

...the limits of the empire, they shall be reacted and at once sent, without further trial of law, to Eastern Siberia. By order of the Czar.

The General rubbed his eyes and read this paper over a second time, as if he doubted the evidence of his senses.

Then he sprang to his feet, dashed the paper on the floor and crushed it under his heel as if it had been the head of a venomous serpent.

"Oh, God!" he cried, in a paroxysm of anger and grief. "Can this cruel order come from the head of the empire, for which I risked my life on a score of battle-fields?"

"Must I, to prove my loyalty to such a monster as this, and to hold the estates—which I value as nothing compared with my own manhood—must I become a blood-hound, to hunt down the brave man whom my father so cruelly wronged and outraged? Aye, more than that; must I take the alternative of showing my loyalty to one who has proved himself a tyrant, by driving into exile the only being I ever have ever loved?"

The General might have continued his soliloquy had not the door opened and Count Linwood stood before him.

"Pardon me, your excellency," said the Count, "but I knocked, and imagining I heard a reply, I entered."

"I have just received this communication from the Czar," said the General, picking the paper from the floor and handing it to his visitor. "You already know the contents and no doubt have come for my answer."

DR. McGLYNN'S REPLY.
He Refers to the Pope's Letter and Craves a Renunciation.

New York, Nov. 16.—Dr. Edward Mc-Glynn addressed a large audience at Cooper Union last night on the admissions made by the Pope in his recent letter on the condition of labor, and in conclusion, made the following remarks, which created a sensation among his hearers:

"I intended on next Sunday to talk about the remedies proposed by the Pope. But something serious has happened during the week. The newspapers, by aid of the press associations and on the authority of the Archbishop of the Diocese of New York and what he has alleged to have received in a letter from the Propaganda, have made me the subject of a great deal of attention. I am not sorry, however, that the matter has again been precipitated. I shall come prepared on Sunday next to say what I have to say.

"I am the 'unrocked priest' and on certain conditions can get my frock back. I still have my frock, so that is not true. I use it as a dressing gown at home. It is my own and I paid for it, and if an attempt was made to take it away from me I could say, I defy you under the American flag.

"If it had theology I call me an ex-priest. According to strict theology I am to be a priest for all eternity, whether in heaven or in hell. If I were called to Rome I could wear my old frock or buy a new one and no one could take it away from me. But I will not anticipate.
I will come next week with the retraction I am prepared to make."

"With these defiant words the excommunicated priest bade his hearers good night amid deafening applause."

CLOUDS IN THE WAY
Scientists Had Hard Work on the Lunar Eclipse.

NEW YORKERS DISAPPOINTED.

Observations Made With Satisfactory Results at Amherst College.

Curious and Unexplained Phenomena Seen at Princeton—Occultations of Ten Small Stars Secured at Allegheny—Eclipse Parties Along the Hudson River Disappointed.

New York, Nov. 16.—Great disappointment was expressed in this part of the country last night at the almost total failure of the elaborate arrangements made to observe the total lunar eclipse. The clouds stretching over portions of the section were impenetrable.
Prof. Boss only caught a few glimpses of the first contact at Albany. But, as our despatches show, the conditions were much more favorable in New England.
Professor Todd made observations with very satisfactory results at Amherst College, where the sky was cloudless until the moon began to emerge from the shadow.

PROF. YOUNG'S WORK.

Seen at Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 16.—During the total eclipse of the moon, Prof.
Young, the well-known Princeton astronomer, had planned to make a series of careful observations of the occultations of the smaller stars by the moon.
These occultations, or, as they might be called, eclipses of the stars by the moon, furnish the most accurate data obtainable for calculating the position and diameter of the moon, and the sets of observations taken simultaneously in widely different sections, as in Europe and America, give the best means of accurately determining the earth's distance from the moon.

These occultations are rarely visible even with a telescope except in the time of an eclipse, and last evening, if the air had been clear, thirty-four would have been observed in the great twenty-three-inch refractor of Princeton, owing to the numerous light clouds, none of them could be observed, and so this part of the work could not be done, but during the periods when the moon's face was visible through the clouds a very curious and as yet unexplained phenomenon was observed, namely, that the Eastern part of the great satellite's face was exceedingly darker than the Wonderful Gold Mine.

One of the wonders of Australia, and one of the greatest natural curiosities in the world, is the Mount Morgan gold mine in Queensland.
The precious metal contained in this mine, which has paid a dividend of not less than $6,000,000 in a year, was deposited by a hot spring.

Mount Morgan is a hill about 500 feet high, containing at its top a cup-shaped deposit made by the hot spring which once gushed out there, and in this deposit the gold exists. Truly a cup of Croesus! Through untold ages the waters dropped their glittering burden, and now man comes and extracts the hoarded metal to add to the wealth of the world.

Specimens of the ore from this strange mine have recently been sent to the United States, that they might be compared with the deposits of the great hot springs in our own Yellowstone Park. It was but natural to suppose that the Yellowstone springs had also a golden treasure in their cups, but the most careful search by geologists has thus far failed to detect any trace of it.

Beaten Only by Methuselah.

Henry Jenkins, of Bolton, Lancashire, England, lived to be 160 years old. Mrs. Anna Saville, a writer of Jenkins' time, has the following in her account of him: "I questioned him about his age. He said he was 162 or 163. I asked him what public event he could longest remember.
He said the battle of Flodden Field, when Henry VIII. was King. He said he was then between 10 and 12 years of age, and was sent to North-allerton with a horse-load of arrows, but that a bigger boy was sent to the army with him." All this agrees with the history of that time, bows and arrows being then in use. The battle of Flodden Field was fought Sept. 9, 1513, and Henry Jenkins was then a boy between 10 and 12 years of age. died Dec. 9, 1689, so that he must have lived at least 169 years, sixteen year longer than old Parr, who was born in Shropshire in 1483, and died in 1635. If this account of the age of Jenkins is reliable, he lived longer than any other man in the known world, except Methuselah, concerning whose age there has been much dispute.

"A sense of gratitude and a desire to benefit those afflicted, prompts me to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who have catarrh. For many years I was troubled with catarrh and indigestion and general debility. I got so low I could not get around the for catarrh, but falling in every instance of being

"German Syrup"

Here is an incident from the South —Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of last Winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss., where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and then the Grippe came along and I caught that also very severely. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup. I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle, I was entirely clear of the Cough that had lung to me so long, the Grippe, and all its bad effects. I felt tip-top and have felt that way ever since."

Paying the Sugar Bounty Slowly.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—The work of paying the sugar bounty on sugar produced in Louisiana is going on slowly, only $183,550 having been provided for thus far. Of this $32,723 goes to one planter, Leon Godehaux. Some of the sugar manufactured by the old fashioned open kettle system is found to fall below the 80 per cent. limit, and will, therefore, receive no bounty.

The Coal Famine Spreading.
PITTSBURG, Nov. 16.—A Chicago dispatch says the coal famine caused by the strikes in the coal fields is assuming a serious aspect for lake steamers. There is not a pound of coal to be had at Michigan City, Chicago, and the supply here is so limited that steamers have been held twenty-four hours waiting for fuel. The famine is spreading the railroad.

THE EPISCOPAL CONGRESS.

To Open To-morrow in Washington—Senator Edmunds to Preside.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Another religious convention similar in its purposes to the Methodist Ecumenical Conference held in Washington last month, is to meet here this week. It is the fourteenth Congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, and it will bring together churchmen from all over the country to discuss the five topics of the day. The first of these Congress was held fifteen years ago.

While the Congress has no legislative power, its discussions will be interesting as showing the trend of thought in the Episcopal Church on several secular and religious subjects. No delegates are elected to the Congress, all churchmen who desire to attend being welcome.
The management of the Church Congress has been in the hands of an executive committee whose members fill all vacancies occurring in their ranks. This committee, which is thus a close corporation, makes all the selections of essayists and speakers at the sessions of the Congress.

The Congress will be in session four days, beginning to-morrow. Senate George F. Edmunds will preside, assisted by Bishop T. U. Dudley of Kentucky and Gen. J. R. Anderson. The first session is to be at 10:30 o'clock at the Church of the Epiphany, when holcommunion is to be administered by Bishop Phillips Brooks of Massachusetts. will make the address. The first session will be opened immediately after service by Senator Edmunds, the President. The regular sessions are to be held in "National Rifles" Hall.

BAR'S BODY FOUND.

Reading's Missing Lawyer Drowned Himself in the Schuylkill River.

READING, Pa., Nov. 16.—The remains of William P. Bard, the well-known lawyer who disappeared from his home ten days ago, were found drowned in the Schuylkill river in the lower part of the city yesterday. It was generally supposed that he had gone west, as he had not been seen since the evening of Nov. 4. On that morning he left home as usual and went to market. Then he disappeared, and no trace of him was discovered until yesterday.

It is now ascertained that Mr. Bard was deeply involved in financial complications and was short of cash belonging to others to the amount of from $30,000 to $40,000. Many of his friends believe that his business troubles unsettled his mind. Mr. Bard and his family stood socially very high. He was 52 years of age.

He was manager of the American Plumbago Works at Byers Station, collecting agent of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, and collector of rents for several large estates here.
The plumbago works have suspended operations.

MURDERER ALMY'S TRIAL.

He Will Probably be Taken to Plymouth,
N. H., This Evening.

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 16.—The counsel of Murderer Almy, Hon. A.
Burling, says he does not know when Almy will be brought here, as the matter rested entirely with High Sheriff Brigham. He added that the defense would produce several witnesses at the trial, but refused to say how many.

Deputy Sheriff McCoy is of the opinion that Almy will arrive here shortly after five this afternoon and be taken to the court house, where he will remain during the trial. Everything is practically in readiness for the trial.

Accidentally Shot-His Mother.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Thomas Reeves, an Englishman who recently arrived at Liverpool from New Orleans, brought home with him a revolver. When his mother and other relatives called to see him, Reeves displayed the revolver as an American curiosity. The mother unfortunately inspected the weapon too closely, and it exploded, injuring her fatally. Reeves is wild with grief.

Dom Pedro Ready to Return.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The newspapers here say that Brazil has been officially notified that the Ex-emperor Dom Pedro has made a statement that he is ready to return to Brazil having seen with profound grief the tendencies of the country to dismemberment, if the nation wishes him to return, and desires his presence among them.

Only a Glimpse at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The sky was densely clouded during the entire evening, with rain at a quarter past eight o'clock. Not a single phase of the total lunar eclipse was visible from the Warren Observatory save a momentary glimpse after the fourth contact.

A Good View in Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 16.—The sky here, last evening was cloudless and thousands of persons had a good view of the eclipse of the moon.

Big Railroad Strike Threatened.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—A strike is threatened on the entire South Pacific system, from New Orleans to San Francisco. The trainmen are still making efforts to have the engineers and firemen join in some demand, so that should a strike be ordered, the entire system would be tied up. The men demand a material increase in pay. First their petitions were presented to the division superintendents, who refused to accede to their demands. They appealed to General Superintendent Van Vleet and he declined to accede. This afternoon the committee will have a conference with General Manager Kruttschnitt. If he refuses their demands they will either appeal to C. P. Huntington or order a general strike.

The Drexel-Irick Wedding.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 16.—All the invitations to attend the wedding of George W. Childs Drexel and Miss Mary Irick have been recalled. The wedding will take place in Vincentown this week, but instead of being an elaborate and brilliant affair will be witnessed only by relatives of the couple. The ceremony was to have occurred last Thursday, but the illness of Miss Irick caused it to be postponed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The annual report of Internal Revenue Commissioner Mason for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1891, has been made public. The report shows that the actual receipts of the Bureau for the year were $146,035,418.
The Commissioner estimates the receipts for the current fiscal year at $150,000, 000.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

Taking butter from milk was known in the earliest times. It was left for our time to make a milk of cod-liver oil.

Milk, the emulsion of butter, is an easier food than butter. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is an easier food than cod-liver oil. It is rest for digestion. It stimulates, helps, restores, digestion; and, at the same time, supplies the body a kind of nourishment it can get in no
