The RELIABE BAKERY

There are times when your cupboards are shy of good things to eat. A number of relatives or friends "drop in" for a day's visit and your wife is frantic because she "just can't find anything to serve for dinner." Then you go to the rescue as a man should, and hasten to Ball's bakery where everything bakable is baked. . . .

SLICK SWINDLER AT GENESEE.

SAID HE WAS THE SON OF GEORGE R. BROWN.

Where He Said His Father Was 83 Years Old the Business Men Caught On.

Genesee, Pa., is considerably excited over the peculiar species of humbug perpetrated upon its peaceful and law respecting citizens by a slick impostor, says the Elmira Telegram. As a smooth talker the fellow was one of the best and it is simply rare good luck that his depredations were not worse. He dropped into Genesee, which is soon to have a new brick manufactury, and the first thing he did was to represent himself as the son of George R. Brown, general manager of the New York & Pennsylvania railroad. He represented that he was the "owner with his father" and the active manager of the brick plants at Alfred and Corning and that instead of the original plans the new brick plant at Genesee would be a $100,000 concern and would make brick in immense quantities, employing hundreds of hands." Everything was moving along nicely and the stranger had fleeced several and was preparing to get in some big licks when he made a break that gave his game away. He stated that "G. R. Brown is 83 years old." As Mr. Brown has the appearance of a business man in the neighborhood of from 50 to 60 years old and well known in Genesee as he is thru this part of the state, the would-be victims tumbled. The result was that the sharper immediately disappeared and all efforts to locate him have been fruitless. Mr. Brown was then communicated with and promptly stated that he has no son. The exact amount of his speculations cannot be ascertained as some of the victims are not anxious to make known the fact that they were "taken in."

JUNE 21, AND AT CHICAGO.

THE TIME AND PLACE CHOSEN FOR THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

President Roosevelt Almost the Unanimous Choice of the National Committee for Re-Nomination.

By selecting June 21 and Chicago as the time and place for holding the next convention the Republican national committee has taken the first step in the coming presidential campaign. The meeting of the committee at the Arlington Hotel in Washington, under the chairmanship of Senator Hanna was harmonious. All questions brought before the body were settled amicably and without dissension, and after a cordial reception by President Roosevelt and a dinner by Senator Hanna the committeemen departed, well justified in their belief that Republican success at the election was assured.

Perhaps the most important result of the committee meeting was the almost unanimous expression of approval of the present Administration and the general assurance that President Roosevelt would be the choice of the convention for first place on the party ticket.

One small incident marred the general good feeling of the meeting of committeemen. A negro member of the committee was invited with the others to the dinner given by Senator Hanna. As the colored man entered the dining room a committeeman from North Carolina rose and left the room, declaring that he had come to the meeting as a gentleman and intended to leave it as one. His action was ignored as were the statements of the few committeemen who refused to join in the general indorsement of the President.

With a good record of party achievements, their candidate practically selected, and perfect harmony among the leaders and in the rank and file, the chances of a Republican victory were never brighter than they are to-day.

DO AS YOU WOULD BE DONE BY.

WHY NOT PAY FOR YOUR LOCAL PAPERS AS YOU DO FOR MAGAZINES.

After January 1st the NEWS Will be Sent to Those Only Who are Paid in Advance.

A curious thing that comes very forcibly to our notice is the fact that people never question the requirements of publishers of most magazines or newspapers that subscriptions must be paid in advance, while with the local or country papers the great majority seldom pay in advance. And yet the country or local paper is far more in need of the money than are the great dailies and magazines. The latter have capital back of them, while the country paper usually has to struggle to get enough to carry on its business. We wonder if there are any of our subscribers to whom it would make any particular difference if they paid their subscriptions in advance. It would only be a small amount to each subscriber, but to the publisher it means the loss of the use of the total subscriptions of all subscribers and much time in collecting. In the case of the NEWS it amounts to many hundreds of dollars. Dear readers, would it not be a good idea for each of you who are in the habit of waiting a year or more before paying for your paper to put in practice that Golden Rule, so much praised but seldom practiced, of doing as you would be done by, and send in your year's subscription? We think and the testimony of many is that we are furnishing you an excellent paper. There is no other country paper that excels the NEWS. Do you not think you ought to treat us as well as you do the publishers of the magazines, dailies and other papers that you take? We are offering you extraordinary inducements in our special clubbing rates for you to pay up, but if you do not want any of the publications we hope you will kindly consider the justice of our statement and remit your subscription for one year.

GREAT SCARCITY OF POTATOES.

CAUSES THE PRICE OF THE TUBERS TO RISE STEADILY.

Farmers Will Receive a Nice Profit from What Potatoes they Now Have for the Market.

The outlook in the potato market is not at all promising. In fact, it is causing concern to dealers and housewives. Owing to the short crops thruout the United States, the price is steadily advancing. In the last month it has advanced from fifty to sixty-five cents a bushel at retail.

Commission merchants say that as the crop in this section was rather small, and as a part of it has been damaged by cold weather, it will not be surprising if the price advances materially in the near future.

Commission merchants look for the price of potatoes to go higher after the first of the year. Receipts all over the country are light, which means higher prices. The trade hears that the only crops in the United States that amount to anything are in Pennsylvania and New York. These sections are supplying the United States as far west as Chicago. In the west and northwest there are practically no Irish potatoes this year. Heretofore these sections have been able to ship potatoes to the east.

The Maryland and Virginia crops, according to crop reports, are nearly exhausted. This scarcity means that all these sections are compelled to draw on New York and Pennsylvania.

In the past potatoes have been imported from Europe each year to supply the storage here, but all the crops over there failed this year. Consequently there will be no help from that quarter.

With this rise in the potato market there has occurred an uprush in the price of cabbage that has carried it to the highest level that has been reached in years. Danish cabbages are bringing as high as $20 a ton at wholesale. It is impossible to name the retail price as it depends on the size of the cabbage. Last year at this time cabbages were so plentiful that farmers were giving them away.

On Keeping Christmas.

Christmas has been so long associated in the popular mind with the exchanging of gifts that we have lost somewhat the real meaning of these gifts, which are, indeed only intended as symbols of love and good-will. Only to children do we give with that freedom and spontaneity which makes the gift more precious to the giver than to the recipient. To get as much as possible of this real old Christmas spirit toward one's fellows should be the engaging business of every one. We must be good to somebody on Chrigtmas Day, and after buying toys for the children no one thing occurs to us that is so easy to accomplish and so full of results as taking a little thought for the lonely. Christmas is a festival of the family. But how many among our acquaintances are there who have no families; how many excellent old bachelors and lonely old ladies! We do not mean the poor—there are plenty of philanthropists to look after them, and they are usually well blessed with families; but a man may be as rich as Crœsus, and yet if he has no place to eat but a hotel he is poorer at Christmas than an Irishman with six children and only money enough for one meal. He belongs to a class which may well be an object of your solicitude. Perhaps they could buy you out thrice over, but you have a home and they have not. Be good to them—ask the lonely man to dinner. It is not for the dinner's sake, but the spirit in which you make them guests at your house, that these lonely people will bless you. And when they have told a story at your board, and dandled the children (if by good luck you have any), and sat about the fire in the evening, how much cheered and bettered they will go away: how it will warm their hearts to feel that somebody cared enough for them to ask them to be members of a family even for a day. That is all Christmas is for—to show other people that we love them, and to learn and be cheered by the thought that there are people who care about us. The unattached people scrape along after a fashion during the year, but at the holiday season they are in a cold world, and then, if ever, do they crave the thing which never comes truly into their lives; and you, if you have a home—only a little one—share it on Christmas Day with some friends who have none.—December Woman's Home Companion.

Did You Ever Think of This?

A newspaper has a legal right to publish whatever an individual has a legal right to circulate orally. In other words, an individual has no more right to make criticism and accusations on the street than a newspaper has in its columns. This is something the average man doesn't know: if he did he would keep his mouth closed more than he does.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Phi chapter, Theta Phi fraternity, held a special meeting Wednesday night and initiated Paul Dean into the mysteries of the greatest high school fraternity in existence.

Invitations have been issued by Phi chapter for a party and supper to be held at Prest's Opera House on Wednesday evening, December 28. The Theta Phi orchestra, composed of Frank Bloss, E. E. Hamilton, Miss Van Fleet and Mrs. Crandall will render music for the event which promises to be one of the finest of the season. The decorating committee has taken the hall in charge and is trimming and festooning it in a most becoming manner.

Classes of 1904 and 1905 were organized this week. Class colors were chosen and officers elected. Below we give the names of the members of the classes.

On December 18 school will close until January 4, thus giving the pupils and instructors a well-deserved vacation of two weeks. This is the last week that school will be held in the old building as the new school house will be ready for occupation by the new year. Pupils and teachers are as happy over the thoughts of reopening school in the new building as a little boy with a tin sword, and well have they occasion to be. No doubt activities in the educational line will go on with greater force than ever before, and 'tis safe to prophesy the next year as the most successful in the history of the Andover High School.
