Balmaceda's House the First Destroyed—The City Panic-Stricken—Business Suspended and the People Keep Close to Their Homes—The Police and Fire Departments Thoroughly Demoralized.

VALPARAISO, Chile, via GALVESTON, Texas, Aug. 31.—The Chacabuco regiment of the Congressional army took formal possession of Santiago last night, and practically the last act in the bloody drama of revolution which has torn Chile in pieces for the past seven months is closed.

As soon as the news reached Santiago of the overwhelming defeat of the government troops on the heights of Placilla and the fall of Valparaiso, and the people knew that Balmaceda's power was gone and they had nothing to fear from his wrath, their enmity to his government broke forth.

The cry was raised that the President should be killed, and a mob started for his house.

It grew in numbers and fury as it went through the streets, and by the time it reached the executive mansion was ripe for any bloody deed.

Then the mob's desire for revenge found vent in the application of the torch. Soon Balmaceda's house was a mass of flames.

Then the residence of Balmaceda's mother, General Barbosa, who was killed at the battle of Placilla, Senor McKenney and Eastman, the government newspaper offices and the houses of several prominent officials were burned.

The city was panic-stricken, business was suspended, and people outside of the mob, kept close to their houses.
