auto mechanics and one in metal work.

The courses will be held four evenings a week, Monday through Thursday, from 7 to 10:45 p. m., in the school shop, each course running for a period of ten weeks. Brinton J. Baker of Alfred Station has been secured and approved as instructor with Carl Fribolin, agriculture instructor, as supervisor. The courses of study to be followed have been supplied by the State Education Department.

The courses will include practical work and instruction on tractors, trucks, and automobiles, and on welding, both electric and acetylene, sheet metal work, forge work, and maintenance and repair of farm machinery. All costs of the course including equipment and supplies will be paid by the Federal government.

The first meeting of the class will be held tonight (Thursday) in the school shop. The courses are open to any young men whether from farms or village. Those interested should come to the school tonight at 7:30 o'clock or contact Mr. Fribolin or the school by telephone. The class will also meet on Friday night this week and those who cannot come Thursday should come Friday.

Homemaking A Girls Visit Meat Market

On Thursday morning the Homemaking A Class, accompanied by Miss Mahl, journeyed to Mr. Robison's meat market. While there they observed the different cuts of meat and visited the "Smoke House."

During the demonstration, Mr. Robison cut some of the meat so they could notice how the fat was marbled thru the meat. They also learned to distinguish between the colors of beef and veal, and lamb and pork. The girls learned very much from this trip. They wish to thank Mr. Robison for the fine demonstration and the co-operation which he showed. MLC

Seniors Get An Interview

A Dentist's Life Is Far From Dull

As we stepped, rosy with the cold into his warm office, Dr. J. Robert Common appeared in the doorway of the inner office. He was immaculate from head to toe with his loose cream colored coat buttoned high at the neck, his gray flannel trousers and comfortable looking brown and white sport shoes. When we told him the objective of our mission he smiled and seemed very anxious to help us.

When we asked him what was the most important phase in the care of children's teeth he replied, "Diet is the most important factor in building good teeth. Before teeth are formed and while maintaining good teeth thru adolescence, proper diet is a necessity. Milk and fruit juices are good teeth builders. Starches and sugars further the detriment of decay."

He told us then about the use of gas as a modern anasthetic, revealing many startling and interesting things to us. "There are," he said, "some people who seem to be allergic to the dentist's chair. Their nerves go to pieces and it is difficult to make an extraction or a filling. At a certain stage in the administration of gas, the analgesia stage is reached, when the person feels happy, his nerves are steadied and the pain is deadened somewhat. Teeth are filled during this stage. Teeth are pulled when the anesthesia or semi-conscious stage is reached."

I asked him how much cocaine he used for injection and he surprised me with "I don't use cocaine, I use novacain, a drug which has recently been found to be far superior. It does not produce the after affects that are representative of cocaine."

Dr. Common became interested in dentistry during his high school days when he spent his spare time and vacations working on dental plates in the laboratory back of his father's office. To prepare for the dentistry it is necessary to spend two years at a liberal arts college and the equivalent of four years at dental school. In dental school, the students practice pulling teeth from plastic skeletons and work on extracted teeth, but later work on real patients under careful observation.

"My greatest experience since I began practicing is highly comical" concluded the pleasant dentist. "A woman about 40 years old came in to have two teeth extracted. I injected the novacain and was about to pull the first tooth when suddenly the young woman got out of the chair and left. She never returned. This proves my belief that children are better patients than adults because they do not entertain the imaginary fears which adults have retained from the pre-anethetic days."

Dr. Common is a respected and well liked dentist of the community, a popular member of the young married set, and a staunch friend of the young and old. He is also a prominent member of the A. C. S. Board of Education.

CHIT-CHAT

The band certainly did a fine job at the game Friday night.

Let's hope we can continue those square dance Social Hours.

What happened in chorus last Friday, Marilyn?

The Senior rings have finally arrived, much to the satisfaction of all the Seniors.

We wonder how long this Holt-Stevens "tie" will hold?

Miss Anderson has put some very interesting books on the shelves. Better get busy and read one!

The English IV students acted as masters of ceremonies for the "Man on the Street" last Thursday. Anyway, the interviews were interesting.

What's all this we hear about "feuds" being waged between the Senior girls?

A certain few girls received Valentines early didn't you ——?

Take a look at the Scout pin Rose Y. is wearing. Where did you get it, Rose?

More than one Senior girl has a clever new nickname. Ask her what it is and she may tell you.

Why weren't you at the dance, Barb?

Didn't the cheer-leaders look flashy running around school in their suits Friday afternoon?

Dick Ludden's red shirt doesn't exactly match his red hair, does it?

Vic Oakes was so overcome by the beauty of Frankie Master's feminine vocalists that he tried to "see her after the show." No luck, eh Vic?

Sorry you weren't able to dance at the dance Saturday night, Stan.

Why did you get so "huffy" at the game, Pat?

Hats off to "Peg" and Jean. Of the eleven Senior girls, these are the only two who aren't feudin'.!

(P.S.—They're neutral.

Most of the Seniors proved themselves capable interviewers, but we wonder what happened to W. Vars' technique. Was he really "kicked out of the Steuben Silk Mill?

Stan is really becoming skilled at manipulating crutches. We hope this manner of locomotion will soon be at its end and both feet will support him again.

There were three sets made up of students at the dance Friday, and did they "swing their partners!" For beginners they didn't do badly.

The Seniors have at last attached themselves to their rings and they're "right flashy," too.

Arretta D. and Marilyn H. complain of sore shoulders. Could it be they danced too strenuously Saturday?

What happened to Vic's girl-friend at the dance? Did you lose your way, Ann?

Everyone come out to our last and most important game tonight with Richburg. They say there's to be dancing afterwards too, which should be a treat for all. Come and support your team.

Notice any weird wailings from the cafeteria Tuesday during activity period? It was only because of voice testing for girls trying out for the mass chorus to be featured at a forth-coming festival.

Marian S. is the possessor of chocolates galore, we gather, resulting from a generous Valentine greeting from ——.

A certain "guy and gal" are certainly stepping along at a good pace —together. We wonder how long the rushin' will last.

Why was the "librarian" so confused when he saw a grader waiting at his desk to get a book checked off? You should join the library Council, "Chuck" and find out how it's done.

The Junior band is quite an organization. In a while it ought to develop into something (?)

The Seniors have chosen a play and will now prepare for the usual tryouts. Here's wishing them luck with their undertaking.

"Shut-ins" Escape Via Cafeteria

Last week, at the close of the twice-a-week chorus rehearsal, a surprised group was found standing before two locked doors—the main exits from the cafeteria. Some one had locked the singers in and it appeared that the chorus would have to continue with its melodious airs until outside help could be administered.

However, as a result of the keen observation of Ruth Lynch, the group made its exit thru the kitchen and out the adjoining unlocked doors and a would-be catastrophe was avoided. ALH

ANDOVER TO MEET RICHBURG IN DECIDING GAME TONIGHT

The Purple Panthers of Andover will be playing for high stakes when they meet Richburg on the local court tonight (Thursday.)

The result of this game will either leave the locals in a tie with Whitesville or will hand the latter the league championship. In case of a tie, the deciding game with Whitesville will be played on a neutral court. In the previous meeting this year, the Panthers eked out a 22-21 victory over Richburg. Whitesville has beaten Richburg on both of their encounters this year by narrow margins.

Richburg will be out for revenge for all the close beatings they have taken this season.

The boys clad in Purple and White will have to play a great deal better than they have in the last few games to assure a victory.

A large crowd of students is expected to be present to lend moral support to the local quintet.

WILDCATS SWAMP JASPER 32-9

The local Jayvees took over the Jasper Reserves 32-9 last Friday evening to secure revenge for an early season defeat from the same team.

The locals were without their best guard, Jim Driscoll, who saw a great deal of action on the first team and played an outstanding game there.

The locals took an early lead on Shellman's basket work and increased it at every quarter.

"Zeke" Shellman was high for the locals with 14 points, followed by West and Ludden with six each.

Holt was high for Jasper with five points. MG

PURPLE PANTHERS LOSE TO JASPER BY 31 TO 29

A powerful Jasper five handed the locals their fourth defeat of the season last Friday evening on the local court by a narrow 31-29 score.

Jasper is tied for first place with Arkport in the Steuben C league and showed up with a smooth passing ball club.

Jasper held an 11-10 lead at the quarter, and a 20-13 lead at the half. During the third quarter the locals got under way and outscored Jasper 11-3. They held a 24-23 lead at the third quarter mark. Jasper pulled out of its third quarter slump and won the game during the last minute of play on a set shot by P. Cornell, Jasper's high scoring ace.

"Naze" Dolan played an outstanding game and totalled 14 points for the evening. "Whitey" Gorsuch and "Pepper" Ryan also totaled four each. P. Cornell was high for Jasper with 14 points.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:

I have been going with a man much younger than I for about five years. In fact, we started about a year after my husband's death. I looked on his attention as more or less of a joke when he first asked me for a date and had not the remotest idea of ever treating him seriously. But the more we went together the more congenial we found ourselves, and now we both find ourselves in love.

However, my mother is very much opposed to our marriage. She contends that I will be an old person, while my husband is still young. I am ten years older than he. What do you think about such a match?

Arkansas. G. L.

Answer:

The success of such a marriage depends on the disposition of the man and woman. I know of a couple who married years ago and who had about the same difference in their ages that you have. Apparently they have been very happy and no one thinks that she is older than he. She has taken very good care of herself during the years and has always dressed well and kept well-groomed. I imagine that it has taken real work and ingenuity on her part, however, to keep young. If a woman is willing to take the time and has the means, she can usually reduce her years by ten when it comes to looks.

On the other hand, the woman who lets herself go to pieces or is worn out by work and worry can become old before her time.

A sunny, happy disposition is always an asset when it comes to keeping young and a very cheerful, youthful looking woman of 40 might make a more agreeable companion than a pessimistic, sour-puss of 30.

The woman who marries a younger husband has a hard job cut out for her altho I shouldn't say that it was impossible to make a success of it. There will probably come a time when she will want to sit by the fireside and rest but feels that she dare not let the husband find his recreation without her. If her husband happens to be a quiet person who likes to stay at home, life will go along much smoother.

In your case, you two people have gone together long enough to know whether you are satisfied with each other or not. You should be able to judge pretty well by now whether he will be content with you or inclined to philander after a while.

Good luck. LOUISA.
