The Judiciary and the Mother-in-law

The Ohio supreme court recently rendered a decision of far reaching import. It was, in effect, that a man could forbid the visits of his mother-in-law. The case was something like this: Oscar Green—long may his memory be like his name—gave notice to his mother-in law that she was not wanted under his humble roof. The mother-in-law would not take the hint. In a few days she appeared at the Green domicile, as usual. Oscar gently but firmly led her into the street and not so gently evicted her baggage. Whereupon she haled the ungallant son-in-law before a justice and had him fined. Oscar took the case to a higher court, only to be beaten again. He appealed to the supreme court, and that august body, by practically a unanimous vote, reversed the decision and decreed that Oscar Green had a perfect right to quarantine himself against his mother-in-law. These are the main points of the story, though there were doubtless minor passages at arms and pyrotechnic language employed that were highly exciting, but not exactly suitable for print. This was fought and won the good battle for the liberation of Buckeye sons-in-law and incidentally for those of other states as well.

This calls to mind another even more recent case, in which a Detroit judge—a bachelor, by the way—handed down a judicial opinion that a man is the head of his home and followed this up a few days later by adjudging a husband and father to take his wife home and speak her. If the wife in the case had been a mother-in-law, the supreme court would probably have affirmed even more drastic measures. There is no telling what degrees of courage a single and hence inexperienced man may develop, especially when he is properly protected by officers of the law.

A married man, however, will have some difficulty in commending on these cases too freely. Discretion is a domestic virtue.

Strong Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantities comes to hand every day, to declare Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland Petersburg, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and could get no cure without home benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all lung and throat troubles, consumption, pneumonia and grip. Guaranteed by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood Druggists. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

Convention Still Deadlocked.

Springfield, Ills., June 1.—The Republican state convention after a session lasting an hour and a half, and after taking three ballots for governor adjourned until today without having broken the deadlock. The convention after an 11 days' recess reconvened. There was a manifest falling off of enthusiasm. Governor Yates was cheered as he entered a few minutes before the convention was called to order, but the entry of the other candidates was unobserved.

Comptroller Edward M. Grout of New York was recently married by a treasury warrant which read, "For nursing bottles, $154, board of education." Inasmuch as it was decided not long since that the schoolmams of New York may marry, it looked decidedly as though a large number of them had taken advantage of the provision and were stocking up at public expense for possible contingencies. It developed, however, that the item was a mistake, as the bill was for only one nursing bottle and a lot of other laboratory apparatus. After this discovery was made the worried look left the comptroller's brow.

David Kaphakokinaki Kawanui, the postmaster at Keokea, Hawaii, resigned because his salary was cut 32 per cent. He was asked to pay for the ink used in sending his name to Washington.

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bone are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. VICTIM OF EXTORTION

Aged Man Brings Suit for Recovery of Large Sum.

THE GREEN MURDER RECALLED

John R. Platt Claims that the Mulatress Mentioned by Insane Murderer Williams Had Extorted From Him $685,000—Woman Had Become Wealthy and Occupies a Costly House.

New York, June 1.—The murder several months ago of Andrew H. Green, known as the father of Greater New York, and one of New York's most prominent public men, was recalled when suit was brought by John R. Platt against Hannah Elias, a mulattress, to recover certain real estate and money in banks, held in her name.

Mr. Green's murderer, a negro named Williams, said his victim had interfered to separate him, Williams, and Hannah Elias. Williams was declared insane and sent to an asylum. He had annoyed Mr. Green for some time and Mr. Green had said he never saw the woman Williams referred to. It developed after the murder that Mrs. Elias had become wealthy and occupied a costly residence in Central Park West.

At the office of the plaintiff's attorney all information as to the identity of Mr. Platt was refused. In the papers filed Mr. Platt says that he is upward of 85 years old, a retired merchant, in feeble health and a widower. He says that he first met Hannah Elias prior to January, 1893; that she represented herself to be a single woman of Spanish blood, but that he discovered afterwards that she was the wife of one Matthew C. Davis.

The papers go on to say that soon after Mr. Platt formed her acquaintance she told him that he had gained her love. Mr. Platt says that these protestations of love were a scheme on her part to enable her to coerce and blackmail him into giving her large sums of money. Mrs. Elias, he alleges, said her husband was a negro and that the husband threatened to do the plaintiff bodily harm and expose him.

The plaintiff states that he paid Mrs. Elias $685,000 at different times between the years 1896 and 1904. It is further alleged that Mrs. Elias told the plaintiff that she could not obtain a divorce unless her husband received $5,000, and that as a result of threats made by her he paid that sum of money and she obtained the divorce.

This amount, he alleges, never was paid to the husband and that during the year 1897 he was coerced into paying the husband, who in the meantime had been divorced, the sum of $16,000 not to press a threatened suit.

Mr. Platt demands an accounting of all the moneys which he alleges Mrs. Elias has wrongfully obtained; that the real estate and bank accounts be impressed so that the defendants be restrained from disposing of property and a receiver be appointed to collect the rent of the property; and that any other relief that the court may decree proper may be afforded.

There are 34 trust companies, 26 savings banks and 69 National and other banks that are made co-defendants with Mrs. Elias.

The action against the banks is nominal and is taken to prevent them paying any more to Mrs. Elias.

OLEOMARGARINE LAW.

Its Constitutionality Upheld by the Supreme Court.

Washington, June 1.—The supreme court in an opinion by Justice White upheld the constitutionality of the oleomargarine law. Leo W. McRay sued the United States in the Southern district of Ohio to recover $50 paid by him as a penalty for the sale of a 50 pound package of colored oleomargarine containing a stamp tax of three quarters of a cent a pound instead of 10 cents a pound.

In an opinion by Justice Holmes the court reversed the opinion of the supreme court of Indiana in the case of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad company vs. the state of Indiana. The case involved about a million dollars claimed by the state under the charter granted to the railroad company which provided that all the net proceeds of the road should be turned into the state for the benefit of the common schools. The charter was subsequently surrendered by the railroad company but notwithstanding this fact the state court upheld the claim.

Will Go to Pennsylvania.

Indianapolis, June 1.—Following the decision of the United States supreme court by which the million dollar claim of the state of Indiana is held to be void, the Vandalia railroad probably will become the property of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

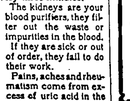
"Do It To-Day."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off till to morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it TO-DAY— and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At O. E. Vars & Son's and L. A. Burrow's.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.



The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
