New Auto Stamp On Sale At Post Office

June 9.—Collector of Internal Revenue George T. McGowan announced today that auto use tax stamps in the denomination of $5.00 will be placed on sale in all postoffices and offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue on Wednesday, June 10. The stamps will evidence payment of the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1942, and must be purchased on or before that date. The stamps will be serially numbered, will be gummed on the face, and will have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, serial number and State license number of the vehicle.

The collector said he had been advised by the Office of Price Administration that, in the issuance and use of gasoline rationing books, an important identification will be the serial number printed on the use tax stamp. In those areas where gasoline is being rationed and in those areas where gasoline will be rationed, possession of the stamp evidencing payment of the use tax on motor vehicles will provide one of the necessary means of identifying the coupon book with the vehicle in the securing of gasoline.

Mr. McGowan said that, to guard against loss or theft, it has been suggested that, when affixing the stamps, the vehicle owned should dampen the windshield rather than the adhesive side of the stamp. This method has been recommended to keep the stamp intact upon the windshield. As an additional precaution, it has also been suggested that each motor vehicle should make a record of the serial number which appears on the use tax stamp in order that there may be some means of identification in connection with gasoline rationing in the event the stamp should become lost.

Every owner of a motor vehicle which is used upon the highways should call at his local postoffice or at the office of the Internal Revenue Collector and secure a $5.00 use tax stamp and affix it to his vehicle on or before July 1, 1942, the Collector said. The various postoffices will sell the stamps over the counter for cash only and no mail order business with respect thereto will be conducted by the postoffices. Collectors of Internal Revenue are authorized to accept cash, postoffice money orders, and certified checks in payment of the use tax stamp. However, as revenue stamps have an intrinsic value, uncertified checks will not be accepted in payment therefor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE RISEN CHRIST AND HIS DISCIPLES

International Sunday School Lesson for June 1942.

GOLDEN TEXT :"Ye are witnesses of these things." Luke 24:48.

*Lesson Text: Luke 24: 33-48.)

Jesus was buried late Friday evening, following the crucifixion. Two prominent Jews attended to his burial.

Joseph of Arimathaea, a member of the Sanhedrin, was bold enough to request the body from Pilate and give to it a place of interment in his own new tomb excavatd in the rock.

Nicodemus, one of the rulers, who early in the ministry of Jesus came to him by night, also assisted him. As it was almost the beginning of the Sabbath the process of embalming was very hastily done.

The three-day period foretold by Jesus passed, not three days as we count them, but according to the Jewish method, that is, part of Friday, all of Saturday and part of Sunday, during which time Jesus was in the tomb.

Early Sunday a group of faithful women proceeded to the tomb to complete the embalming which the two men had hurriedly done Friday evening. To their sprprise they were met by angels who advised them that Jesus had risen. They hurried back with the news, and immediately Peter and John proceeded to investigate the report. Peter entered into the tomb and found the grave-clothes perfectly arranged but the body of Jesus was gone.

The first appearance of Jesus was to Mary Magdalene. This is noteworthy in an age when women were not regarded as highly as now. Shortly afterwards he appeared to the other women of the party. The first man who saw Jesus was Simon Peter, although we have no details of this appearance, it being merely stated that he appeared to Peter.

We have a very good account of the appearance of Jesus to two disciples, not apostles, walking from Jerusalem to Emmaus, a village about seven miles from Jerusalem. These two men were discussing the various events of the recent past when Jesus joined them, and in answer to his questions they told him briefly about Jesus and his work, how he had been killed and with him the hope that he would redeem Israel, and then of the strange story from some that he had risen from the dead. In his conversation Jesus referred to the many scriptural passages about his career and interpreted to them the application to himself.

In this interpretation, we may be sure that Jesus stressed such facts as these, pointed out by C. R. Erdman: "The Scriptures contain authoritative messages concerning Christ: these messages can be understood only by those who believe in Christ; and are guided by him; the essential truths concerning Christ center in the facts of his death and resurrection; in witness of the salvation thus secured, repentance and forgiveness of sins can be preached; this salvation is to be proclaimed in all the world; the followers of Christ are the messengers by whom this good news is to be made known; the power for such proclamation is imparted by the Spirit of Christ who was manifestd in new power on the Day of Pentecost, and who is now an Abiding Presence and Source of limitless strength to all who seek to do the will of Christ and to glorify his name.".

At length. Jesus revealed his identity to these disciples who returned to Jesusalem and found ten of the apostles together, discussing the appearance of Jesus to Peter. The Savior appeared then to this group and a week later to the eleven apostles to convince Thomas, who had been absent the preceding week. Several other appearances during the forty days are also given us. Jesus appeared to seven fishermen led by Peter, to all the apostles and to a large gathering of five hundred, also to his brother James who became, as a result, a leader in the early church, and, finally, on the occasion followed by his ascension from the Mount of Olives.

We cannot understand the mystery of the nature of Jesus during this period. He passed unimpeded through the doors as if spiritual, yet he exhibited his wounds and ate food as if material. Perhaps his form was interchangeable.

So, the ascension is a mystery to us but, as J. Paterson Smyth says, "We believe that the invisible event which we call the ascension was his kindly condescension to simple human minds. We naturally connect that higher life which is beyond our present comprehension with the blue heavens above, or the starry heights beyond the blue. In concession to this simple thought, instead of just disappearing, as at other times, he rose from the earth and a cloud received him. It only means that he had passed from our present sphere of existance to another sphere beyond our own."

YOUR CAR

How to Get the MOST out of it

TO CHANGE OR NOT TO CHANGE

Whether to change crankcase oil and if so how often are subjects of perennial argument among motorists. Under ideal conditions oil would last a long time, although tests indicate that even then it would in time get "tired" and not do as good a job. However, conditions are never ideal. Cars are driven fast, dust and dirt get in despite filters, water condenses and mixes with the oil, gasoline leaks past the cylinders, carbon is washed down.

All of these things accumulate rather slowly, but they do make it necessary to change oil at reasonably regular intervals.

Some things to keep in mind in connection with oil are:

A dirty filter is no better than none at all.

Heavier oil does not necessarily provide safer lubrication. Frequently, the reverse is nearer the truth. Engines today are built tighter and run faster. If oil is too heavy it will not readily flow between the closely fitted moving parts.

Don't forget to warm the engine before draining the crankcase. Cold oil is like cold molasses.

Don't worry if your car consumes a small amount of oil between changes. That's natural even with normal driving. No harm is being done even if the oil level is as much as a quart below the full mark.

Furlough Plan For New Selectees to Start on June 15

Second Corps Area and Selective Service in New York State have agreed that the new procedure of granting 14-day furloughs immediately after induction shall go into effect on June 15, according to an announcement by Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, State Director of Selective Service.

Any New York registrants inducted on and after June 15 will come under the new plan. Registrants inducted prior to that date will be granted furloughs at the Reception Center, providing they bring with them letters from two responsible citizens, certifying to the need of the furloughs, and the recommendation of their local board that a furlough be granted. Under present procedure, however, furloughs granted by the Reception Center commander are limited to ten days or less.

Furloughs will be granted automatically under the new plan, General Brown said. After being given the Army physical examination at the Induction Station, those who fail to pass the test will be rejected and will return home. Registrants who pass the examination and are accepted for military service, will be inducted and given their choice of going to the Reception Center without returning home or of being transferred to the Enlisted Reserve with permission to return home on a 14-day furlough. The Army will furnish transportation, meals, and if necessary, lodging of the reservist enroute to the city in which the local board is located and from that point to the Reception Center.

At the end of the 14-day period, the reservists will assemble at a place determined by the local board with which they are registered, and will travel in a group to the Reception Center to which they are ordered. Send-off ceremonies will no longer be held in connection with the departure of men for the Induction Station, but may be held when the reservists depart for the Reception Center.

General Brown stated that with the adoption of the new procedure local boards will not furnish for publication lists of registrants called for induction, but will provide newspapers with lists of the men who have been accepted at the Induction Station and inducted into the Army.
