What Colombia Now Wants.

Colombia has at last told us exactly what she wants for the canal concession—$25,000,000 cash and sovereignty over the waterway when built.

This information arrived by the hand of a diplomatic agent, Senor Arcinigas, who reached Washington a few days ago. He has the good sense not to attempt to argue the justice of such demands; he merely tells us with engaging frankness that Colombia needs the money to replenish her treasury after a long revolution and that she will wait until we are willing to pay her price. She will not entertain offers from any other power, says the accredited diplomat, while she is waiting for us to come to terms.

This is very kind on the part of the Colombians, but the chances are that they will have to wait a good while before these terms are accepted.

THE ANDOVER NEWS.

VOL. XVII., NO. 44. ANDOVER, ALLEGANY COUNTY, N. Y., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1903. TERMS: One Dollar a Year, 2 Cents a Single Copy

SUPERVISOR HENRY STEPHENS.

The NEWS presents to its readers this week the above picture of Henry Stephens, re elected Supervisor of the town of Andover last Tuesday, after one of the most hotly contested campaigns ever known in the town. He was born in Canaan, Litchfield county, Conn., August 31, 1851. In 1864 he moved to the town of Caneadea, Allegany county, where he lived until removing to Andover in 1895, having been a resident of this county nearly 40 years. He has been entrusted by his fellow townsmen with many offices of trust, being 5 years assessor of the town of Caneadea, and resigning from the Board of Education of Andover High School to accept the position of Supervisor of this town.

REPUBLICANS VICTORIOUS

Almost Every Section of The Empire State, With the Exception of New York City Make Republican Gains.

REPUBLICANS GAIN SEVEN ASSEMBLYMEN

Phillips Majority in the County About 3,200.—Barge Canal Proposition Carried with Nearly 175,000 Majority.—In Town Offices Every Republican Nominee Was Elected, License Granted the Hotels and Drug Stores.

The Grand, Old Republican Party, the party of protection and prosperity, received another high compliment at the hands of the electors Tuesday. Not only did old Allegany roll up her usual majority, but thruout the entire state the voters signified their approval of the manner in which the government has been handled under the leadership of the party that does things.

Assemblyman Phillips will go back to Albany for the fourth time this winter. The majority of over 3,200 can but assure him of the hearty approval of the manner in which he has conducted Allegany county's interests in the Assembly the past three years. This year he will have seven more republican co-workers than last.

Locally the battle was waged on both sides to the limit; but the victory is all the sweeter, and not one of the candidates carried at the editorial head of the NEWS met defeat, the entire Republican ticket being elected by majorities ranging from 43 to 155.

As an evidence of the closeness of the local contest, 22 votes changed from republican to the democratic would have elected their supervisor.

The hotels were given license by 32 majority, and the drug stores by 48.

Another point Andover people may well be proud of: the vote against the barge canal steal was the largest of any in the county in proportion to the number of votes cast, 404 against and 27 for.

Below we give the vote of Andover complete.

WELLSVILLE NEWS

Serious Accident Caused by Sheer Carelessness.

MEN, NOT BOYS DEPREDATORS.

and Society Personal News From the Tan Bark City.

A very serious, and what came near being a fatal accident occured Saturday afternoon on main street. Hyslip's delivery team was in the rear of the store and were left untied, while the man was loading up for delivery. They became frightened and ran out into Main street and went in the direction of McEwen's shops. Mrs. Allen Smith was driving into town and when near Rauber's furniture store, the runaway struck the wagon in which Mrs. Smith was, and by the force of the collision was thrown several feet into the air, and in falling struck the hub and the pavement breaking the nose from the skull, and fracturing the skull, and making a bad cut on the back of the head. She was taken to the office of Dr. Kinney, who dressed the wounds, and under whose skillful treatment she is doing well; and hopes are entertained of her recovery. She was later taken to the home of Othello Cooper on South Main street. This is one of a number of accidents resulting from the carelessness of drivers in leaving their teams unhitched in the streets. Our city fathers should wake up and put an ordinance on the books with a heavy penalty for its violation; and then see to it that our so called policemen enforce the ordinance, or get some men who will do it.

The Reporter in speaking of the vandalism of Halloe'en night, attributes the depredations to small boys. It may be the fact that some small boys were about, long after curfew rung, and should have been arrested by the policemen, or at least escorted home, and they doubtless did some funny things, but the greater part of the work was done by boys of a larger growth, so called men. They are violaters of the laws. They break into churches, and other places and destroy property, and make it very unpleasant for the people. If we had policemen who were any good at all for any thing else than the drawing of their salary this despicable work would cease. The Reporter knows the aggressors were men, or grown up boys who call themselves men, and should have spoken out strongly on the matter, and help to create a sentiment that would overcome this criminal foolishness, but evidently were afraid to do so.

Fine weather for election. The greatest strife here is on the excise question. Union meetings have been held for several Sunday evenings, two in the theatre, at which stronge speeches have been made in favor of no-license. The best the whisky people can do is to get up roast pig lunches. We hope the manhood of the village will assert itself and vote out the curse from among us.

The Clark & Norton Company are tearing down the old tannery buildings on the east side of the street, in preparation for the rearing of shops for their works. This looks quite good for Wellsville. The old tannery has been idle so long, to see the prospects of a business place going up is encouraging for the business interests of the city.

Dr. Dryer of the M. E. church has organized a class for the study of Church History. The Dr. has written a very interesting history of the Christian Church and has made a very careful study of the subject and will make a very interesting teacher.

Editor Thornton and bride of the Belmont Despatch are spending a few days in town before taking up their home in Cuba. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Roscoe Duke, son of Oak Duke, is quite ill with gastric fever. Dr. Stockton of Buffalo was called here for counsel yesterday. Hopes are entertained for his recovery.

There are several ordinances that should be enforced by our policemen that they seem to ignore, especially if it be certain people who violate them.

The Suffin block on the corner of Fassett and Main is rapidly assuming beautiful proportion. It will be one of the nicest business blocks in the city.

The funeral services of Charles Duke were held from the home of A. J. Applebee on Saturday afternoon, and largely attended.

The funeral services of Russell Heers, son of Charles and Louisa Heers, was held from the Baptist church Monday afternoon.

PASSING OF S. L. STANTON

VICE PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL PROTECTIVE LEGION.

Death's Sudden Summons to an Active Worker—One of the Organizers of Andover Legion.

Sheldon L. Stanton died at his home at Inavale Sunday morning of heart disease. Saturday he was attending to business matters in Friendship in his usual good health, but upon reaching home was stricken with heart disease and died early Sunday. Mr. Stanton with his brother-in-law, M. E. Slade, was one of the organizers of the National Protective Legion of Andover, and was well and favorably known here. He had but recently been engaged on a salary to work for that organization and was preparing to remove his family to Waverly, the head office of the National Legion. Last week he held an auction disposing of his farm stock and machinery and was to load his household goods at Friendship Monday. His son George is in business at Waverly, where he is manufacturing a patent building stone.
