He, Too, Lived in Andover.
William A. Sutherland, of Rochester, the Republican nominee for Attorney General of this State, lived and taught school in Andover about fifteen years ago, and there are many people here who remember him well. Several of the older members of the alumni now residing here and elsewhere, were his pupils. He has since attained great distinction as an attorney, and his nomination for the high office is evidence of his great ability. His father was a Methodist minister and preached here eight years ago, being succeeded by Rev. R. C. Grames.
