A. T. BACON, M. D.,
C. O. SAYRES, M. D.

Main street now-a-days, in fine evenings, has a very busy appearance.

Bryan goes into the Ohio campaign for Tom Johnson as a man who had everything to gain and nothing to lose.

Andover's fire laddies did themselves and the village proud at Cuba last Thursday. The old spirit to "get there" seems to still exist. Andover may not get there this year in base ball, but her laddies can get to a fire.

A man died in Oswego, who voted the straight Democratic ticket sixty two years. He was as much of a freak as the man who hasn't cut his whiskers since the defeat of Henry Clay. Maybe that's the reason some men wear whiskers.

Politics will be lively in Ohio and also in New York city during the next few months. Old Allegany isn't much disturbed. Hon. Jesse S. Phillips commands the esteem and respect of the voters and the size of majority is the only question.

Some of the busiest people in town are the members of the Board of Education. Many people little realize the great amount of time and thoughts they are giving in the interest of the tax-payers. The district is certainly to be congratulated in so fine a body of thoughtful, careful men and women.

Water Supplies. Ithaca had a terrible experience a year ago with typhoid fever, caused by impurity of water. The city's water commissioners have been drilling artesian wells, and have met with gratifying success. A vein of water was recently struck which yields 800,000 gallons a day. The citizens of Ithaca are to be congratulated, and the large body of students at Cornell will rest easy in a degree of safety. Artesian water must be vastly superior to any surface water. Too much care cannot be taken of the water supply for any people. Our village has as good water as can be gotten, but care should be taken of its means of supply. The hydrants should be flushed at recent intervals, thus cleansing the pipes, and a step in the right direction was taken when the contract was let to cement the reservoir.

Rochambeau Avenue. A published call for a public meeting to consider the opening up of Rochambeau avenue has aroused some talk about the expediency of such action. The facts are that there is no present adequate outlet for the street that is to lead down to the silk factory and stamping works. It will not be many moons before a large number of pedestrians will need to make their way to the places of industry. As it stands now, there is no room for a sidewalk, which should be there, for it cannot be expected that men and women will be pleased to wade thru slush and mud in the stormy seasons. Then the prospect of new buildings being built in and around the factories will demand a street. But if it must be, the cost and taxation should come from those most benefited.

SCHOOL AND METHODS.

The most cynically inclined person cannot but take pleasure in the new school building now that, as the work progresses, outlines of its beauty and thoughts of its usefulness can be discerned by even the lay mind. That it will be a pride of the people, a benefit to the community and pupils, is only to repeat what has already been evident to the district. However, to meet the full measure of its anticipated success, not only the building is needed, but some of the old antiquated methods of teaching might be improved upon, and the pupil get the benefit of approved modern methods. The old methods with its three Rs is antiquated, its time of service has expired. The rules and methods were needed in those days when cramming thru book methods that people called "book learning" were all that were required; but with the advance of civilization, the passing of the "log school house," the "birch rod'" and "back breaking benches," new ways of living made new requirements and these cannot all be found in the books. The child is known now as something better than a machine that parrot like, must repeat rules and analysis; their receptive and expressive facilities are appealed to, and his individual thoughts cared for. Thus the mechanical repetitions of the alphabet and the a-b ab are obsolete. The Kindergarten came, appealed to the reason of the child, and opened up a new and wonderful field to the "child mind," and the child knew its alphabet, reading and arithmetic, without the mechanical process which destroyed individual thinking and the modern methods that teach the child nature. Nature studies, music and art, opens up the realization to the child that his is not only a machine, but a part of a living world that has much of usefulness. The mind is broadened and the questions that are apt to come of ethics, sociology or practical life can be met and solved from higher points of vantage because of such broad training. So then not only a modern building, but modern methods. Natural methods of teaching need to be employed. Our teachers are ready. Much has been done and with a Board of Education working along natural method lines, in harmony with faculty and patrons, the pupil can face the world not as an automaton merely, but as a being with ideas and self reliance that contribute much to success in our practical work-a-day world. A start has been made, and good citizens should encourage the Board and faculty to extend those methods and withhold all criticisms until new methods have been tried and found impracticable. Such studies as color work, art, music, or politeness, carefulness in attire, all go to make up in culture, and are not all found in the books. The wideawake 20th century child gets much by contact and observation.

Then with a well equipped modern plant, why nothave a teachers' training class? Let the work broaden out. It's only a matter of self protection, (if you want to view it that way). A teachers' training class would furnish young men and women teachers to the districts round about, and then pupils equipped and fully furnished with modern methods and ideas would come to the High School. But, oh the expense! Say some. One of the fine things about the New York state system of education is, that, if a school with approved equipment can secure a class of ten for the teachers' course, the State Board will pay the teacher. Then why not Andover High School have a teachers' training class? It would mean thoroly equipped teachers and that certainly means better trained pupils. Perhaps there is or will be no better time to improve on methods, and advance the training class idea than now.

Civic Pride. Civic pride was never more manifest or emphatically shown as in the recent work of our citizens in regard to sidewalks. It's only a few years ago, when the sidewalks of Andover were a delusion and an abomination. Now be it said to the honor of her people, in two years her system of stone sidewalks cannot be excelled by any village of her size in south-western New York. And all this has been brought about with very little discord and wrangle. The "kickers (and they were not such only in the sense of honest difference of opinion) forgot even their objections and with a public spirit highly commendable haye been large and important factors in Andover's improvements. That spirit of fairness and ready to come half way means very much for the future, and assures the village prosperity. The Board of Trustees have had some severe criticisms at times, but the people are kindly remembering that they are but human and at heart are sacrificing for Andover's beauty.

Those Democratic newspapers that expected political capital out of the postoffice investigation are much chagrined at President Roosevelt's orders to probe the matter to the bottom, no matter who becomes involved.

Low, the Nominee. The conference of the Fusionists in New York city last Wednesday evening united upon the re-nomination of Seth Low for Mayor. The whole country will be interested in the outcome of New York city's election. Mr. Low has made an enviable record for himself as a fusionist Mayor. The city government has been maintained at less expense, the shameful collecting of fees from immoralists has been abolished, the police department has been raised to a higher standard, and Tammany's power broken. The outlook at present for the success of Low is bright, with Bill Devery in the field, and probably Nixon on an Independent Democratic ticket, and Tammany will probably nominate a reputable man, but who will be compelled to wear the "Tammany Collar." It will be a close fight, but all lovers of decent government will hope for Low's success.

Rest Rooms. Here is an idea that some enterprising merchant or perhaps all the merchants might get together and inaugurate. They are always keeping an eye open for business out "west," and a very happy and sensible provision is made for shoppers by furnishing a "rest room." This room or rooms is comfortably and tastefully fitted up with chairs, lavatories, closets, reading rooms and places for rural visitors to eat their lunch and even places where parcels may be checked. Now that's an idea. We have heard it said that the men had been going to other towns because of the fact that liquid refreshments could not be obtained under sanction of the law. Now here is a remedy, if the merchants of Andover would fit up such a room there would be an increase of trade and an advertisement for Andover. A "rest room" would be an excellent venture. Try it.

Not to Be Lost Sight Of. The canal question, the defeat of the proposition to spend $101,000,000 on a barge canal, rests with the voters in the agricultural districts. The Buffalo News says the question is a business one and not political. We are inclined to the belief that the question has been made a political one by the sponsorship given it by men in both political parties. It certainly is not good business policy for the taxpayers to spend so large a sum for a barge canal, the depth of which the Canadians found not sufficient. Be it a political question or a business proposition, if you want the canal proposition defeated, agitate and vote against it and get your friends to do likewise.

When the silk mill gets in operation and the building is lighted with electric lights, it will make a brilliant appearance from the trains on winter evenings.

NOT A BIT TOO SOON

to begin to think of fall—not in the Tailoring business. Our thoughts have to be a couple of months ahead of the season's needs. For quite a while we've been getting ready to do the biggest fall's trade that we've ever done. We'll have everything to do it with—the facilities—the help—the goods.

Some new patterns already in—more—many more on the way—bought from any place where it was necessary to go to get the needful everything.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

REPORTORIAL.

Still more new walks.

Still more new side walks.

The "is it hot enough for you" fellow had an inning this week.

Consistency is a jewel, but some people regard jewelry a luxury.

Is it because talk is cheap that women indulge in it to such an extent?

Over one hundred new volumes came to replenish the shelves of the Free Library this week.

Some scoundrel stole the gum machine on the outside of H. H. William & Co.'s store Tuesday night.

The town board of Friendship has appointed Thomas Wardner town clerk in place of Mark Wightman.

The way matters now stand the west side of Main street will not be outdone in the matter of walks by those on the east side.

Talk about degeneratse! Burgulars broke into a house in Bloomfield, N. J., played ping-pong, smoked cigaretts and then eloped with the silver.

Democratic Caucus.

The Democratic electors of the town of Andover met at Prest's Opera House last Saturday evening and elected the following delegates to attend the Democratic County Convention at Cuba this week Tuesday: Henry Horan, John Casey, James O'Leary and L. C. Van Fleet.

To Locate in Andover.

F. R. Ball of Delevan, N. Y., was in Andover Tuesday with the idea of locating in Andover a first class bakery. He is now conducting such an establishment in Delevan which he proposed moving here. He intimated to the News that things looked very favorably for him here, and he thought November 1st would see him doing business in Andover. He comes well recommended.

JAMES THORNTON DEAD.

The Passing of a Prominent Wellsville Business Man.

James Thornton died at his home in Wellsville Wednesday morning of stomach trouble, from which he has been a sufferer for many years. He was 64 years of age. The funeral will be held to-day from the family home on North Main street, Wellsville.

Broke Thru Bridge.

Alva Slocum, in crossing the Baker street bridge with a heavily loaded wagon last Saturday broke thru the bridge. Little damage was suffered. The bridge was known to be none too strong, and Mr. Slocum had on a large load of green lumber. Because the lumber was long and extended out over the end of the back bolster, the hind wheels were held up so they did not go to the bottom of the creek. Commissioner Rollins will undoubtedly soon have the bridge repaired and in running order.

New Erie Bridge Over Dyke's Creek.

The Erie pile driver crew is at work at Dyke's creek bridge in Wellsville, where a large number of piles are being driven, for a temporary bridge preparatory to taking down the present iron bridge, which will be replaced by a heavier and stronger one, similary to those in use along this division. It is rumored that in making the changes preparations will also be made for increasing the width of the abutments so as to provide for a double track. The new iron bridge is at present in the Erie yard here—Wellsville Reporter.

Assessors' Notice of Final Completion of Roll.

Notice is hereby given that the Assessors of the town of Andover have finally completed and verified the Assessment Roll of the town of Andover for the year 1903 and delivered the same to L. A. Burrows, Town Clerk of said town of Andover, where the same will remain for public inspection for a period of fifteen days from this date.

Dated Andover, the 7th day of September 1903.

A LIEN ON NEW BUILDING.

One of the Masons Forced to Take Advantage of the Lien Law to Get His Pay.

George W. Mead has filed a lien against Andover High School and others for $82.10. It being for labor done on the masonry work of the new school building. It seems that the contractors, Oak Duke & Co., who are erecting the building sub-let the masonry work to one Fred Paine. He in turn hired George Mead of this place to work for him. For some reason Paine and the Duke Company had a falling out, and Paine is no longer doing the work, neither did he settle with his men for the work he hired them to do, so Mr. Mead, in order to get his pay, was obliged to take out a mechanic's lien on the property. The outcome of the case will be watched with considerable attention.

EXPLOSION OF PAINT BARREL.

Lighted a Match to See Why Paint Didn't Run Faster—Found Out.

D. K. Porter, of the firm of Porter & Richardson, had a little unpleasant experience Monday. Going to the cellar to draw a quantity of roofing paint in the dark, Mr. Porter thought the measure not filling as rapidly as it should, and lighted a match to find the reason and incidentally to ascertain how much paint there was in the barrel. He found out. There isn't any now. It's all over the cellar bottom. D. K. is shy a portion of that pretty black mustache. The loss is a total one as "Lant" carries no insurance.

Democratic County Convention.

Pursuant to call, the Democratic County Convention was pulled off at Cuba Tuesday with thirty-two delegates present. Following are the nominees:

For member of assembly, Ebenezer S. Bartlett, of Belfast; for sheriff, Michael Holland, of Hume; for superintendent of poor, D. C. Grunder, Angelica; for county clerk, Frank Todd, of Cuba; for coroners, Drs. A. A. Elliot, Willing, C. R. Bowen, Almond.

It will be noticed the party has endorsed one republican candidate, D. C. Grunder, for superintendent of the poor. Their candidate for county clerk is so objectionable that the Allegany County Democrat, their official paper, refused to place his name under the editorial head, and in its stead occurs five cyphers.

An Excellent Meeting.

The Ladies' Missionary Circle of the Baptist church held a large and interesting meeting at Miss Lydia Benton's, last week. The fall work opens auspiciously. Plans are being laid for a fine program and speakers from out of town for the next meeting. It will be held at Mrs. Wm. Orvis' Oct. 13th.

The Delineator for October.

Conspicuous among the October Fashion magazines is the Delineator. It presents charming and up-to-date Autumn styles, valuable illustrated articles on topics of fashion, as well as literary contents of a high standard. Of particular interest are the articles on the Child's Room, on Gardening, on Housekeeping and Culinary topics, on the Hygiene of Clothing, the College and Club Notes, etc.

Allegany Federation of Clubs Meet at Fillmore.

The Allegany Federation of Womens' Clubs will hold its ninth annual convention at Fillmore October 16th, 1903.
