A NEAT LITTLE BOOK.

Erie's Industrial Commissioner Doing Good Work.

A neatly folded little map showing the extent of the Erie railroad system and called "A Commanding Territory" has just been sent out by Luis Jackson, industrial commissioner in New York. The territory thru which the Erie line proper and its various tributaries pass is divided into sections, the products of which are marked in red letters, such as "coal," "oil," and "gas."

In justifying the heading of "A Commanding Territory" a statement is made which outlines the advantages of the country shown.

PURE FOOD LAW NOW IN EFFECT.

The Law Very Explicit,—and Provides a Severe Penalty for Its Violation.

Village merchants and their customers may be interested to know that the pure food law enacted by the legislature last winter is now in full effect, and hereafter all groceries, provisions, extracts and confections which contain anything injurious to the public health must be labelled to show just what the goods are and must not be sold for pure articles. In defining what constitutes adulterated food the bill is very explicit and provides a severe penalty in cases where customers are deceived.

Willard D. Howe.

The work of Willard D. Howe, impersonator at Prest's Opera House Wednesday night, was superb. Not a flaw could anyone pick in his work. The universal opinion was that in these impersonations nothing better has ever been in Andover.

Clarence Robbins Dead.

The report reached Andover Saturday that Clarence Robbins was dead of consumption at his home in Mecklenburg, N. Y. Mr. Robbins was in Andover all last winter and during his stay here became very popular with the young people who will sincerely mourn his untimely end.

THE OLD RELIABLE

Struck Oil at Wellsboro, Pa.

Considerable excitement was created last week at Watrous on account of a big oil well having been struck on the east bank of Pine creek. It is situated near enough to the Watrous field to insure its being a good stayer, and it starts off with a production that entitles it to be classed among the big wells of the field. The fact that it is so far west encourages the belief that the field may be extended in a southwest direction.

Wm. Mullen visited at Cameron Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Archie Bawles of Canisteo visited Floyd Bassett Friday and Saturday.

G. H. Bassett of Woodhull visited relatives here last week.

E. J. Conklin met with quite an accident. In letting a barrel of Cider in the cellar it got the advantage of him and caught his hand in the door casing and took one finger off leaving it in his mitten.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bassett visited at Whitesville one day last week.

Floyd Spenser was at Barney's Mills Thursday.

Bank Money Orders.

The national banks of the country might add very materially to their popularity and usefulness by establishing a method for the transfer of money which would be less cumbersome and slow than the system now employed by the postal department and express company.

What the business people of the country need is a system by which Jones in Atlanta, Ga., for instance, can go to a bank and deposit $100, or any other sum, to be paid to Brown in New York or Seattle on the same day by a bank in either of those cities. The bank in the receiving city notifies Smith that it has the sum to his credit, and that, with his identification, enables him to get it at once. The cost of the transfer, including telegram and bank commissions, is held out of the remittance or arranged between Jones, who pays it, and Brown, who is the beneficiary.

A similar system has long been in vogue in Germany and has resulted in the marked facilitation of money exchanges within the empire, accommodating the public, hastening business and proving profitable to the related banks. Such an arrangement between national banks of this country would soon give them an immense volume of business annually, with profits better than ordinary exchange, and would do a public service that the people would not be slow to appreciate.

The industrial news is not all depressing. The big tin plate plant at New Castle, Pa., has started up again, setting 2,500 employees at work. A few more such items as this would make us all feel a little more cheerful.

The athletic directors of a western college have forbidden the football players to attend dances. Possibly this is on the supposition that they may learn to be gentlemanly.

It would be interesting to know whether either the czar or emperor was inoculated with peace germs when they kissed each other the other day.

It is time to begin to think about getting the money with which to buy Christmas presents.

BARNEY MILLS.

Well No. 12 on the Adelbert Austin lease drilled in recently is proving the best well in this field and now after ten days pumping it is producing fifty barrels daily.

The new pump station of the Columbia Oil Co. was started Monday.

The Kerwin & Co.'s well No. 4 on the Killeber lot does not show up very good. It was shot last week.

Geo. Youngs is having trouble on No. 13 Austin lease and will have to use 5½ casing. Rig 14 on same lease will be completed Thursday.

The brick work is completed on A. Austin's new house.

Tracy & Co. are building a new rig on the Geo. McKinley farm.

A. Austin has timber on the ground for a rig in Genesee in what is called the Irish Settlement.

The production of this field is now 4500 barrels per month.

The suit between A. Austin and T. Kerwin was settled Monday out of Court.

Mrs. Thos. McCormick spent a few days of last week in Hornellsville. She was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Monohan.

Mrs. Peter Lee and son Ambrose of Buffalo are visiting relatives in town.

Miss Mary Fitz Patrick and cousins, Mary and John McCaw, who have been spending the summer in Rexville have returned to their home in New York.

Miss Genevieve Hamilton left Monday morning for Hornellsville where she is to learn the dressmaking trade.

The Pat Cosgrove well No. 2 has proved to be quite a good one.

Our B. B. B. column will sell it for you.

Only an Armistice in the Balkans.

Among other indications that the Balkan trouble is as far as ever from actual settlement is the fact that Boris Sarafoff, the Macedonian leader, who has been time and again reported slain, turns up in Sofia and receives an enthusiastic ovation in the Bulgarian capital. There will undoubtedly be a revival of the Balkan rising in the spring, for which the revolutionary leaders will make more thorough preparations during the winter.

Though the sultan has accepted the Austro-Russian demands, it is not at all likely that the reforms which he is therein pledged to make in Macedonia will be carried out in good faith. At the very moment of formal acceptance the porte is making every effort to cause the reforms to be of no effect. That will be done in a way long traditional at Constantinople. The most distasteful feature of the reforms is the provision for Christian "assessors" (inspectors) and officers of the gendarmerie. But there is a class of subsidized Christians kept for precisely such exigencies. So long as the sultan may have their nomination he need not fear excessive zeal from that quarter. No scheme of reform the working of which depends on the sultan is worth the paper it is written on, and the Macedonians know this better than any one else.

With rifles in sufficient supply, says that practiced observer, A. G. Hales of the London Daily News, the Macedonians could win their own independence. They will unquestionably keep up the fight until this is accomplished unless the European powers intervene. It is apparent that Austria and Russia, or, better, the European concert, must set up an autonomous administration in Macedonia or face the prospect of the insurrection renewing itself with increased bitterness in the coming spring.

According to the statement of the United States treasurer, the circulating medium has reached $29.99 for each of us. These look a good deal like bargain counter figures.

By this time the men who were let in on the ground floor of the steel combination are fully convinced that the basement was full of water.
