No Classifications In Co. Basketball This Winter

Leagues to be Made up of Nearby Schools to Save Transportation. Sectional Tournaments Elimated.

At the annual meeting of the Allegany County Athletic Association held in Belmont Thursday evening, October 1, it was voted to eliminate all "A", "B" and "C" classifications of size of schools and establish basketball leagues this winter on a purely geographic basis, thereby eliminating considerable transportation mileage.

A committee was appointed to study the situation and recommend school groupings at the next meeting of the association. Andover will probably be linked with Alfred-Almond, Whitesville, Wellsville, Scio Allentown and possibly Bolivar and Richburg.

The sectional tournaments at Alfred and at Rochester were eliminated because of transportation difficulties, but there probably will be a county play-off between sections.

It is believed that the use of school owned buses will be permitted by the State War Council, if number and length of trips can be reduced to a minimum.

ACS

Do Unto Others —

Posters are a very important part of the annual student council campaign. Much time and work is expended and in the construction of these bits of art. The students should be good enough sports to leave these posters where they are placed. Many complaints have been received that people from the different parties have torn down one another's posters. No one seems to know who does this, but the posters certainly don't detach themselves from their various places of repose.

Let's be good enough sports to leave posters where they belong.

ACS

I'm Happy Again!

I was happy as I jumped out of the bus. The bus and its load of ACS students always made me either very, very happy or very angry. This morning I was happy. I skipped up the stairs, only to be met by the editor of the Hi Herald staff with a fiendish glint in her eye. It settled upon me—for she asked me to write a poem for publication this week. Well apparently she didn't understand that poetry was "no go" with me.

So, after telling her that I despised trying to write poems, she said "O. K." How about a story or an essay?

I was overcome. My happiness had disappeared and was I feeling blue? I dragged into study hall and slumped down into my chair. She had said an essay. What would I write about? Why, everybody was talking, but what about. Well, I was missing something.

So I trotted over to the other end of the library and planted myself among a group of ambitious Co-operatives. They said, "are you a Co-operative," and I answered "Why, most certainly." So I joined in to make plans for the campaigning. I was once more happy. How could I help it? I was a jolly hard-working Co-operative and I was writing a story for the Hi Herald telling everyone to vote for the Co-operative candidates, Art Temple, Elaine Pope and Marilyn Hardy.

Obstinate

"Want any help, chum?" shouted a passerby to a driver who was trying to get a pair of mules thru a gate.

"No, I guess not," was the sad reply, "But I'd like to know how Noah got two of these blinkin' blighters into the Ark."

We All Had Fun During Vacation

Ruth Hardy and "Diz" Dunham rode horses and then tried to pick up potatoes. They succeeded!

Virginia Loring took up nursing during the week. Her mom was the patient. Poor her.

Two girls had a wonderful time at the skating rink Saturday night. Elaine didn't stay for the "Moonlight extra" but Marilyn did and she came back to school with an "inner glow."

Mary Baker worked at O'Laughlin's. We notice the embalming room and apparatus didn't get her down.

"Chuck" Holt and Claude Shellman drove Mr. Kent's truck instead of picking up his potatoes. Is there any truck left, boys?

The Wellsville school must be interesting. Pat Temple visited there one afternoon and attended one of their pep meetings. The meeting lasted about one half hour with only four cheers. The rest of the time was taken up making speeches, so you can't say anything about A. H. S.

We thought people were supposed to be rationed on gas and tires! George was seen driving his father's car around quite a lot.

"Dot" Baker rode to Wellsville on her bicycle with Elaine and the girls really had knees that "jingle, jangle, jingled" when they finally reached home.

Ruth Lynch decided that her bedroom needed painting so, with the help of Doris Sick, she went to work, and did a good (?) job.

Canisteo had a visitor for the whole week! 'B'arg" Childs reported "having a wonderful time."

The majority of the students picked up potatoes and made use of the vacation. Some of the pickers were Marion Stevens, Doris Mead, "Bebe" Dean, Jim Holt, Jim Driscoll, "Naz" Dolan and Miles Gorsuch.

Elaine and Art had fun skating at Funcrest, in spite of the fall while waltzing.

DON'T BE FOOLED BY A FULL JUNK YARD!

Don't listen to people who say—"They can't need scrap very badly. Look at that junk yard, or the auto graveyards—they've got plenty of scrap. And remember the last time we had a drive the stuff sat around for weeks." Tell such people these true facts . . .

Of course the junk yards are full. They are "factories" that turn out finished scrap—sorted, broken up, and bundled . . . ready for the mills of America. The scrap has to go through these yards, and it keeps going through fast!

The auto graveyards too, are busy. They specialize in used car parts, but produce plenty of scrap as well. In June alone, these yards moved 450,000 tons—for they are required to junk within 60 days as many cars as they buy.

As for Salvage Depots—communities all over the country are staging drives. All this scrap can't be taken away at once. The junkies can't handle it and the mills can't store it. But every pound is needed and will be used. We've got to pile it up ready for instant use at any time.

The day when all junk yards are empty, when the auto graveyards are cleaned out, when all the local scrap stockpiles are gone—that is the day to dread. It is a day to avoid at all costs.

So remember—steel is needed to fight the war, and millions of lives depend on it. This steel is made of 50% scrap—and the mills have not enough scrap to last even 30 days longer. Don't fail to do your part in this emergency.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:

I am a bride and am thinking of going to the town where my husband is stationed. As long as he was in the camp near my home town I stayed with my parents and he came in on the week-end and several time during the week. But now he has been transferred about five hundred miles away near a big city.

My parents object to my going because they think I will be so lonely with him away most of the time. Another problem will be finances as he doesn't make much money and I understand that the living expenses are so high in the city. But he keeps on begging me to come and I just don't know what to do. What would you advise?

RUBY T. — Mich.

Answer:

If you are prepared to hold down a job of any kind, it seems to me that the simplest solution of your problem is to try and get some work that you can do in the city near your husband's camp. That would give you something to do while he was away — thus keeping you from getting lonely and homesick. It would also help out your income and keep you both from worrying about the wolf at your door.

There are so many jobs waiting to be done that it is not as hard to get work now as it usually is. You will also feel that you are helping your country win the war by working instead of being idle. Good luck.

LOUISA.

Dead Louisa:

My daughter adores her teacher. She tries to dress and act like her. She also keeps her picture in her room. Do you think this is a wholesome thing?

MOTHER — Wis.

Answer:

All girls and boys go through a period of hero or heroine worship. It does them no harm and it serves a good purpose if the object of their affection happens to be a fine person.

Some girls have movie actresses as their ideals, or older girls and women. You are fortunate if the teacher your daughter adores is a nice, sensible woman.

LOUISA.

What you put off today you will likely put off tomorrow.

TO RELEASE FLOW OF LIVER BILE

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts tonight. Half an hour before breakfast, take as much as will lie on a dime in a glass of water (hot or cold) or in your morning cup of tea or coffee and keep this up for 30 days. Kruschen taken this way helps relieve such symptoms as sick headaches, bowel sluggishness and so-called bilious indigestion when due to insufficient flow of bile from the gall-bladder. You can get Kruschen, a famous English formula made in the U. S. A., at any drug store. You must be satisfied or money back.
